The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2157—Sophie explained that she could not directly help James kill his enemies. Since she held a significant rank, her every action would have great consequences.

Everything she did would result in a chain reaction. The Karma brought about by these consequences would be considerable, she would be able to bear the burden of some of it but not all.

James was very interested in the topic.

However, Sophie refused to explain further. She simply said he was still lacking in many aspects, and as such, he did not need to know about it yet.

James had no choice but to give up for the time being.

He looked at Sophie, dressed in white, and asked curiously, “Ms. Sophie, what is your current rank? How strong are you?”

Sophie responded with a smile but did not answer James’ question.

“What do you mean?” James frowned.

Sophie replied, “I’ve told you many times. There’s no need for you to understand these things. right now. When your strength improves, you’ll naturally understand everything.”

After speaking, she scanned and sensed her surroundings.

After a while, she frowned and said, “What an extraordinary formation. The person who arranged this formation has to be very powerful. Even if Emperor Jabari were here today in person, it would take a long time for him to break this formation, let alone me.”

James asked solemnly, “Then, what should we do?”

Sophie’s furrowed brows gradually relaxed. Then, she said with a smile, “Although you can’t get the core item inside the formation for now, the organism that Nova mentioned is in the outermost periphery of the formation. Although it’s still protected within the formation, dealing with it is a piece of cake.”

James could not help asking, “What is this organism?”

Sophie thought for a while and said, “I’m not sure. It might be the offspring of the previous powerhouse’s pets. Let’s go check it out.”

After speaking, Sophie walked off.

James followed behind her.

After walking for a while, Sophie took the initiative to hold James' hand.

"What're you doing, Ms. Sophie?" James was slightly nervous.

Sophie scolded him, "Don't get the wrong idea. This place is full of magic, and if I don't hold onto you, you won't get through the formation even if you spent your entire lifetime trying."

"Oh."

Only then did James heave a sigh in relief.

Sophie dragged him behind her and kept walking forward.

They continued deeper into the depths of the grotto.

During this period, Sophie performed a mysterious gesture and broke through a few of the simple formations.

Although the formations were simple to Sophie, they were extremely intricate and hard to decipher for James.

After half an hour in the grotto, the two arrived at a stone house.

Sophie stopped and looked at the stone house before, saying, "I can sense the powerful energy that Nova sensed coming from inside."

"Then what're you waiting for? Hurry up and break into it," James said impatiently.

Sophie looked around for a while, then slightly backed away. She leaped several meters into the air, and a mysterious symbol appeared in her hand. The bizarre symbols materialized one by one and disappeared into the surrounding area.

Invisible ripples appeared around them.

Ten seconds later, a stone door appeared.

Sophie descended to the ground, clapped her hands together, and said with a smile, "Okay, it's done. Let's go inside and have a look."

She took the lead and walked into the stone house.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2158—James followed behind her.

The stone house's interior was spacious and bright.

Inside the house, there was a very extraordinary formation. James could not understand it but saw countless mysterious symbols gathered together to form a strange pattern.

Within the center of the strange formation was an egg.

The egg was large, with a one-meter diameter. The eggshell was purple, and some mysterious purple characters slithered around the eggshell.

As soon as he got close to the stone house, James sensed a powerful force. When he saw the egg, he felt he had come across a huge monster. At that moment, he felt quite insignificant.

James asked curiously, "W-What's this?"

Sophie stared at it for a long time. Her expression gradually became solemn, and she took a deep breath. "Haah!"

"What's wrong?" asked James.

Sophie collected herself and said, "I really didn't expect to find such an ineffable within this grotto."

"Ineffable?"

After a brief shock, James asked, "Ms. Sophie, don't beat around the bush. What exactly is this. egg?"

With a complicated expression, Sophie told him, "It's a Gorger."

James was surprised. "A Gorger?"

He was puzzled. What was this creature and why does it solicit such a grave expression from Sophie?

Sophie nodded slowly and explained, "From my understanding, it's a despicable beast. It used very well-known in ancient times. It's capable of devouring anything."

"Back when I was very young, Emperor Jabari once told me that the Gorger's predecessors were capable of reaching the ultimate level of cultivation. They were able to come very close to the pinnacle of cultivation."

James was slightly confused.

'Capable of reaching the ultimate level of cultivation? They could near the pinnacle of cultivation? What was this realm Sophie is referring to?' thought James.

