The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2191—James could not discern the appearance of the mysterious man who appeared at the 108th Infinity City.

The man's words confused James.

“What did he mean by that?”

“Who exactly is he?”

James was lost in contemplation as he stood at the wall of Infinity City and watched the man disappear without a trace.

After some time, he put his thoughts aside. “That man told me there's no need for me to leave the city since I've obtained the most valuable object in the Space-Time Portal. With my current strength and rank, I won't be able to travel to the beginning of time when the universe was born.”

James murmured.

Then, he asked, “Sophie, should I leave?”

Sophie's voice came from inside the Celestial Abode, “Yes, I think so. Although I've never been to the Infinity Cities and the Provenance, even I know that you can't travel back in time to when the universe was born with your current strength.”

Since Sophie said the same thing, James did not linger for long. After all, he had already obtained the invincible providence.

Holding the token he received when he entered the Provenance in his hand, he crushed it into pieces.

The token radiated a white light that enveloped him. Then, he disappeared without a trace. At that moment, he could only feel his head spinning.

This lasted for ten seconds.

Then, he left the Infinity Cities of the Provenance and reappeared on Mount Bane.

Upon returning to Earth, James realized that there were many people gathered on Mount Bane. They were the Outsiders who also entered the Space-Time Portal.

Besides, there were glowing white lights all around them. Each light represented a cultivator's return from the Provenance.

“Why is everyone back?”

James furrowed his eyebrows and scanned his surroundings.

At that moment, he spotted a woman wearing a black dress and hurriedly walked over to her, asking, “Marcello, you’re back as well. Did you not complete the challenge?”

Marcello looked at him and said, “I don’t understand. I entered a cave that stated that I can advance three Infinity Cities in a row once I leave the cave. However, before finding the exit, I’m suddenly back here again.”

“Huh?”

James was confused.

“What the hell is going on?”

Marcello shook her head. She had no idea what was going on.

James scanned his surroundings.

More and more cultivators returned.

In less than ten minutes, Mount Bane was full of cultivators.

“Why am I back?”

“I haven’t gotten what I want!”

“I want to go back in!”

Many were puzzled.

Some cultivators tried entering the Space-Time Portal once more but to no avail.

Upon seeing this, James murmured, “Could this be caused by the fact that I obtained the Infinity Stele, the most important object of the Space-Time Portal?”

“What?”

Marcello asked, “James, did you obtain the Infinity Stele?”

“Huh?”

James collected himself and said smilingly, “No way!”

Marcello said, "Yeah, I figured."

"Marcello, I'll be heading back to Wurmstead now. Let's meet again some other day."

James said goodbye to her.

"Get going, then. I'll visit you when I'm free."

She waved at him.

Then, James leaped into the air and flew in the direction of Wurmstead.

As his strength was enormous and his True Energy majestic, his speed was extraordinary. Soon, he arrived at his destination.

At the moment, the Elite Eight and Blake Davis were in charge of Wurmstead. Meanwhile, Delaine, Henry, the Blithe King, and Thea were in closed-door meditation in the Celestial Abode.

In the palace, Quincy walked toward James, who was sitting in the main seat, with a puzzled look on her face. Wearing a red dress, her curvaceous figure only accentuated her impeccable beauty

She said, "I thought you went to Mount Bane and entered the Space-Time Portal. Why have you returned so quickly?"

As there was no concept of time in the Infinity Cities in the Provenance, James had no idea how much time had passed.

"How many days has it been since the Space-Time Portal opened?"

Quincy replied, "Three days."

"Only three days?!"

James exclaimed.

He thought he had been in the Provenance for a very long time. It appeared that only three days had passed.

“That’s right, it’s only been three days.” Quincy nodded.

James took a deep breath.

Why did he feel like a long time had passed?

“What’s wrong? Did something bad happen?” Quincy asked.

James said, “I’m just tired. That’s all. I’m heading to rest.”

Saying that, he turned to leave.

