

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2003 –

Chapter 2003

Xandra could not believe her ears. She knew how powerful the Overworld and the figures guarding Mount Bane were. Thus, she did not expect James to be able to fight them to a standstill.

“I’m not sure if I can sense the magical object’s specific location. But since Mount Bane is safe now, I’ll head over there immediately. Wait for me, James. I’ll be there within a day.”

“Alright, then.”

James hung up the phone.

Then, he sat in a lotus position on the ground and absorbed Empyrean Spiritual Energy to replenish the Demonic Energy within his body.

His Demonic Energy had been depleted after the battle. It was not the True Lunar and Terra Energy he cultivated, nor was it his physical prowess.

As Empyrean Spiritual Energy entered his body, the Demonic Energy that was depleted slowly replenished. After some time, as his Demonic Energy was restored, James became energetic. He did not leave but instead waited patiently.

Before daybreak, Xandra Lafleur arrived.

She was wearing a pair of jeans, a pair of sneakers, cream-colored short sleeves, and a pair of sunglasses. Not only that, but she was also carrying a huge bag.

Upon seeing James at the foot of Mount Bane, she called out, “James!”

James immediately turned her head and saw Xandra. Upon noticing her youthful appearance, he smiled. He could not believe that she was a woman who had lived for a thousand years.

He stood up and greeted her, “Mother.”

Xandra removed her sunglasses and revealed her beautiful features. Her skin was fair and delicate, and she was simply drop-dead gorgeous.

“You did well, Son,” Xandra praised him. “Helpless and powerless, the earthlings are in despair facing the Overworld. Your efforts have brought us a moment of respite. Very well done.”

James smiled bitterly and said, “This is only temporary. Right now, the Overworld is everything we need to deal with. Once the seal is undone, there will be countless more worlds like the Overworld. When that day comes, it will be the end of us.”

Then, he sighed deeply.

James knew what they would face once the seal was undone six years later. He shouldered a great responsibility.

Xandra consoled him, “One step at a time, Son. We have a few years left, after all. There’s nothing much to worry about.”

Hearing this, James was slightly at ease. He changed the subject and asked, “Mom, can you sense the approximate location of any magical object?”

Xandra shook her head. “I only know that they will appear on Mount Bane. As for their specific locations, I’m unsure of that at the moment. Perhaps I can only sense their presence when they appear. Let’s not rush things. We’ll wait and see for a few days.”

“Mhm.”

So, James waited patiently alongside Xandra.

On a mountain near Mount Bane...

The mountain was several kilometers in height and came from some other world. A few buildings could be seen on it.

At the same time, a few wooden houses were erected at the back of the mountain, and mysterious trees were planted in the surroundings. There were also mysterious berries on the trees that glimmered a faint light and exuded an alluring fragrance.

A middle-aged man stood before the wooden house. He was Leandro Xamir, the servant of the Son of Heaven.

He simply looked at the wooden house before him and waited patiently.

Creak...

The door opened, and a young man wearing a white robe walked out. His features were delicate, and his gaze was intense.

“Master.”

Leandro bowed slightly to show his reverence toward his master.

The man before him was the Son of Heaven, the most distinguished disciple of the greatest figure of the Overworld. Though he was youthful, he possessed great strength.

“Mhm.” The man nodded slightly and walked toward a wooden chair outside the wooden house, taking a seat.

“Master, an earthling appeared on Mount Bane a day ago..”

Leandro narrated the events that unfolded to him.

“Oh?” Stunned, the Son of Heaven looked at Leandro and asked, “A man who exudes terrifying Demonic Energy .. Does such a person truly exist on Earth?”

“Yes, he simply won’t die. No matter how severe his injuries were, he managed to rejuvenate them in a short amount of time. Not even the five of us at the Supernatural Consummation rank can annihilate him. Besides, he nearly killed Yandel Harlow,” Leandro said

The Son of Heaven’s expression turned grim when he heard this. Pensive, he remained silent.

Leandro asked, “What should we do now, Master? Should we get rid of him or do we make a compromise for now?”

“We’re not in a hurry.” The Son of Heaven waved slightly and said, “There are only a few years left before the seal is undone. Besides, we came here to seek opportunities and not to slaughter the inhabitants.”

