

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2051 –

Chapter 2051

James spent the last two years cultivating in the ancient battlefield.

Two years had passed, and he was unsure of whether anyone had passed the ninth barrier and become the Celestial Abode's new owner.

He quickly left the Chamber of Scriptures and set off directly. He did not stop by Lothian because the only thing he could think of was the Celestial Abode. He wanted to claim the place for himself as soon as possible. He went to the nearby military region and used his authority to take a private plane to Mount Bane.

After the long journey, he finally arrived on Mount Bane.

The land around Mount Bane had expanded after two years. Many unknown areas appeared during the past two years. The surroundings had undergone significant changes, and James was somewhat unfamiliar with the new terrain.

Fortunately, he could still see the golden light shining in the sky from a distance.

He knew the golden light came from the Celestial Abode.

That meant the Celestial Abode was still there and had not been claimed by anyone yet.

He sighed in relief upon seeing the golden light.

No longer in a rush, he slowed down.

As soon as he got close to Mount Bane, James discovered many martial artists habituating the area. There was even a small city established in Mount Bane's canyon.

"Huh?"

James stood atop one of the mountains and was surprised to see the unfamiliar city.

"It's only been two years? Did someone already establish a city here?"

After careful observation, James surmised that the settlement most likely was not built in recent times but had instead originated from another world.

The city sported ancient designs, and the city gate alone was several hundred meters tall. All the buildings looked like they had been transported from an earlier time in history. The modern generation would never build such an old-fashioned city.

James wanted to head to the Celestial Abode immediately but saw many people inhabiting the city.

“It seems more Outsiders have appeared on Earth. I’m not sure if they’ve come from the Overworld.”

James knew that there was more than one Sealed Realm.

The Overworld was merely one of the many worlds.

Since the Overworld was able to find the seal leading to the earth, the other worlds must be able to do so as well.

After mulling it over for a while, James decided to check out the city.

He leaped off the mountaintop and landed firmly on the ground, appearing right in front of the city gate.

Many people were gathered at the city gate and were lining up to enter the city.

James also joined the queue.

Soon, he was admitted into the city.

The broad streets were full of people.

James was shocked as he had never expected this many martial artists from other worlds to appear on Earth in just two years.

Suddenly, he saw a scene that made his blood boil.

On the street, a few women were imprisoned in a cage. There were signs on the women’s heads advertising them as beautiful earthlings for sale and displayed their respective prices. Upon seeing this, James was outraged.

It was clear that things were not as peaceful as he thought during these two years.

A fat man sat on a chair beside the cage and hollered, “Don’t miss your chance! These are rare, beautiful female earthlings! They’re college students and only cost one crystal!”

A few people would stop to take a look, while others did not bother even casting a glance at them.

James walked toward the fat man with an unsmiling expression.

The fat man was not tall, standing at about 160 centimeters. He wore oversized clothes, and his chubby face gave off a shrewd impression.

Seeing James appear at his booth, he immediately stood up and said with a smile, "Young man, are you interested in buying a beautiful woman? These are genuine college student earthlings. I took a huge gamble to enter a university in Sol and get my hands on them. Fortunately, I escaped quickly. Otherwise, I would've been doomed if I got caught by the Omniscient Deity. One woman only costs one crystal."

James looked at the women locked inside the cage.

There were three beautiful women dressed in modern clothes. All of them had decent looks and great figures.

Chapter 2052

At that moment, these women looked at James in fright.

"Haah." James took a deep breath and chose his actions carefully.

He had been away for two years and was uncertain what kind of powerhouses had appeared on earth recently. He was unsure whether he could completely fight off these Outsiders with his current strength.

However, he heard the Omniscient Deity being mentioned.

James forcibly suppressed his anger and asked, "You mentioned the Omniscient Deity from Earth. Is he strong?"

"Why? Have you not heard of him? Oh! You must be new, right?"

James nodded and said, "Mhm. I just recently entered Earth and don't know much about this world."

"I knew it."

In an effort to sell his goods, the fat man eagerly explained things to James, "The Omniscient Deity is Earth's strongest martial artist. He's a Herculean in terms of rank, and there are rumors that he's reached the Third Layer of the rank since he defeated a Herculean Second Layer in the past."

