

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2166

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2166—"Hold on."

Marcello opened her mouth and shouted, "Stop!"

The subordinate's sword was only one meter away from James. Upon hearing Marcello's voice, he quickly retracted his sword.

James broke out in a cold sweat from the fear.

The subordinate was powerful.

If even one of Jace's subordinates could unleash such terrifying strength and speed that he could barely counter, then how strong was Jace himself?

At that moment, Marcello approached James.

"James? You're back?"

Her pretty face bore a surprised expression.

James nodded and took out the Netherpearl from the Celestial Abode. He handed it back to Marcello and grinned. "Thank you for borrowing me your treasure. I was able to traverse the Sealed Realm safely because of it."

Marcello put it away and returned his smile. "You're welcome."

Jace watched their interaction. He walked over, glanced at Marcello with a frown, and said, "What're you doing, Marcello? Why did you give such a precious thing to him? What if he lost it?"

Marcello smiled faintly and said, "How could he lose it? Who in this world would dare to snatch the Netherpearl? Anyway, the fact is, I already lent it to him."

"You?"

Jace was shocked.

Marcello replied with a smile, "Father gave me his permission."

When he heard this, Jace decided to drop the issue. He glanced at James intently.

The glance alone made James feel as if an invisible force was crushing him, making it hard for him to breathe. It only lasted for a few seconds before Jace dispelled it. He stepped forward and glided through the air.

“Let’s go,” Marcello called out to the absent-minded James.

James finally came to his senses and followed behind Marcello.

Soon, they arrived near the island.

There were two groups of people above the island.

One group was led by the woman with True Energy wings.

The other group was led by the man that rode atop the blue cloud.

Everyone’s eyes were on Jace’s party as they approached the island.

The man with clouds under his feet looked at Jace’s party calmly. He said nonchalantly, “It seems all kinds of people have come to join the fun.

Although he was being mocked and humiliated, Jace kept his cool. He knew the person before him had an unusual background.

“If I’m not mistaken, Your Excellency must be the Grand Supernatural that was born in the Cloud Realm eighty thousand years ago, correct? You were sealed by your sect when you were younger, and they selected this era for your birth.”

Jace’s clear voice rang out.

Hearing this, the man standing on clouds was slightly taken aback.

He looked at Jace warily.

Who was this person, and how did he know his origin?

Jace continued to speak, “Your Excellency’s name pays homage to the blue clouds under feet. You’re Yerick Cloud. I also know this blue cloud was born with you.”

“Ha!”

Yerick chuckled lightly and said, “I wasn’t expecting you to know so much about me.”

Jace smiled faintly. His eyes turned to the woman with wings and said, “Tsk, tsk and there’s more to this woman here than just her beauty. You’re Xavia Bell, born in the Sky Realm one hundred and thirty thousand years ago, right?”

Xavia’s body was shrouded in white light, and her appearance was indiscernible

“Who are you? Why do you know about me?”

When she opened her mouth, her pleasant voice resounded. Despite her airy voice, her tone was incredibly condescending and standoffish.

Jace did not answer her question but said, “Xavia Bell, born one hundred thirty thousand years ago in the Sky Realm. You were born with a Supernatural Power and chose to seal yourself at the age of twenty to awaken in a better era.”

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2167

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2167—Jace immediately revealed the origins of the two powerhouses.

Both Xavia and Yerick were blindsided by this move.

Their identities were supposed to be secret, and no one of this era should have known about them.

How did Jace find out? Who exactly was this person?

James was also shocked by the revelation.

He was stunned to discover the identities of Yerick and Xavia. He did not expect that one of them to come from 80,000 years ago and the other from 130,000 years ago.

Moreover, he was taken aback by Jace’s knowledge.

He did not expect Jace to have knowledge of the origins of these two people.

Marcello smiled faintly and said, “You shouldn’t be so shocked by Jace’s knowledge, James. He knows so much because our family has information from all walks of life. We know about every powerhouse that’s ever been born and about the prodigies from past generations that chose to seal themselves. We even know when and where these people will awaken.”

