

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 1971 –

Chapter 1971

There were only six years when the Earth could be at peace. James did not want these Overworld Outsiders to wreak havoc in these six years.

However, he was not confident in completely eliminating the Overworld Outsiders.

After a brief discussion, James left Wurmstead Palace.

Delaíney followed him outside and said, “Three years ago, your residence was demolished. I kept the purple fruit you stored in your safe.”

Three years ago, James had acquired a mysterious purple fruit.

However, he was refining the Phoenix Essence and did not consume the fruit back then.

He never had the chance to consume it.

James said, “Go get it for me.”

Delaíney left.

In about ten minutes, she returned with a purple fruit in her hand. Even after three years, the fruit was still crystal clear.

James took the purple fruit and headed to Mt. Thunder Pass.

The primary forest was within Wurmstead’s territory.

Construction had begun in other places, but this area was still void of development because James had mentioned that he wanted to establish a sect in Mt. Thunder Pass. The senior authorities never touched the primary forest where Mt. Thunder Pass was located because of James’ words in the past.

James came to Mt. Thunder Pass’ peak alone.

He sat on the ground in a lotus position and carefully examined his body.

His body was still in the same rank. He had broken free from three shackles and was one step away from becoming a Supernatural.

“Supernatural... I wonder what kind of Supernatural Powers I'll awaken after becoming a Supernatural.”

Any living being that becomes a Supernatural would awaken a unique Supernatural Power.

James did not ponder on it any longer.

He carefully sensed his surroundings.

Earth's Empyrean Spiritual Energy had grown much stronger over the past three years.

James took out the mysterious purple fruit and consumed it.

After taking a bite, a pleasant fragrance spread in his mouth. At the same time, a wave of energy spread through his body from his throat. Then, James activated the Lunar and Terra Art's cultivation method to absorb the fruit's energy.

The energy that permeated his body was quickly absorbed.

In just a few minutes, he had absorbed and converted the mysterious fruit's energy into his own True Energy.

His True Energy increased significantly.

“That was fast.” James was shocked.

His body's absorption rate was extraordinary.

He had also consumed and refined a spiritual fruit that contained Empyrean Spiritual Energy in the past, but the absorption rate was much slower. Now, it only took him a few minutes to absorb the mysterious fruit's energy. James' face lit up with joy.

His new body was magnificent.

Huff!

James took a deep breath.

Although the mysterious fruit was not enough for him to become a Supernatural, James could feel that his True Energy had increased tremendously and that he had reached the peak of the third shackle.

At that moment, he was only a half step away from becoming a Supernatural.

He sat in a lotus position on the ground and performed the Lunar and Terra Art's special breathing method.

As he breathed, Empyrean Spiritual Energy slowly gathered.

"Too slow." James frowned.

The Lunar and Terra Art was inefficient in gathering Empyrean Spiritual Energy.

He unleashed the Novenary Golden Body Siddhi, and the True Energy in his body began to circulate.

His entire body's pores were stretched open at that moment, and powerful energy concentrated in his body. The energy oozed out of his pores and merged into the Earth's skies and grounds, affecting the Empyrean Spiritual Energy around him.

The Empyrean Spiritual Energy around him became significantly active and quickly gathered before entering James' body through his pores.

Chapter 1972

A significant amount of Empyrean Spiritual Energy entered his body and was refined into the purest True Energy.

His body changed, and his cultivation speed accelerated.

The speed at which he absorbed Empyrean Spiritual Energy was ten times or even a hundred times faster than he previously could.

His True Energy grew continuously.

Time passed by silently.

James had cultivated on Mt. Thunder Pass for half a month in the blink of an eye.

Half a month later, he sensed that his True Energy could no longer improve and knew he had reached the realm barrier.

An invisible barrier appeared above his head.

The barrier restricted his cultivation base and True Energy from improving further.

“Break!”

James gathered the True Energy from his entire body and slammed his fist into the barrier.

His current strength was tremendous and had exceeded his rank. With just one full-strength attack, the realm barrier was shattered instantly.

The moment it broke, James felt like he had entered a mysterious state.

He felt boundless Demonic Energy in his body and could sense black energy gathering in his elixir field to form a black lotus flower.

The black lotus flower constantly circled in place. As it moved, black Demonic Energy continuously oozed out from his body.