He arrived at his room in the courtyard and lay on the bed, staring blankly at the ceiling. After brief contemplation, he got up and summoned the 108 Infinity Steles.

Looking at the Infinity Steles that had diminished in size, James let loose a laugh.

He never thought he would be this fortunate to obtain the most significant object of the Space -Time Portal. It appeared that the providence that emerged after the First Calamity was the 108 Infinity Steles, not traveling back in time to when the universe was born.

The Infinity Steles exuded an ancient aura that sent a chill down James’ spine.

“Their power should be unbelievably great...”

James murmured as he happily stored them away.

Then, the feeling of anxiety returned. That was because four catastrophes would appear on Earth before the seal was undone.

Though this was only the First Calamity, many had perished.

What would happen when the Second Calamity appeared? When would it emerge?

James lay on the bed and contemplated. Slowly, he drifted off to sleep.

For the next few days, James remained in Wurmstead and dealt with the country’s affairs. Soon, a week had passed.

A week ago, the Space-Time Portal disappeared after the cultivators were forced out of the Provenance. However, they did not leave Earth but instead remained here.

Although they missed the providence brought about by the First Calamity, there was still the Second Calamity.

As the Second Calamity targeted only the earthlings, they were concerned. In essence, they could not care less about the fate of the earthlings.

Before the Second Calamity even appeared, James encountered a new problem.

On a morning a week later, James was in the middle of a meeting with Quincy and the others in the palace when approaching flying objects blotted the sky in the distance.

“Reporting!”

A guard rushed into the palace.

“What’s wrong?”

James asked with a frown.

Wearing a horrified expression, the guard pointed outside the palace, “Th-There are airships approaching Wurmstead.”

“Huh?”

James momentarily froze before standing up and rushing outside.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2193—James walked out of the palace, while the others followed close behind.

James gazed at the weirdly-shaped airships in the distance. They were the size of mountains, and everyone could not help but marvel at the majesty of the armada.

James furrowed his eyebrows.

However, he was not surprised upon seeing the airships, considering that Earth’s environment had changed drastically. From the exterior and structure of the airships, they must have come from the Sealed Realms.

He was puzzled why anyone would come knocking on his doors.

“What’s going on?”

“Those must be airships from the Sealed Realms.”

“I’d say those are magic treasures rather than airships. I heard from cultivators from other Sealed Realms that airships like these can shrink in size whenever the user wills it.

Many conversed in whispers.

“Is James Caden here?”

An oppressive voice boomed as an elderly man appeared on the airship at the very front. He was wearing a flamboyant robe and a golden belt on his waist. Standing on the airship, he glanced downward at Wurmstead Palace.

James stepped forward and said, “I’m James Caden. May I know who you are and your purpose of visit?”

“I’m Yuvaan Zymir, the Sect Elder of the Divinity Sect of the Ancient Realm.”

His voice boomed.

Quincy whispered, “I’ve heard of the Ancient Realm, James. Over the past few years, Wurmstead has been collecting information on the Sealed Realms. Meanwhile, the Ancient Realm is the highest-ranked Sealed Realm.”

Upon hearing this, James had a bad feeling about Yuvaan’s visit.

He said, “Ahh, so you must be the well-renowned Mr. Zymir. May I know what brings you here to Wurmstead?”

Yuvaan said coldly, “James Caden, as a descendant of sinners, not only did you not repent, but you even cultivated the Demonic Arts. So, I’ve come here today to exterminate you.”

His voice boomed.

“I’ll give you two options. One, you admit to your sins and commit honorable suicide. Two, I’ll wipe Wurmstead off the map and annihilate you.”

Hearing this, James’ face darkened.

Glaring at the airship in the sky, he furrowed his eyebrows and said, “Don’t cross the line, Sir.

You have no evidence to support your claims that I've been cultivating the Demonic Arts. Besides, even if I did cultivate them, you have no right to pass judgment.

Though James knew that the Ancient Realm was the most powerful world among the three thousand Sealed Realms, he had no idea how strong the Divinity Sect was. However, based on what he was seeing, the Divinity Sect was not a force to be reckoned with.

