

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 1826

Chapter 1826

Meanwhile, at the Callahans' grand villa in the suburbs...

It was a grand villa specially constructed by the Callahans where the most important family members resided in.

At the moment, Thea was sitting on an armchair in the courtyard of the villa. Holding a book on prenatal education in her hand, she read the book out loud.

Boom!

All of a sudden, the door was kicked open.

Thea stood up immediately as a group of unknown men rushed into the compound. A man could be seen tumbling and staggering his way in

The man was David, whose face was bruised. After running into the courtyard, he hurriedly rushed toward Thea and hid behind her "H-Help me, Thea!"

Thea gestured for him to calm down. Then, she remained where she stood and stared at the unwelcome + guests.

Several men walked over to Thea with mischievous grins on their faces.

"Who are you?" Thea's face darkened, and she said, "This is the Callahans' residence."

A middle-aged man in the lead said smilingly, "I know. You must be Thea. Please, follow us."

Looking at these unwelcome guests, Thea had a bad premonition. She said coldly, "Leave immediately. Otherwise, don't blame me for what happens next."

At that moment, a man slowly entered the courtyard. He was wearing a white robe and a composed expression on his face.

"Sky"

Upon seeing the man, Thea's face paled.

Then, she raised her arm, and a sword flew toward her from her room on the third floor. Holding the Malevolent Sword in her hand, she looked at Sky suspiciously.

Sky appeared before her and uttered word by word, "Thea, I'm here to make a request of you. Please follow me back to Tacriyrus. Don't make me resort to violence. I admit that you're impressive, but you stand no chance against me. Besides, as you said, this is the Callahans' residence. Once a fight breaks out here, many innocent lives will be lost. You might even lose your baby"

Sky spoke calmly.

Upon hearing this, Thea's expression turned grim.

She looked at Sky and asked, "What is the meaning of this, Sky? The Callahans have never provoked you. What are you doing here?"

"Take her." Sky immediately gave the order.

His subordinates immediately brandished their swords.

At that moment, Lex and the others walked out of the villa. Upon seeing Thea holding the Malevolent Sword in her hand and having a standoff with a group of armed men, they froze.

Lex swiftly walked over to them and chided, "This is the Callahans' residence. How dare you.

Thea stopped him in time, "Grandpa, return to the villa. Leave everything to me.

"Thea..."

"Give James a call." As she said that, she sheathed the Malevolent Sword.

She knew that she could not allow a battle to break out here. Sky was a ninth-rank grandmaster, so she would not stand a chance against him. Besides, the Callahans would surely be dragged into the conflict. Moreover, she was also pregnant. She could not risk losing her baby.

Thea looked at Sky and said, "I can leave with you. However, you'll have to tell me the reason."

"This is none of your concern. Take her away," Sky said coldly and ordered.

Some men walked over to Thea and said, "Please, follow us."

Thea had no choice but to comply.

"You b*stards, I'll tear you to pieces!"

A Callahan youngster charged toward them.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 1827

Chapter 1827

However, the moment he took a step forward, he immediately staggered backward and collapsed heavily to the ground while vomiting a mouthful of blood.

By then, Thea had already left with Sky.

Meanwhile, Lex swiftly pulled his phone out and called James. Although the call went through, no one answered the phone.

He called repeatedly, but despite numerous attempts, no one picked up the phone.

So, he opted to send James a message, [Something bad happened, James. Thea has been abducted. Return to Cansington at once.]

The important members of the Callahans gathered for a meeting.

“Grandpa, who was the one who abducted Thea?” Tommy asked.

Lex’s expression turned grim. Now that the Callahans had become an ancient martial family, he had been in close contact with the wider ancient martial world, so he knew a thing or two. He had heard of Thea’s overwhelming presence and influence over the ancient martial world.

Since Thea willingly left with the man, this could only mean that the man possessed terrifying strength.

