

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 1751

Chapter 1751

Thomas asked, "Does that mean you acknowledge Thea as the Great Grandmaster."

The Thunder King nodded. "Yes."

Thomas said, "Then, according to the previous agreement, from now onward, everyone must obey the orders of our Great Grandmaster."

The Thunder King nodded and said, "I acknowledge her and will obey her command, but only on this expedition to slay the dragon. That will be the extent of my submission to her command."

"Alright." Thomas nodded.

That was more than enough.

With the addition of psychics, their projected success at slaying the dragon was doubled.

Thomas looked at Thea and said, "Thea, you should give the order now."

"Me?" Thea frowned.

"What do I tell them?"

Thomas said, "We'll follow your instructions on how to slay the dragon. You're in charge of our next step."

Thea had no idea what to do.

She knew nothing about dragons.

After thinking for a while, she said, "How about we gather in Cansington first and discuss this matter there."

Cansington was conveniently located near the ocean.

To travel to the island, they would have to travel via cruise ship from Cansington.

Therefore, Thea decided to have everyone meet up in Cansington first.

Sky immediately stepped forward and announced loudly, "Our Great Grandmaster has issued an order! Everyone is to meet up in Cansington first to discuss the plan to slay the dragon! As long as we slay the dragon, everyone will gain immortality!"

"Understood!"

"We'll do as our Great Grandmaster commands!"

"Let's depart to Cansington!"

At that moment, the Omniscient Deity smiled from a distance after seeing this scene and said, "I never expected a person from another country to have survived more than a thousand years. Since he's lived that long, he must've reached the ninth rank. Otherwise, it would've been impossible for James to lose to him."

"I have to go have a look for myself," the Omniscient Deity murmured.

He decided to head to the island to check it out before everyone else started heading there. He wanted to see for himself the strength of the strange man who had practiced martial arts abroad for over a thousand years.

The ancient martial artists on Mount Ludis left one after another.

Thea left together with Thomas.

On the way, Thea asked, "Sir Caden, what're you planning next?"

Thea knew for a long time that Thomas planned to slay the dragon. For this very reason, he had been setting up this plan for decades.

Even the killing of the Spirit Turtle was just a precursor to slaying the dragon.

"Sir Caden, since the Spirit Turtle is also one of the Four Holy Beasts, why can the dragon's blood allow one to become immortal, yet the Spirit Turtle's blood doesn't have the same effect?"

Thea blurted out the question in her heart.

Thomas explained, "It's true the Spirit Turtle is one of the Four Holy Beasts. However, it's the weakest one among them. The dragon is strongest, followed by the phoenix, then the qilin. The Spirit Turtle is in last place. As for whether the phoenix or qilin's blood is capable of giving one immortality, I don't know. I'm certain the dragon's blood is capable of doing so. Furthermore, there are immortals living in this world. Putting the others aside, I know of one hiding among the Blood Race. Moreover..."

Thomas' expression became solemn.

“There’s also one in Sol, the Omniscient Deity.

“The Blood Race’s immortal is afraid of Sol’s immortal, which is why he had never dared to show his face.”

Thea listened attentively.

Hearing this, she could not help but sigh deeply.

Immortality was a tempting prospect.

“Then, what’s your follow-up plan?”

Thomas thought for a while and said, “Of course, it’s to head to the island to slaughter the dragon. However, this time, only the strong should go. Those who have not entered the eighth rank should not be taken along in the mission. Otherwise, they’d be walking to their deaths. Additionally, I plan to take some high-tech weapons as well.

“Attacks from some powerful, high-tech weapons are comparable to a full-strength blow of a martial artist on the Skyward Stairway’s Ninth Rank.”

Thea asked, “When do we depart?”

“There’s no need to rush. We can discuss this in Cansington.”

“Alright.” Thea nodded.

She was uninterested in slaying the dragon.

Her concern was to check on whether or not James was still alive.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 1752

Chapter 1752

The martial community’s conference on Mount Ludis had successfully come to an end.

Initially, Sky wanted to seize the opportunity to become the martial community’s Great Grandmaster. However, Merania’s psychics appeared unexpectedly, and he chose not to act to reveal his strength.

Ultimately, Thea became the Great Grandmaster.

Sky was dissatisfied with the outcome.

After everyone had left, Sky sat among the ruins and smoked a cigarette dejectedly.

Suddenly, a man wearing a red mask walked over.

Sky sensed the approaching person and stood up immediately.

“Teacher.” Sky looked at him respectfully.

He was unclear about his teacher’s identity.

