Chapter 1941

James never expected Maxine to make such an outrageous request

Maxine stopped at the door and turned to look at James who was frozen in shock as she said, “To be honest, I’d prefer Thea out of the picture.”

As soon as she finished speaking, she turned and walked away.

After she left, Cynthia looked at James and asked, “James, what is Maxine trying to do?”

James took out a cigarette and lit it.

He took a long drag and shook his head, saying, “I have no idea what’s on her mind.”

James could not figure out what Maxine was thinking.

It made sense for Maxine to ask James to marry her.

However, it was strange that she was also trying to drag Tiara and Cynthia into it.

Cynthia looked at Tiara sitting beside them and reprimanded her “What’re you thinking, Tiara?! Why are you trying to provoke Maxine? Asking James to marry three women at once is outrageous.”

Tiara’s pretty face immediately turned red.

She was not thinking clearly back then and agreed as soon as Maxine prompted her

Tiara murmured, “D-Did I complicate things for you, James? I didn’t think it through properly and simply agreed when Maxine asked me. I... I didn’t mean to cause you trouble.”

James waved his hand and said, “It’s not your fault.”

Cynthia asked, “What do we do now?”

James was at a loss.

Henry had not yet tracked down Winnie’s whereabouts.

Furthermore, Maxine’s terms of returning her was for James to maintain the marriage with them for three years.

Three years was a long time.

In the first place, it was impossible for him to marry three of them at once.

Maxine's request was outrageous.

"What should I do?"

James became frustrated.

"How about proceeding with the marriage? It's worth considering since Maxine will return your child to you. By the way, where's Thea? Maybe you should discuss this with her." said Cynthia lightheartedly.

James replied Cynthia honestly, "Thea has something important to do and won't be able to return anytime soon. It may take as soon as three to five years, or in the worst case scenario, she might not return for eight to ten years."

Hearing this, Cynthia's jaw practically dropped.

"She'll be gone for that long?! Where exactly did she go to?"

James did not go into details about Thea having to purify the Demonic Energy in her body.

Cynthia did make a good point with her suggestion, though. He should discuss the situation with Thea.

"I'll head off now. I'll be back in a few days."

James stood up and left

After he left, Cynthia and Tiara looked at each other.

"Tiara, are you that desperate to marry James? Don't you care that he already has Thea?"

Tiara opened her mouth but no words came out

Does she not care?

How could she not care?

Was it unrealistic to not want to monopolize their loved one's affections?

Deep down, she knew how improbable it was.

He would not marry her, even if she was fine about the fact that he already had Thea.

“How about you?”

Tiara directed the question back to Cynthia. “We’ve been together for so long, Cynthia. Although you’ve never outwardly shown your affection for James, you’ve been always asking about him all these years. It’s obvious that you like him. Don’t you want to be with him too?”

“Hah” Cynthia chuckled cynically

“Do we have to be in a relationship just because I have feelings for him?”

“If you don’t pursue him, won’t it just remain a one-sided crush?”

The two had a brief conversation.

At that moment, James had already left.

He contacted Henry and requested him to continue looking for Winnie. After that, he took a private plane and headed to the Chamber of Scriptures on Mount Tai.

He might not be able to see Thea but he still wanted to give it a shot.

If he could not find Winnie, he might have to give in to Maxine’s demands to ensure their child’s safety.

Chapter 1942

Half a day later, James arrived at Mount Tai.

Retracing his steps, he headed to the ravine where the Chamber of Scriptures was located. He dived into the water, entered the underground cave, and arrived outside the Chamber of Scriptures. He pushed open the stone door and entered the tower’s first floor

The first floor was empty.

James shouted while looking around, “Ms. Custodian! Are you there, Ms. Custodian? It’s James. I need to speak with you.”

Swoosh!

At that moment, there was a flash of white that slowly descended to the ground, revealing the image of a woman in a white dress.

She was tall with a delicate and beautiful appearance, giving off an ethereal aura.

“What is it?”

Her voice was airy and pleasant to the ears.

James asked, “Where’s Thea? I’d like to see her

“Thea is purifying her Demonic Energy underground and is indisposed to see visitors at the moment.”