In just a short moment, Mt. Thunder Pass' peak was enveloped by black Demonic Energy. It permeated the air, and the plants that came in contact with it withered instantly. The surrounding area was dead silent and showed no forms of life.

“T-The Demonic Lotus?”

James was stunned after sensing the black lotus in his body. He never expected one to be born in his body after he became a Supernatural.

“Present yourself.”

He tried to pull the black lotus out of his body.

At that moment, the black lotus shattered into black Demonic Energy and rushed out of his body, reforming at the top of his head.

“I-Is this my Supernatural Power?”

James was slightly shocked.

He looked at the black lotus above his head.

The lotus was ten meters in diameter and had nine petals.

Each petal emanated with black Demonic Energy.

James thought in his heart, ‘Big.’

The black lotus immediately grew bigger.

‘Small.’

The black lotus shrank instantly.

James manipulated and controlled it for a while. He could sense there was a powerful energy within the lotus.

With a thought, the black lotus transformed into a black mist and entered his body again.

James retracted his True Energy, and the Demonic Energy disappeared, submerging back into his body’s flesh and bones.

He stood up slowly, looked at the distant sky, and murmured, “I’m finally a Supernatural. My body now is incredibly potent, and my awakened Supernatural Power is the Demonic Lotus. It’s definitely an invincible Supernatural Power.”

James was very confident in his Demonic Lotus.

His True Energy was still relatively weak. However, once he unlocked his Nine Inner Gates and reached the Supernatural Consummation, he could kill any living being that was in the same rank as him.

“It’s been a long time since I’ve been back. I should go to Lothian and check on Winnie. She’s already four years old, but I’ve no idea what she looks like. I wonder if she’ll be able to recognize me.”

Thinking of Winnie, James’ face lit up with joy.

Winnie was the proof of his and Thea’s love.

Thea had to purify the Demonic Energy within the Chamber of Scriptures and asked him to take care of Winnie, but he failed to keep his promise.

He let Thea and Winnie down.

“Wait for me, Winnie. Dad is coming to visit you right away.”

Chapter 1973

After James became a Supernatural, he left Mt. Thunder Pass and returned to Wurmstead Palace.

As soon as he returned, Delaineey showed up.

“Did you have any breakthroughs, James? You’re out pretty early.”

James nodded slightly and said, “Mhm. I’ve already advanced to a Supernatural.”

“Huh?” Delaineey was shocked.

“Y-You’re only a Supernatural?”

James nodded and asked, “Yeah, what’s wrong?”

“B-But you killed a Supernatural powerhouse that had unlocked the Fourth Inner Gate.” Delaineey was shocked and could not believe James had only just become a Supernatural.

If James’ words were true, it meant he was not a Supernatural when he first returned. Then, how could he kill a Supernatural that had unlocked the Fourth Inner Gate when he was not even a Supernatural?

James smiled and did not explain his resurrection.

“Let’s not talk about this. I plan to head to Lothian to see Winnie. Then, I’ll clean up those Overworld Outsiders. Could you help me sort out a document with all the powerful Overworld Outsiders information? I’ll eliminate them one by one.”

Hearing this, Delaineey looked solemn.

“There are countless powerful Overworld Outsiders, James. A few of them are on par with Xain, some even above him. Are you seriously going to eliminate them? Do you have confidence in winning?”

“Confidence?” James was not sure either.

He had never gone all out yet, so he was unsure of his strength at its peak.

“Although I don’t have a hundred percent confidence in winning, the Earth’s humans have been oppressed for the past few years, and we must regain some dignity. We have to show those Overworld Outsiders that formidable humans exist on Earth.”

Delaineey nodded and said, “Alright. I’ll go and prepare the document right now.”

“By the way, has there still been no news of the Omniscient Deity these few years?” asked James.

Delainey shook her head and said, “No. The Omniscient Deity has never shown himself.”

James harked back into the past.

From his memories, the last time he saw the Omniscient Deity was when they had gone to the Chamber of Scriptures together.

James suspected in his heart, ‘Could it be the Omniscient Deity had obtained a secret technique from the Chamber of Scriptures and has been in a closed-door meditation all these years? If not, why would he not show up when the Earth’s in such a chaotic situation?’

After thinking about it for a while, he put it behind him.

Delainey turned around and left to sort out the information about the Overworld Outsider’s powerhouses.