Sky had never seen his teacher’s appearance and only knew his teacher was strong and taught him unique martial art techniques. Even the heaven–defying Great Law of Absorption was introduced to him by his teacher.

The masked Omniscient Deity looked at Sky and said, “Mhm. What’s wrong? You’re in a bad mood.”

With a disappointed face, Sky replied, “I’ve worked so hard but ended up just setting things up for Thea.”

The Omniscient Deity comforted him, saying, “Don’t overthink it. It’s only temporary. Once you obtain the dragon’s blood and become immortal, your lifespan will be prolonged for eternity. You’ll have a long time to live. With such endless time in the world, becoming the greatest martial artist in this world will be a piece of cake.”

“You’re right, Teacher. I understand.”

The Omniscient Deity looked at Sky and said, “On this expedition abroad, I don’t want anyone else coming back alive. Do you understand?”

Sky looked at the masked Omniscient Deity puzzledly.

The Omniscient Deity replied, “You should already understand any person left alive means more immortals. They’ll become a threat to your dream of becoming the greatest of this world.”

“Understood.” Sky nodded.

“Give me the map to the island.”

“Alright.”

Sky immediately pulled out his phone and showed the map he had taken a picture of from James to the Omniscient Deity.

The Omniscient Deity took a look and memorized it instantly.

Then, he turned to leave.

After leaving Mount Ludis, he headed to Cansington and secretly boarded a helicopter heading to the island alone.

He wanted to meet this strong man hidden overseas.

Meanwhile, James had been staying with the mysterious and strange Wilbur for the past few days.

While Wilbur was not manic, he was clear-headed and easy to talk to. He shared his knowledge of the Lunar and Terra Art with James.

For the past few days, James had discussed a lot with Wilbur.

“I think your understanding of it might be wrong.”

James wrote on the ground.

“When cultivating the Lunar and Terra Art, one can cultivate two types of energy, the Terra Energy and the Lunar Energy. They are two complementary streams of True Energy that work well together. You’ve taken a shortcut, causing the Lunar Energy in your body to be more dominant, resulting in your body being unable to cultivate Terra Energy.”

“Is that so?”

After reading the ancient script written by James on the ground, Wilbur also wrote on the ground. “What do you understand from this?”

James wrote on the ground again. “Lunar and Terra represent Sky Energy and Ground Energy, which corresponds to the body’s Yin and Yang energy. Heaven is represented by yang, and the earth is represented by yang. The two need to reach a balance..”

James began to write on the ground, sharing his knowledge.

After seeing it, Wilbur shook his head and wrote again. “No, that can’t be right. I practiced according to the cultivation method, and there shouldn’t be anything wrong.”

James fell into thought.

He looked at the cultivation method recorded on the stone wall and pondered about it seriously.

"I've got the True Nine Ordeals Energy in my body right now. Concentrating all nine streams of energy together would make True Heavenly Energy. From my understanding, I've already cultivated Yang energy, Lunar Energy, and Sky Energy but I lack Yin energy, Terra Energy, and Earth Energy"

"It would be great if Thea was here."

James could not help missing Thea.

The cultivated True Demonic Breath.

If Thea had not lost her memories and cultivation base, he could discuss these martial art problems with Thea.

By the time he realized this, he lived on the island for an extended amount of time.

Sky had left a few days in advance already.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 1753

Chapter 1753

If everything went according to plan, Sky would soon lead a vanguard to the island to kill the dragon.

In the past few days, James had been chatting with Wilbur and discovered a dragon did indeed exist on the island.

The dragon's tail had been severed more than 1,300 years ago, but it was still alive and hiding in the Dragon's Abyss. Over the years, Wilbur had seen the dragon several times.

It would only appear at midnight.

Every time it appeared, its presence precipitated a tsunami.

James spent a long while contemplating and concluded the Lunar and Terra Art, as well as the other powerful martial art techniques recorded on the stone wall, had to be destroyed.

The methods detailed on the wall contained unimaginable strength.

If someone with malicious intentions like Sky obtained this information and practiced the cultivation successfully, he would become a threat to ordinary people everywhere.

James wrote on the ground and expressed his thoughts.

Wilbur immediately disapproved.

He wrote on the ground. "That's unacceptable. Countless people have drawn the same conclusion as you throughout the years, which caused the loss of numerous strong martial art techniques. If I did what you wanted to do years ago, you would never have been able to see such a profound cultivation method and technique."

James wrote. "Even though you have a point, if people with malicious intentions got hold of this, it'd be a catastrophe for this world. There are many regular people living in this world. I must destroy it for the sake of their safety."