Hearing this, James asked calmly, "Are there many Herculean martial artists on Earth right now?"

The fat man said, "It's not that easy for people above the Herculean rank to pass through the seal. The stronger one's strength, the harder it is to pass through the seal."

Hearing this, James was relieved.

It seemed the martial artists that appeared on Earth were relatively weaker.

James' face darkened. "Do you know who I am?"

"I don't care who you are. I've already told you so much. Are you going to buy a woman or not?"

That fat man was starting to lose his patience.

James suddenly lifted the fat man off the ground and said slowly, "I'm an earthling."

"What?! You're an earthling?"

The fat man was taken aback.

Following that, he quickly attempted to strike back at James and thrust his palm forward. James allowed the attack to land on him. However, the fat man's full-force attack did not even scratch James.

"Y-You..."

The fat man's mouth hung open incredulously.

James suddenly lifted him higher and slammed him into the ground.

Bang!

The fat man's body fell to the ground, and he was winded by the impact.

The fight caught the attention of some guards.

A group of guards quickly approached them.

The fat man got up from the ground and rushed to the guards, seemingly finding his saving. He pointed at James and shouted furiously, "Sir, he's an earthling! He's here to cause trouble in the city! Hurry and capture him!" grace.

The guards wore armor and held long swords.

The leader of the guards looked to be in his 30s.

He walked over and looked at James.

"You're a martial artist from Earth?"

James tersely replied, "Yes."

The guard said, "Our City Lord doesn't prohibit martial artists from Earth from entering the city. However, fighting is prohibited in Hazted City. Please come with us."

As soon as he finished speaking, the guards behind him drew their swords and surrounded James.

James looked at them coldly.

He did not want to cause a huge fuss.

However, these Outsiders had crossed the line. They captured humans from Earth and were selling them in the city. Since things had reached this extent, there was no need for him to hold back against them.

Chapter 2053

"Young man, I don't know who you are, but this is Hazted City. Anyone who steps into this city must follow our rules. Men, detain this guy. He shall be locked up for thirty years." The guard's captain snorted snidely.

The guards immediately surrounded James and were about to make their move.

Suddenly, James' body vanished and reappeared ten meters away from where they closed in on him.

"Huh?" The guard's captain was blindsided.

James' movements were too fast for him to see clearly. Before he could catch a glimpse of the action, James had already escaped from them.

"That man must die right here."

James pointed at the fat man behind the guard's captain.

Since he had returned, James wanted to display his strength and warn the Outsiders that those who coerce Earth's inhabitants will have to pay a heavy price.

The captain stared at James.

James was powerful. He was way stronger than they initially expected. However, they stood in Hazted City. As the captain of the guards, his duty was to protect the city. Anyone who caused trouble in Hazted City would have to be mercilessly executed.

James walked slowly toward the man.

"Save me, Captain!!!"

The fat man wore an anxious expression.

The captain spoke again, "I'd like to see what makes you think you can act so presumptuously! Take him down!"

"If you insist on standing in my way, then you leave me no choice but strike back with extreme prejudice."

James clenched his fists.

"Kill him!"

The guards all wore menacing expressions. They gripped their swords tightly and slashed at James.

James threw a punch into the air.

Terrifying energy swept forward and sent the guards flying, causing them to land in the distance. They were audibly groaning in pain.

With just one move, James defeated dozens of guards.

Many people were in the city at the time, and the commotion attracted a lot of attention. People gathered around and gestured at the commotion as they discussed it amongst themselves.

“Who’s this person? How dare he start a fight in Hazted City?” “Doesn’t he know that Hazted City belongs to Tristen Hazted?”

“Even the Omniscient Deity would act cautiously here.”

“That young man is done for.”

Many people murmured about the fight.

To them, James was good as dead at that point.

Even the strongest martial artist on Earth, the Omniscient Deity, feared Tristen and would not dare to step into Hazted City. Despite that, this unknown earthling had the guts to go on a rampage in Hazted City.

“You’re dead meat!”