“Grandpa, I found a video.” A youngster opened a video and said, “He’s Sky, the current Sect Leader of the Celestial Sect and also the Emperor of Tacriyrus. Two weeks ago, he fought against Omniscient Deity on Mount Kirkton and defeated him. So, he’s currently the greatest in the world.”

When he heard this, Lex’s body went limp, and he collapsed on the sofa. Wearing a grim expression, he said, “What the hell is going on? When did we ever provoke Tacriyrus? Why did they take Thea away? What is he up to?”

He pulled his phone out once more and called James. However, the call did not go through again.

The Callahans were in a panic mode after Thea’s abduction.

A day later, Thomas arrived in Cansington alongside the guardians of Japura—Tobias and Lucjan.

In the foyer of the Callahans' villa...

"Thomas..." Lex sniffed while saying, "Thea has been abducted by Sky. You have to save her."

"Damn it!" Thomas smashed the table, which shattered into pieces. He took a deep breath to forcibly calm himself down. Then, looking at Lex, he said, "Don't worry, I'll bring Thea back safely. By the way, where's James?"

Lex said, "I called him numerous times but no one answered the phone,"

"Mhm." Thomas could not care less about James. He had to make his way to Tacriyrus and bring Thea back. He knew that Thea's baby would be due soon, and he would not allow any accidents to occur. Who would dare harm the Caden bloodline?

He stood up and turned to leave, while Tobias and Lucjan followed close behind.

After leaving the Callahans' villa, Tobias said, 'Your Majesty, how did Maxine know that Sky was about to make a move on Thea? This makes no sense at all.'

'We don't have time for this, Tobias. Our priority is to head over to Tacriyrus immediately.' Thomas said.

He did not have time to question how on earth Maxine knew in advance. Alongside his entourage, he swiftly headed to Tacriyrus.

A day later in Tacriyrus...

Tacriyrus was originally a small nation in civil strife. Sky seized the opportunity and took control of the country by mobilizing the disciples of the Celestial Sect. In a short amount of time, he established the capital and constructed a palace.

The palace was only an ordinary-looking ancient building. Many armed guards patrolled the area.

Then, Sky appeared alongside Tobias and Lucjan.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 1828

Chapter 1828

"Who's there?"

Thomas' appearance attracted the palace guards' attention. Dozens of heavily-armed palace guards immediately surrounded the three of them.

Swish! Swoosh!

In an instant, the palace guards were lying in a pool of blood.

As his movement was too agile, the palace guards could not react in time. By the time they realized what was going on, their necks were slashed, and they collapsed to the ground.

Right then, the alarm was triggered. The palace gate opened, and countless soldiers rushed out.

Holding a sword in his hand, Tobias slashed with his sword. In an instant, the soldiers were killed.

At the same time, Sky was making out with a beautiful woman in a room in the palace's courtyard.

Knock! Knock! Knock!

A knock came on the door.

Cursing, Sky pushed the woman in his lap away and got dressed. Opening the door, he glared at the kneeling man outside the courtyard and reprimanded him, "What the hell is going on?"

"Your Majesty, we have intruders!"

"Who dares..."

"It's me."

A voice came from behind him, and Sky turned his head.

Three people walked over to him. In the lead was Thomas, who roared furiously, "How dare you, Sky?! What makes you think you can pick on a Caden as you please?!"

Upon seeing Thomas, Sky walked over to him while saying coldly, "I was wondering who it was. So it's you, Thomas Caden, Emperor of Japura.

What do you think you are doing marching straight into my palace? Aren't you afraid I might do the same to you?"

"Cut the cr*p. Where's Thea?" Thomas questioned.

“So you came for her.” Sky said coldly, “Yes, I was the one who took her away. But what can you do to stop me?”

He said matter-of-factly as if he could not care less about Thomas’ opinion.

“You must have a death wish!” Thomas brandished the Malignant Sword, and formless Sword Energy shredded through the air.