“It’s urgent. I must see her

The woman pursed her lips for a moment and said, “Alright. I’ll bring you to her.”

She casually waved her hand, and strong True Energy flowed from her sleeves, engulfing James.

James felt his vision go blurry as they vanished from the spot.

The next thing he knew, he had appeared in an unfamiliar place.

“Wha-?” James was startled.

What kind of magic did she use?

Teleportation?

Despite almost becoming a Supernatural, he had difficulty figuring out how the custodian had transported them.

After taking a moment to compose himself, he scanned his surroundings.

They were in an underground cavern surrounded by rocks. In the front was a strange round altar that looked like an Eight Trigram.

A woman sat in a lotus position in the center of the altar.

It was Thea.

“Thea.”

James immediately rushed over after noticing her.

When he got close to the Eight Trigram, he was blasted away, and the Blood Energy within his body bubbled violently causing blood to gush out James' mouth.

Thea sensed something happening around her and opened her eyes. Seeing James, she stood up and walked over to support James, who had spat out blood.

She asked perplexedly, "Honey, why are you here? Are you alright?"

James gently waved his hand and said, "I'm fine. Something's happened."

"What is it?" asked Thea.

James said gravely, "Winnie was kidnapped."

"What?"

Thea was in distress as she asked, "What happened? How did Winnie get kidnapped?"

James explained what had happened.

"I still haven't found out where Maxine has taken Winnie. Henry is doing his best to track her down. Maxine's condition for Winnie's return is for me to marry three women and remain married for three years."

Hearing James' explanation, Thea's mind was a mess.

"What are you saying? Maxine captured Winnie and is forcing you to marry three women? Who is she asking you to marry?"

"Her, Tiara, and Cynthia."

"Pfft."

Thea burst out laughing.

"How can you laugh in such a dire situation?"

"It's a pretty good deal for you. Why did you come looking for me? Hurry up and accept her proposal. If anything happens to Winnie, I won't forgive you."

Thea pushed James, urging him to leave.

"Wait, Thea

James stopped and asked sincerely, "I couldn't come up with any proper plans, so I came to discuss it with you."

Thea replied earnestly, "Go ahead and marry them. I mean.... It's fine as long as our child is safe. Plus, I'm going to stay here for a long time. It might take longer than eight to ten years. How can you spend all that time alone? If anything, I'm relieved there are three of them accompanying you."

Thea was serious about the words that left her mouth.

After having been through so much, she became more accepting of such things.

Now that the world was changing, how could she still hold onto conservative principles?

"Thea, I...

"Alright. You should return as soon as possible. Don't come to me again. I'll find you when I've completely purified the Derronic Energy in my body."

Thea pushed James, trying to get him to leave.

Chapter 1943

The Chamber of Scriptures custodian lightly flicked her hand, and a force swept out from her sleeve to engulf James.

His vision went blurry and when his eyes opened again he found himself on the Chamber of Scriptures' first floor

James was stumped.

It was impossible for him to marry the three women.

His only alternative is to locate Winnie as soon as possible. After he's rescued her, he would not have to worry about Maxine threatening him.

Suddenly, the Omniscient Deity came to mind.

The Omniscient Deity was probably the only other person who knew of Winnie's whereabouts

James left the Chamber of Scriptures and boarded his private plane to Mount Jade.

After half a day, the private plane arrived at Mount Jade

James found the Omniscient Deity at the back of the mountain.

He was dressed in his usual white robe. He sat on a rock at the back of Mount Jade with a piece of straw in his mouth.

“You’re here.”

The Omniscient Deity did not turn around.

James walked over, sat on a rock beside the Omniscient Deity, and said, “Yes. I’ve run into some problems recently.”

“Are you referring to Winnie’s kidnapping?”

“Mhm.” James nodded.

The Omniscient Deity knew Winnie had been kidnapped and James was not surprised since Jade Sect had a worldwide intelligence network.

“Lord Omniscient, please tell me where Maxine is keeping Winnie.”

James looked at the Omniscient Deity desperately.

The Omniscient Deity said, “I can send someone to investigate it for you, but I can’t promise you anything.

In fact, I’ve been watching Maxine for a while and am perplexed by what she’s thinking or trying to accomplish.”

James stood up and said, “Thank you in advance.”

