The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2171—Over the years, James had come to understand the truth.

He would have to get stronger if he did not want to get beaten.

It was the eternal truth.

He left the Energy Pool where Xavia was cultivating and headed to a mountain in the island's most central region.

It was the highest point and gave him a view of the entire island.

“James...”

A voice suddenly came from the Celestial Abode. Only James could hear it as it came telepathically.

James asked, “What’s wrong?”

“This place seems off.”

Sophie’s voice sounded in his mind.

Confused, James asked, “Hmm? Is there something strange about it?”

At that moment, Sophie stood at the City Lord’s Mansion in the Celestial Abode.

Since the Celestial Abode was on James, she could sense and see the surroundings from inside the mansion.

After scanning the surroundings for a while, she said, “Have you not noticed? There are thirty three mountains on this island. The layout of these mountains is in a very profound formation. The Energy Pool is only the treasure on the surface. I suspect there’s a greater treasure hidden on this island.”

James was overjoyed. He asked, “What kind of treasure is it?”

Sophie said, “I’m not certain yet.”

Swoosh!

A white light emerged, and Sophie appeared in her white dress in front of James. She stood in the center of the island and scanned the surroundings. Then, she said. “I was right. There's a formation here. I'm curious what we'll discover on this island after I trigger the formation."

After speaking, Sophie's body flickered, and she leaped several hundred meters into the air.

Mysterious symbols appeared in her hand and descended from the sky, spreading over the island.

At that moment, the mountains on the island began to move.

The mountains constantly shifted.

"What's happening? Why are the mountains moving?"

"This place is a formation, and I've activated it."

The people on the island were shocked to see the mountains moving.

All the peaks revolved around the central mountain where James was located.

At that moment, many people appeared in front of James.

Jace, Yerick, Xavia, Marcello, and the others showed up on the mountain.

As soon as Marcello appeared, she looked at James and asked, "What did you do, James?"

The others also had their eyes on James.

James looked into the sky and found that Sophie had disappeared. Suddenly, her voice sounded in his mind again.

"I've already activated the formation and returned to the Celestial Abode. I don't want others to know of my existence. As for whether you can obtain the treasure hidden by the formation, that's up to you."

Hearing this, James was slightly taken aback.

Immediately, he regretted it.

"Why would you activate it now if you knew some kind of treasure would appear right after? You should've waited until everyone was gone so I wouldn't have to fight these people over it. How will I defeat them and obtain the treasure with my current strength?"

"I-I didn't think that through. Well, you'll have to figure it out yourself."

After replying to him, Sophie did not say anything more.

James looked at Marcello, who was staring at him. He put on a puzzled expression and said, "What did I do? I don't know what happened."

"Oh, is that so?"

Marcello did not ask any more questions. Initially, she thought that James had activated the formation. However, it seemed that the formation had activated by itself.

Rumble!

Under everyone's watchful eyes, the surrounding mountains shifted in a rapid, continuous motion. The thirty-three mountains rotated around the central region. In just a short moment, the island's topography had undergone drastic changes.

The island's mountains, landforms, and environment had completely changed.

Boom!

Suddenly, the mountain James and the others were standing on cracked, and there was a loud burst of sound.

Everyone leaped into the air.

As soon as everyone was in the air, the mountain below them immediately split open, and an ancient city gradually came into view.

After the mountain in the center disintegrated, the surrounding mountains split open.

A huge city was hidden beneath the mountain range.

The city was well preserved. The city walls were made of black rocks and were very high. The buildings within the city were also all black and had traces of Demonic Energy.

Everyone stared at the city in astonishment.

The city suddenly began to move as if it was being lifted by something. After that, the island started moving as well.

“Huh?” James was shocked.

Everyone was dumbfounded.

A moving city?

Someone shouted, “Chase after it!”

Everyone floating in the air immediately began chasing after the moving city, wanting to get close to it and see what was within it.

“James, don’t chase after it.”

Sophie’s voice sounded in his mind.

James questioned, “Why not? There must be a great treasure hidden within the city.”

“You won’t be able to catch up.”

Right after Sophie replied to James, the moving city and island suddenly floated into the sky. Everyone spotted a massive turtle under the island.