Regardless, he was unafraid. After all, since the enemy was already at his doorstep, he could not show any weakness.

“Hahaha!”

Yuvaan burst into a peal of laughter. “The Divinity Sect has every right to pass judgment on you! Don't blame me for this, James, but the descendants of sinners have no right to live.

“However, I promise you that I won't harm the innocent.

“I'll give you three days to think about this. Three days later, come to the Divinity Sect on Mount Bane and repent your sins. Then, I'll finish you off before the public. Otherwise, I'll exterminate all earthlings starting from Wurmstead.

“Pull back!”

As Yuvaan's voice reverberated throughout the area, the airships retreated and soon disappeared from view.

James' expression was unusually solemn.

“What should we do now, James?” Quincy tugged at James' sleeves.

James took a deep breath and said, “It's alright. I still have three days.”

Then, he headed to the palace's courtyard and entered the Celestial Abode.

James narrated the chain of events that unfolded.

“A bigshot from the Ancient Realm showed up, accused me of cultivating the Demonic Arts, and passed judgment on me. He wants me dead.”

“Huh?”

Upon hearing this, Thea immediately stood up and asked anxiously, “What should we do, then?”

James shook his head slightly and said, “I don’t know either. The Ancient Realm is the most powerful world among the three thousand Sealed Realms. Now, the Ancient Realm’s Divinity Sect’s Sect Elder is threatening to annihilate all humans on Earth starting from Wurmstead if I don’t forfeit my life.”

James was filled with consternation.

“Since he’s made such a bold claim, he must have sufficient strength to enforce his claims. I don’t know what to do now.”

Saying that, he looked at Sophie and asked, “Sophie, could you intervene and resolve the matter by annihilating the Divinity Sect?”

Sophie rolled her eyes and said, “Don’t even think about it, James. There’s too much Karma on you at the moment. If I intervene, I’ll get involved in this. I’m unable to bear the Karma. As such, you have to think of something by yourself.”

James sighed, “Are you going to sit on the sidelines and watch me get killed?”

Sophie sighed as well and said, “You’ve misunderstood. I can’t intervene directly as I’ll have to endure great Karma.”

James looked at the Spirit Tool.

Since Sophie was unwilling to help, he could only turn to the Spirit Tool. He believed that the Spirit Tool also possessed great strength.

“Flee.”

The Spirit Tool said.

“Huh?”

James’ mind blanked.

“Yes.”

The Spirit Tool continued, "Since you're the one being targeted, the Divinity Sect of the Ancient Realm will not pursue the matter further if you flee and conceal yourself."

"But..." James said anxiously, "Yuvaan said that he'll exterminate all humans on Earth if I don't head to Mount Bane within three days."

"Pfft"

The Spirit Tool suppressed his snicker and said, "James, don't you underestimate the earthlings. He can't wipe them out by himself. Do you seriously think you're the only one capable of standing up to the Outsiders? If the Divinity Sect truly resorts to this, I guarantee you that they'll be annihilated in the process."

James froze.

What was the Spirit Tool trying to say? Were there other powerful figures on Earth?

After brief contemplation, he chose to put his thoughts aside. After all, he knew of a certain figure in the Chamber of Scriptures that possessed terrifying strength.

He was lost in contemplation. At the moment, he had no choice but to flee. As long as he concealed himself for the time being or changed his appearance, he would be able to reappear one day. Otherwise, he would be struck dead.

"What do you think, Darling?" Thea asked.

James sighed and said, "What else can I do now? I can only conceal myself and wait till the storm is over."

Thea nodded and said, "The Sealed Realms are too powerful. We shouldn't provoke them. unnecessarily. For now, we can only bend over backward and try to survive. Once we become powerful, no one would dare mess with us anymore."

With that thought in mind, James began making preparations for Wurmstead.

After all, Wurmstead needed to remain in safe hands.