“I’ll do my best, but I can’t guarantee I’ll find her”

James nodded.

If the Omniscient Deity could not find her, then no one else stood a chance of finding his daughter.

“I’ll take my leave first.”

James did not linger any longer.

After speaking with the Omniscient Deity, he turned and left.

James boarded his private plane and returned to Cansington.

Meanwhile, on Mount Bane

After the intense battle on Mount Bane half a year ago, it had remained peaceful and anyone was allowed to enter the area

Since then, Conrad and Void Sect's Grand Priestess, Juniper, settled on Mount Bane.

Conrad built a palace on Mount Bane

At that moment, Conrad stood in the main hall of the magnificent palace. Sitting before him was a man who looked to be in his 20s. His quest wore a cyan robe and was running his fingers over a beautiful piece of jade in his hand wasn't expecting you to pass through the crack of the seal to Earth, Sir"

Conrad looked at the man and greeted him respectfully

The sect Conrad belonged to was called Sacerdotal Sect.

Sacerdotal Sect was one of the best sects in the Overworld.

Moreover, their sect leader was one of the Overworld's top ten powerhouses.

"You're incompetent, Conrad You've been on Earth for so long but haven't conquered it."

The man dressed in a cyan robe parted his lips and spoke casually.

"The situation isn't what you think it is."

Conrad immediately explained, "The earth's martial artists were not as weak as we expected. There are strong people here that are on par with my strength. Previously, a fierce battle broke out on Mount Bane, and even the Void Sect's Grand Priestess was defeated. I'm incapable of going against the humans on earth with my strength alone. I had no choice but to compromise for now."

Conrad recounted the events of the competition for the mysterious fruit

While speaking, he took out his phone and brought up some information on a number of people.

These people are currently the strongest on Earth. Once we get rid of them, we can easily take over the earth and prepare for our sect's arrival."

The man in the cyan robe carefully read through the information.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Chapter 1944

The people on the list included the Omniscient Deity, the Prince of Orchid Mountain, Tyrus, James, and Thea.

After reviewing the information, the man in the cyan robe replied, "Alright. I'll slowly get rid of them. Since I'm here, I should take a good look at Earth."

James was unaware that another formidable person from the Overworld had come to Earth.

Compared to Conrad, this person was far more terrifying. So much so that even Conrad was compelled to address him respectfully out of fear and trepidation

At that moment, James arrived in Cansington.

He did not return to the Callahans villa immediately after his arrival.

Instead, he headed to Cynthia's house

He temporarily stayed at her place and did not contact Maxine

James waited for updates from Henry and the Omniscient Deity.

Three days later, the Omniscient Deity appeared in Cansington.

"Lord Omniscient, how is it? Do you have any news on Winnie's whereabouts?"

James inquired impatiently.

The Omniscient Deity shook his head slightly and said, "I sent someone to investigate but they were unable to trace Winnie's whereabouts. I don't know where she is and won't be able to assist you with this matter."

Hearing this, James was stunned.

"He couldn't find her?"

'What should I do now?'

'Do I really have to concede to Maxine's demands and marry all three women?'

Meanwhile, Maxine had kept track of James' movements.

She was aware James had gone to Mount Tai but did not know his reason for going there.

On top of that, she even knew James had visited Mount Jade and roughly guessed that it was to get Mount Jade's assistance in locating his daughter.

At that moment, Maxine listened to her subordinate's report in a villa in Cansington.

A faint smile formed on her face.

She took out her phone and called James.

Soon, the call went through.

"It's been a few days, James. Have you made your decision yet? I'll give you another day, and if you refuse my offer, you can wait to collect Winnie's dead body. Don't think it's just an empty threat. I'll stay true to my word."

Just when James was about to respond, Maxine hung up the call

The Omniscient Deity looked at him and asked, "Was that Maxine?"

"Yeah." James looked solemn.

The Omniscient Deity asked, "What did Maxine ask you to do?"

James glanced at Tiara and Cynthia sitting to the side. After briefly hesitating, he replied, "She wants me to marry three women at once."

Taken aback, the Omniscient Deity said, "I'm sorry for disturbing you. I'll take my leave right away"

"Lord Omniscient." James shouted.