Wilbur mulled on James' words for a while and saw that he had a reasonable point.

He wrote on the ground again. "Nevermind. Do as you please."

"Thank you."

After getting permission, James scribbled his word of thanks on the ground.

Then, James reviewed the cultivation method on the wall again.

He repeatedly read through the martial art techniques and cultivation methods to memorize them.

After reviewing it one more time to ensure he remembered everything correctly, James pulled out the Primordial Dragon Blade.

Swoosh!

A powerful Sword Energy burst out from the Primordial Dragon Blade.

The cave began to collapse.

Wilbur quickly fled from the cave.

James also hurried out of the cave before it collapsed.

"Huff."

Wilbur heaved a deep sigh.

Afterward, a stream of energy flowed out from his fingers and scribbled on the ground. "It's a pity another powerful cultivation method and several more exquisite martial art techniques will cease to exist."

James replied in writing. "They've not ceased to exist yet. You and I have memorized it by heart. If we haven't mastered it before we die, we can record it into a manual and pass it on to whoever is destined to receive it."

"True." Wilbur wrote again.

"By the way, where's the dragon?"

James wrote on the ground.

He knew the dragon was in the abyss, but he did not know its precise location.

After reading James' words, Wilbur pointed into the deep waters and wrote. "I advise you not to think about killing the dragon. Its tail was cut off more than one thousand three hundred years ago. However, it's still the leader of the Four Holy Beasts. It's not going to be so easily dealt with."

James replied, "I won't act rashly."

"Haha..."

Suddenly, a burst of laughter came from the distance.

"Who's there?"

James quickly stood on guard and stared into the distance.

A figure had appeared on a cliff.

The person was wearing a white robe and had a red mask on his face.

It was the Omniscient Deity who had rushed over.

With a flash, the person disappeared from the cliff and quickly flew into the abyss, appearing before James and Wilbur in an instant.

His speed was so fast that James did not even have the time to react.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 1754

Chapter 1754

The Omniscient Deity was fast as lightning. James did not even have a chance to react before the Omniscient Deity appeared in front of him.

He took a few steps back in shock.

Wilbur glared at the uninvited guest with a solemn expression.

He parted his lips and murmured a few strange words.

“Old Ignobarian?”

Hearing this, the Omniscient Deity was startled.

The Omniscient Deity immediately understood Wilbur’s origin- an Ignobar martial artist from a thousand years ago.

As a person who had lived for nearly 2,000 years, the Omniscient Deity was proficient in languages from all over the world, and this included some ancient tongues.

However, he said nothing to Wilbur.

The Omniscient Deity’s eyes were glued on James.

It was rumored that James had died, but he was alive and well on the island.

James stared at the Omniscient Deity who was wearing a red mask, and asked, “Who are you? What’re you here for?”

“Ha!”

The Omniscient Deity chuckled and said, “You don’t have to know who I am. I’m not here for you. I’m here for him.”

While speaking, he pointed at Wilbur.

Then, he began to speak in an ancient language and suddenly made a gesture inviting Wilbur to attack him.

Wilbur understood the uninvited guest had come to challenge him. Thus, he motioned for James to step back. With his hands behind him, Wilbur looked straight at the Omniscient Deity.

James understood Wilbur’s intentions and quickly backed away.

Wilbur looked at the Omniscient Deity and said, “...”

The Omniscient Deity replied,

James standing nearby, was dumbfounded by the scene.

He had been with Wilbur for the past few days and heard him speak in Old Ignobarian. Although he could understand a little of it, it was limited to simple greetings. Thus, James was completely unable to understand their conversation.

After the two exchanged a few words, they departed in the blink of an eye.

The two quickly disappeared from James' sight, so he promptly followed them.

He arrived at the coast.

Wilbur stood on a 100-meter-high rock. He was wearing clothes woven from tree vines and his body was covered in hair, making him resemble a chimpanzee.

Meanwhile, the Omniscient Deity stood on the water.

Although the waves were crashing toward him, they seemed to not touch him at all.

James appeared nearby and watched the two of them.

At that moment, an extremely potent energy rose from the Omniscient Deity's body.

His energy caused the waves behind him to crash in the opposite direction.

Wilbur stood on a tall rock.

Suddenly, the Omniscient Deity quickly dashed at Wilbur.

He moved like greased lightning.

The Omniscient Deity was so fast that James could not clearly see his movements. In the blink of an eye, he had appeared in front of Wilbur, raised his hand, and thrust his palm at Wilbur.