Sky dodged his attack.

Instantly, the building behind him was reduced to rubble.

Sky appeared a hundred meters away and glared at Thomas. His expression darkened, and he said coldly, “I will tear you to pieces!” Then, he charged toward Thomas.

Immediately, Tobias and Lucjan, who were behind Thomas all this while, stepped forward and deflected Sky’s attack.

Their fists collided.

Boom!

Powerful energy burst forth and destroyed the palace. In an instant, countless bodies lay on the ground motionless.

Sky staggered backward, while Tobias and Lucjan were sent flying and crashed heavily to the ground.

Upon witnessing the palace’s destruction and hearing the agonizing screams of the injured, Sky’s face darkened. It was only a temporary palace for Sky, but it represented his power and influence. Now, everything was destroyed. If word of this spread, he would be made the laughingstock of the world.

He clenched his fists furiously.

“How dare you, Thomas?!”

Thomas pointed the Malignant Sword at Sky.

Even though he was only a Half-Saint, he was immortal. As such, he was unafraid of Sky, a ninth-rank grandmaster, at all. He said coldly, “If you don’t hand over Thea to me, I will annihilate Tacriyrus and all of its citizens.”

“You...”

Sky was enraged.

However, he did not doubt his strength. After all, Thomas indeed had the capability to do so. Though he was confident he could defeat Thomas, his stronghold in Tacriyrus would be obliterated if a battle broke out.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 1829

Chapter 1829

Sky did not wish for this to happen.

Though Tacriyrus was only a tiny and insignificant nation on the world stage, he planned to use Tacriyrus as a foothold to conquer territories and expand the nation into the largest on the planet, and perhaps the sole remaining one on earth.

‘Thomas, make another move, and Thea and her child will be dead!’

Sky looked at Thomas with a smug grin on his face.

Thomas was here almost immediately he abducted Thea. This could only mean that Thomas value Thea and the baby inside her womb greatly.

Currently, he did not wish to fight against Thomas on his own territory for fear of destroying it. The population of Tacriyrus numbered only in the millions. If they perished, it would be nigh impossible for him to develop the nation.

“You...!” Thomas was enraged. He was at a loss.

“Hahaha!”

At that moment, a burst of laughter boomed.

Everyone turned their heads.

‘The Prince of Orchid Mountain?’

Thomas, Sky, Tobias, and Lucjan’s faces paled.

Looking at the Prince of Orchid Mountain, Sky’s face darkened as he said, “What are you doing here in Tacriyrus, Prince of Orchid Mountain?”

Langston appeared several meters in the high. The moment he took a step forward, he was already on the ground before Sky.

He looked at Sky and said coldly, “I came here for a walk, of course. Sky, you’ve pushed it too far this time. Do you really think you can do anything you please just because you defeated Omniscient Deity? How dare you make a move on Thea Callahan?"

"What does this have to do with you?" Sky said coldly.

Thomas was here because Thea was his grandson's wife. Why was the Prince of Orchid here as well?

"What do you think?" Langston smiled faintly.

Fwoosh!

In the blink of an eye, he appeared before Sky. His speed was extraordinary, and by the time Sky realized what was going on, it was already too late.

He could feel a terrifying pressure that made him harder to breathe. He tried catalyzing True Energy to resist the pressure. However, the moment he catalyzed True Energy, an excruciating pain came from inside his body. Sweat beaded on his forehead as he was consumed by fear.

Though he had proclaimed himself to be the greatest after defeating Omniscient Deity, he did not stand a chance against Langston.

Langston simply raised his arm and slammed his palm against Sky's chest. In an instant, Sky was sent flying and collapsed heavily to the ground, vomiting a mouthful of blood.

After striking Sky, Langston uttered word by word, "Here's a little lesson for you. If you repeat your mistake, don't blame me for what happens next."

Then, Langston glanced at Thomas and the others before turning to leave.

"What?"