However, the Omniscient Deity had already turned around and left.

James sat down on the sofa and gently massaged his temples.

What should I do?

Do I really have to concede to Maxine?

James agonized for a while before taking out his phone to call Maxine.

"Maxine, I agree to your demands. But first, you need to show Winnie to me."

“That’s out of the question. I told you, I’ll return the child to you after three years of marriage. If you agree to my terms, I won’t hurt her and will care for her as if she were my own child,” Maxine immediately shot James down.

“Is there no room for negotiation?” asked James.

“No.”

Maxine said firmly, “Since you’ve agreed, then this matter is settled. You won’t have to worry about the rest. I’ll announce to the world that the wedding will be held in Floret Palace.

“Congratulations. You’ll be marrying three beauties at once.

“You’ll be the happiest man in this world.”

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 1945 –

His strength would allow him to snatch Winnie away from her, and Maxine would no longer have leverage over him.

However, Maxine refused to negotiate and was only willing to let James see Winnie after staying married to them for three years.

After she hung up the phone, James sat on the sofa pensively.

‘What should I do?

‘Do I really have to marry three of them?

That’s out of the question.

I already have Thea. I won’t marry other women.”

“James.”

Cynthia’s voice reached his ears.

James regained his senses, turned to her, and asked, “Mhm? What’s wrong?”

“What did Maxine say?” asked Cynthia.

James sighed and said, “She isn’t willing to negotiate with me and insists on handing Winnie over after the three years of marriage are up. I don’t know where Winnie is right now, and I'm worried to hell since I don't know what kind of person Maxine has become."

"Then you'll just have to marry us."

Cynthia thought for a while and said, "In the end, you're the one who benefits the most."

James looked at Cynthia and Tiara for a moment and replied, "I have no choice but to compromise for now. I still refuse to marry the three of you, though. How about you two put on an act with me for now? After I obtain information on Winnie's whereabouts, I'll devise a plan to save her."

Cynthia asked, "What kind of act?"

Tiara said, "I'll do as you say, James."

James replied, "I plan to pretend to get along with Maxine for now and proceed with the marriage. I'll use the time to build up a good relationship with her and try to get the information I need. Once she lets her guard down, she might tell me where she's hiding my daughter."

The two women nodded simultaneously

Haah!

James took a deep breath.

It was the only option for now.

He took out his phone and called Henry.

"James."

Henry's voice came from the phone.

James instructed, "Continue tracking Winnie down and pay close attention to Maxine's activities.

Investigate the people she's been in contact with and follow them to see if you can find Winnie."

"James, that's "

Henry said troubledly, "Maxine isn't some regular woman. She's a powerful martial artist, and our people from Dragonville cannot tail her safely. We'll be discovered as soon as we get close to her

“Think of something and find Winnie no matter what.”

“Alright. I’ll do my best.”

After talking on the phone with Henry, James hung up.

Meanwhile, a post appeared on the Martial Arts Forum.

“Three days later, James will be married to three beautiful women in Floret Palace. His brides are Maxine, Cynthia, and Tiara. Martial artists worldwide are invited to Floret Palace to witness the joyous occasion.”

As soon as the news was released, it immediately caused a huge sensation.

James became famous throughout Sol and the global ancient martial world.

Everyone knew that James already had a wife-Thea.

With the news release, it became the hottest topic

“What happened?”

“Why is James marrying three women?”

“What a lucky guy”

know Maxine is Floret Palace’s princess, but who’s Cynthia and Tiara?”

“I don’t know I’ve never seen or heard of them before.”

James was at Cynthia’s house in Cansington when he found out the news. He frowned and said, “I didn’t expect Maxine to act so quickly. She arranged the wedding to be held in three days. I don’t have much time. Where exactly do I go to find Winnie?”

Chapter 1946

Just as James was thinking about it, he received a call from Maxine

“Get ready I’ll send someone to send you, Cynthia, and Tiara to Floret Palace.”

After Maxine finished speaking, she hung up the phone without giving James a chance to get a word in.

James had an exasperated expression. Now that things had come to this, he could only proceed with things a single step at a time.

However, he refused to give up.

He called Delainey and asked her to use Mount Thunder Sect's connections to locate Winnie.

