

Bing Rushuang gave Chen Hao a slap on his face in rage and embarrassment.

Growing up, she was very sensitive when met with situations that revolved around the matter of genders due to the environment that she grew up in.

At some point, her sensitivity toward the issue turned into extreme disgust.

Relationships between both genders made her feel disgusted. She was absolutely revolted by it.

Even looking at a man made her feel grossed out.

That was why she had uttered something about dying together just now.

However, Chen Hao did not expect the stoic girl to react like this.

“Hey, pretty lady, I’m trying to save you, alright? If you can’t heal in time, you’ll only be a burden to us once we get out. And I’m sure that you know how you would end up once they managed to catch you, right?”

Chen Hao tried to persuade her.

“You—”

Bing Rushuang was stunned.

Both her hands were clasped together.

It was obvious that she was still struggling internally.

“Fine. But I want you to close your eyes. If you don’t, I will murder you!” Bing Rushuang warned.

“You really talk as if I’m lusting over you!”

“Whatever, just turn around and close your eyes!” she barked her orders.

Chen Hao shook his head slightly and turned back.

From behind him, he could clearly hear the sound of clothes being removed quickly.

Although Chen Hao’s back was against her, it was undeniable that she looked gorgeous even though she constantly wore a stoic expression. Chen Hao would be lying if he were to say that he had no reaction at all.

But, other than that, he did not have any underlying intentions.

“I’m done!”

Right after, Bing Rushuang called out lightly.

“Stop squirming around. I know where the injury is located. Let me just hold onto your head...”

Five minutes later.

“Hey, man. I’m back!”

“Wow! What happened? Why is that evil beauty’s face so flushed?” the chubby man questioned.

Then, he noticed that her clothings looked disheveled.

The chubby man was exasperated. “Wait, what were you guys doing just now?”

“You bast*rd! If you speak another sentence of it, I will remove your tongue myself!”

Bing Rushuang took her blade out.

This made the chubby man shut his mouth immediately.

In no time, the day passed by quickly...

“Hey, hey, hey! Get up! It’s time for us to leave!”

Chen Hao patted both Bing Rushuang and the chubby man’s cheeks.

Both of them jolted awake.

“Dude, it is still dark out there. I’m guessing that it’s still before dawn right now. The men out there had set up camps outside last night! Where else are we supposed to go now?” the chubby man rubbed his eyes as he asked.

“But, I just went out to take a look just now. There was no one outside at all. I think that they have already left! It is also possible that they all have died from the toxic mosquitoes attacks! I say we take the risk and leave immediately!" Chen Hao replied.

"Huh? There was no one at all?" the chubby man asked, surprised.

Bing Rushuang stood up with slight suspicion too.

"I'm sure. Now, let's go! If we don't leave now, we won't be able to anymore!"

Chen Hao shouldered his backpack.

It was obvious that the chubby man and the haughty Bing Rushuang had already accepted Chen Hao as the head of their escape operation.

Thus, they hurriedly left.

When they left the valley, Bing Rushuang was suspicious of her findings.

Surely enough, there was not one single person left. Even the tents were empty.

It was as if all of Li Hu's men had disappeared in thin air in just one night.

She thought, This doesn't make any sense! If there were any fights, I would have heard it!

At the same time, she looked at Chen Hao in shock.

Right then, Chen Hao had already gone into one of the SUVs as he bided, "So long to the both of you! I have other matters to attend to, but there are still a few cars left over there! You guys can use it to leave too!"

"W-W-Where are you going?" Bing Rushuang struggled with her thoughts before she finally stammered.

"I'm not really sure myself. But, I will continue heading toward the southwest until I reach the edge of it, I guess!" Chen Hao chuckled.

Li Hu's underlings were, of course, killed by Chen Hao when he sneaked out during the night. He couldn't stay here any longer. So, he did what he had to do.

After bidding them farewell, Chen Hao started the engine of his car.

“Oh, yeah! You still haven’t told me your name? My name is Bing Rushuang!” she couldn’t help but blush as she inquired for his name.

After all, it was her first time being this intimate with a man ever since she was young.

Moreover, he was different from other men. Although he teased her, she could see that he didn’t have any bad intentions.

“Erm... You can call me San!” Chen Hao stammered.

After answering her, he did not wait for her reply. He waved them off, hit the gas pedal and sped off.

“San? Who even names themselves that?” Bing Rushuang raged.

She wanted to inquire further but he had already left...

Chen Hao continued on his journey, driving across the Southwest Region before he finally reached the border of it.

According to Wei Qingshu's briefing from before, the Southwest Region's border was a triangle zone which was a no man's land, avoiding the control of the few countries.

It also meant that this place wasn't controlled by anyone.

There were many cities and villages in this area. This zone was known as the Tian City Triangle Zone.

This was because it didn't belong to any country, which gave the citizens the freedom as if they were in their own fantasy world.