“Understood.” Leandro nodded.

The Son of Heaven stood up and gazed at the mountain range enveloped in a thin mist in the distance. Wearing a solemn expression, he said, “Whoever releases the seal shall be greatly rewarded by heaven and earth. Now, powerful figures from all worlds are emboldened, seeking ways to send the most distinguished disciple of their sects here to Earth. Our enemy is not the earthlings, but rather those of the other worlds.”

“Master, your cultivation base...”

Leandro looked at the Son of Heaven. Although he was his servant, he knew little about his strength.

The Son of Heaven glanced at him coldly. Leandro immediately shut his mouth and hurriedly said, “I’m sorry, I overstepped my boundaries.”

The Son of Heaven ordered, “Alright now, you’re dismissed. Pay no heed to the earthling. Let him do as he pleases.”

“Understood.”

Leandro nodded and turned to leave.

At the same time, at the foot of Mount Bane...

Xandra took a few delicacies from her bag-drumsticks, roasted duck, and pig’s trotters. “Here, have a taste.”

When he saw them, James was taken aback.

Xandra smiled and said, “I think the food here on Earth is delicious. I was worried that you’d be hungry, so I brought you some food to eat.”

Then, she handed a drumstick to James.

James had no choice but to accept his mother’s kind offer. As he munched on the food, he pulled his phone out, entered the Martial Arts Forum, and posted a message.

[From today onwards you are allowed to enter Mount Bane as you please. The cultivators of the Overworld will no longer harass you. However, you are forbidden from entering the area in the vicinity of the sects. Otherwise, you will be annihilated without mercy.]

[At the same time, you are allowed to search for magical objects in the vicinity of Mount Bane. Whoever finds an undiscovered object is allowed to keep it for himself.]

James used his real account to post the message.

Immediately, this caused a commotion.

[This is James’ account!]

[Is James still alive?]

[Is the message true? If this is a prank, I'll be killed by those from the Overworld once I enter Mount Bane.]

[This must be a fake. Mount Bane has been occupied. I don't have a death wish.]

Many interacted on the forum.

Chapter 2005

No one believed James was still alive. They thought his message was a prank.

[What kind of sick joke is this?]

[Enter Mount Bane as we please? Finders keepers? Hasn't this guy heard of the Overworld?]

[This must be the Overworld's doing. They must be bored and wanted to lure us over there.]

Many interacted on the forum.

After posting the message, James did not immediately leave but instead stayed to observe their reactions.

Seeing that no one believed him, he scratched his nose.

Then, he posted another message.

[I am James Caden of Wurmstead. I am still alive, and I have returned. On Mount Bane, I annihilated Matias Judah, the man who slaughtered dozens from the state of Japura and fought against many Overworld Outsiders.]

[I fought Xain Judah, Samarth Carter, Wynter Freya, Yandel Harlow, and Leandro Xamir to a standstill alone, thereby earning the right to enter negotiations with them. In the end, I managed to obtain many benefits for us all.]

James briefly described the situation on the forum.

The message dropped like a bombshell. In just a few minutes, many commented on his post. However, most of them indicated their disbelief.

Seeing that no one believed his words, James could not help but sigh. Then, he simply ignored the whole matter altogether. After all, he had tried his best.

“Mother.” James looked at Xandra.

Xandra was sitting on a rock while supporting her chin with her arm. Looking at James, she flicked at his forehead and said with a smile, “Your father’s a good-for-nothing, but you turned out to be a wonderful man.”

“Indeed, my father’s a good-for-nothing.”

James did not deny that.

“Is something the matter?” Xandra asked.

James asked, “I heard from Grandfather and Uncle that you’ll be demonized after using True Energy?”

“Mhm.” Xandra nodded and said, “It’s due to the Phoenix blood inside my body. Although it brought me great strength, my blood will churn once I catalyze True Energy. When that happens, I’ll slowly lose consciousness. However, after cultivating Ataraxia, my condition has improved. Now, I’m able to suppress the Demonic Energy inside.”

Hearing this, James furrowed his eyebrows.

Suppress?

No way.