The guard’s captain glared at James and cursed, “Not even gods will be able to save you today! Mark my words!”

James ignored the threat and slowly walked toward the fat man.

After taking a few steps, his body suddenly disappeared and reappeared in front of the fat man the next instant.

The fat man attempted to dodge, but he was much slower than James. He was lifted into the air once more and immediately felt the murderous intent emanating from James.

He was utterly terrified and quickly begged for mercy. “I’m sorry! I was wrong! Please spare me. I’ll never repeat the same mistake again! I won’t dare to capture earthlings and sell them ever again!”

The fat man pleaded with James for mercy.

James held him in the air and stared at him coldly, it was obvious to see that James intended to ruthlessly end his life.

He lifted the man higher and threw him to the ground.

The fat man’s body slammed into the pavement.

Swoosh!

James unsheathed the long sword that hung from his back.

He grasped the Primordial Dragon Blade, swung it at the man and promptly kept it away once more.

Splurt!

Blood splattered everywhere, and a head rolled on the ground.

James showed no mercy and deliberately broke the rules, killing the fat man in front of the Outsiders. He scanned his surroundings and said ominously, "This is what happens when you make enemies out of the humans on Earth. Today, I'm warning you guys. Anyone who touches another human from Earth in the future will be beheaded."

His voice resounded.

Initially, the crowd had formed to talk about the scene in front of them.

Chapter 2054

Everyone's faces paled after watching James kill the fat man.

The women imprisoned in the cage watched aghast. They were unaware of what was happening and did not know the identity of the man standing up for them.

Meanwhile, the captain of the guards bore a frightening expression.

"You're going to die, b*stard."

Despite what he saw, he remained unfazed by James.

He was standing in Hazted City which belonged to Tristen.

The city appeared out of the blue one year ago.

The Outsiders fought fiercely for dominion over the city. Ultimately, Tristen emerged victorious and successfully conquered the city, naming it Hazted City.

James ignored the captain.

He walked toward the cage and opened it.

Although the three women in the cage were unkempt, their beauty was still plainly obvious to see. These three women would definitely be the most popular women in whichever school they went to.

After James opened the cage, he tried his best to show that he bore them no ill will. He smiled gently and said, "It's alright. Everything will be alright. You three can go home now."

James stretched out his hand to the three women in the cage. They only responded by staring at James warily.

"Don't be scared. I mean no harm."

James sensed they had some reservations about him and said with a smile, "I'm a human from Earth. I used to be the Dragon King of Sol's Southern Plains. I'm currently Wurmstead's Emperor. My duty is to protect humans on Earth."

After hearing James' words, the women felt at ease and slowly walked out of the

James ignored the captain and the spectators around him.

He led them outside, saying, "Follow me. I'll lead you out of this city."

The three women did not dare to speak and silently followed behind James.

"Do you think you can leave just like that, you b*stard?!"

The captain stepped forward and barricaded their path. cage.

He had already signalled to the rest of the guards. If he could restrain James for some time, reinforcements would soon arrive. When that happens, it would be the end of the road for James.

"You killed a person in Hazted City. Do you think we'll let you leave that easily?"

The captain said intimidatingly, "Homicide is a capital offense in Hazted City!"

"I already killed him. What more could you do to me?"

James did not entertain the captain's outburst.

With his current strength, he did not need to be afraid of Outsiders.

Those who go caused trouble for humans on Earth had to die.

“Yo, it’s pretty lively here.”

At that moment, a voice resounded.

Hearing this, everyone looked in that direction.

A handsome and charismatic man in a white robe walked over along with a few subordinates.

Seeing this person, crowd took a few steps backward.

“Son of Heaven.”

“I wasn’t expecting the Son of Heaven to show up!”

James raised his head and saw a familiar face.

The Son of Heaven drew closer and recognized James.

The captain immediately walked over and said respectfully, “Deputy City Lord, you came just in time! This b*stard killed a person in Hazted City.”

He pointed his finger at James while reporting the incident.

The Son of Heaven looked at James.

“James? You’re back?”

James smiled faintly and said, “That’s right. It’s me.”