However, the lack of control also caused the people here to act lawless. Thus, this place was the source of most underground forces.

There were too many influences in this territory.

Even the Wei Family was just one of the merchants here.

But there was still another reason why Chen Hao wanted to come over here besides searching for the King Ginseng.

He couldn't go back to China anymore.

However, in a place like this, it was hard for the Mo Family to continue pestering him. Hence, this place will serve as his refuge from now on. He would start over again in this place.

Moreover, he also decided that he couldn't continue dealing with the Wei Family in the public's eyes anymore.

After all, the Wei Family was the last of the bargaining chips he had as of now.

It might not even last long.

The mountain ranges were huge here.

After a while, the car he was driving eventually broke down.

Chen Hao had no choice but to leave the car and continue on foot.

If he was thirsty, he would drink from the mountain spring; if he was hungry, he would hunt for wild chicken or hare to roast.

Unfortunately, he was met with the monsoon season at that time. With nowhere to go, Chen Hao found a cave nearby and set up a tent inside as a temporary stay. He had to wait it out until the mountain tracks were safer to hike before he could proceed.

During the evening, while Chen Hao was rinsing his face at the river nearby the cave...

Suddenly, he heard intense gunshot noises.

The noises were from nearby and it was obvious that there was an openfire from both sides.

“This is indeed the Tian City Triangle Zone! One really must be careful wherever they go!”

Chen Hao finished rinsing his face and shook his head, smiling wryly.

Rustle, rustle!

Rustling sounds were heard coming from the bushes nearby.

It was immediately followed by the sound of footsteps.

Someone was charging toward Chen Hao’s direction at full speed.

Chen Hao squinted and saw a group of five men clad in camouflage suits and equipped with all sorts of supplies.

They were escaping frantically.

“Brother!”

Suddenly, one of the men fell to the ground. It looked like he was weakened due to his injuries.

The other men stopped at their tracks and crowded around him.

“Leave me be, I won’t be able to make it time! Hurry and leave! Leave, now!”

“No! We will not leave you! We are all brothers, if we were to die, we shall die together! What’s the big deal anyway? Let’s go out with a bang and end this!” one of them suggested.

“You bast*rd! Promise me that all of you will continue to live on! I will stay behind and hold them off! Leave now!”

The man who was the leader among them gave the crying man a slap in the face.

“You can hit me until I die but I will never leave you!”

“Yeah! We won’t go!”

The others cried out and wiped their tears off.

“Brother, there is a cave nearby, let’s hide inside first! We will never leave you behind, you hear me!” a few men said at the same time.

Then, they carried the injured soldier and hurried into the cave.

“Huh? Why does it look like someone is staying here?” the few of them exclaimed in shock after they came in.

“Yeah, whatever, let’s not care about that first. We shall stay here for a few days. Come over and help me bandage his wounds!” one of the men called out.

“In situations like this, it is better to let the blood continue flowing. If you bandage it, he will die faster.”

Suddenly, a voice rang out from the entrance of the cave.

Everyone was taken by surprise.

The men raised their guns and aimed at the young man in front of them.

However, Chen Hao only took a glance at the muzzles that were aimed at his direction.

He was still holding a freshly roasted hare in his hands.

Then, he casually went off to sit at a corner.

The head of these men stole a glance at the young man.

He was sure that this man wasn't ordinary.

After all, his vigilance was still sensitive as ever although he was heavily injured.

It wouldn't make sense for him to not notice the presence of a young man near them.

Most importantly, he didn't even flinch one bit when his brothers were aiming at him with their guns.

How could this be the quality of any normal young man?

Moreover, no normal person would roast hares in the deep forests.

“Lower your guns!”

The head of the men ordered and smiled apologetically. “Hey, man, this should be your place, right? I’m so sorry that we barged in without any notice!”

“Who the hell stays in a mountain cave? It just so happens that I am here to avoid the rain too. You guys can stay as long as you want to!” Chen Hao smirked.

“Hmph! Why are you even asking that guy for his permission? Look at him! He looks just like a normal backpacker! And you! You ignorant brat! You better not utter any more nonsense if you don’t want us to fire at you!” one of the men challenged.

He then rushed over to bandage his injured leader's wound.

He took out a short blade and removed a small gauze.

When Chen Hao saw the blade, he immediately realized something.

It looked like these men were with Bing Rushuang.

He could confirm it from the similarity of the blades that they used.

Moreover, Bing Rushuang also mentioned that her friends were trapped by Li Hu and that she was uncertain whether they were still alive or not. Hence, she sought out Li Hu for revenge.

Looking at their disheveled appearance, he was very sure that they were her friends.

At this moment, one of the men raged, "That f*cker Li Hu! If we ever make it out of here alive, I would not let him off the hook! Trying to get others to kill us? It won't be that easy! This will not be the last of it!"

