

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2121

Chapter 2121

James' aura was so overwhelming that even Magnus staggered backward. Wiping the blood trace off his lips, his face darkened as he glared at James.

'What happened all of a sudden? How did his aura increase so drastically in such a short amount of time?'

Magnus was stunned.

James' aura was too powerful. As he stood in mid-air, majestic Empyrean Spiritual Energy gathered around him and formed a powerful field.

"Since you have a death wish, I won't hold back."

After the initial shock, Magnus composed himself. He knew James had a much lower rank than him, and he must have performed some sort of secret art. To his understanding, secret arts that increase one's strength would not last very long. As such, James' current condition was only temporary.

"Argh!"

As he roared, he soared to the sky while exuding a powerful aura. He unsheathed his sword, and powerful Sword Energy burst forth and struck at James' vital points.

"Hmph!"

James smirked.

Then, he raised his foot and stomped at nothingness. Immediately, power of heaven and earth gathered to form an overwhelming pressure, which crashed from the sky and shattered the Sword Energy.

Magnus could feel an overwhelming pressure that was directed at him. Unable to withstand the pressure, he was crushed and collapsed heavily to the ground, vomiting a mouthful of blood.

"What?"

Everyone was dumbfounded when they saw this.

Who was this? Was he truly James? How did he become so powerful? How did he manage to defeat Magnus that easily?

Everyone was stunned by James' strength. Even Magnus could not conceal his shock.

"How is this possible?" He was in disbelief. As he stood up with great difficulty, he roared, " You'll pay for this!"

The deafening roar reverberated throughout the mountains, disintegrating them into nothingness.

This was the power of an Immortal Ascension, whose sound wave was capable of destroying mountains.

Even James was temporarily disabled by the deafening roar. Before he could react, Magnus soared to the sky once more and slashed with his sword.

Swish!

At that moment, James unsheathed his sword and performed the sword technique Sophie taught him. Merging countless sword techniques into one, he appeared behind Magnus in the blink of an eye.

Meanwhile, Magnus was frozen in mid-air. His eyes bulged, and his expression was one of disbelief and confusion.

James stood behind him, and the Primordial Dragon Blade he wielded was bloodstain.

Time froze, and this scene lasted for five whole seconds.

Five seconds later, blood trickled down Magnus's neck. Then, his head was decapitated, and his body plummeted from the sky and collapsed to the ground, laying there motionless.

Silence filled the air as everyone stared at James.

The Outsiders could not believe their eyes, but the fact remained that James had annihilated Magnus.

Magnus, however, was at the Third Stair of Immortal Ascension, whereas James had only recently reached the Herculean rank.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2122

Chapter 2122

“He didn’t disappoint us.”

Upon witnessing the scene, a smile crept up on Marcello’s face as he murmured, “I wonder what cultivation method was that. To think that it was able to increase James’ strength so drastically in such a short amount of time.”

Everyone else was equally stunned. At that moment, their gazes were simply fixed on James.

James descended from the sky and landed steadily on the ground. Then, he dispersed Sacrilegious Ascension, and his vertebrae that were formed using the power of heaven and earth disappeared. As his power gradually disappeared, he lay on the ground motionless, his life hanging by a thread.

Thea hurriedly made her way over to him and helped him up.

James said, “I—I’m fine... Just let me rest for a while.”

As he lay on the ground, he catalyzed Demonic Energy and accelerated his rejuvenation speed. Then, some earthlings and Outsiders approached him.

Marcello walked over to James, whose face was pale and whose life was hanging by a thread, and asked, “Are you alright, James?”

James smiled faintly and said, “Of course I am.”

Marcello praised him, “How impressive of you! Magnus is at the Immortal Ascension’s Third Stair, yet you were able to defeat him by yourself. By the way, what cultivation method did you cultivate? It’s so insanely powerful!”

“Sacrilegious Ascension,” came a voice.

Everyone turned their heads to see a man in a black robe approaching. Around twenty years of age, he had long hair and a somewhat handsome-looking face. However, he exuded a slight trace of malevolent energy.