A murderous look crossed the Son of Heaven’s face.

Two years ago, he was tricked by James in the Celestial Abode, which caused him to sustain serious injuries. Back then, he wanted to kill James. However, James had left after he failed to breach the ninth barrier.

“You must really want to die since you’ve chosen to kill someone here!”

The Son of Heaven’s face darkened.

“Kill him!”

Leandro stepped forward from behind him.

Two years ago, Leandro reached the Supernatural Consummation stage. Right now, he had already become a Herculean.

Chapter 2055

The grievance between the Son of Heaven and James was not particularly significant. James merely manipulated him into taking a blow which caused him severe injuries.

He had long wanted to wring James' neck.

Unfortunately, James vanished after he left the Celestial Abode.

Now that James had shown up and was acting insolently in Hazted City, he had to take action as the Deputy City Lord.

He gave an order, and his subordinate, Leandro, stepped forward.

The three female college students stood behind James with fearful expressions.

James stared at Leandro who was approaching him. Two years ago, Leandro had severely injured him on Mount Bane. This led James to have bad impressions of the Outsiders.

“What? Aren't you going to fight me?”

He stared at Leandro calmly and showed no fear.

Leandro came over and stood in front of James. With a look of contempt, he said, “You're rather talented, James. If you kneel today and apologize to my master, he'll ask the City Lord to pardon you. After that, you'll only be behind bars for a decade or so at most. If you refuse then... Hazted City will be your grave today.”

The Son of Heaven raised his head and puffed his chest to express his approval of Leandro's words. As long as James kneeled, he could indeed exonerate James.

“Ha!” James sneered.

“How can you still laugh when your death is all but assured?”

Leandro's face darkened, and he attacked. His body flashed in front of James, and he raised his hand. He wanted to lift James up from the ground and toss his back down.

James raised his hand before Leandro could even touch him, blocking his attack.

He squeezed Leandro's wrist.

Leandro's expression warped instantly. He used all his strength to try and break away. However, James was too strong and would not release his vise-like grip.

James thrust his other palm forward.

Powerful Palm Energy struck Leandro's chest.

Leandro wanted to block the attack, but it was already too late. The attack hit him in the chest and he was sent flying into the distance. After only after being blasted away tens of meters did he finally break free from James' powerful force.

At that moment, his face was pale, and blood trickled from his lips.

The spectators were shocked by the scene.

Who was Leandro?

Leandro was a powerful subordinate under the Son of Heaven, who had become a Herculean. He was considered one of the strongest among the people in Hazted City.

Yet, he was spitting out blood after this simple confrontation.

Everyone was flabbergasted.

They were dumbfounded by the earthling's strength.

Even the Son of Heaven stood surprised.

Although James was considerably strong two years ago and could injure him with his signature martial art skill, James was still merely an ant to him. One that could be killed with a single hand if he chose to.

However, the man before him caused enough damage to his subordinate to the point he spat out blood after withstanding a single attack.

He knew his subordinate was already a Herculean.

Even so, Leandro had been injured by James.

"You must have a death wish!"

Leandro was furious.

Terrifying energy erupted from his body as he rushed toward James in a rage.

“Stop it.”

The Son of Heaven reprimanded him. “You’re in Hazted City. Are you trying to destroy this place?”

Hearing this, Leandro withdrew his energy.

He stood behind the Son of Heaven and shot daggers at James.

The Son of Heaven looked at James with a faint smile and said, “James, right? You’ve caused a commotion Hazted City. I’ll give you three days to appear at the City Lord’s Mansion to plead guilty to your crime.”

After speaking, he turned and left.

The Son of Heaven had disappeared, but his voice rang in James’ ears.

“After three days, for every day you don’t admit your guilt at the City Lord’s Mansion, I’ll eradicate a city on earth.”

When these words left his lips, everyone stood aghast.

Eradicate cities?

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2056 –

Chapter 2056

To the Outsiders, Earthlings were sinners and deserved to die. Although the Outsiders regarded the earthlings as lesser beings, they never thought of genocide.

This was because there was still a staunch defender among the earthlings-the Omniscient. Deity.

