

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 1781

Chapter 1781

Thea had already informed the Callahans of their return in advance. Thus, as soon as the cruise ship docked, David appeared in a pickup truck. James immediately loaded the things they brought back from the island onto the truck

Then, James approached Thomas at the dock.

“Grandpa, when will you bring me to see Dad and the rest of our family? Also, I’ve been wondering who exactly my mother is.”

James had never seen his mother before

As far as he could remember, his family had never said anything about his mother.

His father also remarried, and he had a stepmother-Rowena.

However, his decision brought disaster to his family.

Thomas smiled and said, “Stay in Cansington for a few days. I’ll bring your father to come and see you soon

After Thomas finished speaking, he left. As for James’ mother, he did not mention anything about it

James was looking forward to it

Soon, he would reunite with his family.

The Callahans had no idea what James and Thea had headed overseas to do.

Upon the couple’s return, they noticed the meat and blood they had brought home.

At night, James cooked dinner for them personally. He made stir-fried dragon meat and stewed dragon soup

Basically, their whole meal consisted of the dragon’s meat

James was worried the dragon meat’s energy would be too powerful for the Callahans to consume. Afraid they would die from it, he specifically tasted it to make sure.

Although it consisted of some energy. it was not potent, and ordinary people would be able to bear it.

Every family member of the Callahans, both old and young, gathered at the Callahans' villa.

In the kitchen, Thea tugged James and whispered, "Honey, this is dragon meat. Wouldn't it be a waste to give it to my family members?"

James replied with a smile, "How is this a waste? There's nothing more important than family in this world. Moreover, your family members want to become martial artists. Although the dragon's meat isn't as good as its blood or essence, your family members' physical fitness will improve significantly. With some guidance, they'll become martial artists very soon."

Thea said with dissatisfaction, "I still feel that it's a waste. I'm an immortal, and you're about to become one yourself. We have to think of our future children."

James chuckled and said, "There's a lot of dragon blood. It'll be enough even if we have ten kids."

Thea scolded, "Do you take me for a breeding animal?"

"Alright. That's enough talk. Let's have dinner."

James walked out of the kitchen with the dragon soup in his hands and said with a smile, "Dig in!"

"What kind of meat is this, James? It smells so good!"

David was fascinated by the meat's fragrance as it was one he had never experienced before.

James said with a smile. "It's extraordinary food! Don't you guys want to become martial artists? After you eat this meat and drink this soup tonight, I won't promise much, but it won't be a problem to generate True Energy in your body. The meat will also improve your body's physique and delay cell aging. It won't be a problem for you guys to live a hundred years."

"Ah? Are you serious?"

Gladys exclaimed

She stood up in shock and looked at the meat on the table. Then, she inquired, "What kind of meat is this?"

"It's a secret.*

James put on a mysterious smile, picked up a piece of meat with the utensils, and put it in his mouth. Then, he chewed on the meat.

"Mhm, it's so good."

Seeing James' face of enjoyment, the Callahans could not bear it anymore and dug in one after another. "Ahh, it's so tasty!"

"It's delicious! I've never eaten such delicious meat before."

"Ahh, what's going on? Why does my body feel warm? It's like a fire burning within me, but at the same time, it feels so comfortable

The Callahans chatted and laughed.

Chapter 1782

All the Callahans had eaten the delicious dragon meat.

After consuming it, they felt like a fire was burning within their bodies.

However, the fire did not burn them. It simply made them feel as if there was a warm current surging through their bodies. It was very comfortable

It made them feel as if they were ascending to heaven.

Soon, dinner was over

James and Thea returned to their room on the third floor

Thea showered and walked out of the bathroom with a thin towel wrapped around her body. Her body was covered in injuries from the dragon's claw. Fortunately, the wounds had already clotted

She wiped her hair with another towel as she walked over. Seeing James sitting on the bed in a daze, she could not help but ask, "What's the matter, Honey? What are you thinking about?"

James regained his senses.

"It's nothing. I was just wondering why the Prince of Orchid Mountain and the Omniscient Deity would give you qilin blood and phoenix blood. Also, I can't seem to understand why Langston did not take the dragon's spoils for himself. I believe the human's heart is greedy, and it seems out of the ordinary for him to share the spoils with others"

James paused and continued, "I'm sure the Prince of Orchid Mountain has the strength to suppress all of the ancient martial artists present on the island. However, he did not choose to do so. It's really unbelievable to me."

He had been pondering over these doubts

Why would they give Thea the gilin and phoenix blood?

Why did the Prince of Orchid Mountain take the Dragon Essence for himself?

Why would he not want the whole Dragon Essence?