So, Thea would leave the Celestial Abode temporarily and guard the nation. Meanwhile, Delainey, Henry, and the Blithe King would continue their closed-door cultivation inside the Celestial Abode.

After making the necessary preparations, James left Wurmstead.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2195—Since Sophie was unwilling to lend James a helping hand, he had no choice but to flee. However, where could he escape to?

He knew that the Ancient Realm was the most powerful world among the three thousand Sealed Realms. As the Divinity Sect was a powerful sect, its Sect Elder must have possessed great strength as well. Such a person could easily find him.

After leaving Wurmstead, James created a human mask and modified his appearance.

At the same time, on Mount Bane...

Many people gathered in the main hall of the Divinity Sect, which was on a mountain that came from the Sealed Realms. This mountain had been occupied by the Divinity Sect of the Ancient Realm and made a sect.

In its lead was Yuvaan Zymir, the Sect Elder of the Divinity Sect, and before him were a few middle-aged men.

“What kind of providence did James obtain? How did he manage to cultivate such a terrifying cultivation method?”

Someone asked puzzledly.

Yuvaan smiled faintly and said, “In any case, his Sacrilegious Ascension cultivation method is mine. Not only that, but I’ll have his physical body and become immortal.”

“But, will he really come here?” Someone asked.

Yuvaan smiled and said, “He will. Based on my information, he has the safety of the earthlings on his mind. By threatening to annihilate them, he’ll definitely obey my command.”

“How wise of you!”

“You’re a genius!”

Many sucked up to Yuvaan.

Soon, three days passed, and James was nowhere to be seen.

Yuvaan was enraged. As the Ancient Realm’s Divinity Sect’s Sect Leader, he went to great lengths to traverse through the seal and arrive on Earth. Upon his arrival, he immediately found out about James’ Sacrilegious Ascension and his invincible physical body. That was why he led the Divinity Army to Wurmstead. He only coveted James’ secret arts and had no interest in exterminating him. Otherwise, he would not have given him three days to consider.

“That James! Is he trying to provoke me?”

Yuvaan roared.

“Men, mobilize the army and annihilate Wurmstead!”

He ordered.

“Sect Elder!”

“Don’t act rashly, Sect Elder.

Although the earthlings are weak, there are powerful figures hidden on Earth. If we provoke them unnecessarily, it would bring about disastrous consequences to the sect.”

“Indeed, please reconsider your decision!”

“Sect Elder, James is a loving man who cherishes his wife and daughter. In my opinion, we should abduct them and force him to show up.”

Many gave their thoughts.

Yuvaan took a deep breath and calmed down.

He knew there were powerful figures hidden on Earth.

Wearing a surly expression, he said, “In that case, I want you to abduct his family. If he doesn’t show up, I’ll slaughter them all!!

Although they could not go about wiping countries off the map, murdering a few innocent lives should not incur the wrath of the powerful figures hidden on Earth.

“Understood.”

Having been given an order, the disciples immediately made haste and headed to Wurmstead to abduct Thea. A few others headed to Cansington to abduct Winnie and the Callahans.

At the same time, James had changed his appearance. He headed to Cansington and watched Winnie in secret. Seeing that she was safe, he breathed a sigh of relief.

After leaving the Callahans and walking on the busy streets, he suddenly felt rudderless. Troubles had begun popping out even before the seal was undone. What would happen to Earth once the three thousand Sealed Realms merged with Earth?

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2196—James did not dare imagine.

Then, he entered a bar.

As it was now evening, deafening music could be heard blasting from inside the bar.

Although the Calamity had appeared, the situation on Earth had stabilized. Those who succumbed to the viruses perished, and those who survived gained immunity.

Such was the nature of humans. They would indulge themselves to the fullest extent for nothing.

As James had not been to a bar for many years and did not have anywhere else to go at the moment, he entered the bar and ordered a few bottles of wine.

As he drank, his gaze was fixed on the women on the dance floor.

At that moment, his resolve wavered.