The turtle flew up into the sky with the city on its back.

The seal in the sky cracked wider in an instant, and a huge hole appeared.

With the city on its back, the turtle disappeared into the huge hole and vanished from everyone’s sight.

After the turtle and city disappeared, the crack in the sky shrank.

Jace, Yerick, Xavia, and the others did not chase after it.

The turtle carried the city into the Sealed Realm.

Although it was called Three Thousand Worlds, many unknown Sealed Realms were full of danger. If they chased the turtle into a dangerous place, they might never find their way back. “W-What the hell was that?”

Yerick stared at the seal. Even though he was born tens of thousands of years ago and had lived through many experiences, he had no idea what kind of city the turtle was carrying.

Even Jace from the Demon Realm had no idea what it was.

He turned to Marcello, who was standing beside him, and said, "This isn't a simple matter. Report it back to the sect immediately."

At that moment, James chatted with Sophie.

He asked, "How did you know I wouldn't catch up, Ms. Sophie? Do you know that city's origin?"

Sophie replied, "I wasn't sure either. But, I've heard Emperor Jabari mention a Silent City of Death before. It's also called Dead City. The city has existed since ancient times. He told me that a large turtle wandered around with a city on its back and had appeared a few times in the past. Every time it appeared, a great catastrophe would befall the world.

"Huff!"

Sophie took a deep breath and said, "There are many secrets in this world. Dead City was something that even Emperor Jabari could not explain. I never expected to witness it in my life."

James was curious about Dead City, but even Sophie did not know much about it.

He smiled and said, "You're quite powerful. You casually activated the formation, and a mysterious creature appeared."

"Still, you're very impressive!"

James had a lot of admiration for Sophie.

Until now, he still had no idea what Sophie's cultivation rank was. The only thing he was sure about her was that she was very powerful.

"Huff."

Sophie heaved a sigh.

"We're in the greatest era of history, but it's also one of the darkest ages. Whatever will happen in the future is unpredictable."

Sophie went silent after saying that.

At that moment, those who chased after Dead City returned.

Not only did they not catch up with Dead City, but they also missed their opportunity to cultivate in the Energy Pool.

Meanwhile, James followed Marcello and Jace away from the glowing Pacific Ocean.

As soon as they returned to Sol, Marcello returned to Bane City on Mount Bane.

Meanwhile, James returned to Wrymstead without stopping. His True Energy had improved significantly, and it was sufficient for him to fly back to Wrymstead. His travel speed was much faster than a plane's.

It did not take long for him to reach Wrymstead.

While he was gone, the Earth was relatively peaceful.

Many mighty powerhouses had come to Earth, but none of them had shown themselves. Instead, they silently stayed within Bane City, waiting for the tribulations to befall the world. and great boons to appear.

The cultivators did not dare to cause trouble on Earth either.

As soon as James returned to Wrymstead, he summoned the country's senior authorities to the palace's main hall.

"Honey."

Thea took James' hand and asked worriedly, "Did anything happen to you this time?"

James smiled faintly and said, "What could've happened? Among the Three Thousand Worlds, I arrived in a relatively underdeveloped realm. I managed to bring back enough grains and some special seeds too."

What James brought back were seeds of spiritual grain.

The Earth's current soil condition was perfect for growing these spiritual grain seeds.

"Thank god." Thea heaved a sigh of relief.

Recently, she had been worried that something would happen to James. Now that he had returned safely with seeds, she was finally at ease. James looked at the people in the hall and ordered, "Contact Sol, Lothian, Taciryus, and the other nations immediately. Then, split the grain and food with them. As long as we can grow our own food, we humans on Earth will become self-sufficient."

Quincy stood up and said, "Leave this matter to me."

James looked at Henry, the Blithe King, and Delainey and said, "Thank you for your hard work. From now onward, you three will have to enter the Celestial Abode and practice with the four hundred thousand soldiers."

The 400,000 Black Dragon Army soldiers were still in the Celestial Abode.

The 400,000 soldiers needed four leaders.

The four chosen leaders were Henry, the Blithe King, Delainey, and Thea.