Soon, James obtained information about the Overworld Outsider’s powerhouses.

He saved it in his phone and boarded a private plane from Wurmstead to Lothian.

Delainey accompanied him on the trip.

Initially, James wanted to travel alone.

However, Delainey said she had stayed in Wurmstead for a few years, hardly ever leaving. Thus, she wanted to take the opportunity to go out for a walk.

James did not turn her down.

Delainey was originally a Mount Thunder Sect disciple but came to Wurmstead to assist him.

Since she wanted to go out for a walk, James had no reason to refuse.

On the plane, James closed his eyes and rested.

Delainey sat beside him and glanced at him from time to time.

After James returned, she could sense that James was slightly different than he was three years ago. However, she could not pinpoint what exactly had changed about him.

An invisible sense of attraction pulled her to him, making her subconsciously approach him.

James caught a whiff of her charming fragrance and opened his eyes. He coughed softly when he saw Delainey's whole body almost leaning on him.

Delainey regained her senses and blushed after realizing what she had just done.

'W-What's wrong with me?'

She gently shook her head and asked, "By the way, where have you been all these years, James? Three years ago, Floret Palace was demolished. Logically speaking, you wouldn't have survived it. So, how are you still alive?"

She asked a question to divert her embarrassment.

"It's a long story. I'll tell you when I have the time."

Regarding what happened to him, James did not explain much about it.

"Okay."

Delainey murmured and did not say anything more.

The plane soared through the sky quickly and soon landed in Lothian.

Lothian was a country established by the Prince of Orchid Mountain.

The country was also run by an absolute autocracy where the emperor had full control.

After the two alighted the plane, they headed directly to the Lothian Palace.

When they reached the palace gates, Lothian guards barricaded their path.

"State your identities. The palace is off-limits to outsiders."

Delainey stood up and said, "I'm Delainey from Wyrmsstead. I've got an important matter to discuss with His Majesty."

The guard looked at Delainey and said, "Wait here. I'll go and report your visit."

The two waited patiently at the palace gates.

At that moment, Langston was lying feebly in bed inside a room in the Lothian Palace's backyard. His face was pale, and he was breathing very weakly.

Tyrus mobilized his True Energy to treat Langston's injuries.

After a while, he stopped.

"Father."

Tyrus said worriedly, "Your injuries have worsened again. We can't just wait idly. We have to find a way to heal your injuries as soon as possible. Otherwise, your life is going to be in grave danger."

"Huff," Langston heaved a sigh.

It had been six months since he sustained these injuries.

Tyrus had constantly been using his True Energy to prolong Langston's life in the past six months. However, doing so merely meant extending his life and not treating the injuries.

He was aware of the severity of his injuries.

If no cure was found soon, he was going to die.

Langston sat up with difficulty.

Tyrus immediately helped to prop him up.

Langston leaned on the bed and asked, "By the way, what has Xandra been up to these days?"

Tyrus replied, "The Empyrean Spiritual Energy on Earth has been revived. She has keen senses and left saying she'd find a magical item to treat your injuries."

"How's her condition?" asked Langston.

Tyrus said, "She's quite stable. As long as she doesn't use her True Energy, she won't become demonized."

Langston said worriedly, "Her condition is the same as Thea's. I'm not afraid to die, but I'm worried about her. She has suffered a lot in these long years."

At that moment, there was a knock on the door.

Tyrus walked over and opened the door.

A guard knelt on the ground and said respectfully, "Reporting! A man and woman have shown up outside. The woman claimed to be Wyrmostead's Delainey and requested an audience with His Majesty."

"Oh? Delainey?"

Tyrus was slightly surprised and said, "I'll see her."

After speaking, he turned to Langston and said, "Father, some people from Wyrmostead have come to visit. I'll go and meet with them."

"Go ahead." Langston gently waved his hand.

Tyrus turned and left.

Soon, he arrived outside the palace.

He instantly spotted a man and woman chatting joyously. When he saw the man's appearance, he was dumbstruck.

Fearing that he was hallucinating, he rubbed his eyes.

"James?"

With a shocked expression, he walked over and took James' hand, exclaiming excitedly, "Is it really you, James? You're still alive!"

"Mhm, Uncle," James greeted him.

"Haha! Kid..."

Tyrus laughed ecstatically and patted James' shoulder. He said excitedly, "I knew you wouldn't die so easily!"
