Chapter 191 The House of Royals was an extremely found place in Cansington. However, not even the super-rich were permitted to visit the House of Royals.

Many bigwigs were curious about what the House of Royals looked like after receiving an invitation from Lex.

Lex had used a significant amount of money to host this event.

Initially, he had a budget of 30 million, then added an additional 50 million. In total, the whole event cost them 80 million dollars.

Outside the House of Royals, there was an open space.

In this area, a stage was set up with an artist singing to her heart's content. It would look like a Christmas event if someone passed by without knowing what was happening. The living room in the House of Royals was thousands of square meters.

Lex wore a red suit and held his dragon cane proudly and confidently.

All the other Callahans were energetic and very high-spirited.

Thea showed up in a gorgeous dress and became the center of attention.

“Lex is really impressive to have even the genius doctor, Jay, attend his birthday party.” “Yeah, I’m so confused. How did a head of a second-class family suddenly rise up?”

“Alex, Yuna, Charles, Jay, and Bryan are the top people in the river. Now they’re all attending Lex’s birthday.”

“Gavin, a Cansington’s representative of the Five Provinces Business Alliance has arrived. He presented eight hundred eighty-eight dollars, 18 famous paintings, 38 antiques, 88 grams of gold, and a villa in the Goodview Villa District...”

A pleasing voice sounded through the speakers in the House of Royal’s living room. Everyone held their breath as the announcement sounded through the speakers.

It was such a generous present. ‘When did the Callahans get involved with the Five Provinces Business Alliance?’

Even the Great Four who applied to join the Five Provinces Business Alliance were rejected.

Now. Gavin from the Five Province Business Alliance had come to celebrate Lex’s birthday in person and even prepared such a generous gift.

Everyone was stunned.

They did not understand what was happening.

However, they understood that the Callahans were about to rise high.

It was impossible for them not to rise above the others with the Five Provinces Business Alliance as a backbone.

Chapter 192

Gavin was a council member of the Five Provinces Business Alliance.

The previous day, Zack, a member of the Five Provinces Business Alliance had offended Lex.

Yacob, the business alliance’s president was furious and phoned Gavin to scold him, asking him to seek forgiveness.

Gavin heard it was because the Callahans knew a particular general.

In order to extinguish his anger, he prepared a generous gift today and personally came to celebrate Lex’s birthday.

Gavin was a low-profile person who rarely attended any events. Many people were envious of Lex for getting Gavin to show up in person and prepare such a generous gift.

Everyone understood it was the Callahans rising in status.

Lex, dressed in a red suit, walked over with his cane in hand and a smile on his face. "Mr. Watson, it's enough for you to be here. You didn't need to bring such a great gift. You're flattering me." "Mr. Callahan, it's a small gift to show my sincerity. I hope you like it."

Outside the House of Royal, under a big tree.

An ordinary vehicle without a license plate was parked under the tree and two people sat inside the car.

They were James and Henry. Henry held on a laptop and watched the live footage of the House of Royals through the surveillance cameras.

"James, Lex is having the time of his life. He can be considered a shrewd person, so how does he not understand that there's definitely something weird going on with so many bigwigs suddenly showing up on his birthday?"

“He’s a stubborn old man. I wanted to make him look good for Thea’s sake, but he didn’t trust me. Instead, he trusted the deputy captain of some specialized police unit. There’s going to be a good show later,” James replied nonchalantly as he leaned on the chair and smoked a cigarette. Henry controlled the surveillance camera and focused it on Thea.

He handed the laptop over to James. “James, there’s Thea.” James was immediately interested and took the laptop to see Thea through the surveillance footage.

Thea was dressed in a white dress, her long hair was tied up, and she radiated the aura of a princess. Countless rich men surrounded her and tried to court her.

Seeing this, James returned the computer to Henry.

“Write down the names of all these men talking to Thea, especially those who are looking at her with lust. Write them all down, and I’ll deal with them later.”

“You’re too overbearing, James. Thea is also a human being and will need her own social circle. Who would dare to be her friend in the future if you’re always going to keep acting like this?” Henry said awkwardly.

“It’s okay to make friends. However, those with ulterior motives shouldn’t blame me,” James said very righteously. “Fine. I’ll look out for those who seem to have the wrong idea toward her.”

House of Royals, Living room.

Lex continuously greeted the bigwigs that showed up at his birthday party.

“From the North Cansington Military Region, Chase Nolan has arrived and presented a gift of premium tobacco and alcohol.”