Even though he was slightly weaker compared to Tristen and the others, he was not a simple pushover.

Veins popped on James’ forehead when he heard the threat to eradicate cities. He looked at the Son of Heaven, who was already walking away, and clenched his fist. “Go ahead if you have the guts, Son of Heaven. I’ll get rid of you before you can even wipe out even a single person.”

James spoke calmly, but there was no humor in his tone. He was ready to kill if the Son of Heaven insisted on eradicating cities.

“Let’s go.”

James did not stick around in Hazted City and left with the three college students. He escorted them out of Mount Bane’s range and led them to a city.

Outside the city, James looked at the three exhausted women and said, “You guys should go back to where you were originally. I still have important affairs to resolve and won’t be able to accompany you guys the entire way back.”

The three women looked at James.

“Your Majesty, thank you for saving our lives.”

One of the women was the first to speak out and bowed to James.

The other two followed suit and thanked James for rescuing them.

James gently waved his hand and said, “Go on.”

After he finished speaking, James turned and left.

James did not return to Hazted City but walked toward the mountain range where the Celestial Abode was located. The Son of Heaven gave him three days. If everything went as planned, he should be able to pass through the ninth barrier and become the Celestial Abode’s master within three days.

He knew that obtaining the Celestial Abode would draw the Outsiders’ interest.

There were countless challenges that he would have to face soon.

To prevent troubles from cropping up, he would need to make a show of his strength, and beating up the Son of Heaven was the perfect way to achieve that.

James wanted to kill the Son of Heaven in the view of other Outsiders to prove the strength of Earth’s martial artists.

He wanted to show them humans from Earth were not to be trifled with and that anyone who went against martial artists from Earth would face severe consequences.

James made his way toward the mountain range where the Celestial Abode was located.

Soon, he arrived on the mountain that the Celestial Abode hovered over.

The Celestial Abode remained in the same spot for two years.

In the past two years, many Outsiders appeared on Earth. These people were not just from the Overworld but came from various other worlds too. Despite that, no matter how many people challenged the Celestial Abode's barriers, none were capable of claiming it.

Although many who tried also reached the ninth barrier, not a single person successfully passed it.

Many martial artists were gathered outside the Celestial Abode's entrance, all discussing ways to obtain the abode.

"I think we should just give up. Even a strong man like Tristen could not pass through the ninth barrier. After challenging it countless times, he's already given up."

"I heard many powerhouses are meditating in seclusion to condense their True Energy to make themselves stronger before they return to rechallenge the barriers."

"I wonder who'll claim the Celestial Abode in the end."

As soon as James approached the Celestial Abode's gateway, he heard the crowd's excited clamoring.

He paid them no mind and walked up directly to the gateway. He stepped into the golden gateway, and his vision went blurry. The next moment, he found himself in a place that was both familiar yet unfamiliar at the same time.

It felt familiar because he had been here before.

The unfamiliar feeling was because everything in front of him seemed unbelievable.

He stood on a mountaintop.

Two years ago, he reached the ninth barrier. He was unsure whether he would have to work his way up again or if he would go straight to the ninth barrier after returning.

However, it did not matter to him.

Since he reached the sixth barrier through his own effort two years ago, reaching the ninth barrier would be easier this time because he was no longer the same as he was back then.

Chapter 2057

James appeared on the mountaintop and looked at the city surrounded by a celestial aura in the distance. His desire to possess the Celestial Abode only firmed up in his ear

There were many people on the mountaintop.

He ignored them and descended to the mountain's base.

Soon, he reached the first barrier. James thought he would have to challenge the barriers again from the beginning if he wanted to reach the ninth barrier. Fortunately, the golem on the first barrier did not attack him.

James was overjoyed. This saved him a lot of time since he did not need to pass through the barriers again.

He continued advancing and found that his path was largely unimpeded. Soon, he reached the base of the mountain and found himself outside the city entrance.

When he appeared at the city entrance, his body was lifted into the air and transported directly into the city center. Then, he gained his footing firmly on the ground.

He looked at the altar before him and the crystal floating on it.

No one was at the ninth barrier.