James rubbed his nose in embarrassment and asked, “Is that so? Then what treasure is on this island?”

Marcello explained, “This island appeared out of nowhere and is probably an unknown Sealed Realm. The loosening of the seal caused it to appear on Earth. An ancient powerhouse left behind Blood Essences on this island. Blood Essence can improve one’s physique and is a transcendental treasure for cultivators.”

Hearing this, James came to a sudden realization.

So an ancient powerhouse left behind Blood Essences.

Jace ignored Marcello and looked at the two people before him. He said with a faint smile, "There's no need for you two to go on a killing spree, don't you agree? There are plenty of Energy Pools on this island which should be enough to improve your body. Moreover, they might not even be particularly beneficial to both of you. At most, it may slightly improve your physical strength."

Jace's voice resounded.

He had also come to claim the Blood Essences.

If he could soak in the Blood Essence Energy Pools for a few days, his physical strength would multiply. It would aid him in claiming the boons that would eventually appear when the earth goes through various disasters.

"Who are you to interfere in my business?"

Yerick sported an angry scowl.

He was upset that his identity was exposed, yet he had no knowledge about his opponent.

At that moment, his aura increased significantly.

James felt a horrifying pressure crushing against him and found it hard to breathe.

Marcello reacted quickly and took out the Netherpearl.

Mysterious power emanated from the Netherpearl and pushed back the pressure.

Jace said, "Stand back."

He knew a fight was inevitable.

Hearing this, Marcello quickly pulled James away. Jace's subordinates also retreated to a safe distance.

Yerick's aura grew stronger. Behind him, the hazy image of a world appeared, showing mountains, rivers, and lands.

With the appearance of the vision, James felt a crushing pressure again. Although the Netherpearl resisted the force, he still felt the oppressive force.

Marcello inadvertently remarked, "What terrifying Yogacara."

James looked at the world that appeared behind Yerick and asked, "Is this Yerick's Yogacara?" Marcello nodded, "Yeah. He's at the Mage Rank and has cultivated his own Yogacara, which is the vision of the world behind him. However, I don't know what the stage of his Yogacara is. Jace floated in the air and looked at remained calm in the face of the Yerick's Yogacara.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2168

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2168—Suddenly, the illusory world ruthlessly smashed toward Jace with devastating force.

At that moment, Jace made his move.

Black energy wrapped around his arm. He clenched his fist and punched forward.

The strands of black energy quickly gathered together and formed a phantom fist.

Bam!

As Jace's fist crashed into the illusory world, an explosion happened on the spot. The resultant impact shook their surroundings violently.

The illusory world was pushed away, and Yerick took a few steps backward.

Meanwhile, Jace also had a solemn expression.

"Tch. He's really strong."

Marcello exclaimed happily, "I didn't expect Yerick to be so strong. Jace used his Demonic Fist but only pushed him back by a bit."

James glanced at Marcello puzzledly, not understanding what kind of technique the Demonic Fist was.

Marcello explained with a smile, "Don't underestimate Jace. He's also a Grand Supernatural and was born with a strong Supernatural Power. The Demonic First was one of the signature martial art skill he learned. It's a very remarkable skill even in the Demon Realm."

"Y-You...?"

In the distance, Yerick was surprised after sensing Jace's energy. He stammered, "Y-You're a demon?"

Jace smiled faintly and did not reply. Instead, he changed the topic and said, "It's just a couple of Blood Essence Energy Pools. It's not worth dying over. If you want to fight, let's wait until the seal opens and more great fortunes appear."

Yerick chose to concede to Jace's argument.

After testing Jace's strength, he gave up on the idea of killing his opponent.

Although he was confident in his strength, the treasure on the island was not worth using his signature martial art skill for.

Xavia stepped forward and interjected, "If that's the case, let's stop this unnecessary fight. There are three main Blood Essence Energy Pools on the island, so we can all have one each. Additionally, there are also seven to eight more small Blood Essence Energy Pools. Our subordinate's strength will determine who gets it."

Yerick nodded and said, "I agree. They can fight, and the winner can enter the Energy Pool."