A voice sounded in the living room.

It was an announcement that shocked everyone present.

The living room filled with hundreds of people fell into silence instantly, and everyone turned toward the door.

Two people walked through the door.

Both of them were dressed in uniforms. The one walking ahead was a middle-aged man in his fifties, who wore a military cap and had a shiny star medal on his shoulder.

Meanwhile, Gladys felt embarrassed. She glanced at Thea beside her and sighed.

The good son-in-law was not theirs.

Brody was influential and was capable of getting permission for Lex to hold his birthday at the House of Royals and invited a general to put on such a fancy show in front of everyone.

Her son-in-law, however?

She was furious just thinking of James. Thea was aware of what was on Gladys’ mind. She simply smiled awkwardly and said, “Mum, I’ll surely make you proud in the future.”

The atmosphere of the birthday party was pushed to a new climax with the arrival of Chase.

Unexpectedly, the announcement voice sounded again. “Ms. Scarlett Brooks, the chairman of the Transgenerational Group, has arrived!

Everyone held their breath as the announcement sounded.

“S-Scarlett?” “The chairman of Transgenerational Group, Scarlett? The mysterious person that bought the Transgenerational Group?”

All eyes were glued on the door. A beautiful woman dressed in a blue dress with a charismatic aura walked in, followed by another person behind her.

It was Xara.

“Huh? Gladys, Thea, and David were taken aback to see Xara follow behind Scarlett.

'The Scarlett who bought the entire Transgenerational Group?'

The noisy living room went silent in an instant. Scarlett's name and reputation had been widespread throughout Cansington since she bought the Transgenerational Group. This was a figure on the pinnacle of the pyramid. What was a wealthy family right now?

They were nothing in front of Scarlett. "What's going on, Thea? Isn't that Xara? Why is she with Scarlett? That's the new owner and chairman of the Transgenerational Group," David whispered. Thea shook her head. "How would I know?"

Scarlett entered the room, and her beautiful eyes scanned the room.

Scarlett stood in front of Chase and glared at him. She showed no respect despite the star on his shoulder.

“Did you give him permission?”

Huh?”

Chase was also confused by the situation.

He did not recognize the woman in front of him.

However, he knew about the Transgenerational Group.

He was a general, so he knew more insider information. Someone had used their authority to force the Five Provinces Business Alliance to sell the Transgenerational Group.

Scarlett glanced at him and calmly asked word by word, “Lex said you permitted him to celebrate his birthday here. Who gave you the right to do so? Chase was taken aback What did this have to do with him?”

He glanced at Lex and asked, “Mr. Callahan, what is the meaning of this...”

Lex hurriedly asked, “General Nolan, aren’t you the one who permitted me to use the venue?” “I’ve no idea what you’re talking about.” Chase was stunned, ‘What does this have to do with me?’

Chapter 195 Lex looked at Brody. Brody stood up and said, “Uncle, didn’t I call you yesterday about getting beaten up by the Xenoses?”

York nodded. “Yeah? I think that happened.”

Brody did call him yesterday, but he was busy with some business and did not have to take care of such trivial matters, so he casually brushed it off. “Yeah. Then, Mr. Watson showed up with the perpetrators to ask for forgiveness and allowed us to use the House of Royals to organize the birthday party.” “Huh?”

Scarlett looked at Gavin.

Gavin was also confused.

‘What’s going on here?’ He asked for forgiveness because the president called him, saying the general was angry.

Since Chase was the only general present, he naturally assumed it was his doing.

‘Was I wrong?’

Scarlett’s face darkened, and she glared at the bright decorations around the House of Royals. She glanced at Lex and uttered word by word, “I’ll treat it as if you’ve rented this place from me, Lex. It will cost thirty billion for one day. I’ll personally visit the Callahans to collect the money.”

"What's going on?" Gladys stood up and asked Xara, who was standing beside Scarlett.

"Ms. Brooks owns the House of Royals. You didn't seek her permission and organized an event in her villa. Of course Ms. Brooks will ask for compensation. You guys better be ready to pay up. It's not much, just thirty billion dollars. Well, it's not that Ms. Brooks needs the money, but she'll definitely need to clean up the House of Royals after you all dirtied it, right?"

Lex glanced at Gladys and asked Gladys, “Do you know her?” “She... She’s my niece,” said Gladys.

Hearing this, Lex grabbed Gladys as if she was his life-saving straw. He said, “Gladys, you need to help me this time. How are the Callahans going to come up with thirty billion?”