Those who could reach the ninth barrier had already challenged it a long time

Those who could not reach the ninth barrier did not have the strength to do so. James walked toward the altar ago.

As soon as he approached, a white light appeared, and a charming woman in a white dress appeared in front of him.

"You're here."

The woman recognized James. He was the first person to reach the ninth barrier and challenge her.

"Yeah."

James was calm in front of his opponent. Compared to two years ago, he was much stronger and now was confident he could defeat her.

As long as his opponent kept to the same rank, he felt assured and unstoppable.

“Good.”

The woman nodded slightly with one arm held behind her back.

A white light shone in her eyes.

The light touched James' body, and the woman immediately analyzed his cultivation rank. “Mmm, wow. Impressive.”

The woman's pretty face was full of respect as she said, “I didn't you to reach the peak of the Supernatural's Eighth Inner Gate in just two years. I wonder how strong your True Energy is now.”

James smiled calmly and said, “I won't disappoint you.”

He knew the woman before him was not an actual human but merely a simulacrum.

She was incredibly powerful, so James brought his full power to bear on her. He activated his True Energy, and two streams of energy flowed through his body. Intense energy erupted from his body right after.

The woman in white was surprised by James' energy.

“Not bad.” She clicked her tongue in amazement.

At that moment, James lunged at her.

James made an attack and appeared in front of the woman the next moment. He clenched his fist and swung it at the woman's vital points.

His punch was fast and fierce, causing an invincible force to sweep forward.

The woman did not dodge and raised her hand to block James' attack.

Fist and palm collided.

Both of them took a few steps backward.

James felt a powerful force seeping from his fist, and it spread into his body causing him to stumble a few steps back.

However, that was the extent of the damage he took.

The woman's pretty face expressed amazement. She knew James had reached the Eighth Inner Gate's peak, so she adjusted her strength to match his. Originally, she expected to defeat James with a single attack.

However, she was surprised James was capable of repelling her.

As soon as the two exchanged their first move, the Spirit Tool appeared.

The Spirit Tool's shadowy face also expressed shock after witnessing the woman in white being pushed back by James.

"This kid has improved a lot after disappearing for two years."

"Strike again."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2058 –

Chapter 2058

The woman in the white dress was excited. After so many years, she finally met a worthy opponent. She stopped restraining her strength and used the full strength of the peak of the Eighth Inner Gate.

Her dress and long hair fluttered in the air as oppressive energy emanated from her.

With a flash, she charged at James and thrust her palm forward. Powerful Palm Energy rushed forward, causing the surrounding space to distort.

Her attack was enough to injure even a regular Herculean martial artist.

However, James was not afraid of her palm attack. He did not retreat. Instead, he charged forward and met her attack head-on.

Rumble!!!

As their True Energies intertwined, the surroundings began to warp.

The aftermath of the collision swept across the arena.

The two fought in an open area. The woman boasted insane speed, and her movements were unpredictable and mysterious.

Even though James had strong True Energy, his attacks were deflected easily. In just a short moment, the two had exchanged dozens of moves. James had been struck a number of times and now looked worse for the wear.

Fortunately, the attacks that landed on him were not fatal.

During the battle, James thought long and hard about how to defeat the woman in the white dress.

His True Energy was on par with hers.

However, he was far inferior to her in terms of martial art techniques. He was completely suppressed and helpless against her.

Against a powerful opponent, one could not afford to be careless. While James was distracted, the woman found an opening.

James took three hits in a row.

The woman pulled James' wrist towards herself and rapidly thrust her palm into him, landing another attack on him.

James felt a shock of powerful energy rock his whole body from the area she struck.

Her True Energy passed through his meridians and disrupted his flow of True Energy.

In the end, James took another hit to his chest and was kicked into the distance. He slammed into the ground and coughed out a mouthful of blood.

The moment James' body hit the ground, he sprung forward once again. Suddenly, a powerful energy erupted from his body, and he shot out like an arrow at the defender.

His potent True Energy formed a shock wave and swept the surroundings.

The woman in the white dress leaped tens of meters into the sky and dodged James' series of attacks.

Then, she charged downward at James.

Meanwhile, James accelerated upwards at her.

