

THE STARS ARE ORIGINALLY A PAIR - EXCELLENT!

An Guo Ting got up in the morning and prepared breakfast for An Xingyue, he wanted to send her to school this morning, no no no, he wanted to send her to school all this time, because he didn't need to go back to the institute for the time being, so he wanted to cultivate a good father-daughter relationship with An Xingyue during this time.

However

"Yue Yue, let daddy take you to school today, you eat breakfast first." An Guo Ting looked at his daughter who came out of the bedroom and said apprehensively, last night Yue Yue refused, today should not refuse, right?

Oh, An dad is still too naive.

"No, I'll just go by myself, and I've never eaten breakfast at home before, it's a rare break for you, so I won't bother you." An Xingyue looked puzzled, now come to play good father? No need anymore.

And since night Xiu Chen began to pursue her, every day will bring her breakfast, at first will be uncomfortable, politely refused him, but night Xiu Chen still my way, every day rain or shine to bring her breakfast, even if An Xingyue how cold, but also can not stop his a piece of red son's heart, so in order not to waste the breakfast he bought and his heart, she now are back to eat his, not at home to eat.

Thinking about it, then thought of last night, looked at the red rope on the wrist, I wonder after a night, his can be taken off?

An Xingyue can't wait to know the answer, if not taken off, I'm afraid the school's postings have a new hot spot. And those of his good buddies will probably laugh at him too.

Wondering how his face will look like? Will he be annoyed and angry? An Xingyue thought so, and a smile faintly appeared on her face.

An Guo Ting watched his daughter leave the house as if she had lost her mind, still smiling so happily, his heart rained with a clatter.

Alas, alas, alas

No matter how many times An father alas, already left An Xingyue is unaware of.

The rising sun slowly rises, adding a few warm colors to this steel and concrete city.

Students in school uniforms, some on foot, some waiting for the bus, and some sitting in private cars.

An Xingyue was wearing the school uniform of the first middle school, and she put on her jacket because it was a little cold in the morning in the southern city.

Walking slowly, she occasionally encountered a few students riding bicycles, looking flamboyant and full of the vigor that belongs to them.

This was what An Xingyue lacked at the moment, and what she envied.

When she returned to the classroom, as expected, there was breakfast on the table and milk on it, and the man next to her was already sleeping.

An Xingyue put her school bag away and sat down in her seat before opening the bag containing the breakfast, which contained ham and cheese omelet, ham and egg sandwich, and toast, An Xingyue took the ham and egg sandwich and left the rest for Night Xiu Chen, who usually waited for her to take what she wanted to eat before he ate the rest.

She doesn't have a good appetite in the morning and doesn't eat much, so she often runs to buy snacks between classes, and by the way, connects with Ji Yiyan.

That's right, in front of eating, contacting feelings is only incidental. (●~? ~●)

"An An, you skipped the evening study last night, how can you be like this?" Su Zhiqing came back and saw An Xingyue who was eating breakfast, asked loudly, and added: "You should have brought me along." : >__<.

An Xingyue took a pack of tissues from the drawer, took out one and slowly wiped her mouth before replying, "I saw you sleeping happily last night, so I didn't bother you, I thought you liked sleeping more."

I thought you liked sleeping more? Ah ah ah, who gave An An the wrong impression, obviously people prefer to go out and play. (>People <; =)

"Wow, so An An you really skipped the evening study, it's almost time for the monthly exam, how come you are so good?" Su Zhiqing originally thought that An Xingyue even if different from those top students, will not be much worse, who knows, turn a hand to a truant?

Can you be a good top student? Can you do what top students should do? How do you not go to heaven?