Soon, people from Maxine's sect arrived.

James complied and went without a fuss.

The Floret Palace disciples led the three into a vehicle and drove them to the airport. There, they boarded a plane and headed to the city where the Floret Palace was located.

Floret Palace was a sect founded by Maxine within the borders of Sol

It was located atop a mountain range. One of the mountains towered into the sky, and a majestic building was built on its peak.

After reaching Floret Palace, James was escorted to a room in the building's yard.

The environment had an elegant ambiance. There were chirping birds amongst many sweet-smelling flowers.

James' initial worry and anxiety gradually dissipated.

He surmised that Maxine would never hurt Winnie.

Maxine had feelings for him and confessed them to him a few years ago.

Unfortunately, her feelings were not reciprocated. So, she resorted to kidnapping Winnie and attempting to kill Thea. However, she could not trace Thea's whereabouts, so she changed her mind.

"Maxine loves me and genuinely wants to marry me, so I don't think she'd hurt my child... But why is she dragging Cynthia and Tiara into this? My last hope is that Maxine will spill information about Winnie during the wedding night when she's less cautious towards me," James murmured pensively.

He temporarily stayed within Floret Palace.

Meanwhile, the news about the wedding had spread, and martial artists from around the world traveled to Floret Palace.

There was one more day until the wedding reception.

Almost all martial artists from across the globe had arrived.

James sat in Floret Palace's backyard the night before the wedding reception and stared into the starry sky absently.

Click Clack! Click Clack!

The sound of high heels approaching resounded.

Hearing the sound, James turned around.

A beautiful woman walked toward him.

She wore a red dress and had long black hair. Her facial features were exquisite, and she had a glamorous appearance. She walked slowly and eventually appeared beside James, sitting on the wooden chair next to him.

James looked at Maxine

James remained calm and asked coldly, "Maxine, I only need to know Winnie's whereabouts."

Maxine glanced at James, got up, and sat on his lap. She stretched out her slender fingers and pulled his chin closer, staring into his eyes.

"I told you I'll return Winnie to you after we've been married for three years. Don't worry. I'll treat her well during this time and ensure she doesn't face any hardships. Also, you shouldn't waste time sending people to look for her. It's impossible to find her

Maxine had a seductive voice

Sitting on James' lap, she snuggled into his chest and wrapped her arms around him, leaning her head on his shoulder.

"You should know how much I've done for you, James. Over the years, I've provided you with so much help and solved countless problems for you. I've hinted at you so many times that I don't care how many women you have by your side. Yet, you pretended not to hear me every time."

James gently pushed Maxine away.

Maxine stood up, looked at James, and smiled. “We’ll be married tomorrow Martial artists from all over the world have gathered in Floret Palace. They will be here to witness your marriage to three beautiful women.

“It’s every man’s dream, and you should be happy. So why are you making such a face?”

James took a deep breath and said, “If you don’t tell me Winnie’s whereabouts, it won’t matter if you force me to marry you. You can have me physically but you’ll never have my heart.”

“Haha.” Maxine chuckled softly.

“Why does it feel so strange to hear you say such a thing? Anyway, I don’t believe you can resist the temptation of three gorgeous women.”

Chapter 1947

James ignored Maxine.

“Alright, I’ll stop bothering you. You should get prepared for the wedding tomorrow. You need to be in high spirits. There’ll be a lot of martial artists present, and it’s best if you don’t look grumpy. Otherwise, they’ll make fun of you.”

Maxine smiled and left.

The night felt unending.

James could not fall asleep and was waiting for updates.

He never received any news and the rest of the night went on uneventfully.

Early the next day, a disciple from Floret Palace came to James with a pristine, white suit.

Maxine wanted to have a traditional wedding.

James did not turn them away and changed into the suit.

After getting dressed, the disciple led him to Floret Palace’s main hall.

Lots of people were already gathered in the main hall when he arrived.

Among them were many familiar faces.

As soon as James showed up, Callan, who has been drinking with some people, stood up and walked over. He patted James on the shoulder and said with a smile, "Congratulations, James. You're marrying three women at once. That's every man's dream."

James smiled bitterly.

At that moment, Maxine walked over.

She wore a white wedding dress and exuded beauty.