"Right now, I wonder if our sister is alright. I'm afraid of her falling into Li Hu's trap!" the head of the men coughed slightly and said.

Chen Hao thought to himself, That was exactly what had happened! She almost lost her life too!

One of the guys questioned, "Well then, what should we do now? Li Hu's trap has made us end up like homeless dogs. We have nowhere else to go now!"

"At this rate, we can only afford to make plans as we move along. We could rove around anyway, it's not a big deal. However, you guys should leave when you're still able to. I don't want you guys to die here because of me! What a stupid way to die like this!"

The head of the men urged for his brothers to leave. However, they insisted on staying.

Right at this moment, the pressing sound of footsteps grew closer.

There were a group of about ten people.

"Leave now!"

"We shall go all out!"

The men grinded their teeth as they prepared to take them on.

“Lower your weapons!”

“All of you! Put down your guns!”

The group of men rushed over and aimed their guns at the men in the cave.

“Hmph! You guys could really run! You even made us chase after you for so long! Shen Wanshan, not bad at all!”

Right then, a man clad in similar camouflage outfits walked in and smirked.

“Black Leopard, stop with your nonsense! If you want to kill us, then just do it now!” Shen Wanshan bellowed.

“Wow, you have the guts, I'll say!” The guy codenamed Black Leopard let out a cold chuckle.

“Black Leopard! There's someone else in here!” one of his underlings reported.

“Huh? What the f*ck, he's just a backpacker! Hey brat, you better f*ck off now! Otherwise, I will kill you this instant!”

Black Leopard raised his shotgun and aimed at Chen Hao’s head.

Chen Hao turned around and gave him a look.

“You bast*rd! What are you looking at?”
Black Leopard scowled.

“I have been out making a living for a while now but no one has ever dared to aim a gun at my head!” Chen Hao laughed.

“You’re really asking for it!” Black Leopard said as he reached out to pull the trigger.

Crack!

A crisp sound was heard.

Right then, everyone was stunned.

Even Black Leopard’s forehead was full of cold sweat.

He didn't even dared to gasp for air.

Shen Wanshan and the others had their jaws dropped from the scene unfolding in front of them.

Because, just then, a flash of light brushed past them.

A tree branch flew right past Black Leopard's gun, bringing it along and piercing around one inch deep into the other side of the walls of the cave at the speed of light.

Black Leopard's face was also scratched lightly and blood started forming from his cheek.

Oh my God!

What kind of strength and speed was that?

If that were to hit someone's throat or chest, they might have died right there!

Everyone was astonished.

Even the guy that insulted Chen Hao for being a backpacker gulped. "That was so cool!"

"I'm going to stay here for the night. So, you guys either end this outside or stop right now!" Chen Hao warned.

Then, he proceeded eating his roasted hare.

Black Leopard's gaze lingered for a moment as fear took over him.

"We shall retreat for now!" Black Leopard announced.

"But, Black Leopard!"

"Let's go!"

Black Leopard waved his hands and motioned for them to leave.

After they left, one of his underlings asked, "Black Leopard, we have more than ten people anyway. Why should we retreat?"

"Haha, so what if we have more than ten people? I have just gotten the news that Li Hu dispatched around ten people a few days ago too. However, they were all killed in just one night. All of their bodies were abandoned in the wilderness and no one survived,” Black Leader informed.

“What? They were all killed?”

“Yes, all of them died the same way. They were all killed in one shot. Before they died, all of their last moves were them pulling on their gun triggers. And, their murder weapons were... Tree branches! This story has recently spreaded all around the Tian City Triangle Zone!”

Cold sweat formed all over Black Leopard’s forehead.

He quickened his pace.

His underlings finally understood what he meant.

Even the famous Li Hu had been murdered.

Moreover, they had all seen what the young man just now could do.

Could it be that he was the one who killed Li Hu and the others?

Chapter 478 Thank You For Your Help, Mister

Holy sh*t!

That was a narrow escape just now!

Back at the cave.

Shen Wanshan finally managed to sit upright with great difficulty. "I can't believe that there are still hidden powers in this world. My name is Shen Wanshan, I hereby pay my respect to you for saving us!"

Shen Wanshan thanked him respectfully.

"Thank you for your help, Mister!" the other men came up and thanked him profusely.

"It's fine. I wasn't planning on saving anyone. What I did just now was just an act of self defense!"

Chen Hao shook his head.

"By the way, Mister, you mentioned before that my wounds shouldn't be bandaged. Could you explain to me why that is?" Shen Wanshan asked.

Chen Hao glanced at him.

Chapter 478 Thank You For Your Help, Mister

The reason why he decided to save them was because he saw that these men put their brotherhood before anything else.

If they were just purely out to kill, Chen Hao wouldn't have bothered.

Hence, he answered, "You should lie on your side right now. I will explain to you after I remove the bullet from your body..."