“Jace...” Marcello greeted him and asked, “What is Sacrilegious Ascension?”

At that moment, another voice came, “Sacrilegious Ascension is a signature cultivation method of the Primordial Divine Ape Race.”

Everyone turned their heads to see another man approaching.

James recognized the man.

He was Cody Beau of the Ethos Realm.

Jace, the senior disciple of Marcello, glanced at Cody and said, "Not bad... You even know that James cultivated the Primordial Divine Ape Race's signature cultivation method."

Cody looked at Jace and said smilingly, "Likewise... You also know that James cultivated Sacrilegious Ascension."

Though Cody looked at Jace with a composed expression on his face, he was secretly stunned.

As the sect he hailed from was an influential one, it was only natural that he had heard of Sacrilegious Ascension. However, who was the man before him and how did he learn of it?

James, who was lying on the ground, was also shocked. He expected Cody to know about Sacrilegious Ascension. However, he did not anticipate that Marcello's senior disciple would be equally knowledgeable.

As his injuries had yet to completely recover, he got up with great difficulty and sat on the ground, saying smiling, "Alright now, I'm alright, everyone. Now, go away and return me some peace."

Cody looked at the injured James and said, "It is my understanding that even the Divine Ape Race finds this cultivation method difficult to cultivate. I didn't expect you to be capable of accomplishing such a feat. Since you wish to rest, I'll be taking my leave. We'll meet again some other day."

Then, he turned to leave.

Though there were many more surrounding James, they did not dare approach him.

Jace glanced at James and said with a smile, "Not bad... That physical body of yours is truly impressive."

After he spoke, he burst into a peal of laughter and turned to leave.

Soon, the other Outsiders gradually left.

The outcome of the battle took everyone by surprise. No one would have thought that James would be able to annihilate Magnus in a single move.

It was simply unbelievable.

James sat in a lotus position on the ground and healed his injuries. Thirty minutes later, he stood up.

Thea hurriedly helped him up.

James waved his hand slightly and said, "I'm fine."

Marcello, on the other hand, smiled at James, saying, "Not bad, your strength has increased by leaps and bounds. If you increase your rank further, you'll have a shot at competing for the providence."

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2123

Chapter 2123

James' strength stunned everyone, including Marcello. In his opinion, James could compete for the providence brought about by the First Calamity should his rank increase further.

Not now, however. Although James managed to annihilate Magnus, his strength was still a distance away from the truly powerful Outsiders.

James, on the other hand, smiled faintly.

Providence?

He had thought about this before. Besides, the custodian gave him strict orders to seize the providence for himself.

However, he knew that he was still lacking in strength. Even though he had cultivated Sacrilegious Ascension, it would be nigh impossible to seize the providence for himself with his current strength. Now, the only thing he needed to do was to cultivate in earnest and increase his rank as soon as possible.

"Rest well, I'll be taking my leave."

Then, Marcello turned to leave with his entourage.

The Outsiders gradually left.

Soon, only the earthlings remained.

James sat on the ground and healed his injuries. Meanwhile, the earthlings gathered to discuss James' strength and the cultivation method he had just performed. Some posed James a few questions, to which James smiled faintly and remained silent.

Soon, another thirty minutes passed, and James' shattered vertebrae were recovered.

Such was the rejuvenation speed of his physical body. Even the Divine Ape Race required a long time to fully rejuvenate after performing Sacrilegious Ascension. James, on the other hand, needed only thirty minutes.

Then, he stood up and greeted the earthlings, "Grandpa, Grandfather, Lord Omniscient..."

"You did well." Langston patted James' shoulder and said, "You really made Earth proud. After this battle, no one would dare look down on we earthlings again."

Thomas asked, "James, what was that cultivation method? How did your strength increase so drastically in such a short amount of time?"

James smiled and said, "I'm just fortunate, that's all. Alright now, I should return to Wurmstead as soon as possible."

Then, he grabbed Thea's arm and turned to leave. Soon, they were out of sight of the earthlings.