Her appearance caused a commotion.

"Woah! The bride is gorgeous."

"James sure is lucky!"

"She's so pretty and looks just like a fairy!"

Behind Maxine were Cynthia and Tiara.

Both of them were also dressed in white wedding dresses.

All three of them looked magnificent.

The appearance of just one of them was enough to leave the crowd awestruck. The scene of the three of them arriving together seemed like the most beautiful sight on earth.

With the appearance of the three brides, everyone stood up.

Maxine said in a gracious tone, "I'm glad to have everyone here today as our guests. Please enjoy yourselves and feel free to feast to your heart's content today!"

She took the initiative to greet her guests.

Afterward, she walked toward James with a smile, very intimately wrapped her arm around his, and asked, "Are the clothes a good fit?"

James shrugged indifferently.

To him, the wedding was nothing more than a farce.

Maxine took it seriously, but he did not

His goal was to ask Maxine where she kept his daughter later that night.

After getting his answer, he will rescue Winnie, and the farce will be over.

The main hall was lively and full of laughter

Many people came to greet James.

Some people even secretly asked about Thea's whereabouts, but James did not answer their questions.

Time passed by slowly.

Soon, it was noon and time for them to exchange their wedding vows.

James stood in the middle of the hall.

Maxine stood to his left and Cynthia and Tiara stood to his right.

"It's time

The voice of the wedding officiant drew everyone's attention.

While the exchange of vows was happening in Floret Palace, a group of people appeared at the base of the mountain.

In the lead was a person dressed in a cyan robe. Behind him were Conrad and several of the Sacerdotal Sect's disciples

The person in the lead was none other than the senior disciple of the Sacerdotal Sect, who had just appeared on Earth a few days ago.

Initially, he wanted to get rid of Earth's martial artists one by one. He never expected James to throw a grand wedding and invite martial artists from around the world to Floret Palace. It was as if he was giving the Sacerdotal Sect an opportunity.

Once they defeat and recruit the martial artists present at the wedding reception, they would be able to dominate the earth.

In the main hall, James wore a troubled expression.

'Do I really have to say my vows?

"I haven't even done this with Thea."

“Stop!”

At that moment, a voice boomed through the hall.

Everyone looked in the direction of the sound and saw a young man walking into the hall. He wore a plain coat and held a long sword in his hand.

“Isn’t that Sky from Tacriyrus?”

“Why is he here?”

Many people began to whisper speculatively about Sky’s sudden appearance.

Maxine frowned when she saw Sky

Meanwhile, James’ face lit up with delight.

Someone had come to crash the wedding.

Maxine looked at the sullen Sky with a nonchalant expression and said coldly. “What’s the meaning of this, Sky?”

Sky walked into the main hall. He glanced at James, then turned to Maxine, asking.

“Why?”

Maxine returned his question calmly, “What do you mean why?”

Sky began to gripe. “Haven’t I treated you well in the past year? Yet, you’re trying to marry James behind my back and willingly becoming his mistress? Have you lost your mind, Maxine?”

This is my decision and it has nothing to do with you. If you’re here to attend the wedding, find yourself a seat and have some drinks. If not, get lost.” Maxine turned him away.

The guests immediately became intrigued by the scene.

Sky also had romantic feelings for Maxine.

James quickly stepped between them and said, “Sky, since you’ve come all the way, don’t leave just yet. Let’s settle it as men. I won’t marry Maxine if you beat me, and you can have her.”

“You”

Sky’s face darkened, and he roared furiously, “Stop looking down on me!”

“Was I looking down on him? James was puzzled.

“What do you mean, Sky? Are you afraid to take me on?”

Sky’s skin turned red and he began to stutter, unable to piece together his words.

Maxine attempted to chase him away once more. “Leave Floret Palace this instant! From today onward, I’m denouncing my involvement with Taciryus and I don’t care about your country’s affairs.”

“Haha...”

Sky was infuriated.

He never had an interest in women in the past.

However, Maxine suddenly appeared and said she was willing to help him. He gradually developed feelings for her

Yet, Maxine wanted to marry someone else.

Shing!

He drew his sword.

” accept your challenge, James. Even though I’m no match for you, I’ll come at you with everything I have! Let’s do this! Sky roared.