Thea was powerful, so it was not necessary for her to train with them for the time being.

"Alright." The three nodded.

Afterward, James opened the Celestial Abode and let the three enter

James also instructed people to move the grain out from the Celestial Abode. Soon, the grain he brought back from the Land of Tabal was transported to Wurmstead's food storehouse.

James and Thea walked side by side in the Imperial Palace's backyard.

Thea asked softly, "James, what're you planning to do next?"

James was relatively weak compared to other top powerhouses such as Jace, Yerick, and the rest.

With his current strength, competing with them for the providence would be impossible.

However, the providence could not be obtained through the use of strength alone. It also required a little bit of luck.

James knew he was weaker than them and wanted to train harder.

“I’ll come with you,” said Thea.

Although she was strong amongst Earth’s martial artists, she could not measure up to the cultivators from the other realms.

Thea was already a Herculean, and with the Four-Quadrant Art, she could kill powerhouses at the Immortal Ascension. However, her strength was far from enough.

She could no longer keep up with the Outsiders. Hence, she wanted to continue training for a while.

“Alright.”

James held Thea’s hand and said, “Let’s train and increase our strength together. Then, we’ll protect the world and lead the humans of the Earth to rise in the apocalypse. We’ll become a force that the Three Thousand Worlds fear.”

James had great ambitions.

He not only wanted to protect the Earth’s humans but also to lead a revolution so they could become a strong existence that even the Orthodox factions of the Three Thousand Worlds would dread.

Even though he knew it would take a long time to achieve such a feat, he did not want to give

After a brief chat, Thea headed into the Celestial Abode to train.

Meanwhile, James headed to Bane City.

He was unsure of the catastrophe’s nature, so he wanted to find that out in Bane City. A long time had passed, so some of the cultivators from the Three Thousand Worlds should already know something about it.

Soon, he arrived on Mount Bane, where Bane City was located.

Boom!

Before he entered the city, a dazzling light ray burst out on Mount Bane. The light ray soared into the sky. Shortly afterward, magical light rays shot up from different regions across the Earth.

With the appearance of the light rays, some unknown mountains appeared across the Earth. They contained concentrated amounts of Empyrean Spiritual Energy.

The Empyrean Spiritual Energy quickly fused with the Earth's atmosphere.

The Earth's Empyrean Spiritual Energy gradually became stronger.

"What happened?"

"What are these lights?"

"Latest news from our station! According to the satellite images we've obtained, many islands, mountains, and even potholes have appeared in different regions of the Earth." News concerning the phenomenon was broadcasted internationally.

With the emergence of natural disasters, countries worldwide announced the arrival of the doomsday apocalypse.

The surviving humans throughout the world had already adapted to the changing circumstances. The new emergence of unknown areas only caused some surprises. The public did not show restlessness or panic.

At that moment, James was also puzzled.

"The seal hasn't opened yet. Why are so many unknown regions already showing up?"

Meanwhile, the Outsiders in City Bane became incredibly excited.

"The providence is finally here!"

"Before the seal opens, Four Calamities and Four Providences will befall the Earth. The first providence will be mine!"

"Haha! After so long, it's finally here!"

Some Outsiders, who were confident in their strength, were excited as if they were bound to obtain the boon that was about to appear.

"James, the providence has appeared."

Sophie's voice sounded in James' mind.

Hearing this, James' heart skipped a beat. He asked, "It's here? So soon?"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2175—James did not expect the providence to appear so soon.

He had traveled to Bane City to inquire about the providence that would appear after the First Calamity. Afterward, he planned to train in seclusion within the Time Chamber for some time to improve his strength to compete for the providence.

Unexpectedly, the providence appeared just as he arrived on Mount Bane.

At that moment, light rays were bursting out from Mount Bane. Not only that, but numerous light rays were bursting out from all over the earth, and many unknown regions concentrated with Empyrean Spiritual Energy appeared.

James asked, “Ms. Sophie, is the providence here? What’s the providence that appears after the calamity? Why are so many Outsiders so eager to obtain it?”