On the outskirts of Mount Bane, James and Thea were walking side by side when Thea glanced at him and asked, "Darling, what was that cultivation method?"

James answered her truthfully with a smile on his face, saying, "It's a signature cultivation method I cultivated in the Celestial Abode. Over the past month, I've been cultivating inside the Time Chamber. Though only a month has passed in the outside world, I've been cultivating inside for seven years and a half."

"Mhm." Thea nodded.

She knew that James owned the Celestial Abode and that there was a Time Chamber inside.

The two hurriedly left Mount Bane.

Soon, they arrived at Wurmstead, currently the safest country on Earth. That was because the Black Dragon Army was comprised of martial artists. Although they were weak, with most of them being first-rank martial artists, they could deal with the mutated animals just fine with the help of high-tech weaponry.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2124

Chapter 2124

Under the Black Dragon Army's protection, Wurmstead was safe. Besides, in preparation for the apocalypse, Wurmstead had a series of precautionary measures. As such, the country was the one that suffered the least casualties since the outbreak of the First Calamity.

At the moment, there was hunger and poverty all around the world. Countries that had limited food reserves found themselves on the brink of collapse as the population began taking things into their own hands by resorting to violent activities. Many countries had no choice but to take a hard stance, annihilating all who created disturbances.

In any case, the world had fallen into disarray.

Apart from Wurmstead, some other countries remained relatively peaceful, which included Sol, Japura, Taciryus, Lothian, and a few others.

On the way back to Wurmstead, Thea explained the current situation to James.

Upon arriving at Wurmstead, they headed straight for the palace.

Thea grabbed James' hand and said, "Over the past few years, countries like Sol, Wurmstead, Japura, Taciryus, and Lothian have been acquiring and hoarding food reserves in preparation for the apocalypse. As such, at the current moment, nearly eighty percent of all food reserves are concentrated in just a few countries."

"As famine swept through the globe, some countries only have a month's worth of food reserves remaining. As such, they have been pleading for us to send them aid."

Upon hearing this, James' expression turned grim.

He never expected that the First Calamity would be a natural catastrophe. He did not anticipate that the black rain would lead to crop failure and the contamination of the soil.

The two entered the palace's main hall.

At that moment, many people were gathered there.

In the lead were the Blithe King, Henry, Quincy, and others of Wurmstead, whereas behind them were the leaders of certain countries.

Upon James and Thea's return, they immediately stood up.

James went straight for the main seat.

Quincy approached him and whispered, "They are representatives of countries that have experienced famine. They came here in search of aid, hoping that Wurmstead would donate some of our food reserves so that they could weather the storm."

Quincy briefly described the situation to him.

James turned to look at the representatives, who were all looking at him pleadingly.

James was lost in contemplation. Although Wurmstead had been hoarding food reserves over the past few years, they only had enough to last a few years.

"Your Majesty, please send us aid. My country, which has a population of 10 million, has been deprived of food for days. As we speak, bodies are piling up in the streets."

"This is a global crisis. As a superpower and a country established to deal with the apocalypse, we hope that Wurmstead will take the lead in leading us out of the current crisis."

The other representatives spoke.

Over the past few years, James had been ridiculed and admonished for establishing Wurmstead in the Southern Plains. However, as the apocalypse drew nearer and as he annihilated the Outsiders time and again, the world now knew of his righteous and awe-inspiring objective. That was why these small countries that had been backed to a corner came pleading for Wurmstead to send them aid.

Thea walked over to James and sat beside him, whispering, "Now that the soil is contaminated, we won't be able to replace what limited food reserves we have. What should the people of Wurmstead do if you donate the food reserves to them? As Wurmstead has been developing rapidly over the past few years, we now have a population of around 300 million."

"I know." James nodded slightly and said, "But I can't just sit idly by."

Then, he stood up and said, "Please rest at ease. As this is a global crisis, we humans should work together and overcome this ordeal. I will give the order to send our food reserves all around the world so that everyone can live."

"Thank you, Your Majesty."

"Long live Your Majesty!"

