

THE STARS ARE ORIGINALLY A PAIR - BACK TO SCHOOL EXAMS

The next morning, night Xiu Chen cleaned himself out, ready to go to the kitchen to get breakfast for his girlfriend and future father-in-law to eat, I did not expect to just walk to the kitchen door to see An Dad holding breakfast out, and then An Dad was a little surprised when he saw him.

"Kid, you're so early? I was thinking of making breakfast before calling you guys." An Guo Ting put down the breakfast, patted Night Xiu Chen's shoulder and said, "You eat first, I'll go and call out for Yue Yue baby."

"Uncle you can let Yue Yue sleep a little longer, as long as you get to school before eight o'clock today, there is no need to rush." Night Xiu Chen looked at An Guo Ting and said seriously.

The day of the monthly exam is the day you can stay in bed.

An Guo Ting thought it was right, anyway, he said yesterday that he might not be able to go back so early this morning, let those people let Professor Guo deal with the urgent matters first, not urgent can wait for him to return before making a decision.

Just two people eating breakfast while chatting, An Guo Ting know before the exam should not add too much pressure to the child, so also did not mention the matter of today's monthly exam.

The two talked for a short time, An Xingyue came out, obviously, An Xingyue saw two people who were already eating breakfast still a little confused, so why they did not call her?

It may be that An Xingyue's sense of doubt was heavy, so An Guoting opened his mouth and said, "This kid Xiu Chen said that you guys just need to go back by eight o'clock for the monthly exam today, so dad didn't shout at you and let you sleep a little longer."

An Xingyue nodded, this is the way it is, the only advantage of the monthly exam of a middle school may be liked by the school is that you can stay in bed, do not have to go back so early to the morning study, but many people in order to read a few more pages before the exam, more points or go back very early to review, or some are temporary.

And An Xingyue and night Xiu Chen do not need this look, so these two people peacefully stay at home until almost time, An father drove them to school.

The two children seem to be staying at the school, which An Guoting had forgotten about because they had gone to the competition. An Guo Ting asked uncertainly, maybe the monthly exams are a bit special?

"Well well, tonight to stay at school, although it is a monthly exam but no exception, but can take time off to go home, is a bit of trouble." An Xingyue replied.

An Guo Ting heard An Xingyue say this and knew she didn't plan to take time off to go home, "Then I should have given you guys those fruits and snacks back to school this morning, you're not home, so there's no one to eat things."

The daughter and daughter-in-law are not at home, he did not intend to cook and eat alone at home, anyway, there are dormitories and canteens over the Institute, the taste of food is also very good.

"It's okay, fruits are also available at school, dad can take the home ones back to the institute to eat." An Xingyue said with a smile, fortunately he forgot, otherwise she and Ah Chen still have to take the fruit those back to class.

"Yue Yue you are also right, later on dad to go back home to the fruit those back to the Institute, as for snacks those wait for the pinched beauty to go back this week and then eat it, or then take it with you when you go on a field trip."

The fruit can't be kept for that long, but it can't be wasted, so it's okay to bring it back to the institute for them to eat, after all, it's shameful to waste it. o(* ̄▽̄ *)o

After arriving at the school entrance, An Xingyue and Night Xiu Chen got off the bus, then An Guo Ting still urged them not to be too nervous, it was just a monthly exam anyway, and they didn't ask how great their grades were.

Anyway, he already has a general understanding of the two children's ability, so he does not want them to give too much pressure on themselves, the possibility of needing them to give themselves pressure is rare, but there is always an old father's addiction.

An Xingyue pulled the night Xiu Chen nodded, and then waved his hand, and the two entered the school gate.

An Guo Ting looked at the two people into the school gate before driving home, because to take the fruit back to the Institute, another trip, and then called his daughter-in-law to tell her that he sent the two children back to school.

Because the exam starts at nine o'clock, so now they have to go back to class first, then stay for half an hour before going to the exam room, half an hour early into the room, because the invigilator will send out answer cards for students to fill out ten minutes in advance, and then send out the papers when the time is up.

After taking the test so many times, we all said that the process and everything has been familiar to the point of no return, but the old class thought they would forget, and then every time the last ten minutes of the half hour in the class will nag about the notes of the test, obviously only last Friday nagged.

An Xingyue and night Xiu Chen listened attentively on the surface, but secretly they were already planning what to eat for lunch today.

Because of their exams, they were dismissed earlier than the first and second year of high school, so they did not have to grab the canteen with them, although they were usually dismissed five minutes earlier than them, but those five minutes could not do anything significant, and today was a rare 15 minutes more, so they could take their time.

Although the cafeteria of the first middle school is still very large, but every day there are only a few delicious dishes, so the hand is fast and the hand is slow, or to grab.

Because last night ate a big meal of An Dad, so An Xingyue today is also thinking about what to eat at noon, after all, in a middle school has been so long, many things have eaten, rare monthly exams, more time at noon, so An Xingyue still want to pick some like to eat, delicious to eat, the exam well, or to make up for it.

Wang Ya in the podium nagging, think about the time almost let everyone get ready, and then to go to the toilet to go to the toilet, to do what you want to do, later on will go directly to the examination room test, if you do not remember their examination room number and seat number, come to the front of the classroom to see, so as not to find their own examination room later.

Before going to the examination room, An Xingyue saw Zhou Junxing and Ji Yiyao two people talking about conditions, to be precise, is Zhou Junxing unilaterally and meow to talk about conditions, is nothing more than to meet the wishes or send a gift this kind of, after all, when the big brother is also this way.

In the Zhou Junxing body An Xingyue seems to see the previous particularly shameless night Xiu Chen, said what untamed, cool is not to do for others to see, then An Xingyue is curious why night Xiu Chen's attitude towards her is particularly different, after together, she knows, because she is a special case in him.

Thinking about it An Xingyue glared at night Xiu Chen, this way looking back, how long ago did this person like her? Love at first sight?

Night Xiu Chen do not know what happened, originally in the look at Zhou Junxing and his girlfriend moon will suddenly glared at him, touched his head, so this is why to glare at him?