In his mind, Sophie’s voice sounded. “I don’t know what the providence is. However, it’s definitely very extraordinary. It should appear in a few more days because the Empyrean Spiritual Energy on Earth is just beginning to rise. It will emerge when the Earth’s Empyrean Spiritual Energy is strong enough.”

Sophie was unsure what it was, but she had a rough idea since she was a powerful subordinate who used to serve Emperor Jabari.

“Alright.”

James did not ask any more questions.

He entered Bane City and went to Marcello’s mansion.

Marcello was the only person he knew in Bane City. Thus, she was the only person he could see.

Many guards surrounded Marcello’s mansion. They were all cultivators from the Demon Realm. Although their strength was relatively weak amongst those in the Demon Realm, they were powerhouses on Earth.

They were only slightly weaker than the geniuses from the Three Thousand Worlds.

“Mr. Caden.”

Seeing James, the guards greeted him respectfully.

James had visited before, and Marcello was very friendly to him. Thus, the guards did not dare to neglect him.

"I'm here to see Marcello."

"Go ahead."

The guards made a welcoming gesture.

James entered the mansion.

Another guard walked over to him and offered a slight bow.

James asked, "Is Marcello here?"

The guard replied, "Ms. Marcello is in the backyard."

"Alright."

James nodded gently and walked toward the backyard.

Marcello was sitting with Jace in a gazebo in the backyard. When she sensed James approaching, she immediately stood up and greeted him from far away. "James, I'm over here!"

James strode over and looked at Marcello and Jace. He asked with a smile, "What're you two talking about?"

Marcello looked at James and said, "We're talking about the providence after the calamities. We also talked about you."

Shocked, James asked, "What did you two say about me?"

Marcello replied with a smile, "We talked about your physical body and the Demonic Lotus."

James sat down.

He did not know whether Marcello already knew that his body was made by the Demonic Lotus left behind by a powerhouse of the Demon Race.

He could not help asking, "What's wrong with my Demonic Lotus?"

Marcello said smilingly, "James, we're from the Demon Realm. You don't have to hide it from us. I know your body was reformed with a Demonic Lotus. It used to be one of our family's member's Natal Primordial Spirit."

"So?" James looked at Marcello.

“Forget it. Let’s not talk about this for now.”

Jace parted his lips and changed the subject. He asked, “What are you here for, James?”

Since Jace changed the subject, James did not pursue the topic any further. He replied, “I came to ask about the providence. I wasn’t expecting such drastic changes to take place over all the Earth upon reaching Mount Bane.”

Jace said, “It’s the signs before the appearance of the providence. My teacher told us that unknown regions will appear on Earth before the providence arrives. Earth’s area will continue to expand, and Empyrean Spiritual Energy will continue to rise. When it’s strong enough, the providence will emerge.”

Jace gently shook his head. He did know what it was exactly.

Even his master did not have a precise answer.

No one in the universe knew what the providence was or what Four Calamities would strike the earth.

Jace continued, “I don’t have the answer to your question. The only thing I know is that the providence that will appear along with the Four Calamities is related to the ultimate secret of heaven and earth. It also has something to do with our family’s attack on the Earth during ancient times.”

“Oh?”

James’ curiosity was piqued.

Up to now, he had not learned why the Demon Race attacked the Earth in ancient times and why they decided to leave when they were so close to conquering it.

In the past, he had asked Marcello about it before, but she refused to explain.

James expressed his curiosity.

Jace thought for a while and then replied, “Our family attacked Earth because our ancestor was simply following the Heavenly Path. Even if we hadn’t come to attack, there would still be an internal fight on Earth. The world would be demolished and would seal itself.

“In ancient times, a powerhouse from our family had insights into the Heavenly Path, so he chose to attack Earth. He chose to leave when we were so close to conquering Earth because he wanted destiny to take its course of action. Everything that happened was predestined and bound to happen.”

James was slightly confused.

Heavenly Path? Destiny?

Seeing James' puzzled face, Jace chuckled and explained, “Basically, everything is fated. I don't understand these things, and I'm simply telling you what my teacher has told me. I only know that being born in this era gives us the opportunity to peek into the world's ultimate secret. Those who get close to the secret will rise above everyone else.