Boom!

The two met in mid-air, and their palms collided again.

Both of them were blown back by the force.

James' body was blasted away and plummeted toward the ground. Just when he was about to smash into the ground, he caught himself and backed up several meters.

After he gained a firm footing, the woman in the white dress also landed firmly on the ground.

She looked at James with a smile, "How commendable. You're the first to have exchanged so many moves with me in the past few years. To be honest, your True Energy is already on par with mine. It's a pity your martial art techniques are still lacking, so you're still incapable of beating me."

"Is that so?" James smiled playfully.

Swoosh!

He unsheathed the Primordial Dragon Blade from its scabbard on his back.

Gripping the Primordial Dragon Blade, James could feel a powerful force coming from the sword. At that moment, he felt his strength increase.

In terms of hand to hand combat, he was indeed no match for the woman in white. However, he was most proficient technique in swordsmanship. He planned to use his sword techniques. to defeat the woman in the white dress.

"Ha!" The defender chuckled..

A white light manifested in her hand and formed a long sword. She held onto the long sword and said lightly, "Come at me."

James held the Primordial Dragon Blade and charged at her.

A Sword Light flashed as he appeared in front of the woman in the white dress. The sword in his hand plunged at her vitals. At the same time, a Sword Energy burst forth and charged in the same direction with terrifying power.

The woman in the white dress maintained her composure. She turned to the side and dodged the attack. Then, she brandished her sword and struck James' sword.

A powerful energy reverberated through James' sword, causing him to lose grip on it. The Primordial Dragon Blade was knocked into the air.

Chapter 2059

It was only their first exchange of blows using their swords, yet already James' long sword had been knocked away.

After the woman disarmed James, she charged at him at lightning speed. Her long sword pressed against James' chest, but she did not push it in to stab him. Then, she looked at James with a smirk.

"You lost."

"I... lost?" James was stunned.

He did not expect to lose so easily.

After two years of rigorous training, how could he still lose so easily?

"Not yet."

At that moment, James seized the opportunity and raised his hand. Suddenly, two completely different True Energies materialized in his palm.

The True Energies merged instantly and formed a brand new force, bursting out suddenly.

The whole process took only less than a second.

The woman was not expecting James to continue fighting her. Truthfully, she was completely capable of dodging the attack, but she received a message from the Spirit Tool at that critical moment.

This led her to not dodge the attack and block it instead.

However, James' True Energy was much stronger than it was two years ago. Back then, he was capable of pushing back the defender. Currently, it was impossible for her to completely disperse the force of his blow, and she was flung away. Her body began to show signs of disintegration right then.

At that critical moment, a mysterious energy flowed out from her body and held her body together.

She stood up from the ground in a disheveled state and said with a smile, "You've really put me through my paces, young man."

James had a despondent expression.

It was not his intention to sneak an attack on her.

However, the allure of owning the Celestial Abode was too tempting.

He looked at the woman in the white dress walking toward him and asked, "Does this count as my victory?"

"Yeah." she nodded.

She intended to dodge James' attack but suddenly received a message from the Spirit Tool. She was slightly confused as to why the Spirit Tool instructed her to let him win.

At that moment, the Spirit Tool walked over and said cheerfully, "Congratulations, James.

You've successfully advanced through all barriers and are now qualified to refine the Celestial Spirit. However, whether you obtain it depends on our master. You may advance further."

Hearing this, James' expression was full of anticipation.

He approached the altar ahead of him.

The woman in the white dress questioned the Spirit Tool, "Why'd you tell me to suddenly let him win?"

The Spirit Tool sighed and said softly, "Master's time is running out. Back then, he died, and a fragment of his soul escaped into the Celestial Abode, allowing him to remain in the area. However, it's been a while since the Celestial Abode reappeared, and if we don't find a new owner soon, what's left of his soul will vanish.

"James excels in every aspect. He's only slightly less accomplished in his martial art techniques. I'm sure he can beat you if he is given a little more time. However, I don't think our master can afford to wait anymore."

Hearing this, the woman in white did not pursue the topic further.

She turned around and looked at James approaching the altar.