He had sacrificed a great deal to protect the humans on Earth. However, everyone only cared about indulging themselves. As the old saying goes, courtesans perceived not the sorrow of a perished empire.

As he drank, it was the first time he felt truly lost.

Once reaching a certain realm, he could not get drunk no matter how much he drank. After staying there for a while, he left and found an inn to stay in.

The night passed silently.

The next day...

James got up from the bed and opened the windows, allowing the warm sunlight to caress his skin. Then, he pulled out his phone and logged into the Martial Arts Forum, curious to see what was going on in the outside world.

The moment he logged into the forum, he could see a top thread that concerned him.

He had a bad feeling about this.

As he tapped on the thread, pictures of Thea, Winnie, and the Callahans being abducted were shown.

[James, I demand you appear at the Divinity Sect on Mount Bane within a week. Otherwise, be prepared to say goodbye to your wife, daughter, and your family.]

There was even a message at the bottom of the thread.

Upon seeing this, James clenched his fists as green veins popped out from his neck. He cursed, "Despicable!"

He was enraged. He never expected the sect of the most powerful Sealed Realm to resort to such an underhanded tactic.

He knew that he would lose his life if he obeyed. However, he did not have a choice.

Hence, he hurriedly left Cansington and returned to Mount Bane.

The Divinity Sect had been spreading the message far and wide. As news of the abduction spread, many earthlings cursed the Divinity Sect in secret. After all, they stood no chance against a sect from the most powerful Sealed Realm.

A man walked toward Mount Bane.

It was James who had removed his human mask

Just as he arrived in the vicinity of Mount Bane, a man appeared. "James."

A voice came.

James looked at the man and said listlessly, "Lord Omniscient..."

The Omniscient Deity said, "You can't go. You'll lose your life."

James smiled bitterly and said, "What choice do I have? They have my wife and my daughter."

The Omniscient Deity thought about it and said, "There are still a few days left. Don't act recklessly. I'll go and find my master."

James looked at him.

The Omniscient Deity continued, "My master is the Telepathic Master of Mount Springcastle."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2197—James had long heard of the Telepathic Master of Mount Springcastle. Back when the Omniscient Deity brought him to the Chamber of Scriptures, he could recall him talking to the custodian.

James looked at him and asked, “Where is Mount Springcastle? Can your master stand against the Divinity Sect of the Ancient Realm?”

The Omniscient Deity shook his head slightly and said, “In the beginning, I had no idea where Mount Springcastle was located or who my master was. It was only recently that I found out that Mount Springcastle is located in a Sealed Realm, and the cultivators of Mount Springcastle are the ancestors of the humans on Earth. Besides, some envoys from Mount Springcastle appeared and contacted me, saying that I can request help if I encounter any trouble.”

Hearing this, James hurriedly said, “Alright, then. I’ll wait for you here. Hurry up and go.”

The Omniscient Deity nodded. “The envoy gave me a treasure that allows me to travel to the Sealed Realm where Mount Springcastle is located. Don’t act recklessly until I return.”

“Alright, I got it.”

James had no choice but to rely on the Omniscient Deity’s master.

Then, the Omniscient Deity turned to leave.

James, on the other hand, did not enter Mount Bane but instead remained on the outskirts.

Deep in contemplation, he did not believe the Omniscient Deity’s master to be reliable. Hence, he decided to look for the custodian.

Then, he turned to leave.

Soon, he arrived at Mount Tai, headed to the depths of the ravine, and entered the first floor of the Chamber of Scriptures.

“Miss!”

He shouted.

Immediately, a white light glowed, and a woman wearing a white dress appeared before him. She looked at James calmly and asked, “What’s wrong? Did something happen?”

James narrated the chain of events that unfolded.

“Ms. Custodian, you have to help me this time. The enemy is a sect of the most powerful Sealed Realm. How am I supposed to fight against them?”

The custodian was lost in contemplation.