“That's why many geniuses from ancient times chose to seal themselves. They wanted to wake up in this era.

“They have their eyes on the providence and want to come close to the world's ultimate secret to become the world's strongest being.”

James could understand some of what he was saying but was still confused.

Jace was getting impatient and said, “Even if I explain things to you, you won't understand. It's a tough matter to dive deep into.”

Perplexed, James uttered, “Fine.”

Marcello propped her chin up and looked at James, asking, “James, is there a powerhouse from ancient times on Earth?”

James looked at her suspiciously and asked, “Why do you ask that?”

Marcello said, “Only a powerhouse from ancient times can help you refine and reform your body with the Demonic Lotus.”

James smiled but did not answer the question.

Jace reminded her, “Marcello, that's a very personal question. You should respect his privacy.”

For the first time, James felt that Jace was pretty friendly.

“Fine,” Marcello replied casually and did not pursue the matter further.

Afterward, the three chatted about some other things.

Then, James decided to stay in Marcello's mansion for the time being.

The whole world was filled with glowing white lights. Meanwhile, the seal in the sky kept letting out Empyrean Spiritual Energy. This energy spread throughout the Earth and onto the plants and animals of the Earth.

Even ordinary humans on Earth were drenched by the Spiritual Empyrean Energy. It transformed their physical bodies to become stronger and suitable for cultivating.

Marcello explained it as a gift from heaven and earth.

The heavens would not let humanity go extinct.

Thus, benefits would be given to humans after each calamity.

Earth's Empyrean Spiritual Energy grew continuously for three days.

Three days later, a vision of heaven and earth appeared.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2177—James stayed in Bane City for three days.

At dawn, there was a heaven-and-earth vision.

An illusory gate appeared in the sky above Bane City. On the gate, there were a few words.

In the past few days, James had been cultivating in the courtyard. He noticed the illusory gate as soon as it appeared. He stared at it for a while but could not read the words floating on it.

They were very mysterious ancient words.

They seemed to be alive and kept changing.

Soon, Marcello, Jace, and some of the Demon Race's strong men appeared.

James walked toward Marcello and asked, "Look over there. That illusory gate just appeared. and is connected to the seal in the sky. There are some words on the gate. Can you read the words?"

Before Marcello could answer, Jace replied, "I can read it."

James looked at Jace and asked, "What do they mean?"

"Space-Time Portal."

Shocked, James asked, "Space-Time Portal? What exactly does that mean?"

Jace shook his head and said, "I'm not sure. If I'm not wrong, the gate is connected to a certain space. Passing through this gate should lead to an unknown time or space."

James asked, "Is it a space within one of the Sealed Realms?"

Jace shook his head and replied, "Not necessarily. It could be a Sealed Realm or some kind of space. As for what it is, you'll have to go inside to find out."

"Is this gate the so-called providence after the First Calamity?" asked James.

Jace nodded. "Most likely."

At that moment, many people appeared in the sky.

These people leaped into the sky from Bane City and entered the illusory gate without any hesitation, disappearing under many watchful gazes.

After the first person entered, many more followed suit.

Many more Outsiders entered the Space-Time Portal.

"Let's go check it out too." Jace looked at Marcello.

Marcello turned to James.

However, James hesitated.

He had no idea what the Space-Time Portal was or where he would be transported. It would be troublesome if he could not return back to Earth.

He was indecisive about whether he should follow them or not.

Sensing James' hesitation, Marcello said, "Let's go, James. It'll be fine. If there's an entrance, there must be an exit. It's a Space-Time Portal that leads to an unknown place. A great treasure must be hidden within it."

James coughed lightly.

“Ahem.”

“Even if there was a great treasure within it, I might not even get the chance to obtain it. There are plenty of powerhouses from the Three Thousand Worlds present. Some of them have just awakened from their seals after tens or hundreds of thousands of years.

“With so many powerhouses vying for it, it’ll be hard for me to obtain it.”

James sighed softly.

Although the custodian reminded him that he would have to obtain the treasure from the providence no matter what, judging by the current situation, it would not be an easy feat for him to defeat the other competitors.

