

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2091 –

Chapter 2091

After having dinner with James, Quincy left.

James caressed his cheek that was kissed and sighed. Then, he turned to leave.

At the moment, he needed money to ensure the smooth construction of Dragonville. Now, currency all over the world was worthless. Hence, many countries had begun using gold as a new form of currency.

James thought about the treasure buried by Blake Davis. The treasure was Blake's fortunes amassed over the decades after he formed an assassin organization. As the treasure was mainly in the form of gold, Dragonville should be able to last quite some time if James could acquire them.

Hence, he met up with Blake and discussed matters with him. Hearing James' request, Blake immediately sent men to unearth the treasure in Sol.

After the matter was resolved, James left at night and headed to Mount Jade.

By the time he arrived, it was already the next morning.

Upon arriving at the foot of Mount Jade the next morning, James immediately attracted the attention of the disciples there.

"You're here, Mr. Caden."

"How do you do?"

"Hey there, Mr. Caden."

A few guards walked over to James and greeted him respectfully.

"Mhm." James nodded and said, "I'm here to see the Omniscient Deity."

"He's currently in closed-door meditation at the back of the mountain."

Unopposed, James easily got into Mount Jade and went looking for the Omniscient Deity.

The Omniscient Deity was sitting in a lotus position on a rock as he exuded a powerful aura. Empyrean Spiritual Energy gathered and was absorbed into his body.

Upon sensing someone's presence, he stopped cultivating and stood up. Looking at James, he smiled. "You're here."

"Mhm."

James nodded and said, "I came here to discuss how to best deal with the Overworld Outsiders of Hazted City."

Upon hearing this, the Omniscient Deity's face turned grim.

The Overworld Outsiders were a menace to the earthlings.

James asked, "Should we annihilate them all to get rid of the trouble once and for all?"
"No."

The Omniscient Deity hurriedly said, "Although both you and Thea are capable of wiping out Hazted City, you have to be mindful that the Overworld Outsiders on Earth at the moment are merely small fries. As time passes, more and more Overworld Outsiders will emerge. If we annihilate them now, we won't be able to deal with their reprisal."

"What should we do, then?" Anxious, James said, "Although the Overworld Outsiders won't act recklessly after Tristen Hazted's demise, they'll soon resume their usual mischiefs if we continue to stay idle."

The Omniscient Deity sighed. "We have no other choice. We can't be too aggressive against the Overworld Outsiders as we may incur their wrath. We can only choose to live in harmony with them. Besides, things are stable at the moment. What we need to do now is focus on getting stronger quickly for the real apocalypse."

Upon saying that, he handed the four keys that he had assembled to James.

"These are the four keys used to release the seal. I believe they'll be safer in your hands. Over the past few years, the Overworld Outsiders have been searching for them. I'm worried that I won't be able to keep them safe.

"Meanwhile, the releaser of the seal would receive the bounties of heaven and earth. This is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity. In fact, many Overworld Outsiders came here precisely for the four keys. As we approach the Calamity, they will certainly resort to extreme measures."

The Omniscient Deity said.

Although the Overworld Outsiders had yet to find him and learn of the four keys' location, it was only a matter of time.

That was because he had lived the longest on Earth. As such, the chances of him possessing the four keys were high. There was no doubt the Overworld Outsiders knew about that.

“Mhm.”

James took the four keys.

The Omniscient Deity looked at James and asked, “What do you plan to do next?”

James said, “Thea has brought Winnie back to Cansington. All these years of wandering about have prevented me from spending quality time with my family. Since we’re at peace and the Overworld Outsiders won’t be up to their deeds for now, I plan to return to Cansington and spend some time with my child.”

“Sure,” the Omniscient Deity said. “You’ve worked hard over the past few years. It’s time for you to take a break.”

James looked at the Omniscient Deity.

Based on his initial thoughts, he would annihilate the Overworld Outsiders in Hazted City and occupy Hazted City straight away. However, the Omniscient Deity was worried that they would incur the wrath of the Overworld once the seal was undone.

As the earthlings could not hope to stand against them, the two decided to stay put and observe the situation for now. As long as the Overworld Outsiders did not act rashly, they would not make a move against them.