James was overjoyed as he overheard the conversation between the three seasoned fighters. He finally felt like he had a chance, but he then was crestfallen after remembering the strength of said subordinates.

Some of their subordinates should be at the Seventh or Eighth Stage of the Immortal Ascension.

James was not confident in winning even if he utilized Sacrilegious Ascension.

Standing aside, Marcello seemed to have seen through James' worries. She smiled and said, "You don't have to worry. I'll help you."

James looked at Marcello and asked, "Are you sure?"

"Of course."

She turned to Jace and blinked her bright eyes at him, asking, "Right, Jace?"

Jace frowned and replied, "It's a waste to snatch an Energy Pool for him."

Marcello persuaded him, "You shouldn't say that. After all, he's the strongest man on Earth and has an extraordinary Supernatural Power. Do you think you could master Sacrilegious Ascension?"

Jace looked at James. After thinking it over for a few seconds, he replied, "Fine, I'll go with it."

Marcello chuckled.

Afterward, the three powerhouses dispatched their men to fight one by one.

They simply exchanged some moves and did not deal lethal blows.

Jace's subordinates were geniuses from the Demon Realm. They were powerful and overwhelmed Yerick and Xavia's subordinates.

On the island, besides the three main Energy Pools, there were eight regular Energy Pools.

Jace's subordinates won seven of them.

Xavia's subordinate won the last one.

The Energy Pools were distributed to the winners respectively.

With Marcello's help, James also obtained a spot to enter the Energy Pool to improve his physique.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2169

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2169—Just like that, James obtained a spot to enter one of the island's Energy Pools to improve his physique without lifting a finger.

James followed them onto the island, which was an unknown Sealed Realm that had surfaced on Earth.

It was not originally part of the earth and only appeared because of the loosening of the seal.

A primordial environment on the island greeted James.

They were surrounded by mountains towering into the sky. Several trees stood 100 meters from the ground and blotted out the sun.

Jace, Yerick, and Xavia each occupied one of the three main Energy Pools in the island's central region.

James went to the the island's outskirts.

His Energy Pool was located in a canyon.

Inside the canyon, he found the Energy Pool and it had a width of 100 meters. The liquid inside the pool had a milky color with streaks of red. It was a remarkable sight. Upon getting closer, James could sense powerful energy thrumming from the pool.

James stood by the pool, looked at the white and red liquid in it, and murmured, "Is this the Energy Pool?"

Just as he voiced his doubts, a dazzling white light shone from the Energy Pool and shot up into the sky.

James was unsure of what was inside the Energy Pool and who left behind the Blood Essence. Moreover, he did not know what perks he would gain after taking a dip in the pool.

Without much hesitation, he jumped into the pool.

When he entered the pool, he immediately sensed a magical power from the water, which helped open the pores throughout his body.

The mysterious energy entered his body, and he felt warm and indescribably comfortable.

James could not help but exclaim, "It feels so good."

His body absorbed the mysterious energy, nourishing his muscles and bones. Without him noticing, his physical strength gradually grew.

James' physical strength had already reached the Herculean's Sixth Layer and was close to the Immortal Ascension. Despite that, his cultivation rank was relatively low.

At that moment, Sophie's voice chimed in from the Celestial Abode and rang in James' ears.

"James, your physical strength is much higher than your cultivation rank. Your priority shouldn't be to improve your physical strength but to improve your rank. You need to balance out your physical strength and cultivation rank. Otherwise, your body will be too strong, and your True Energy won't be able to keep up which will inhibit you from exerting your physical body's true strength."

Sophie began to lecture James about some basic theory.

Under normal circumstances, cultivators would only work to improve their rank and True Energy.

Very few people would cultivate True Energy and improve their physical strength simultaneously.

This was because physical strength improved at a much slower rate and needs to be diligently trained. This requires one to go through countless trials and tribulations.

Many cultivators are unable to endure the pain to improve their physical strength.

Additionally, cultivation methods to improve physical strength were very rare. Only a few major sects have such cultivation methods and said methods were only passed down to direct disciples. Thus, many people do not even have the chance to come into contact with such cultivation methods.