“You must be sent here by the heavens to rescue us!”

“Long live Your Majesty!”

The representatives all stood up, unable to control their emotions.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2125

Chapter 2125

News of James' decision to send food aid around the world spread like wildfire.

On the Martial Art Forum...

“James is planning to share the food reserves of Wurmstead to save some small impoverished nations.”

“What's the point? These paupers are going to die anyway. We should save the food for ourselves.”

“Yeah, what was the point? No one can last long in this apocalypse anyway.”

Many discussed.

Soon, news began to spread all over the world.

“Wurmstead is such a nice place to live in...”

“When Wurmstead was in the early stages of development a few years ago, they invited people from all over the world to migrate there. If I had known the apocalypse is going to happen, I'd have moved there long ago.”

“What a shame though... It's almost impossible to migrate there now.”

As Wurmstead was now the safest country on Earth, many people wished to migrate there.

At the same time, many of Wurmstead's senior authorities gathered at Wurmstead Palace.

Quincy said anxiously, “This can't go on. By sharing our food, we depleted one-third of our entire reserves when the Calamity has only just begun. What should we do now?”

She looked at James.

Wearing a grim expression, James said slowly, "This should be around harvesting time on Earth. Yet, as the soil is now contaminated, the crops have failed. We should set our sights on the Sealed Realms."

Hearing this, Thea looked at James and asked, "What do you mean by that, Darling? Could it be

"Mhm." James nodded and said, "Rightnow, we have two ways to resolve the problem. One, we accelerate our cultivation progress on Earth and make every earthling a cultivator. A cultivator uses Empyrean Spiritual Energy to replenish energy, and so they do not need large quantities of food.

"Two, we have to find a way to acquire more food and strive to make every earthling a cultivator within ten years.

"However, our food reserves won't be able to sustain us for that long a period. The only choice we have is to head to the Sealed Realms and search for food."

Wearing a solemn expression, Thea said, "But only cultivators from the Sealed Realms come to Earth, not the other way around."

"I know someone who can take me to the Sealed Realms," James said.

Marcello of the Demon Race came to mind. Although he did not know who Marcello was, James roughly guessed that he was an individual of high status. As such, he could certainly take him to the Sealed Realms.

"It's settled, then." James stood up and looked at Thea, saying, "Thea, you should remain in Wyrmsstead and guard this place. I'll head over to Mount Bane to look for Marcello and ask him to bring me to the Sealed Realms. I'll come up with a way to secure enough food for everyone on Earth and get through the current crisis."

As he had the Celestial Abode, he could transport as much food back as needed.

Concerned, Thea said, "Be careful, alright?"

"Don't worry, I will." He nodded.

After saying his goodbye, James turned to leave, heading to Mount Bane.

Soon, he arrived at his destination.

Before he approached Mount Bane, he encountered a familiar face. A young man was sitting in a lotus position on the rock.

He was Callan Maverick.

“Hey, Callan.”

James walked over to him and greeted him.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2126

Chapter 2126

Callan, who was sitting in a lotus position on the ground, opened his eyes. Upon seeing James, he smiled delightedly and said, “James, I thought you returned to Wurmstead. Why have you returned to Mount Bane?”

James looked at him and said, “You were being enveloped in Spiritual Energy when cultivating. I guess you must have found your cultivation method.”

“Yes.” Callan sighed and said, “It’s been so many years. At long last, I’ve finally found my own path. I remember back then that you were simply a brat in my eyes. However, in just a few years, you managed to become so powerful, while I remained stagnant. Finally, I was able to find my own path and cross into the ninth rank.”

James said smilingly, “It’s great that you were able to cross into the ninth rank. Remember, one step at a time. Although the environment has changed, this has many benefits for martial artists and cultivators as a whole. At least we have an abundance of Empyrean Spiritual Energy now.”

The natural catastrophe was accelerating the evolutionary process of humans. Since the weak were disposed of, only the strong remained. Though the environment was hostile to ordinary people, it was a blessing in disguise for martial artists and cultivators.

