

The Almighty Dragon General

Chapter 1092

□ □ □

Chapter 1092

He had a sword on his back.

It was Tobias.

However, he did not intervene.

James' strength far exceeded his expectations. He was curious to see how far he could go.

Meanwhile, James was losing ground. He knew he would be killed if he did not use his signature martial art skill.

Hence, he catalyzed Heavenly Breath.

Potent True Energy enveloped him and entered his body.

Then, he brought forth the Invincible Body Siddhi. Immediately, his body underwent drastic changes and became bronze all over.

Clank! A fist struck him.

"What?"

Hades' face darkened.

His arm went numb, and he was knocked back by the force.

Zaiden exclaimed, "What is this?"

Yasmine furrowed her eyebrows, and she murmured, "What is this martial art skill? Could it be something recorded in the four paintings?"

Meanwhile, Tobias was puzzled too. He had never seen nor heard about such a martial art skill. He was curious to know where and how James managed to learn it.

As True Energy circulated his body, James could feel that he was stronger now.

Holding the sword in his hand, he walked toward Hades.

"You took away my cultivation last time, old man. I suffered terribly because of that. Today, I will settle the score.

"Diel n Hades' face darkened. Waving his arm, True Energy transformed into a flaming sword. Then, he charged toward James.

James also charged toward Hades while waving his sword. His speed was extraordinary.

No one could see his moves clearly, except for Hades and Tobias.

"He's fast!"

Hades was stunned.

Before he could react, a razor-sharp sword was pointed at his chest.

"What..."

He found this inconceivable. He was a sixth-rank martial artist who mastered the Celestial Fire Art.

The potency of his True Energy was unrivaled among his peers, let alone amongst the youngsters.

"Wh-What martial art skill is this?"

Hades glared at James.

He believed that James would spare him.

After all, he was the Patriarch of the Johnstons.

Even if Tobias was in James' place, he would not kill him.

"Perhaps you'll know once you're in hell."

Splat! The sword pierced through Hades' body.

"You..."

Hades pointed at James with a face of disbelief.

Though he was defeated, he believed that James would spare his life.

Before he could finish his sentence, James pulled the sword out.

Then, he raised his palm and summoned True Energy.

Whoosh! James struck Hades in the chest.

Hades was immediately sent flying, vomiting a mouthful of blood.

Then, he collapsed on the ground and lay there motionless.

James tossed the sword casually aside.

Clank! Seeing this, the martial artists were appalled.

They unconsciously took a few steps back.

□ □ □