Although he was unsure of what it meant, he could tell that the Gorger was a potent existence from her words. The Gorger's predecessor must be a peerlessly powerful being beyond

Emperor Jabari, who was an Emperor Rank.

"You're incredibly lucky, James."

Sophie turned to James who was still struggling to process it all and said, "I can sense this Gorger is about to hatch. If I'm not mistaken, it has been sealed here, waiting for an opportunity to hatch."

"This era is the perfect timing for it to emerge into the world."

"We're currently in a brilliant age where countless powerful warriors will be born. In ancient times, savants that felt they were born in the wrong era would choose to seal themselves and wait for a time to return to the world.

"The person who sealed the Gorger here wanted it to be born in this era."

James touched his nose and said, "Then what does it have to do with me? Why did you say I'm lucky?"

Sophie rolled her eyes and said, "Are you stupid? The Gorger hasn't hatched yet and will need blood to hatch. You can use your blood to help it hatch. Then, it'll recognize you as its master after its born.

"In the future, no one in this world will dare to stand against you if you have the Gorger by your side."

Hearing this, James was fascinated. He could not help asking, "Do I use my blood to help hatch. it right now? How do I do it?"

"Wait for a while. Let me break the formation on the eggshell first."

After speaking, Sophie stretched out her slender fingers. Several mysterious symbols appeared out of her hand and melted into the eggshell. The formations around the eggshells gradually disappeared.

After finishing everything, Sophie said, "Alright. It's done."

James asked, "What should I do?"

Sophie said, "It's very simple. Just create a wound on your finger and put your blood on the eggshell."

"Alright."

James nodded, then walked toward the purple egg. Standing in front of it, he bit his finger, and his blood trickled on the purple egg.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2159—James' blood melted into the eggshell and was absorbed into it, disappearing without a trace.

At that moment, a powerful force came from inside the eggshell and rapidly absorbed James' blood. James had lost too much blood in such a short period, his face went pale.

He showed signs of passing out and wanted to withdraw his hand.

However, the force coming from the eggshell was powerful, and he could not retract his hand.

Gradually, he started to feel dizzy.

Just when James was about to pass out, the force disappeared, and he fell headfirst to the ground. He did not even have the strength to get back up.

He mobilized his True Energy.

His True Energy circulated in his body, and he activated the regeneration ability in his blood.

James struggled to get up, then sat in the lotus position on the ground as he stared at the eggshell.

Right in front of his eyes, the egg began to shine with a dazzling purple light.

Crack!

While in a daze, James heard the sound of the egg beginning to hatch.

Cracks appeared on the eggshell, and purple light shone from within.

Sophie also stared at the egg.

At that moment, she knew the Gorger, which had been sealed for a long time, was about to be born. This was the offspring of a mighty creature. Once it was born, it would command extraordinary strength.

As for how strong the Gorger would be, Sophie had no idea.

Under the two pairs of watchful eyes, cracks spread throughout the eggshell. It looked like shattered glass and its surface was completely covered in dense, web-like cracks.

Suddenly, strange sounds came from within the eggshell. It sounded as if a woodpecker was pecking at the shell.

Craaaw!

A clear cry rang through the stone house.

The eggshell was completely broken and was scattered across the ground like purple fragments. Then, a strange creature flew out.

James stared at the stunning creature.

It had the appearance of a bird creature and was covered with purple feathers all over its body. It also had a pair of wings full of luxurious amethyst feathers.

“Is this the Gorger?”

James’ eyes widened, and he was at a loss for words. He was surprised that the creature was incredibly beautiful.

The bird looked at James. It had bright and clear eyes, and a purple glow shone from its eyes. It sensed a familiar aura from James and could feel their connection through its blood.

Although the Gorger had just been born, it was already highly intelligent.

It flew toward James and circled around his head, chirping melodiously.

James also sensed the Gorger’s elation. He stood up and stretched out his hand to stroke its beautiful purple feather, saying with a smile, “I never thought it would be so beautiful.”

Sophie looked at the Gorger and said smilingly, "It's finally born. From onward, you must treat the Gorger well, James. It'll serve you well."

James nodded and said, "Indeed, I will. By the way, do you know how strong it is? I can sense that it's rather powerful."