Wilbur's body flickered.

The forceful palm attack slammed into the 100-meter-high rock.

The rock disintegrated instantly, turning into a pile of rubble. Meanwhile, a deep pit appeared on the ground.

“What terrifying power.”

Their fight left James speechless

One simple move already contained such destructive strength behind it.

At that moment, Wilbur charged over.

He was also moving at high speeds, and his palm technique was one that James had never seen before. As he thrust his palm forward, multiple illusory palms formed.

The masked Omniscient Deity raised his hand and called forth a powerful force in his palm. Then, he appeared behind Wilbur and threw his fist forward.

With one attack, the skies began to rumble. The intense force triggered a tsunami.

A dazzling white light burst out from Wilbur’s body and quickly gathered behind him, forming a strong shield and defending him from the Omniscient Deity’s punch.

Creak!

Even though James was standing far from the battle, he heard a clear creaking sound

Wilbur’s True Energy shield was unable to resist the Omniscient Deity’s attack.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 1755

Chapter 1755

Wilbur retreated hastily, and a trickle of blood appeared on the corner of his lips.

“Aghh!!!” he bellowed.

As he shouted, his long black hair floated in the air, and his dark eyes turned crimson.

“An Energy Deviation?!”

In the distance, James let out a horrified gasp after seeing this scene.

He knew how terrifying Wilbur was during an Energy Deviation.

Under the effects of the Energy Deviation, Wilbur beat him to the point where he could not fight back.

The Omniscient looked at him, and a faint smile appeared under the mask. “It seems he still hasn’t dispelled the negative effects brought on by the dragon’s blood. Although he's immortal, he can't allow himself to be provoked or feel negative emotions. Otherwise, he'll lose all reasoning and get driven to insanity."

The Omniscient knew Wilbur's strength would increase after entering his berserk state.

It was exactly what he wanted. His whole trip would have been in vain if Wilbur's strength was only as he had displayed previously.

"Sword..." Wilbur roared.

He only shouted one word.

The pronunciation of this word sounded almost Solean.

As his voice resounded, a sword broke out of a rock and dashed out from the Dragon's Abyss within the thick forest in the distance.

James saw a Sword Light rushing into the sky from a distance, then they hurtled toward Wilbur's open palm.

Finally, James could clearly see the sword in Wilbur's hand.

It was a long sword. The blade was white, and about three meters long, radiating with a dazzling white light.

Wilbur immediately displayed his terrifying swordsmanship with his sword. He lunged at the Omniscient Deity, aiming for his head.

The Omniscient Deity tilted his head slightly to dodge the strike. Then, he raised his hand abruptly to strike at Wilbur's wrist. However, Wilbur was able to avoid it and turn his sword around, aiming for the Omniscient Deity's head again.

The Omniscient Deity was a skillful man. Thus, he was bold enough to attempt to catch the long sword.

His five fingers bent to form a claw and generated a potent force in his palm, allowing him to forcibly grab onto the sword's tip.

At that moment, Wilbur quickly withdrew his sword.

The two had an intense battle.

In just a short moment, they exchanged dozens of moves.

James was captivated by their rapid movements.

Wilbur's sword techniques were extraordinary.

However, the Omniscient Deity could parry them with his bare hands and continued to counterattack.

Rumble!

Bang!

The boulders around the sea were constantly shattered by their terrible forces.

The massive shockwaves swept across the sea and caused a tsunami. Enormous waves about several meters to more than ten meters high kept crashing into the coast.

James' blood ran cold as he watched the battle.

He thought he was already relatively powerful and assumed he was on top of the martial artist's pyramid. However, seeing Wilbur and the masked Omniscient Deity fight, he realized how weak he was.

Out of these two, any one of them could easily suppress him in battle.

"Blazing Palm!"

In the distance, the masked Omniscient Deity shouted.

As he shouted, he quickly threw his fists into the air.

Dozens of illusory fists descended from the sky, dashing toward Wilbur.

Wilbur swung his sword in the air, and an elegant Sword Energy materialized to resist the fist attacks, dispersing them.

However, the fist attacks constantly fell from the sky, and even James was not confident in blocking every single one.

Wilbur kept waving his sword. Every time he swung out his sword, a burst of Sword Energy would dash forward to meet the onslaught of fist attacks.

Rumble!

The ground trembled.

Even the sky seemed to be affected by the terrifying force of the explosions. From a distance, the sky looked blurred, and the surroundings seemed slightly distorted.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 1756

Chapter 1756

James was mesmerized.