After the discussion, James left Mount Jade and headed toward Cansington.

The Sword Realm was one of the Sealed Realms on Earth. Although this world was modest in size, it was nonetheless bigger than Earth’s surface.

At the peak of a mountain in the Sword Realm, a shapeless Sword Energy was levitating in the air. It would have been a picturesque scenery if not for the enormous killing intent hidden beneath it.

A man was sitting in a lotus position on the mountain. His hair was disheveled, and he was naked from the waist up. Unkempt, he looked like a barbarian.

As he slowly opened his eyes, the Sword Energy levitating in the air entered his body and disappeared without a trace.

He slowly stood up.

Fwoosh!

At that moment, a shriveled old man appeared before him.

The man naked from the waist up immediately greeted respectfully, "Master..." "Mhm."

The elderly man nodded. He was wearing a white robe. He had white hair and a long beard.

"Jerome Nikola, after many years of hard work, you've successfully inculcated Sword Intent inside your body. Now, the seal on Earth is about to be undone. Meanwhile, the releaser would receive the good graces of heaven and earth. This will be enormously beneficial to your cultivation of Sword Intent."

The elderly man spoke, while Jerome listened intently.

"There are approximately three thousand Sealed Realms, more commonly known as the Three Thousand Worlds, in which there are many gifted geniuses. I can sense that the seal is about to be released. However, there'll be a great providence on Earth before that."

"What do you mean, Master?"

The elderly man shook his head slightly and said, "I don't know either. I can sense that this providence is extraordinary, and it appears to be specifically for the Three Thousand Worlds. The younger generation will have the right to compete for the providence. Besides, the seal on Earth is about to be loosened. As such, you can head to Earth at no cost."

Hearing this, Jerome clenched his fists and said, "I won't let you down, Master. I'll head to Earth and crush everyone. The providence will be mine."

"Don't let your guard down, Jerome. Although you've planted the Sword Intent in your body and cultivated invincible Sword Intent, there are many gifted geniuses in this world. Based on the Primordials' prediction, there will be multiple earthlings blessed with the Supreme Spiritual Root in this generation. They possess terrifying strength."

"Hmph!"

Jerome grunted and said, "So what if they have the Supreme Spiritual Root? I can crush them all the same."

The Overworld was the first world within the Sealed Realms.

At the moment, an old man was sitting on a wooden chair before a wooden house in the Overworld.

He was the greatest of the Overworld and the Son of Heaven's master. As the creator of the Four Seasons Sword Art, he went by many titles. At times, he was called the Supreme Four Seasons. Sometimes, he was known as the Four Seasons Man.

At that moment, a twenty-five-year-old-looking man was standing before him. He was wearing a grey robe, and he had a sword on his back.

"The Son of Heaven's soul lamp has extinguished. He has passed on."

The Supreme Four Seasons spoke.

Enraged, he said, "I don't know what he experienced on Earth, but he's my most beloved disciple. Magnus, I sense that a great providence will soon appear on Earth. Besides, the seal is showing signs of loosening. When that happens, you can head over to Earth without any obstacles.

"I'm sending you to Earth to seize the four keys and investigate the Son of Heaven's death. Annihilate the culprits without mercy."

"Understood."

Magnus Quinton, who was kneeling, said with determination, "I won't let him die in vain, Master. I will avenge him no matter who his killer is."

"Mhm."

The Supreme Four Seasons nodded.

"There's still time before the seal loosens. Since you've been eager to learn the Four Seasons Sword Art, I shall impart to you the sword technique today."

The powerful cultivators of the other worlds had also sensed that a great providence would soon descend on Earth. They waited patiently for the seal to loosen, in the hopes of heading to Earth and competing for the providence.

At the same time, in the Celestial Abode...

The Spirit Tool was standing at the peak of a mountain, staring blankly at the scene of the outside world. He was wearing a grim expression.

“Spirit Tool.”

Sophie looked at him and asked, “What’s with the grim expression?”

“The world is about to descend into chaos.”

The Spirit Tool said grimly.

“Huh?”

Sophie asked puzzledly, “What do you mean?”

The Spirit Tool asked, “Don’t you sense anything?”