Gladys glanced at Xara and asked, “What’s your relationship with Ms. Brooks, Xara?”

“Ms. Brooks recognized my talents and hired me to work in the Transgenerational Group. I can’t really do anything to help.”

All the members of the Callahans rushed over and shouted, “Grandpa, this is bad! There’s an army outside. The B-Blithe King is here!”

Soon, a man wearing a military uniform with five stars on his shoulders walked into the venue.

He approached Scarlett and nodded. Then, he looked at Yoke, who was standing aside, and ordered, “Detain Yoke and send him to military court! He will be punished according to the law!”

Yoke almost passed out after hearing the order.

Chapter 196 The general’s secretary, Yoke, almost passed out from fear after hearing the order from the Blithe King.

However, fainting was not going to help him avoid his fate. To be able to climb so high in the ranks, he definitely had to use some unclean methods. The stuff that he did would surely be discovered if they ran a thorough investigation on him. Hundreds of people were gathered in the huge living room of the House of Royals, yet none dared to speak

The atmosphere was extremely tense. Stomp! Stomp! Stomp! Two big leather shoes made contact with the ground with loud thumping noises.

Two fully-armed soldiers approached and took away the unconscious Yoke.

Meanwhile, Chase, who had a star on his shoulder, turned pale, and beads of sweat appeared on his forehead.

‘This... What’s going on?’

The Blithe King took out a report and threw it on the floor. “Take a look at it yourself.” Brody picked it up and looked at it. Immediately, his eyes rolled back, and he passed out. “Sob! Babe...” Wendy embraced the unconscious Brody. Lex picked up the documents on the floor out of curiosity. His face immediately turned pale upon looking through it. It was a complete list of Brody’s corruption and the illegal acts he it was a new beginning for the Callahans. No one expected such a turn of events. The Blithe King turned and left after completing James’ request. “Lex, prepare the thirty billion dollars as soon as possible,” Scarlett warned him and left.

Outside the House of Royals.

The Blithe king stood in front of the black car without a license plate. “This is the last time.” He glanced at James indifferently.

After saying that, he turned around and left.

“Hey, have a have a cigarette.”

James took out a cigarette and threw it at him.

The cigarette brushed past the Blithe King’s ear.

He stretched out his hand and caught the cigarette that flew past him. Then, he left under James and Henry’s gazes.

A happy celebration ended in a farce. The Callahans’ villa. The family gathered together in one room.

Lex wore a very displeased expression.

Embarrassing. Everything that happened was so humiliating.

Chapter 197 He thought this would be the most glorious time of his life. He never expected it to be the most humiliating one instead. Worse still, the owner of the Transgenerational Group, Scarlett, was asking them to compensate 30 billion dollars.

30 billion dollars?

It was an enormous amount that the Callahans simply could not afford.

“What exactly happened?”

Lex was furious and smashed the furniture and some antiques in the house into pieces. There were dozens of people gathered in the huge villa, yet none of them spoke up.

Everyone knew that if they spoke while Lex was furious, they would only get themselves in trouble.

After venting his anger, Lex calmed down and sat on the sofa. He glanced at Gladys' family and pleaded, “Gladys, you're the only one capable of saving the Callahans now. Didn't you say your niece is working in the Transgenerational Group? Didn't she come with Ms. Brooks? You're the only one who can help us now.”

Gladys was on the fence.

James stared at his phone.

He knew that Thea would be calling him soon.

Sure enough, it did not take long for Thea’s number to show on his screen.

He was immediately thrilled and looked at Henry proudly. “See, I told you I was right. The Callahans would surely come to beg me if they got into a crisis.” “It was very unnecessary.” Henry was left speechless by his actions. So much had happened, and so many people were involved just because of a conflict between a couple.

He even had the Blithe king show up to help.

James ignored Henry and answered the phone. He said casually, “Thea? I already told you the Department of Civil Affairs isn’t open. They won’t be able to process our divorce procedure.” “I- James, could you come back to the Callahans’ villa to discuss... no, I mean... It’s not about the divorce.”

James pretended to be oblivious and asked, “What happened?”

“It’ll be hard to explain through the phone. You...you should come back first.” “Okay. I’ll be there.”

James hung up the phone and said proudly, “I’m leaving, Henry!”

Chapter 198 James drove his electric motorcycle to the Callahans’ villa.

As soon as he entered the house, he saw the antiques and paintings scattered on the floor.

Lex sat on the sofa and smoked his tobacco. Apart from a few core members that were seated, everyone else was standing.