Marcello said smilingly, “It’s not something that can be obtained by strength alone. One also needs a bit of luck. Let’s go. It won’t hurt for you to check it out.”

After speaking, James made up his mind and decided to have a look.

“Alright.” James nodded gently.

“Let’s go,” Jace urged.

He leaped into the air, and his subordinate followed behind.

Marcello also followed suit with James.

They appeared in front of the Space-Time Portal.

White mist billowed behind the gate, hiding the view behind it.

One after another, powerhouses appeared in the sky and entered through the Space-Time Portal, disappearing from sight.

Jace directly stepped into the Space-Time Portal.

His men followed right after him.

“Let’s go, James.”

Marcello looked at James.

“Alright.” James nodded.

The two entered the Space-Time Portal together.

James felt a powerful force sweep over and surround him as soon as he walked into the Space-Time Portal. At that moment, he lost control over his body.

The power surrounded him, and a strong suction force came from inside the Space-Time Portal, drawing him inside.

He felt dizzy and almost lost consciousness.

The situation lasted for about five seconds.

Five seconds later, James appeared in an unfamiliar place.

He scanned his surroundings.

It was a world he did not recognize. He found himself in a primary forest within a mountain range surrounded by towering trees.

The roar of unknown creatures could be heard from within the forest.

James leaped several thousand meters into the air and scanned his surroundings. In his view, all he could see were mountains.

“What is this place?” James was puzzled.

“Where did Marcello go?”

He looked around but was confused when he could not find Marcello. They had entered the Space-Time Portal together, but she was nowhere to be seen. Could it be that they were transported to different places?

“Welcome to the Provenance.”

Just as James was deep in thought, a voice sounded from a distance.

“Wh-Who’s there?”

James warily scanned his surroundings.

The voice sounded again.

“The Provenance is a magical and extraordinary world. From now onward, every time you complete a challenge, time will rewind a little. The more complicated the challenge, the more time will rewind.

“Trace back to the past and discover the world’s origin!

“Through a series of challenges, you can go back in time. After completing enough challenges, you’ll travel back to the period when the world was first created.

“Legend says that when heaven and earth were first created, several beams of light burst out in our universe. These light beams are the key to unlocking the ultimate secret of the world. “Participants, how much you learn will depend on your own capabilities.”

A voice echoed throughout the unknown world for all who entered the Provenance to hear.

After hearing the instructions, James was stunned.

“Is that why this place is called the Provenance?”

“We’ll have to complete challenges and travel through time and space to return to the beginning of the world.”

James could not help but take a deep breath.

He would never have imagined that such a magical place existed in this world.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2179—After entering the Space-Time Portal, James arrived at the Provenance.

After hearing the explanation, he had a clearer picture of the place.

The Provenance allowed them to travel to the beginning of time when the world was first created so that they could discover the ultimate secret of the world. As for the purpose and benefit of it, James was still clueless.

He glanced at the area, but it was desolate.

James descended from the sky and landed in the mountain forest. Golden light burst forth from the ring on his finger, and the ring fell to the ground, transforming back into the Celestial Abode. James walked into the Celestial Abode.

Then, the Celestial Abode shrank and submerged into the soil.

No one would find the Celestial Abode even if they passed through the area.

James, Nova, and Sophie gathered in the backyard of the Celestial Abode's City Lord's Mansion.

James explained how he had entered the Space-Time Portal and arrived in the Provenance. He looked at both of them and asked, "Nova, Ms. Sophie, do you two have any idea what kind of place the Provenance is?"

Sophie's face was full of astonishment. Surprised, she said, "The Provenance? I never expected the Provenance to appear after the First Calamity."

James was overjoyed.

Judging from Sophie's reaction, she must have known about the Provenance.

Curious, he asked, "Ms. Sophie, what kind of place is it?"

Nova, who was standing aside, replied, "Entering the Provenance is every powerhouse's dream. Those who reach the Emperor Rank would want to enter the Provenance and time to find out the ultimate secret of the world so they could break through into an unprecedented rank."

Sophie nodded. "Yeah. He's right. However, finding the Provenance is super difficult. Even a person of the Emperor Rank would have to pay a heavy price to enter the Provenance. I didn't expect the first providence to appear in this bright era to be the Provenance."