Despite that, he still watched the fight intently. These two people were top martial artists, so learning something from their battle would benefit him for the rest of his life.

At that moment, Wilbur's body charged at his opponent with blinding speed and appeared above the Omniscient Deity. Immediately afterward, his body and the sword lined up vertically and plunged toward the Omniscient Deity.

The Omniscient Deity quickly anticipated the attack, raised his hand, and was about to grasp the sword with his fingers.

Unexpectedly, Wilbur suddenly changed his trajectory.

"What...?!"

James saw some subtle hints alluding to it.

"It's the Heaven and Earth Sword Art."

It was one of the martial art techniques recorded on the stone wall.

The Heaven and Earth Sword Art was a top-notch sword technique.

The Omniscient Deity did not expect Wilbur's sudden move change and was unable to react in time.

Before he could react, the sword had already pierced him. He tried to dodge but was a step too late. His arm had been struck leaving a bloody, gushing wound.

"Haha..."

The Omniscient Deity laughed.

His laughter rang out throughout the area.

The face under his mask was elated.

It had been so many years.

No one was able to kill him.

Now, someone was finally capable of injuring him.

His blood was boiling.

His lonely heart had found excitement again.

Wilbur was strong enough to hurt him. Finally a worthy opponent he could bring all his strength to bear against.

“Young man, lend me your sword.”

The Omniscient Deity opened his mouth and addressed James with a low voice.

As soon as James heard him, the Omniscient Deity had already appeared before him.

Before he could even respond, the Omniscient Deity had already reached out and snatched the Primordial Dragon Blade from his hand.

James was in disbelief.

The Omniscient Deity snatched his sword, and James was unable to refuse. How strong was this person?

The Omniscient Deity unsheathed the Primordial Dragon Blade.

Suddenly, a terrifying force spewed forth from the Primordial Dragon Blade. The Omniscient Deity felt a burning sensation on his palm, which almost caused him to release his grip on the sword and toss it away.

“Damn it.” he hissed.

“Calm down.”

He summoned his True Energy and used it to forcibly suppress the Primordial Dragon Blade resistance.

The sword shone with a dazzling golden light and emitted stronger energy.

Even the Omniscient Deity could hardly resist the force.

“What a remarkable sword.”

The Omniscient Deity was amazed.

While shocked, he quickly mobilized his True Energy, which flowed into the Primordial Dragon Blade to suppress the sword's energy. He forcibly brandished the Primordial Dragon Blade and rushed at Wilbur in the distance.

James could only watch helplessly.

Even Sky was not able to control the Primordial Dragon Blade.

However, this masked man could somehow control it.

There were countless questions in his heart.

“Who's this person?”

“He spoke Solean, so he's probably from Sol. Was there such a strong man within Sol?”

James tried to guess the mysterious man's identity, but since he was wearing a mask, James could not clearly see his face. As such, James never suspected the person of being Jade Sect's leader.

The Omniscient Deity held onto the Primordial Dragon Blade and displayed a set of ferocious sword techniques.

It was bizarre but powerful.

He swung the sword, causing mountains to collapse and the ground itself to crack.

Although Wilbur was using the Heaven and Earth Sword Art, he was pushed back and could not continuously dodge the attacks.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 1757

Chapter 1757

James watched the battle from a distance.

The intense battle lasted for more than three hours.

For the past three hours, both the Omniscient Deity and Wilbur had displayed many unique sword techniques that James had never seen before.

James was greatly inspired by what he saw.

Although he had seen the First Sword Art in King Quavon's Mausoleum, the requirements to practice the sword technique were extremely rigorous. He barely achieved the requirements to learn it.

After watching the fight between the two, he reached a new understanding of the First Sword Art.

Three hours later...

Bzzt!!!

A flash of Sword Light cut through the sky.

The Omniscient Deity sped toward Wilbur with the Primordial Dragon Blade and pressed the sword against Wilbur's neck.

However, the Omniscient Deity did not proceed past that point.

He quickly pulled back the Primordial Dragon Blade and tossed it at James.

James quickly grabbed onto it.

The Omniscient Deity stood on the sea's surface with his hands behind him. He looked at Wilbur, who was still in a berserk state. Behind the mask, he remained calm as he said, "..."

James could not understand the ancient language he spoke.

At that moment, Wilbur gradually came back to his senses.

His hair was disheveled, and he sustained many injuries.

There was also a wound on his back that was still bleeding.

He quickly took action to stop the bleeding.

Wilbur looked at the Omniscient Deity and asked coldly,"

The Omniscient Deity said, "..."