Upon hearing this, Sophie began sensing in earnest. After some time, she exclaimed, “Wh- What a great providence!”

“Indeed...” The Spirit Tool said softly, “The seal is showing signs of loosening, and the most capable individuals of the three thousand Sealed Realms will soon gather on Earth to compete for the providence. With the earthlings’ current strength, they would have trouble defending against a single Outsider, let alone all Outsiders of the Three Thousand Worlds. I wonder if James can emerge victorious and gain the providence this time.

“The providence’ appearance can only mean that the Calamity is upon us. The First Calamity of the earthlings is finally here. After this Calamity, the earthlings’ population will dwindle at a rapid pace. I hope they can get used to their new environment as soon as possible.

The Spirit Tool said anxiously.

Sophie, however, said nonchalantly, “There’s nothing to worry about, Spirit Tool. At least not everyone will die. Sigh... If not for the age restriction, I’d be able to compete for the providence too.”

The Spirit Tool said, “The Four Calamities are upon us, and the seal is about to be released. I wonder who will be the fortunate one to release the seal and obtain the providence of heaven and earth.”

James did not know that a great providence would soon descend on Earth, nor did he know that cultivators from the Three Thousand Worlds would soon arrive.

The geniuses who would soon appear greatly overshadowed men like the Son of Heaven and Tristen Hazted.

James also knew nothing about the incoming First Calamity.

At the moment, he was on a plane heading to Cansington.

After the plane landed in the military region of Cansington, he got off the plane, left the military region, and hurriedly made his way to the Callahans' residence.

However, the moment he left the military region, a woman blocked his path.

The woman had her back to James. She was wearing a white dress and had long black hair. As she turned, James recognized her immediately. He hurriedly walked over to her and asked, Ms. Custodian, what brings you here to Cansington?"

The woman was none other than the custodian of the Chamber of Scriptures. She looked at James and said, "I came here to tell you something."

"Feel free to speak your mind." James looked at the custodian with a serious expression on his face.

"We'll talk about it as we walk."

The custodian took a few steps forward.

James hurriedly chased after her and asked, "What exactly happened to bring you here?"

The custodian asked, "Have you heard that Earth will go through four catastrophes before the seal is released?"

James nodded slightly and said, "I heard about this from the Omniscient Deity. Back then, he even thought that the Four Holy Beasts would bring about the Four Calamities."

The custodian said, "The Omniscient Deity learned about the Four Calamities from his master, who also had limited understanding of the subject. As the Four Calamities descend upon Earth, there'll be four great providences as well. I sense that the First Calamity will soon arrive. This also means that a great providence is upon us."

Hearing this, James was stunned.

However, he could not care less about the providences. He was only concerned about the Four Calamities.

Wearing a solemn expression, he asked, "What's the First Calamity?"

The custodian said, "Earth's environment will undergo a profound change. Black rain will fall from the sky, and countless foreign viruses will find their way here. Those who adapt to the viruses will have their physiques modified, whereas those who fail to adapt to the new environment will perish."

The custodian briefly explained what could happen next.

"In any case, this is the beginning of the end and also a precursor to the seal's release."

Upon hearing this, James' expression turned grim. He never thought that the situation would be this bleak.

"Will many die?" He asked.

The custodian nodded slightly. "Of course. The First Calamity is estimated to wipe out one- third of humanity."

James took a deep breath.

He was indeed stunned.

The custodian consoled him. "Don't overthink things. Although the Four Calamities are terrifying, the earthlings won't go extinct. Those who survive will only get stronger."

James asked anxiously, "Is there a way to prevent this?"

The custodian shook her head. "Nope."

James asked once more, "In that case, what's the providence that would appear after this Calamity?"

The custodian shook her head slightly and said, "I don't know much about that either. I only know that the providence will allow you to increase your strength drastically. You might even become the greatest in the world."

She stopped in her tracks and turned to look at James. Her expression turned grim as she said, "I came here today to urge you to seize the providence for yourself. Whether it be you or Thea, you must never allow the providence to fall into the hands of the Outsiders. Otherwise, there will be disastrous consequences for humankind."

Upon seeing her grim expression, James nodded his head and said, "I'll do my best."