“By the way, why have you come to Mount Bane?” Callan looked at James and asked.

James sat on a rock and handed him a cigarette as he narrated the chain of events that unfolded.

Callan sighed, “You truly are a blessing to Earth.”

James smiled and said, “Alright, I won’t bother you any further. I’ll be heading to Bane City at once.”

“Get going, then.”

Callan waved his hand slightly. James then stood up and turned to leave.

Soon, he arrived at Bane City.

Immediately, his appearance attracted much—unwanted attention. Although he was far weaker than the top-notch Outsiders, he was nonetheless the most powerful cultivator of Earth. Besides, news of Sacrilegious Ascension had spread far and wide. As this was a terrifying cultivation method, he naturally garnered a lot of attention.

As he entered the city, many Outsiders by the gates unconsciously moved aside. Some, however, approached him. As the subordinates of the top-notch Outsiders, their masters were intrigued by James and wanted to meet him personally.

Under normal circumstances, James would have been willing to make acquaintances with the Outsiders. However, as he was a man on a mission, he turned down their offers.

“James,” came a voice.

James turned his head.

A gorgeous woman wearing a white dress walked over to him.

Upon seeing her, James was stunned.

“Marcello, you...?”

He looked at Marcello with his mouth agape.

The Marcello before him was wearing women’s wear, a pair of earrings, and ornaments embroidered with beads on her head. Her bright smile was captivating.

“What’s wrong?”

Marcello walked over to James and giggled.

“Y—You’re a woman?”

“Well, I never said I was a man.”

James scrutinized her from head to toe. Her figure was slender, and her appearance was glamorous and as delicate as a piece of art.

After some time, he collected himself, “I came here to request your help.”

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2127

Chapter 2127

James was indeed taken aback by the fact that Marcello was a woman. When he first saw her, he was already captivated by her gorgeous looks. Right then, he remembered asking himself how on earth could there be such a beautiful man.

However, he did not delve into the matter. At the moment, he was merely shocked knowing that she was a woman. Regardless, gender did not matter to him now. The only person who could help him out was Marcello.

Marcello asked smilingly, "Is something the matter?" Then, she made a beckoning gesture and said, "Let's move elsewhere, shall we?"

Then, she walked straight forward, while James followed close behind.

Under her guidance, they proceeded deeper into Bane City and arrived at a majestic-looking residence.

Bane City was currently a no man's land. Following the Outsiders's arrival, almost everyone gathered in Bane City. As such, it was difficult to obtain a private residence there. Owning a private residence was not only just a symbol of prestige but also of strength.

The guards of the residence knelt immediately upon seeing Marcello. As if she was used to this, Marcello paid no heed to them and simply walked in with James.

When they entered, a man walked over to them. Wearing a black robe, he had a somewhat handsome-looking face and exuded evil vibes.

He looked at Marcello who was grabbing James' arm.

Upon seeing the man, Marcello immediately released her grip and greeted him, "Jace..."

The man before them was Jace, one of the most talented cultivators of his generation in the Demonic Realm. Along with Myles Nemo, they were regarded as the two geniuses.

Jace nodded slightly and glanced at James as he walked over to him.

In the blink of an eye, Marcello stepped forward and looked at Jace, asking, "What are you trying to do?"

Jace smiled faintly and said, "Don't forget about your identity, Marcello. If word of fraternizing with an earthling spreads to the Demonic Realm, you should know the consequences."

"That's none of your concern." Marcello furrowed her eyebrows and said, "I've already notified Master in advance."

Hearing this, Jace fell silent. Then, he glanced at James before turning to leave.

Marcello breathed a sigh of relief and said, “Don’t take it to heart. Jace has always been arrogant and vain.”

James was unaffected. However, he was intrigued by Jace. After all, he was able to tell that he performed Sacrilegious Ascension.

He asked, “I heard he’s your senior.”

“Yes,” Marcello said.

James asked, “Is he strong?”