After the brief conversation, the Omniscient Deity turned around and promptly vanished from Wilbur and James' sight.

After the Omniscient Deity had left, Wilbur wore a solemn expression as he slowly walked toward the shore.

James promptly walked toward him and wrote on the beach sand. "Who was that? What were you both talking about?"

Wilbur gently shook his head, stretched out his hand, and used some energy to reply on the sand. "I don't know who he is. He told me he killed the qilin and acquired its blood and core. He's a ninth-ranked grandmaster. Perhaps, he might even have entered a rank that even I don't know of.

"Ever since I practiced the Atraxia technique you taught me, I can retain a part of my sanity during an Energy Deviation.

"I could tell he wasn't using full strength during our fight. Meanwhile, I was going all out in battle. To him, it seemed like a game. Throughout the whole fight, he held back. He had several opportunities to kill me but never used them. After everything, he told me I was strong and asked me to continue working hard. Also, he said he'll come to find me for another fight one day and that I shouldn't let him down next time so he can have a thrilling battle."

Seeing the words Wilbur had scribbled, James looked into the distant horizon.

"Who the hell is that guy? Was there such a terrifying martial artist hiding within Sol's territory? This world sure is full of hidden mysteries.

"He killed the qilin and acquired its blood and core? That's insane."

James could not help but draw a sharp breath.

Wilbur said he could have surpassed the ninth rank and entered an unprecedented realm.

Was there really another rank beyond the ninth rank?

James was puzzled.

Was the ninth rank not the pinnacle of martial arts?

However, after thinking about it, James felt it made sense.

Martial arts knew no bounds.

The fact that it was unprecedented was not the same as not existing.

If even mythical creatures like dragons and phoenixes existed, then a tenth or eleventh rank could undoubtedly exist.

Thinking of these, James took a deep breath.

“How are you? Are you alright?”

He looked at the injured Wilbur and wrote on the ground. “I have some knowledge of medicine. Let’s head back to the Dragon Abyss first. I’ll find some herbs and bandage the wounds for you later.”

Wilbur wrote on the ground. “Mhm. Okay.”

Afterward, the two left the beach together and headed to the Dragon’s Abyss.

After James checked on Wilbur’s injuries, he went out to look for herbs.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 1758

Chapter 1758

In Cansington, at the Callahans’ villa, it had been a day since Thea had returned.

She fought with the Thunder King on Mount Ludis, and her arm had gotten injured during the battle.

After returning to Cansington, Thomas treated her wound. He wrapped her arm in gauze. Since she had strong True Energy, her body’s recovery abilities were also robust, so the injury on her arm had almost healed.

Thomas also stayed in the Callahans’ villa.

The Callahans knew Thomas was James’ grandfather. As such, they treated him with great respect.

At that moment, Thea and Thomas sat in the villa’s living room after everyone else had left the house.

Thomas looked at Thea and asked, “Thea, do you have any plans or thoughts on how to go about slaying the dragon?”

Hearing this, Thea frowned.

She had no intention of slaying the dragon.

Her objective was to find James and to ascertain whether he was dead or alive.

However, Thomas was James’ grandfather, which meant he was also her grandfather-in-law. This meant she could not blatantly refuse his wishes. After thinking about it for a while, she replied, “I don’t have any ideas, Grandpa. Do you have any plans? Tell me if you do, and I’ll relay the order.”

Thomas thought for a while and said, "This is what I think. We'll bring eighth-ranked grandmasters with us. Also, you can go to the military region to see if you can borrow some high-tech weapons from the Blithe King."

"I'm afraid that's not going to work."

Thea immediately refused and said, "I'm not close with the Blithe King. How will he just lend us high-tech weapons?"

Once again, Thomas closed his eyes in thought before saying, "How about this instead? You go to Donovan, the Blithe family head. The Blithe King is an ordinary member in their family, so he'll definitely obey orders from Donovan."

To kill the dragon, Thomas was meticulous in every aspect.

Killing the Spirit Turtle was child's play compared to the dragon.

This time, it was necessary to bring high-tech weapons. Otherwise, their entire squad could be wiped out. "Alright."

Thea did not know how to decline Thomas. Thus, she could only concede to his plans, saying, "When are you planning to depart? I'll go and ask Donovan about it."

He rubbed his chin for a second and said, "We'll continue to make a few more preparations and set off next Monday."

Thea took out her phone and looked at the screen. It was Wednesday, so they still had time before it was Monday.

Thomas continued. "How about we gather all the martial artists that have arrived in Cansington and hold a detailed briefing."

