

All For You Chapter 19

The Yu family villa is lit up late at night.

The family doctor rushed in to examine Little Liu Liu.

“Little Miss had too many mood swings and cried for a while, her wounds are a bit inflamed, I have re-treated them, it’s just that she has a bit of a fever, but the antipyretic medicine won’t feed in, we have to find a way to bring her temperature down.”

The doctor said with a stony face as he stood up from the bedside.

“I’ll feed it.” Hearing the doctor’s words, Yu Yuehan reached out and took the medicine, picking up little Liu Liu from the bed.

The little girl was suffering from an unbearable fever, and was now dazed and awake.

“Little Liu Liu, you’re sick, take the medicine.” Yu Yuehan coaxed patiently.

“Don’t take the medicine ..... want pretty sister .....,” her small mouth beamed, seeing Yu Yuehan, she thought of her pretty sister no more, sad and wanted to cry.

“.....” are feverish, still thinking about Nian Xiaomu?

What kind of ecstasy did Nian Xiaomu put into her?

“You take your medicine first, when the fever goes down, we can talk about something else.” Yu Yuehan looked at her increasingly red little face, and could not hide the worry in his eyes, his tone also softened.

“Nasty bad poop! No pretty sister, no medicine .....” Little Liu Liu sobbed twice, her little hand pushed his chest, and her soft little body slid off him and into the nest on her own.

Turning his back, he refused to even look at him.

Yu Yuehan: “.....”

This is really angry.

A tiny one, curled up in the nest, like a wounded little fox, licking its own wounds.

It made people look inexplicably heartbroken, and there was nothing they could do with her.

“Young Miss Han, Little Miss still has wounds on her body, this medicine can’t be left untaken!” The doctor was on the side, anxiously reminding.

“Do you think I don’t want her to take it?” Yu Yuehan’s voice sank down.

This was his little princess, and it was harder for him than anyone else to see her uncomfortable.

But his own daughter, he knew herself.

Little Liu Liu had been good at everything since she was little, but she refused to take her medicine when she was sick, and she could not change.

In the past, when no one else could do anything, little Liu Liu Liu would be obedient whenever she saw him.

This time it happened to be in the heat of the moment when he had driven away Nian Xiaomu, and even he didn’t work.

This was what it was like to be left out in the cold by his own little princess?

He had sort of tasted it.

“Young Han, otherwise, why don’t you let me try?” Fang Zhenyi, who had been standing at the door, suddenly spoke up when she saw that Yu Yuehan seemed to be compromising.

She had managed to drive Nian Xiaomu away with great difficulty, and absolutely could not let her have the chance to come back again.

Moreover, now that everyone was out of options, if she could get Little Liu Liu to take the medicine, it would not only break Nian Xiaomu’s back, but also make Yu Yue Han look at her in a favorable light .....

At the thought of this, her whole being got excited!

It was as if she already saw the bright future of her life .....

“You?” Only when Yu Yuehan heard her voice did he seem to suddenly remember that there was such a person.

Cold eyes swept a glance at the person standing in the doorway.

At that, Fang Zhenyi hurriedly nodded, “Yes, I have taken care of many children before, and I still have a little way of coaxing children, perhaps, I can get little miss to take her medicine.”

“Young Han, it’s good to try, the sooner Little Miss takes the medicine, the better!” The doctor reminded.

“.....” Yu Yuehan’s dark eyes were deep, staring at Fang Zhenyi’s eyes, unable to see what he was thinking.

No denial.

Seeing this, Fang Zhenyi was eager to seek merit and just assumed that he agreed, and hurriedly walked forward.

“Little Liu Liu, I’m Sister Fang, we’ve met before .....