Marcello paused momentarily before saying, “How should I put this? He’s one of the weakest in the Demonic Realm. However, when compared with his peers, he definitely comes out on top. He’s only twenty years old, but he has already crossed into the Mage Rank and gained insight into the Yogacara. As for which stage he’s currently in, I have no idea.”

She looked at James and said, “Among the cultivators of the three thousand Sealed Realms, Jace is definitely in the top five.”

Although Marcello knew little about the other cultivators, she was confident in Jace’s strength.

Upon hearing this, James took a deep breath.

The Mage Rank?

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2127

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2127—James was indeed taken aback by the fact that Marcello was a woman. When he first saw her, he was already captivated by her gorgeous looks. Right then, he remembered asking himself how on earth could there be such a beautiful man.

However, he did not delve into the matter. At the moment, he was merely shocked knowing that she was a woman. Regardless, gender did not matter to him now. The only person who could help him out was Marcello.

Marcello asked smilingly, “Is something the matter?” Then, she made a beckoning gesture and said, “Let’s move elsewhere, shall we?”

Then, she walked straight forward, while James followed close behind.

Under her guidance, they proceeded deeper into Bane City and arrived at a majestic-looking residence.

Bane City was currently a no man's land. Following the Outsiders's arrival, almost everyone gathered in Bane City. As such, it was difficult to obtain a private residence there. Owning a private residence was not only just a symbol of prestige but also of strength.

The guards of the residence knelt immediately upon seeing Marcello. As if she was used to this, Marcello paid no heed to them and simply walked in with James.

When they entered, a man walked over to them. Wearing a black robe, he had a somewhat handsome-looking face and exuded evil vibes.

He looked at Marcello who was grabbing James' arm.

Upon seeing the man, Marcello immediately released her grip and greeted him, "Jace..."

The man before them was Jace, one of the most talented cultivators of his generation in the Demonic Realm. Along with Myles Nemo, they were regarded as the two geniuses.

Jace nodded slightly and glanced at James as he walked over to him.

In the blink of an eye, Marcello stepped forward and looked at Jace, asking, "What are you trying to do?"

Jace smiled faintly and said, "Don't forget about your identity, Marcello. If word of fraternizing with an earthling spreads to the Demonic Realm, you should know the consequences."

"That's none of your concern." Marcello furrowed her eyebrows and said, "I've already notified Master in advance."

Hearing this, Jace fell silent. Then, he glanced at James before turning to leave.

Marcello breathed a sigh of relief and said, "Don't take it to heart. Jace has always been arrogant and vain."

James was unaffected. However, he was intrigued by Jace. After all, he was able to tell that he performed Sacrilegious Ascension.

He asked, "I heard he's your senior."

"Yes," Marcello said.

James asked, "Is he strong?"

Marcello paused momentarily before saying, "How should I put this? He's one of the weakest in the Demonic Realm. However, when compared with his peers, he definitely comes out on top. He's only twenty years old, but he has already crossed into the Mage Rank and gained insight into the Yogacara. As for which stage he's currently in, I have no idea."

She looked at James and said, "Among the cultivators of the three thousand Sealed Realms, Jace is definitely in the top five."

Although Marcello knew little about the other cultivators, she was confident in Jace's strength.

Upon hearing this, James took a deep breath.

The Mage Rank?

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2128

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2128—The power disparity between him and Jace was simply too big.

At the moment, he was only at the Herculean rank. Above the Herculean rank was the Immortal Ascension rank, which had nine stairs to ascend. To reach the Mage Rank, one would have to ascend all nine stairs of the Immortal Ascension rank.

James' rank was simply far too weak.

Marcello smiled and said, "Actually, you're pretty strong too. You haven't really cultivated much, whereas Jace, on the other hand, has been cultivating since young. Besides, he has a top notch master offering him guidance.

James put his thoughts aside.

Marcello asked, "By the way, why have you come looking for me?"

James said, "Here's the case Earth is plunged into a crisis because of the natural catastrophe. brought about by the First Calamity, and we are currently running low on food reserves. Based on my calculations, Earth would require at least ten years before turning into a cultivation world.