"Okay. I'll go arrange for it instantly."

Thea got up and left.

That night, countless martial artists from all over the world gathered in Cansington Hotel.

Thea stood on the stage and looked at the martial artists. Then, she said, "Fellow martial artists, we will depart for the island next Monday to slay the dragon! Does anyone have any objections? If so, you may raise your concerns right now."

The martial artists cheered excitedly at Thea's declaration.

"Are we finally going to slay the dragon?"

“We’ll obtain immortality after the dragon is dead!”

“We’ll be able to live for an eternity!”

Many people secretly discussed it among themselves.

“Since there aren’t any objections, it’s decided. Next week, Monday, we’ll take a cruise ship at the port and head out to sea in the morning.”

Thea’s voice resounded.

“Also, for the sake of everyone’s safety, we won’t have everyone participate in this mission. Only eighth- ranked grandmasters are eligible to join us. Of course, I won’t force anyone to partake in this dragon- slaying mission. If you’re unwilling to come, you’re not obligated to join. So, just to make sure, I’d like to ask if any eighth-ranked grandmasters are unwilling to join?”

Thea’s gaze slowly swept over the crowd.

Simon from Mount Thunder Sect stood up and said, “I’m going! Why not?”

Bennett from the Cadens also spoke out. “I’m coming too. I’d like to see the battle for myself.”

1

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 1759

Chapter 1759

Xavi from the Lees also followed suit. “I’m definitely coming. I’d like to see what the dragon looks like and whether it’s as the legends make it out to be.”

Tanner, who used to be a member of Gu Sect’s three major families, stood up and said, “I’ll participate.”

Callan said with a smile, “I must go. I believe James is still alive. I have to go check on him.”

Sylvan Sect’s Master Maha, Heaven and Earth Sect’s Spirit Master, and some international martial artists began sharing their thoughts.

All of them expressed willingness to embark on the journey.

Ultimately, Thea fixed her eyes on Donovan from the Blithes and walked toward him.

Donovan stood up immediately.

He could not behave arrogantly in front of Thea.

Not only was she Celestial Sect's leader, but she was also now the Great Grandmaster of the whole martial community. She currently holds an immense amount of prestige.

"Ms. Thea, why're you staring at me like that? Please stop. You're making me anxious," Donovan said after standing up.

Thea walked to Donovan and smiled, saying, "Mr. Blithe, you don't have to be nervous. I only want to ask for a little favor."

Donovan replied, "Go ahead, Ms. Thea."

Thea was straightforward. "It happens that the dragons are very strong. Although those joining us are powerful martial artists, I'm still worried for everyone's safety. Thus, I am considering bringing some high-tech weapons on our journey. Unfortunately, these weapons are under the possession of the country. I'd like to ask you to obtain some high-tech weapons from the Blithe King."

Donovan replied with a troubled expression, "Thea, that's too much to ask of me. Although I'm capable of giving orders to the Blithe King, he's still one of Sol's Five Commanders. Moreover, you'll need more than his permission alone to take out high-tech weapons. He'll have to submit an application that requires the approval of other higher authorities. Plus, our country has strict rules on the use of high-tech weapons. It'll cause a huge international uproar if news of Sol deploying high-tech weapons gets out."

"..."

Thea was rendered speechless and turned to Thomas,

Thomas thought for a while, then approached Thea, whispering, "Since Donovan can't get it done, ask Henry for help."

"Mhm. I'll give it a try." Thea nodded.

Since she's the Great Grandmaster, it was her duty to bring these people back home safely. She refused to let them lose their lives abroad.

After a brief discussion, Thea left and drove directly to the House of Royals.

Henry had been living in the House of Royals in recent times.

His wedding date was approaching, and he had been busy preparing for it these past few days. "Thea."

Seeing Thea show up, Henry immediately greeted her respectfully. Then, his face filled with sorrow as he said, "About James, I..."

Thea gently waved her hand and said, "I'm not here to see you about James."

"What is it, Thea?"

Thea said, "James traveled abroad to investigate the dragon..."

"By the way."

Henry suddenly came to a realization and asked in shock, "Thea, have you recovered your memories?" "Mhm. It's already been a few days."

Thea nodded and continued. "James headed overseas to investigate the dragon, and Sky said a strange man killed him. I don't believe that James is already dead. I'm planning to lead some people to where he was. There are two reasons. One is to slay the dragon. The second is to find James. However, the dragon is powerful, and I'll need some high-tech weapons to use against it. Could you use your authority to get me some weapons?"

"I..."