However, only true genius cultivators simultaneously would improve their physical strength and True Energy.

One would need complementary True Energy to display one's real physical strength. Having weak True Energy and strong physical strength was inefficient and would only provide one with a strong defense.

It could be said the physical body's main function was defensive, while True Energy was the actual offensive power.

After hearing Sophie's explanation, James finally understood what he had to do.

However, Sophie was not entirely correct either.

When the physical body reaches its pinnacle, one punch alone could split mountains and the ground.

However, James would still need to raise his True Energy and cultivation rank to continue improving in the future.

Sophie's voice resounded again. "Your body is extraordinary, James. It can grow infinitely and absorb any energy and convert into your own True Energy. It's very beneficial to improving your rank."

"The energy here is potent. Since your current rank is still relatively low, it'll probably help you improve by multiple fold. However, you shouldn't keep thinking about raising your physical strength for now. Instead, raise your cultivation rank."

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2170

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2170—"Mhm. Alright."

James no longer thought about improving his physical strength after Sophie's lecture.

When the mysterious energy entered his body, James activated his cultivation method. The energy entered his body and diffused into his flesh and blood. He refined the energy and converted it into pure True Energy. From there, James' True Energy grew rapidly.

His True Energy began to climb higher and higher.

Consequently, James' cultivation rank also advanced at an astonishing pace.

After soaking in the Energy Pool for a month, James' cultivation rank had grown considerably.

Currently, he was a Fifth Layer Herculean.

He was very close to reaching the sixth layer.

Once he entered the Sixth Layer, he could break into the Immortal Ascension.

He believed he could easily achieve the Immortal Ascension rank with his body and resources in the Celestial Abode.

After reaching the Fifth Layer, James had almost absorbed all of the energy from the Energy Pool. With a leap, he flew out of the Energy Pool and landed nimbly on the pool's edge.

He stimulated his True Energy and felt it surge through him instantly.

Sensing the powerful True Energy in his body, James' face lit up with delight.

He could have easily stepped into the Immortal Ascension rank by now if he had not constantly condensed his True Energy and rank in the past.

Afterward, he dissipated his True Energy and tried to sense the island's surroundings.

He could sense people in the other Energy Pools focused on absorbing the energies from their respective pools.

His exceptional physique allowed him to absorb the energy remarkably quickly. He had already finished absorbing the energy, but others were still in the midst of doing so.

Initially, he wanted to leave earlier and leave for Wrymstead.

However, Marcello was still in the process of absorbing the energy from her Energy Pool.

Marcello acquired the opportunity for him, so it would be inappropriate for him just to leave without telling her.

After giving it some thought; James decided to wait for a few more days until Marcello was done. Then, they could depart from the island together.

Since he had nothing to do, he walked through the mountain range, trying his luck in finding high-quality divine herbs.

Although the Celestial Abode contained countless divine objects, he wanted to give them to the 400,000 soldiers there. Thus, the more divine objects he could obtain, the better.

James walked through the primordial forest. As he stepped through the thick piles of fallen leaves on the ground, the rustling of the leaves beneath his feet echoed through the forest.

He strolled through the forest and whenever he encountered an obstructed path, he would fly over it.

Before he knew it, he had arrived at the island's central region.

The three main Energy Pools were located here, and the three powerhouses were focused on absorbing the energy. Even after a month, the energy within their pools was still very concentrated. James could not help but feel envious when he saw how much better their pools were.

If he entered the Energy Pools in the central region, his strength would definitely increase tremendously.

While James observed the Energy Pool from nearby, the person within it sensed his presence.

The person inside the Energy Pool was Xavia.

The white light around her body had dissipated and James could clearly see her face. She was attractive but had an ice-cold expression.

She glanced in James' direction.

James felt a powerful force overwhelm him and was knocked back. He vomited a mouthful of blood.

"Such strength...!"

He was shocked.

'What kind of monstrous strength is this?'

She made him vomit blood with just a glance.

James did not dare to linger any longer and quickly left the area. As he departed, he secretly made a vow in his heart, 'Sooner or later, I'll become as strong as her.'

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-