Upon hearing James' questions, Thea's expression became grave. She sat down and said. "Yeah, I also couldn't figure these questions out either. Forget it. We shouldn't stress about it. It's getting late. Go wash up and sleep."

Thea pushed James in the direction of the bathroom

James walked toward the bathroom.

Then, he soaked himself in the bathtub.

He kept pondering over the unsolved questions.

What were the Omniscient Deity and the Prince of Orchid Mountain's goals?

Why were they helping Thea?

He could not figure it out, so he pushed the thoughts away and finished washing up

Since he had not touched Thea for more than a year, he was slightly excited.

When he came out of the bathroom, Thea was already lying in bed.

She covered her delicate body with a blanket and only exposed her head.

"Come here."

She stretched out her slender hands and hooked her finger at James

James was a man and could not withstand such temptations. He immediately rushed over to her.

The next day, James woke up early in the morning.

Meanwhile, Thea was still sound asleep in bed.

They had a crazy night

He got up and got dressed.

When he got out of bed, it was only slightly over six in the morning, and the sun had not risen. He walked out to the villa's yard and breathed in the fresh air, stretching out his body

He sat in a lotus position in the yard and breathed in the fresh air, emptying his mind of thoughts. Then, he began pondering how to break into the ninth rank.

He had tried countless times.

However, he failed every attempt

The Omniscient Deity's words resounded in his mind

He said the ninth rank could not be achieved through practice but needed one to come to a self- realization.

Initially, he thought the Omniscient Deity was spouting nonsense

Now, he was convinced by his words.

Especially after he discovered that the Omniscient Deity was a powerful martial artist of the ninth rank. "Comprehend?"

"How do I comprehend it?"

"He said I lacked life experience and needed more understanding in life, which is why I'm unable to step into the ninth rank," James murmured

He personally thought he had a lot of life experience.

After being in the army for ten years, he had seen it all.

If that was considered insufficient, what would he have to go through to be regarded as someone who had lived a rich life?

Before he knew it, it was already dawn.

The sun slowly rose from the horizon, and a ray of morning glow appeared.

The dark sky was slowly lit up by the sun.

James raised his head and watched the morning glow in the distance.

At that moment, he suddenly had a realization.

“An alternation between black and white. A fusion of Yin and Yang. The heavens and the earth merging into one.”

This was the Heaven and Earth Art’s cultivation method.

James could not figure out what it meant.

At that moment, he suddenly had a revelation of its meaning.

“The breath of the forenoon.”

James began to comprehend it slowly.

Forenoon meant the daybreak.

Breath meant the morning air.

Chapter 1783

The air in the morning was the freshest and purest

“Breathe and grow in capacity.”

James started to ponder on the Heaven and Earth Art.

He recited the cultivation method in his mind repeatedly.

After witnessing the alternation of night and day just now, he realized many things.

With the sudden realization, he thoroughly understood the Heaven and Earth Art.

1 see. That’s how it is.”

James’ face lit up.

The Heaven and Earth Art was no ordinary cultivation method. It surpassed his former understanding of martial arts.

The so-called Heaven and Earth Art was a breathing method.

It was important for one to breathe in the fresh morning air.

Air could be said to be Spiritual Energy.

It was heaven and earth's Spiritual Energy.

Fresh air was most abundant in the morning.

James began to breathe according to the Heaven and Earth Art's breathing method.

Swoosh

With the fresh air entering his body, heaven and earth's energy also permeated his body. His body felt an indescribable comfort, and his bones cracked.

"This is an excellent breathing method. The Heaven and Earth Art is outstanding."

James was shocked.

In just a short period, he felt obvious changes in his body.

"Honey."

A voice called out for him.

James stopped.

Thea walked over

The wounds on her body had not completely healed, so she chose not to wear a dress and instead chose a long-sleeved outfit.

Although she was in casual clothes, she was still beautiful.

"What are you doing?"

Thea approached and asked.

James stood up and said excitedly. "Thea, I learned a miraculous cultivation method from the island. I just comprehended it, and it's amazing. I'll teach it to you."

"Not now. It can wait until next time. It's Henry's wedding today, and he called to ask if we're going."

"What?"

James was stunned.

He suddenly remembered Henry telling him about the wedding.

"How could I forget about it? Alright, I'll head to the room to change immediately. Let's attend it together."

After saying that, James returned to the room and changed his clothes.

Then, he drove to the House of Royals

Meanwhile, Sky sat in a lotus position in a villa at Cansington.

He had failed to kill the martial artists on the island and had been brooding over it.

Now, he did not have the courage to see his teacher.

Moreover, he was injured.