Cynthia and Tiara stood aside silently

Maxine gritted her teeth.

“Do you think I’m afraid of you?”

James mocked him and leaped into action.

Sky gripped his sword and attacked as well.

“Argh.”

James’ arm had gotten sliced, and blood oozed out of the cut. His body was blasted backward, and he slammed into the ground.

He struggled to get up from the ground and exclaimed, “H-How are you so strong? I’m no match for you. I’ll cancel the wedding”

As he spoke, he looked at Maxine.

“Maxine, it seems we’re not meant to be together I can’t stand up to Sky, so I’m not worthy of marrying you.”

James spoke earnestly.

However, Maxine’s face darkened in response.

Her face bore a scowl as she hissed, “What do you mean by this, James.”

At that moment, Sky was dumbfounded.

The martial artists present were also stunned.

Everyone knew James’ strength far outclassed Sky’s. It should have been impossible for him to be defeated in a single move.

Could it be that he was unwilling to marry Maxine?

James looked at Maxine and whispered, “Tell me where Winnie is. If you don’t, I’ll expose you in front of everyone and ruin your reputation.”

“You’re really something, James.”

Maxine let out a baleful laugh.

Her hair began to flutter, and her dress swayed in the air

Maxine looked at Sky angrily and shouted, “Get lost, Sky! Or you’ll regret it!”

Right then, James’ phone rang.

He took out his phone and answered it.

“James, we’ve discovered where Winnie is being held. Our people are rushing over right now and estimate to extricate her within two hours.”

James’ heart was finally put to ease after hearing Henry’s report

Chapter 1949

In the past few days, Henry used all of Dragonville's connections along with Sol's help, and he was finally able to find Winnie's whereabouts.

Now, it would only take two hours to rescue Winnie.

James only needed to buy them two hours.

Two hours later, this entire debacle would finally be over

James calmly ended the call

At that moment, Sky held onto his long sword in the Floret Palace's main hall and looked at Maxine Maxine's long hair danced in the air. She casually waved her hand, and a black sword zoomed to her from the outside. She caught the sword, and it trembled as she pointed it at Sky.

"Leave!"

Sky's eyes were still on Maxine.

He was heartbroken.

For all the years he had lived, he never had feelings for any woman,

He once assisted Lance in conquering and establishing Sol.

Even when he stood at the peak of power and influence, there was no woman that could catch his intention. After getting to know Maxine, he eventually fell in love.

He did not even hesitate to hand over Tacriyrus to her.

"Get lost!!!"

Maxine's shrieks resounded in the main hall.

However, Sky walked toward her slowly

At that moment, Maxine thrust her sword forward.

Shluk!

The Doomsday Sword pierced through Sky's body

Sky's cultivation base was much stronger than Maxine's

He had already broken free from one shackle in the ninth rank, whereas Maxine had not even reached the ninth rank yet. Despite that, he did not dodge Maxine's attack.

The black sword pierced into his body, and blood gushed out of the wound.

All the martial artists gathered in the main hall watched the scene unfold as if the two were simply putting on a show. No one stepped in to interfere.

James' brows slightly furrowed together

Maxine remained emotionless as she withdrew her sword.

Shluk!

Blood splattered across the ground.

Sky's body collapsed to the floor, but he forced himself to stand up again. He reached out to cover the wound on his body, but blood continued to pour out, staining his palm red and running down from his fingers

Unable to stand the sight, James walked over and said, "Are you stupid? Why didn't you dodge it?"

James attempted to step over the bleeding, but Sky pushed him away. "I don't need your help."

He parted his lips and refused James' help.

Sky looked at Maxine and said slowly, "Your sword pierced through my body and at the same time, it destroyed my love for you. My concern and possessiveness over you no longer exist"

Maxine looked at him without saying a word.

She did not feel anything despite Sky's injured state.

Sky meant nothing to her. She approached him merely to use him. Initially, she wanted to use Sky to cause trouble for James, but she hardly did anything. Even when she did, it was never anything major. After speaking, Sky turned around with his long sword and dragged his injured body away.

Maxine glanced at the guests in the hall, and the scowl on her face disappeared instantly. She beamed with a bright smile and said, "I'm sorry for subjecting you all to such a dreadful scene. The wedding shall continue as planned now that the shameful display is done with."