Henry wore a troubled look.

Although he was the Emperor and had a significant amount of authority, using it to acquire high-tech weapons for personal use was not something that was easily pardoned.

After contemplating for a while, he replied, "I can't guarantee I'll get them for you, but I can try asking the retired King about it. Although he has stepped down from his position, he's still currently assisting the new King. If I mention that it's for James, he'll probably be willing to help."

"Mhm. That'll be great."

Thea nodded slightly.

"By the way, how long will it take for you to return? Whitney and I are having our wedding soon, and we're hoping for both you and James to attend."

Thea shook her head slightly and said, "I don't know. I think we won't be back in time."

"It's alright. I'll be glad as long as James comes back alive. I'm still waiting to attend your wedding ceremony!"

Thea looked at the House of Royals in a daze.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 1760

Chapter 1760

Thea had a flashback to when she first reencountered James.

James brought her to the House of Royals and treated her wounds. She remembered how he meticulously took care of her.

“Wedding? Will that day ever come?”

Thea’s face filled with sadness.

Sky said James was dead.

She knew James was likely dead but kept deceiving herself.

Henry consoled her, “Thea, that day will surely come. I believe James isn’t dead yet. He’s surely alive.” 1

Thea wiped the tears from the corner of her eyes and took a deep breath to compose her thoughts. Then, she replied, “Please help me settle the matter on the high-tech weapons as soon as possible. I’ll be heading out next Monday.”

“Mhm. I’ll do my best.”

After making the request to Henry, Thea left.

Meanwhile, Henry quickly left Cansington and headed back to the Capital.

One day later...

Tyrus reunited with the Prince of Orchid Mountain in the underground palace deep within the Southern Plain’s forest.

“Father, many major events have occurred recently. Rumors are saying that James is dead.”

“What?” Langston stared at Tyrus.

“He’s dead?”

“Yeah.”

Tyrus explained, "It was reported by Sky. He headed overseas with James, but only Sky returned from the journey. Sky said there was a person who lived for more than one thousand three hundred years on an overseas island. This person was a ninth-ranked grandmaster, and he was incredibly powerful. James somehow antagonized him and was killed as a result."

Langston calmed himself down and asked, "Anything else?"

Tyrus continued. "The other news is that Thea has absorbed the phoenix's blood and has become significantly stronger. Although she hasn't reached the ninth rank yet, in her maddened state, her strength can surpass the Skyward Stairway's Ninth Stair and enter the pre-ninth rank. She has also become the Great Grandmaster of the whole martial community.

"There's also one more thing. That is, Thea will be leading martial artists from all over the world to slay the dragon next Monday."

Hearing this, Langston stood up abruptly and started stretching his limbs.

"I never expected a ninth-ranked grandmaster to be hidden overseas. Things are becoming more interesting. It seems there will be many immortals in Sol after the dragon is slain. It won't be long before more ninth-ranked grandmasters appear. It's time I head outside and make an appearance." 1

"Father, are you going to leave the mountain?" Tyrus said excitedly.

"Mhm."

Langster nodded gently and said, "I've lived in seclusion here for so many years, and it's getting a little lonely. It's time I head outside to meet the Omniscient Deity and the Blood Race's immortal."

"Huff!"

Tyrus took a deep breath.

The world was bound to be turned upside down after his father left the mountain.

Back when his father was a prince, he failed to win the fight for power. Thus, he embarked on a martial art journey.

Although thousands of years had passed, his father's dream of becoming the ruler had never changed. After his father had gathered powerful martial artists from across the globe and was prepared to overthrow the king of the past, he discovered the Omniscient Deity's existence.

So, he feigned his death. Over the years, he had stayed in seclusion within the mountain and rarely walked outside.

The outside world was about to face a huge storm now that his father was preparing to leave the mountain.

“Father, what’s the first thing you plan to do after leaving this place?” asked Tyrus.

Langston smiled and said, “Naturally, I’m going to the island to watch the martial artists of this generation slay the dragon.”

“Do you plan to secretly help them?”

“Of course not. The dragon’s blood is a rare treasure, but the Dragon’s Essence is even more valuable than that. If I can obtain the Dragon Essence, my strength will climb to even greater heights.”

“Then, I shall congratulate you in advance.”

Langston did not respond anymore. With his hands behind his back, he left the dark and damp underground palace.

It was Monday in the blink of an eye.

These few days, Henry had been working very hard.

He met up with the old King and gained his support to convince the new King and some bigwigs of the military department. Ultimately, he was able to obtain some lethal high-tech weapons.