Sophie smiled gently, changed the subject, and said, "If there's nothing else you require of me, I'll head back into the Celestial Abode. You can return along the same path. As for the other treasures within the formation, you're not worthy enough to acquire them now. When you're strong enough, you can try again in the future."

After speaking, she waved at the Gorger and said, "Little Gorger, you should come with me to the Celestial Abode."

"You're bringing it to the Celestial Abode?"

James was taken aback.

Sophie nodded and said, "It's in a weak state right now. It'll take some time for it to grow. I'll bring it to the Celestial Abode. After it grows and becomes stronger, I'll release it back to you. This is the best option for the both of us."

The Gorger understood Sophie and turned to look at James.

James stroked its feathers and said cheerily, "Go on."

Then, he unlocked the Celestial Abode, allowing Sophie and the Gorger to transport themselves into it.

He did not continue to linger and quickly returned along the same route.

Soon, he left the grotto.

When he walked out, Laelia was already waiting outside for him.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2160—Seeing James come out, she walked over and asked, "How did it go, James? Did you have any luck?"

James shook his head slightly and said, "Nope. I wandered around the grotto for a long time but felt like I was getting disorientated by the paths, so I didn't dare to venture any deeper. In the end, I turned back."

Laelia smiled and consoled him, “Since ancient times, many of my family members have come to the grotto, but none of them found their trip fruitful. Since we didn’t find anything, let’s head back.”

James nodded. “Alright.”

He did not say anything about the Gorger because he did not want to cause a fuss.

With Yuliana leading the way, James and Laelia left the grotto. Soon, they returned to the village.

Sylvester waited in the village this whole time.

Seeing them return, he walked over and asked with a gentle smile, “How did it go? Did you two find anything?”

Laelia gently shook her head and sighed, saying, “We were unsuccessful.”

Sylvester said with a smile, “Although it’s said there are great boons in the grotto, it can’t be helped if you’re unable to find them. Perhaps this isn’t the right time for it. When the moment is right, these boons will naturally reveal themselves.”

As a Targwyn, he was sure there were many fortunes within the grotto.

However, there was not much they could do if they could not find it.

He turned to James and asked cheerfully, “What about you, Mr. Caden?”

James shrugged and said, “I had no luck either.”

Sylvester continued looking at James with a smile.

His smile made James feel guilty.

‘Does he possibly know something?’ James thought to himself.

However, he kept his mouth shut.

Sylvester held his cane and stroked his beard. Then, he said nonchalantly, “This place is our family’s ancestral land. There’s a myth in our family that an unrivaled powerhouse existed at a certain point in history. His strength was said to be the greatest in the world at that time.”

Sylvester’s lips held a smile the whole time.

James could not understand what his words meant.

“We’ll take our leave first, Sir Sylvester.”

Laelia bid farewell with a smile.

Sylvester nodded. “Alright.”

Laelia did not stay longer and led James away.

Sylvester and Yuliana sent them off to the village entrance and watched them leave.

Shortly after, the smile on Sylvester’s face gradually disappeared and was replaced with a bitter expression.

“Grandpa.”

Yuliana parted her lips and said softly, “There are some abnormal fluctuations with the formation.”

Sylvester nodded slightly and said, “Since something has changed, it must have been brought forth by a corresponding action. The Karma of getting involved in our family matters may come back to bite him someday.”

He uttered some very profound words.

Yuliana questioned, “What exactly did he get from the grotto, Grandpa?”

Sylvester uttered quietly, “Everything in this universe is fated. All of this was destined to happen since time immemorial. Yuliana, the village no longer needs to be protected anymore. I’ll take you away from this miserable place.”

“Alright, Grandpa.”

Although Yuliana did not quite follow, she chose to not ask any questions.

At that moment, James and Laelia had already left the island in the beast carriage. After passing through several formations, they appeared above the ocean again.

Sitting in the beast carriage, Laelia asked, “Will you be leaving after you obtain the food, James?”

James nodded and said, “Yes. I’ve been away from Earth for a while and I have no idea what’s going on there. I’ll have to go back as soon as possible.”

With a bright smile, Laelia said, "You should head back first, James. When the seal is completely open, the Land of Tabal will merge with Earth. When that happens, our worlds will be one and the same. I can actually pass through the seal now, but the ones on Earth right now are arrogant powerhouses. I will only die in vain if I go now. It's best for me to stay safe in the Land of Tabal."