It was specifically designed by the enemy to get rid of the most distinguished fighters on Earth. The custodian told him that it could only be suppressed because one had yet to grow powerful enough. Once one reached a certain strength, the Demonic Energy inside one’s body would lose control, and the individual would experience Energy Deviation after failing to suppress it. The custodian also told James he could bring people like Thea to the Chamber of Scriptures to purify their Demonic Energy.

“Mother, your condition is worrying. You’re experiencing the same things as Thea did back then. You’ll be in mortal danger if this continues. I know someone who can purify Demonic Energy. Once everything here’s resolved, I’ll bring you there to purify your Demonic Energy. Thea is also there at the moment,” James said

“Mhm.” Xandra nodded. She had complete trust in James. There was no way James would ever harm her.

James looked at her and said, smiling. “Mother, this only happened because you’re a genius who possesses the Supreme Spiritual Root. Someone like you is able to cultivate anything in a short amount of time. You’re the hope of humanity.”

“Pfft!” Xandra could not control her laughter. “I’m not as impressive as you say.”

“I’m speaking the truth,” James said seriously. “Only those who can experience Energy Deviation after consuming the blood of the Four Holy Beasts are true geniuses.”

“Alright, I believe in you.”

Xandra did not argue with James.

Then, they began discussing current affairs, the Four Holy Beasts, and the enemy’s conspiracy.

Chapter 2006

At the same time, in Cansington...

Cynthia walked out of her room wearing pajamas. Unable to fall asleep, she headed to the living room downstairs and scrolled through the Martial Arts Forum. She wanted to know if anything significant had happened over the past few days.

The moment she logged into the forum, she saw two messages that James had posted. Upon reading through the messages, she could not help but exclaim, “J-James is still alive?”

She could not believe her eyes. Holding the phone in her hand, she hurriedly ran upstairs and knocked on a door.

Knock! Knock! Knock!

“Maxine! Maxine!”

However, no matter how hard she knocked, no one answered the door. So, she pushed the door open and entered the room.

When she entered, she saw Maxine sitting in a lotus position on the bed. Wearing white pajamas, her long black hair was on end, and her eyes were bloodshot. Green veins were popping out all over her face.

Cynthia's blood ran cold and she unconsciously turned to leave.

Fwoosh!

In an instant, Maxine appeared before her and choked her.

Fortunately, Maxine immediately regained consciousness. Her eyes and complexion returned to normal, and she hurriedly released Cynthia, asking, "What happened, Cynthia?"

Upon seeing Maxine return to normal, a chill ran down Cynthia's spine as she said, "You were scary just now, Maxine."

"I-Is that so?"

Maxine was puzzled. She only remembered that she was in the middle of cultivating and had no recollection of what happened a moment ago.

Ever since the incident at the Floret Palace three years ago, Maxine had returned to Cansington to live alongside Cynthia and Tiara.

"Y-Yes... Maxine, did you just experience Energy Deviation?"

Cynthia looked at her fearfully.

Maxine shook her head slightly and said, "I don't know either. I only know that I will lose control of myself sometimes as my strength increases. Desires will surface in my mind. Not only that, but a mysterious power will appear whenever I catalyze True Energy. Sometimes, I have a feeling that I'm being controlled by it."

"Huh? What's going on?" Cynthia asked.

Maxine shook her head slightly and said, "Nevermind... In any case, I'll be careful from now on. By the way, is something the matter?"

Cynthia pulled her phone out and handed it over to Maxine.

"There's a user on the Martial Arts Forum who claims to be James!"

Maxine was stunned when she heard this. With shivering hands, she took the phone and read through

James' message.

"Is that really him?"

Maxine could not believe her eyes.

Three years ago, the entire Floret Palace was flattened, and the mountain on which Floret Palace was constructed was reduced to rubble. Many searched for James but to no avail.

To Maxine, James was already dead. He only existed in her memories.

Now that this happened, she was both overjoyed and stunned.

"Maxine, do you think he's James?" Cynthia asked.

Maxine returned the phone to Cynthia and said, "In any case, I'm heading over to Mount Bane." Then, she changed out of her sleepwear and headed to Mount Bane immediately.