Nova continued, "In the past, Emperor Jabari mentioned that many powerhouses have entered the Provenance. These people had reached their cultivation limit and could no longer break through. Thus, they entered the Provenance to find the world's ultimate secret to improve their cultivation. However, all these powerhouses that made it into the Provenance never reached the beginning of time.

"I'm guessing no one will make it to the beginning of time.

"However, countless great emperors of the past have entered the Provenance. It's full of treasures. If you can obtain some of them, it'll benefit you greatly."

Nova and Sophie briefly shared their knowledge about the Provenance.

It had existed since the beginning of the world, but no one knew why it was created. The only available information was that one could travel back to the beginning of time by completing the Heavenly Path's challenges.

The more challenges one completed, the further back in time one could travel.

The more complicated the challenges, the more time one could travel through.

One could complete these challenges until one traveled to the beginning of the world.

Sophie looked at James and said smilingly, "Remember, James. Putting aside everything else, your greatest fortune is being born in this era. Regardless of how far back you travel, the fact that you're able to enter the Provenance will already benefit you greatly."

James nodded and asked, "Do you know what kind of challenges we'll be met with?"

Sophie shook her head and said, "I don't. The challenges are closely related to the Heavenly Path. They aren't created by humans but formed by the Heavenly Path.

"The Heavenly Path?"

Once again, there was mention of the Heavenly Path.

Nova said, "You don't need to understand it for now. All I can tell you is the purpose of cultivation is to get close to the Heavenly Path. The closer one gets to the Heavenly Path, the less control the Heavenly Path has over one.

Sophie nodded and said, "Mhm. Getting close to the Heavenly Path means getting close to the world's secret. You'll be able to predict the future. You may even be able to resist the Heavenly Path and change the course of fate."

Their explanation was too profound, and James could not understand.

James asked, "Then, what should I do now?"

Sophie replied, "Go out and complete the challenges, of course."

Nova nodded and said, "Yeah. Sophie's right. Plus, I think it's very unusual for the Provenance to appear right now. Under normal circumstances, only those of the Emperor Rank can enter the Provenance. However, this time, it's open to everyone regardless of their rank. I think the Heavenly Path deliberately gave this opportunity to everyone."

Sophie cheered James on. "Good luck, James. I believe you can do it. You'll benefit greatly if you get to the beginning of time and learn the world's secret."

James nodded and said, "Alright. Then, I'll go back outside."

"Go on. Go on." Sophie waved her hand.

James reappeared in the outside world, pensive.

A burst of golden light appeared on the ground and transformed back into a ring, sliding back onto James' finger.

James looked around and scanned the primitive mountain range. He murmured, "I have to travel back to the beginning of time? The Heavenly Path? Everything sounds so unfathomable."

"But, how do I accept the challenges?"

James was confused.

Just as he was trying to figure it out, a voice sounded.

"Your every action and word in the Provenance will trigger a challenge. However, this is a very dangerous place, and you might die if you aren't careful."

Swoosh!

Suddenly, a white light descended from the sky.

A white token appeared in front of James.

The voice continued to explain, "All the creatures within the Provenance will be given protection. Thus, if you ever encounter a dangerous situation, crush this token, and you'll be teleported out of the Provenance. Of course, leaving will also mean forfeiting your challenge."

He took the white token before him and put it away.

James murmured, "This sure is a magical place. I didn't expect to be still protected after entering the Provenance. Does it mean the Heavenly Path is deliberately protecting us?"

Until now, he still did not know who was speaking to him.

'Could it be that there's a mysterious powerhouse hidden in the Provenance? Is he controlling everything within the Provenance?'

The thought popped up in James' mind.

However, he quickly dismissed the thought. Sophie and Nova said the Provenance was an extraordinary place. Thus, no ordinary living being could be capable of controlling this place. The being controlling it must have been the supreme Heavenly Path.

It was the Heavenly Path that transcended everything.

"Tsk, James. Enemies sure are unavoidable."

Just as James was deep in thought, a burst of laughter sounded in the distance.