James walked in and pretended to be surprised. “Oh? I thought you were having your eightieth birthday in the House of Royals? Why’re you all at home? What’s going on?”

He saw Wendy sitting on the sofa while crying. “What’s the matter, Wendy? Where’s your deputy captain husband, Brody? Why don’t I see him here?”

James said and deliberately looked around.

The Callahans had very ugly-looking expressions.

They were extremely provoked by James. However, they required James' help and could not scold him. Tommy uttered softly, "James, don't you have an unusual relationship with Xara? Since she's working for Ms. Brooks now, could you get her to ask Ms. Brooks to forgive the Callahans?"

The entire Transgenerational Group that was worth trillions belonged to him.

Plus, if he wanted money, he could simply make a trip to the Southern Plains and have hundreds of billions when he returned.

The whole family looked at James coldly.

“Is ten million not enough? How about one hundred million? I promise to give you one hundred million dollars if you resolve this matter and get the Callahans through this crisis.”

Thea also glanced at James expectantly. James felt a tug in his heart just by seeing her tearful expression.

He sat down and reached out to hold Thea’s hand. However, she instinctively avoided him. James was embarrassed as he glanced at Thea. He said, “Thea, you still don’t believe me. Your whole family doesn’t believe me. Do you think I really need money? I just want to prove my innocence to you, but you simply refuse to trust me. This mess wouldn’t have happened if you guys just trusted me.”

“What you’re trying to say is that the Callahans are suffering because we didn’t believe in you? Are you the one responsible for this?”

“I told you from the start that I’ve sorted out everything. I’m the one that made the phone call to get Gavin to come to apologize, yet you all foolishly believed that Brody. I told you they’d be packing up and leaving the military region. Did you think I was bluffing?”

The family members exchanged looks with one another.

Chapter 199 Everyone was shocked by James’ words. How did the live-in son-in-law have such influence? How was he able to get the Blithe King to appear in person?

After being stunned for a while, they immediately made sense of the situation. James was using the opportunity to act as if he was really powerful after the incident. Who in Cansington was capable of getting the Blithe king to show up in person? Lex took a deep breath and said, “James, regardless of what happened, you’re part of the Callahans now. You can’t just watch us go down in the fire, right?” James raised his voice. “Didn’t you want to expel me from the Callahans? Didn’t you want Thea to divorce me?”

“N-not anymore.

The Callahans were relieved to hear the conversation on the phone. From their perspective, the matter would be solved as long as Xara helped sort it out since Scarlett was not one short of money, and 30 billion was just loose change to her. "I really appreciate you, Thea." A smile finally appeared on Lex's face. Gladys raised her eyebrow and said proudly, "Xara is from the Hills. She's even working in the Transgenerational Group. With one word from her, the Callahans could get into the commercial city easily." "You're right, Gladys."

"We all owe one to Xara."

The whole family tried to flatter and please Gladys. James said indifferently, "Don't celebrate too early. You guys organized a birthday party in the House of Royals without permission. Ms. Brooks is probably furious, and getting her forgiveness won't be easy."

Thea glanced at James after he brought up the House of Royals.

"Oh, it should be."

"Then, how did you manage to bring me into the House of Royals for ten days? What's your relationship with Scarlett? Did you arrange for Xara to work in the Transgenerational Group

Chapter 200 "Yes."

James did not deny it and boasted, "Scarlett's House of Royal belongs to me, and I can go if I want. I also arranged for Xara to work in the Transgenerational Group. Scarlett will listen to everything I say." Thea rolled her eyes. "We flatter you a bit, and you go on making up more outrageous lies?"

The Callahans glanced at him contemptuously.

His lies were outrageous.

“By your words, that means Scarlett is your wife, and you invited the Blithe King to the House of Royals today?” Tommy said coldly.

James glanced at Tommy. “Of course.”

Thea was overjoyed and replied, “Six in the evening in the Diamond room of the Gourmand. “Alright. I’ll inform Ms. Brooks.”

The faces of the Callahans lit up.

Their crisis was finally over.

Lex frowned. "Thea, there are only a handful of Diamond rooms in the Gourmand of Cansington. Are you sure we'll be able to get a reservation?"

Before Thea could reply, her mother, Gladys, interrupted the conversation. She said smugly, "Aren't you guys aware of how capable Thea is? The last time we dined in the Gourmand, Mr. Grayson personally gifted Thea a diamond membership card. She is eligible for three free meals per month and ten percent off every other meal."

"Seriously?"
