

THE STARS ARE ORIGINALLY A PAIR - THE WINNER

In the afternoon's five-minute essay presentation, the test group gave the condition "whether the times make the heroes or the heroes make the times", which is considered a debate question, the participants need to correctly interpret the topic, whether it is one or both, they need to list the evidence, and then make a clear and coherent statement.

Five minutes to think, five minutes to present, each statement after the judges immediately give the score, and then ten people have finished presenting, the top three came out.

An Xingyue drew the eighth, that is, the countdown, this order is already very bad, after all, the front has already heard so much, if the back of the people who used the examples of those who hit the front used, then the judges will be aesthetic fatigue, the score is certainly not as high as the front.

When Mr. Lai saw the order of An Xueyue, he regretted a bit, they should have gone to worship God and ask Buddha first, this is a bit bad luck ah.

An Xueshen didn't care about the order, after all, a belly of ink, she didn't believe that all the examples she thought of would have been used by the people in front of her, and even if they had been used she could have changed the way she stated it, then even if the examples were bumped but the way they were stated or used was different, so it wouldn't give the same feeling.

The night Xiu Chen looked at the stage full of confidence An Xingyue, the heart proud ah, that dazzling girl is his girlfriend ah, just the thought of this he was very satisfied.

And language scores in general big brother completely do not know what they say there is a difference, after all, in the big brother's view in addition to their own girlfriend, the others are the same.

When the last contestant's score was scored, An Xingyue thought back to her previous scores and eeeeew, she actually only came in second in the third round, and a girl from Kyoto Annex got first.

But from the total score of the three rounds, An Xingyue's total score ranked first, the girl from Kyoto High School ranked second, then the one from Donghai First High School ranked third, and Su Chon ranked fourth, so the result, An Xingyue was a bit surprised, she always thought Su Chon could be in the top three.

The results of this competition were announced on the spot and prizes were given out, but the awards and medals had to be added to the names of the schools and participants, so they would be mailed to the participants' schools and given to them by the schools.

So An Xingyue got the championship prize of five thousand dollars on the spot, and then when the group photo was taken, the vice principal who was with the team said that he had told the principal that their school had won the championship in the language competition, so the principal said that he would give her the prize money after the school year started.

An Xingyue nodded that she knew, well...not bad for a kid who wasn't much interested in school prizes, and the competition was mainly just to pass the time.

But An Xingyue's carelessness makes Ji Yiyang want to hit her, Ji Yiyang quietly said to An Xingyue that this kind of competition as long as there is a ranking, the school side of the prize money is tens of thousands, after all, the school has money.

If a little money can attract students to participate in the competition and get ranked, then the school will be very happy, because for the school, the honor is much more important than money.

Just like in South City, the second middle is a public school, and then every year most of the top students in the South City exams will choose the second middle, so the second middle is higher than the first middle rate.

But the principal of the first middle school has an ambitious heart, at that time night Xiu Chen's bright results let him see the hope, but then the big man actually self-sacrifice, so even if the big man how to make trouble, the school side are more than a few points of tolerance, after all, is the hope to get the first prize in the South City College Entrance Examination.

Then now An Xingyue's appearance gave them one more point to look forward to, plus Big Brother was back on top and then the two of them got such bright results in the provincial exam, the principal was already dazzling at that time.

This time, no one from the second middle school made it to the final of the competition, but An Xingyue got the championship as someone from the first middle school, so I guess the principal's side was already happy.

Although An Xingyue has only been in the first middle school for a semester, she probably knows the grudge between the two principals of the first middle school and the second middle school.

Because it was only four o'clock after the competition, the school decided to leave for home, and then An Xingyue told the teachers that she would not go back with them because she was already planning to play in Kyoto for a few days, and then she had already informed the parents.

So when Ji Yiyang was leaving, the sultry look in her eyes made An Xingyue feel panicky.

Ji Yiyang heart hard ah, said to play together in Kyoto, it is the blame of her family those two random people, so she can not stay with Yue Yue in Kyoto, wow, what is the fun abroad, why travel abroad?

Ji Yiyang also sent a text message to Zhou Junxing before leaving, there is a little embarrassment, this time back to South City, it is estimated that the two of them to start school to meet in South City.

The two of them will have to meet at the beginning of the school year.

Different from Zhou Junxing's depression is the big brother very happy, even the corners of his mouth has been raised, afraid that others do not know his good mood.

Because Missy said she would stay in Kyoto for a few days, and then in these days will live in his house, this way the two of them will have a lot of time together.

Happy to spin around jpg

Because An Xingyue got the championship, plus there are people he plays better with are in Kyoto, so night Xiu Chen moved all An Xingyue's things to his house, and An Xingyue said tonight he introduced his friends to her, and then we all have a meal together.

So you don't have to do it yourself at home tonight.

An Xingyue was still a little nervous when she heard that night Xiu Chen introduced his friends to her, this step of big brother is directly bringing her into his circle, this way it seems, there is nothing unexpected, big brother is very serious about living his life with her.

"Bao, tonight and they eat dinner, we two go to the supermarket, and then buy something, you are here to live for a period of time it, have to buy all those daily necessities, otherwise you are not convenient." Night Xiu Chen came out from the bathroom and looked at An Xingyue and said seriously.

"It's all my fault for not being prepared before." Rubbing An Xingyue's head, night Xiu Chen muttered a few times, but he didn't really not expect it, just wanted two people to go together to buy those things, he wanted to buy the couple's model.

"I don't blame A Chen, I forgot, but it's good for two people to go shopping together, it seems like I haven't been to the supermarket with A Chen yet." An Xingyue pinched Night Xiu Chen's face and said with a smile.

Ever since Big Brother liked to touch her head and she stopped in vain, An Xingyue started to pinch Night Xiu Chen's face, and it can be said that An Xingyue was the only one who dared to pinch Big Brother's face without being beaten up by Big Brother.

An Xingyue really feels that night Xiu Chen's face is really comfortable to pinch, obviously a boy, and also often cultivate immortality, but the skin is still so good.