His body was pierced by a long sword, and he sustained a palm attack.

However, he was a powerful martial artist, and his organs could actively move out of the way when he was pierced. Thus, it only caused minor physical trauma. However, the palm attack caused him internal injuries

When he boarded the cruise ship, he had planned to leave in a small boat and blow up the cruise ship.

However, Thomas got in his way.

"Damn it, Thomas "

Sky cursed out

Thud! Thud! Thud!

Footsteps sounded.

Sky looked up and saw the Omniscient Deity approaching him.

On the island, he had learned about the Omniscient Deity's immortality

However, he was still unaware that the Omniscient Deity was his teacher.

Sky stood up abruptly and stared at him warily.

"What are you doing here?"

With his hands behind him, the Omniscient Deity replied calmly, "What? You don't recognize me as your teacher?"

"What?" Sky was shocked.

His teacher had always worn a mask in the past, so he was unaware of his teacher's identity. Thus, he was shocked by the sudden reveal

"Lord Omniscient, are you saying you're my teacher?"

"Mhm." The Omniscient Deity nodded.

Sky quickly reacted and knelt on one knee. "Sir."

He did not doubt the Omniscient Deity's claims to be his teacher.

Sky knew his teacher was strong, and the Omniscient Deity was indeed a powerful ninth-ranked grandmaster.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 1784

Chapter 1784

"Okay."

Omniscient Deity nodded and said gently, "Rise."

Sky stood up

He stood aside nervously

Sky remembered provoking a fight with James at the Jade Sect, and he broke out in a cold sweat. He would never have dared to act so arrogantly on Mount Jade if he had known the Omniscient Deity was his teacher.

The Omniscient Deity remained silent.

Sky was flustered

“Sir, please let me explain. On the island, the Prince of Orchid Mountain appeared, and L

The Omniscient Deity waved his hand and said, “I know.”

Then, why have you come to see me?”

Sky looked at the Omniscient Deity.

He thought his teacher was here to scold him, but that did not seem to be the case. He was unable to read the Omniscient Deity’s intentions.

“You’ve already ascended the Skyward Stairway’s Ninth Stair and are one step away from becoming a ninth-ranked grandmaster. I’ve come to give you some advice and guidance to break into the ninth rank.” Hearing this, Sky was overjoyed. He knelt on the ground again and said, “Please guide me, Sir.”

“Get up. Don’t kneel out of the blue.”

“Alright”

Sky stood aside and looked at the Omniscient Deity with anticipation

The Omniscient Deity said. “The ninth rank requires one to have rich experiences in life before being able to comprehend it. You’ve lived for a long time but have too much greed. You’ll never be able to break through the rank if you don’t let go of it. You’ll step into the ninth rank once you let go of your greed.

“To eliminate the greed in your heart, you should dwell within the commoners. Find yourself a wife and have a daughter or son. Live a good life, and perhaps by the time your child grows up, you’ll realize what it takes.”

After the Omniscient Deity finished speaking, he turned around and left.

Although he was out of sight, his voice resounded.

“Remember my advice. If you want to enter the ninth rank, you can have desires, but you have to put away your greed.”

With that said, the Omniscient Deity left the villa.

After the Omniscient Deity left, Sky sat down and pondered on his teacher’s words.

Is it really impossible for me to enter the ninth rank?

“Am I really full of greed?”

Sky was not convinced..

He was sure he could enter the ninth rank if he was strong enough.

He no longer lingered and left Cansington with the dragon’s blood and essence to search for a place to meditate in seclusion. He wanted to refine the Dragon Essence and break through the ninth rank.

Sky did not believe the Omniscient Deity’s words.

Meanwhile, things were lively in the House of Royals in Cansington.

Before dawn, many luxurious cars had already appeared outside the House of Royals. Many prominent figures within Cansington were waiting outside. Even bigwigs from the Capital had shown up.

Today was the Emperor, Henry’s wedding.

Moreover, his fiancée had a solid background and was a commander’s daughter

When James and Thea arrived, some big shots were already present in the House of Royals.

Henry wore a suit with a flower pin. He was warmly greeting his guests.

“Henry”

James walked over and greeted him from afar.

“James!”

Seeing James approaching. Henry rushed over ecstatically and embraced him. Then, he laughed out loud. “I knew it! I knew you were safe and sound!”

“Alright, that’s enough. Today’s your wedding. Don’t embarrass yourself”

James pushed Henry away

“Thea.”

Henry also greeted Thea

Thea smiled and said, "Congratulations, Henry. I'm glad that your relationship has come to this. I've nothing much to offer, but this is my gift to you."

Thea took out the Dragon Essence and handed it to Henry.