Before that, we need to acquire sufficient food to weather the storm. However, we're running low on food supplies at the moment. I came here today to request your help with sending me to the Sealed Realms. I plan to head there and gather some food to help my people overcome the ordeal."

Marcello listened intently.

Upon hearing this, she frowned.

“The seal has yet to be released, so it might be a little difficult for you to head to the Sealed Realms.”

James looked at her pleadingly and asked, “Please tell me, is there a way to head there?”

“Well, there is a way.’

Marcello’s eyes were cloudy as she looked at James and said, “I have a treasure that allows you to traverse the seal as you please. However, this is a treasure of the Demon Race. I’d be in deep trouble if my family learns of this.”

Hearing this, James gave his assurances and said, “Don’t worry, I won’t tell a single soul. Once I get my hands on the food supplies, I’ll head back immediately and return the treasure to you.”

After some contemplation, Marcello took a white pearl out of her pocket.

The pearl was the size of a fist, and there was some mysterious inscription dancing about inside.

James asked, confused, “What is this?”

Marcello explained, “This is a Netherpearl, a priceless treasure of the Demon Race that contains terrifying power. The Netherpearl is capable of resisting the seal’s power, thereby allowing you to travel to the Sealed Realms safely.”

Then, she handed the Netherpearl to James.

“You can activate the pearl by summoning Demonic Energy, something you have an abundance of.”

“Thank you.”

James took the Netherpearl.

The moment he made contact with the pearl, it suddenly exuded a black aura. James, on the other hand, could feel a sense of familiarity.

Marcello remained silent upon seeing this. Instead, she asked, “When will you embark on your journey?”

James said, "Now."

She said, "Be on your guard at all times. The Sealed Realms are full of powerful cultivators the likes you have never seen before on Earth. Although the cultivators here on Earth are powerful, they are nothing more than insignificant beings in the Sealed Realms.

"By the way, as a priceless treasure, the Netherpearl is capable of bringing you to a Sealed Realm that is most suited for you.

"Return as soon as possible, since the providence is about to appear. You may be weak, but the providence chooses its owner. It's not based on strength but rather fate."

James said, "Thank you for everything, Marcello. I'll remember what you did for me. Farewell, we'll meet again."

"Get going already."

Marcello waved her hand.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2129

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2129—James knew that Marcello would certainly have a way around things, and he was right. After receiving the priceless Netherpearl of the Demonic Race, he left Bane City.

Now, he needed to head to the Sealed Realms immediately and secure sufficient food supplies so that the humans on Earth can survive.

He entered a pristine forest nearby Mount Bane and stood on a tree a hundred meters high, gazing at the sky.

The fissure in the sky was still there.

James knew that this was the passage to the Sealed Realms. Once he passed through the fissure, he would enter the Sealed Realms.

"I wonder what the Sealed Realms would look like."

He was intrigued.

Holding the Netherpearl in his hand, he summoned Demonic Energy and imbued them within the pearl. At that moment, the pearl turned black, and he could feel a sense of connection with

The Netherpearl was like a high-end mobile gadget, on which he could see many functions. There was also random information recorded inside the pearl. This was information regarding the Sealed Realms. After recording James' requirements, the pearl automatically selected a Sealed Realm that was most suitable for him.

"How magical..."

James could not believe his eyes.

However, since he had seen unbelievable things like the Celestial Abode, the Netherpearl's functions only surprised him.

After scrutinizing the information provided to him by the pearl, James chose a world called the Land of Tabal.

The Netherpearl briefly introduced the Land of Tabal, which was one of the three thousand Sealed Realms. The Land of Tabal was at the lower rungs of the hierarchy, meaning that the cultivators there were only modestly strong. Besides, the place only had one star on the danger index. This was the perfect place for James. As long as he did not go around making things difficult for himself, he knew he would certainly be safe.

"The Land of Tabal, then!"

James chose his location.

At that moment, the Netherpearl exuded a black aura that enveloped his body, propelling him into the air and entering the fissure in the sky.