James went up to the altar and stood in the center. He could see the Celestial Spirit. It was within his grasp.

Suddenly, a ray of light shone brightly and descended from above, appearing before James.

The light ray slowly coalesced and formed a vague silhouette. Although it was an immaterial figure, James could see it was a handsome young man.

"I've waited so many years. Has someone finally succeeded?"

The figure looked at James, and a touch of disappointment flashed on his barely opaque face.” Why is he so weak?”

He could tell James’ cultivation base with a glance.

Initially, he wanted the person inheriting him to be an unrivaled powerhouse. However, the person who showed up was a weak human.

James looked at the figure and said, “I may be weak now, but I’ll definitely become a peerless martial artist in the future, Sir. I will not squander your inheritance and disappoint you. Please hand over the Celestial Abode to me with that confidence.”

The figure stared at James.

After some time, he could sense something from James.

“Tch. I wasn’t expecting this to happen. It’s beyond my wildest imagination, for sure. Never mind, it’s fine. I’ll still hand over the Celestial Abode today, and trust you will not tarnish my reputation.”

“Haha!

“The countless years spent waiting for weren’t in vain afterall!”

The illusory figure burst out laughing.

Chapter 2060

As his laughter echoed, the silhouette gradually dissipated and eventually vanished altogether. The Spirit Tool and the woman in the white dress silently watched the scene in the distance.

They knew their master had left his world once and for all.

He disappeared from the world and was not coming back anymore.

Meanwhile, James was ecstatic as he quickly walked toward the Celestial Spirit and grabbed it.

At that moment, the Celestial Tool walked over and appeared in front of James. He slightly bent over and said respectfully, "Master, refining the Celestial Spirit is very simple. All you need to do is transfuse your True Energy into it."

"Alright, thanks for letting me know." James wore a grateful expression.

He activated his True Energy and channeled it into the Celestial Spirit in his hand.

At that moment, the crystal shone brighter and slowly transformed into a symbol in the air. It landed on James' forehead and sunk into it.

James immediately sensed a connection with the Celestial Abode.

He could sense everything within the Celestial Abode and learned it was called the Jabari Celestial Abode. The previous owner was known as Emperor Jabari in ancient times.

There was a great inheritance left behind by Emperor Jabari within the Celestial Abode, including some formidable and unique martial art techniques.

"Haah!"

After gaining a connection with the Celestial Abode, James took a deep breath.

He could sense the martial artists within the Celestial Abode still attempting to break through the barriers. With a single thought, a powerful force manifested within the abode, driving out all the martial artists.

"Haha."

James could not help but laugh.

He was like a god within the Celestial Abode and had absolute power over it.

At that moment, there was a commotion outside the Celestial Abode.

"What happened?"

"Everything was going well. Why did I get kicked out?"

"I already reached the eighth barrier and was about to move on to the ninth soon. With my strength, I was definitely going to obtain the Celestial Abode. Why? How did this happen?"

"Does the Celestial Abode already have a new owner?"

The martial artists were shocked to be driven out of the Celestial Abode.

Meanwhile, James brimmed with satisfaction inside the Celestial Abode.

The Celestial Abode was indeed amazing.

The Spirit Tool said, "Master. Since your cultivation is still rather low, you cannot discover Celestial Abode's true magic. Once you improve your cultivation rank, you'll be able to attain the Celestial Abode's true rewards."

"Mhm." James nodded.

He could sense it.

The Celestial Abode was massive, but the areas he could perceive made up a small portion. He could not sense the other areas because of his low cultivation rank.

He also learned the Celestial Abode's Spirit Tool was named Nova.

Meanwhile, the woman in the white dress was called Sophie.

James was surprised that Sophie was not in fact an artificial being but a living human. As for why she was within the Celestial Abode and what made her so strong, James was unable to prise this information.

After he established a connection with the Celestial Abode, this information was not disclosed to him.

He could not help but glance at Sophie.

Sophie rolled her eyes and said, "Lucky you."

"Haha."

James chuckled and walked toward the woman in the white dress. He clasped his fists together and said, "I'm counting on you to advise me to the end of my days."