Thomas was dumbfounded.

He knew about Sky's strength. Although he could tell that the Omniscient Deity purposefully lost to him, he believed that there was no power disparity between these ninth-rank martial artists. Now, however, Sky did not stand a chance against the Prince of Orchid Mountain. What kind of strength did he possess?

After Langston left, Sky slowly got up from the ground. There were blood traces on his lips, and a vein popped out in his neck.

"How can this be...? How can he be this powerful?"

He was in disbelief.

Although he had defeated the Omniscient Deity, who had lived for two millennia, he did not stand a chance against Langston at all.

“Sir Caden.”

A familiar voice came. Then, a pregnant woman wearing an oversized shirt walked over to them.

It was Thea.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 1830

Chapter 1830

Upon seeing Thea safe and sound, Thomas breathed a sigh of relief. Then, he walked over to her and asked, “Are you alright, Thea?”

Thea shook her head slightly and said, “I’m alright.”

“Was it the Prince of Orchid who saved you?” Thomas asked puzzledly.

Thea nodded slightly and said, “Yes, he found me.”

After she spoke, she glanced at Sky who was dismayed. She had witnessed the entire right from afar. Thea did not expect Langston to be so powerful that even Sky, a ninth-rank grandmaster, did not stand a chance against him.

Sky looked at Thea with a darkened expression. Originally, he planned to abduct Thea to coerce James into doing his bidding. However, he did not expect Thomas and Langston to show up. He did not dare to stop Thea from leaving.

“Leave.”

After he said that, he turned to leave.

Thomas said, “Since everything’s now resolved, we should get going.”

“Mhm.” Thea nodded.

Then, they turned to leave.

However, before they could leave, a group of young men appeared. In the lead was a man wearing a golden robe with long silver hair. He exuded a powerful aura and had an apathetic look on his face.

Thomas and the others stopped and looked at the people who blocked their path.

Tobias whispered, "They are from the Void Sect."

Thomas could easily tell that they were from the Void Sect. After all, they were being too high profile lately. He walked over to the man with silver hair and asked coldly, "I'm Thomas Caden. Is something the matter?"

The man pointed at Thea, who froze upon seeing this.

"M-Me...r

"That's right."

The man walked over to her and introduced himself, "Hello, Thea, my name is Kaj Waseem, a senior disciple of the Void Sect. We came here for you today, and we'd like you to come with us."

Hearing this, Tobias and Lucjan brandished their swords.

Kaj glanced at the two of them.

In an instant, two men appeared before behind him and charged toward Tobias and Lucjan.

Their fists collided.

Boom!

Powerful energy shredded through the air, and Tobias and Lucjan were sent flying and collapsed to the ground, vomiting a mouthful of blood.

Upon seeing this, Thomas was stunned. Though he had heard of the Void Sect's overwhelming strength, he had never personally witnessed it himself. Now that this had happened before him, a chill ran down his spine. After consuming the dragon's blood, Tobias and Lucjan had reached the peak of the Ninth Stair. They should be considered some of the greatest martial artists in the world, yet they were defeated so easily.

After Kaj's subordinates sent the two flying, they stepped back and returned to their respective positions behind Kaj.

Meanwhile, Kaj said smilingly, "Ms. Thea, we don't mean you harm. Several weeks ago, your husband, James Caden, defeated a disciple of the Void Sect. He has greatly humiliated us. The elders of the Void Sect are determined to defeat James. So, please come with us. If James accepts the challenge, we assure you that your safety is guaranteed no matter the outcome of the battle."

Thomas stepped forward and said, "I believe this is inappropriate. Thea's baby is due soon. Why don't I go in her stead?"

Kaj glanced at him coldly and said, "I was speaking to Ms. Thea. What makes you think you have the right to interrupt our conversation?" "You!" Thomas was enraged. "Hmph! I'm curious to see if the Void Sect is as powerful as the rumors say!"