After some time, she said, “James, I truly wish to resolve the matter for you. However, these are obstacles to your way of progress. You should deal with them yourself. Besides, my responsibility is to protect the Chamber of Scriptures. As such, I won’t intervene unless the situation absolutely demands my attention. I hope you can understand.”

Hearing this, James was dejected. “Do you really intend to stand on the sidelines?”

The custodian shook her head and said, “The world isn’t as simple as it seems. Many powerful figures currently have their eyes fixed on Earth. If I intervene, the consequences will be disastrous.”

Though she wanted to help James out, she was concerned she would cause trouble several times worse than the one he was currently experiencing.

Since the custodian was unwilling to intervene, James could only rely on the Telepathic Master of Mount Springcastle.

If that failed as well, he would fight to the death to protect his family.

Dejected, he turned to leave.

After he left, the custodian murmured, “James, these matters are insignificant in the grand scheme of things. In the future, you will face greater ordeals than this. If you can’t even resolve such a simple matter, I’ll be very disappointed indeed.”

After his audience with the custodian, James returned to Mount Bane and waited patiently.

The Divinity Sect gave him a week. As long as the Omniscient Deity returned by then, Thea and Winnie would be safe.

Three days later, the Omniscient Deity appeared.

“How did it go?”

Upon seeing the Omniscient Deity, James hurriedly walked over to him.

Dejected, the Omniscient Deity said, "I went to Mount Springcastle in the Sealed Realms and met my master. However, he told me the event is unworthy of his attention."

"Huh?"

James froze.

"Unworthy?"

At that moment, he was enraged. All these years, he had been working hard for the sake of humans on Earth. However, when he encountered trouble, no one came to his aid.

"Calm down, James. Let's think of something else."

"How am I supposed to calm down when my family is in danger?!"

James roared.

Then, he marched toward Mount Bane with angry steps.

If anything happened to his family, he would make the Divinity Sect pay a hefty price.

"James, don't act rashly!"

The Omniscient Deity shouted.

However, James ignored him and headed in the direction of the Divinity Sect.

Soon, he arrived at his destination.

At the foot of the mountain, there were many disciples of the Divinity Sect. They all wore ancient robes and wielded swords.

"Who's there?"

Upon his appearance, James' path was blocked.

James glared at them. However, even though he was enraged, he suppressed his fury and said, "James Caden."

Hearing that, the disciples roared in laughter.

"You're finally here, James Caden."

"Out of hiding, I see."

"Men, tie him up!"

A guard ordered.

Then, a few guards walked over to James and struck his acupuncture points. After sealing away his cultivation base, they tied him up with a rope and escorted him up the mountain with a sword pressed against his neck.

Concerned about his family's safety, James did not resist. Before coming here, he was prepared to lay down his life for them.

Soon, he was brought to the main hall of the sect.

In the lead was an elderly man, and there were many others near him. Each of them exuded a powerful aura.

Upon seeing James, Yuvaan's face darkened as he said, "James, as a descendant of sinners, not only did you not repent, but you even cultivate the Demonic Arts. Do you admit to your sins?"

James lifted his head and glanced at him, saying coldly, "Cut the cr*p. Since I'm here, do whatever you wish to do. However, please let my family go free."

Yuvaan said, "Don't worry, I won't harm the innocent."

"Men, release them."

"Understood!"

A few disciples left.

Soon, they returned with James' family.

"James!"

Upon seeing James being tied up, Thea rushed over to him.

“Stop where you are!”

Before she could reach James, the disciples brandished their swords and blocked her path.

James turned and looked at Thea, Winnie, and the Callahans, and took a deep breath. Then, he said, “Thea, leave Mount Bane with Winnie. Take good care of her.”

“Darling, what about you?”

Thea was anxious.

Wearing a composed expression on his face, James said, “If I perish here, don’t avenge me. However, remember this hatred. Find a secluded place and cultivate...”

James seemed to be saying his last words.

Yuvaan paid no heed to this. To him, the earthlings were insignificant creatures unworthy of his attention. He was only after James’ Sacriligious Ascension. As for the rest, he could not care less.
