before she knew it. Her baby was lifeless in her hand bleeding. As loud scream escaped her mouth

"Aubrey" she cried holding her dead child in her hands

she got no response but a loud thud. She moved o the bed leaving amirah on the bed.

"Solai was the light of the life. She always made jokes made people laugh. Whenever someone cried she would always find away to make you forget about it. She was a therapist, a friend, a sister, a future wife and a mother."

"Aubrey was the love of her life and she was his. The love they had was inseparable. They felt the same emotions. They had a connection that cannot be remade. He was a good man to her and everyone"

"amirah our loved daughter. she didn't get to experience life, understand life but she smiled everyday"