The moment he entered the fissure, James could feel his head spinning. It lasted for approximately ten seconds.

Ten seconds later, everything returned to normal, and he found himself in an unfamiliar place.

Before him was a canyon with steep cliffs on both sides

James scanned his surroundings.

The sun was about to sink below the horizon.

"Looks like this place is no different from Earth. It even has a sun," James murmured.

Then, he took a few steps forward.

He planned to leave this place and find a place of habitation before looking for food.

There were two ways for him to secure the necessary food supplies. One, he would befriend powerful figures of the Land of Tabal and senior authorities of some countries here and ask them for food. Two, he would simply resort to violence.

Before arriving at this place, he had a rough understanding of this place. The Land of Tabal was not a dangerous place for him. He had enormous strength vis-à-vis the people living here, so he could get away easily by resorting to violence.

However, he did not wish to commit any wicked deeds. Thus, he decided on the first option. Now, he needed to befriend powerful figures in the Land of Tabal and the senior authorities of some countries here to ask them for food.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2130

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2130—The night descended upon the Land of Tabal as stars illuminated the pitch-black sky.

After James left the canyon, he entered a pristine forest. As he was not in a hurry at the moment, he stopped and made a bonfire before taking a rest.

As he knew little about this world, he decided against finding his way in the dark and planned to make his next course of action tomorrow morning.

In the forest, he hunted an animal and roasted the meat on the bonfire.

The smell of meat was mouth-watering. Looking at the meat before him, James licked his lips in delight. After taking a sniff, he took a bite of the roasted meat. Immediately, the captivating smell of meat filled the air.

Just as he was in the midst of having his meal...

Clank!

The sound of fighting could be heard in the distance.

Then, he heard the sound of hurried footsteps.

Immediately, furrowing his eyebrows, James appeared on a tree in the blink of an eye and scanned his surroundings. Then, he saw a fierce battle taking place in the distance.

A few men in black robes and wearing black masks were fighting against a group of armor-clad warriors.

The battle was fierce. The armor-clad warriors who were slowly losing ground were being killed.

There was also a woman wearing a white dress among the armor-clad warriors. Holding a sword and exuding Sword Energy, she kept slashing at the incoming opponents.

However, although she was strong, the opponents had far superior numbers. As such, she had suffered injuries, and her dress was blood-stained.

James witnessed the whole scene clearly.

The number of the armor-clad warriors slowly dwindled to about a dozen from the original hundred. Meanwhile, the woman in a white dress was shielded on all sides by the warriors.

There were about three hundred cultivators wearing black robes surrounding them.

A man wearing a red mask walked over to them and spoke in a hoarse voice, "Your Highness, hand over the thing and you might die with your body intact."

"I'll fight to the death!" a warrior roared and charged at the cultivator.

However, before he could even approach the man, a wave of Sword Energy shredded through the air and sliced him in half.

The woman was in a wretched state. Her hair was disheveled, and there were blood traces on her lips.

Her expression darkened as she said coldly, "Dream on! Save your breath and get on with it already!"

"Hahaha!" The man laughed coldly, "Think again, Your Highness. You are a princess and the most beautiful woman in all of the Empire of Tabal. You don't understand how many men lust for your body. How long do you think you can last against my three hundred men?"

"Y-You...!"

The woman's face contorted with rage.

Holding a sword in his hand, the man in a red mask walked over to the woman.

Meanwhile, the woman only had a dozen warriors by her side. Her face turned grim as she clenched her sword tightly.

James saw everything from the tree.

“Is she a princess?”

James came to the Land of Tabal in search of food so that the humans on Earth could last through the First Calamity.

In his opinion, he needed to befriend some powerful figures. However, he did not expect to come across a princess on his first day here.

“Maybe I’ll obtain some food after saving her,” he murmured.

With that thought in mind, he leaped from the tree and landed steadily on the ground before the princess.

Seeing this, the men in black robes unconsciously took a few steps back.

“Who are you?” Alarmed, the man in a red mask said, “This is the Dark Keep’s business. Stay out of this.”

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-