She still wanted to marry James.

This was the closest she had gotten to having James for herself in so many years. Thus, she was not willing to give up so easily.

"That's enough, Maxine. Let's end this."

James looked at Maxine and uttered softly.

Maxine's face darkened. She stared at James and said dangerously. "What do you mean, James? What are we ending?"

James said, "Cancel the wedding"

"You"

Maxine stared at James, and her blood began to boil with rage.

"I'll give you one more chance to tell me Winnie's whereabouts."

James asked one more time.

He wanted to give Maxine a last chance.

Chapter 1950

He wanted Maxine to tell him Winnie's whereabouts herself.

Otherwise, he would have to deal with her ruthlessly to prevent her from causing trouble in the future.

"Haha. "

Maxine let out a maniacal laugh

"Was it an act all along?"

The guests gathered in the main hall were dumbstruck, wondering what had just happened.

“What’s happening?”

“It seems like they’re arguing.”

“How did a joyous wedding reception turn into this?”

“Winnie? Why is Winnie being brought up? Did Maxine kidnap James’ child and use his daughter to threaten him to marry her?”

Many people began to discuss in hushed whispers.

James looked at the furious Maxine and spoke sternly, “I’m going to ask you one last time. Where is Winnie?”

He gave her one more chance.

He wanted to believe in his heart that Maxine was not evil but simply blinded by love.

“James.”

Maxine looked at James and bit her lips. Tears brimmed in her eyes and rolled down her cheeks.

At that moment, a person was sent flying into the main hall.

Everyone quickly dodged, and the person collided with a table, shattering it into pieces.

Bang!

There was a loud bang when he fell to the ground, and the entire hall seemingly trembled from the impact.

James cast his gaze on the person that flew into the hall and crashed to the ground. He realized it was Sky who had left just a few moments ago.

Everyone was shocked.

What happened?

Sky struggled to pull himself up.

“Haha! It sure is lively here!”

A raucous laugh came from outside the door

Soon, a group of people walked into the main hall.

The person in the lead was Sacerdotal Sect's senior disciple. Following behind him were Conrad and dozens of disciples.

Seeing the approaching group of people, the martial artists looked on warily. Some clenched tightly onto their long swords.

"It's so lively here! All the martial artists from Earth are gathered in one convenient place. It sure saves me the trouble of finding you all individually."

The Sacerdotal Sect's senior disciple looked at the martial artists in the hall and a sardonic smile formed on his handsome face.

Seeing the people who had shown up, James knew they had untoward intentions.

Maxine took a deep breath and forced herself to calm down. She walked over and looked at the people who had appeared, saying courteously "If you're here to attend the wedding reception, then have a seat and help yourselves to the wine. If you're here for something else, please leave."

She made a gesture for them to leave.

Sacerdotal Sect's senior disciple sneered.

"Haha.." He chuckled.

Then, he immediately raised his hand and thrust his palm forward.

He appeared in front of Maxine instantly. Before she could react, his palm had already struck her. Maxine was flung away and smashed into the wall, falling limply on the rubble.

What ?

The hall that was filled with hundreds of people went dead silent

Sacerdotal Sect attacked as soon as they appeared, but no one dared to stand up to them as they knew they were too weak

They were no match for Conrad's party.

The greatest martial artists in Sol: the Omniscient Deity, the Prince of Orchid Mountain, and Tyrus did not attend the wedding reception.

Only a few ninth-ranked grandmasters were present, including Thomas and some others.

James turned around to check on the situation.

Maxine had already gotten up from the rubble and was helped up by Cynthia and Tiara.

Meanwhile, Sky sat in a lotus position with an ashen complexion, urging his True Energy to suppress his injuries

Sacerdotal Sect's senior disciple looked at the people in the main hall.

When their gazes met his, they all inadvertently took a step backward.

"What a disappointment."

Sacerdotal Sect's senior disciple shook his head lightly. Disappointed, he said calmly. The strongest martial artists, the Omniscient Deity, Prince of Orchid Mountain, and the rest aren't here. It seems I'll still have to go through the trouble of finding them after dealing with you guys."
