Chapter 241 Opening a clinic in Nine Dragons Street was a horrible idea.

People in Cansington would head to Medical Street to see a doctor.

Those who traveled to Cansington from outside came because of Medical Street's reputation, and they would not go to ordinary small clinics. Common Clinic's door was half open.

James heard a woman's voice from outside the clinic.

"What the f*ck is going on?" His expression immediately changed. He did not rush to the clinic but instead eavesdropped from outside the door.

Inside the clinic.

Henry was sitting on a chair with a woman across him.

The woman seemed to be around 25 to 26 years old. She was decent with some make-up on and in a beautiful dress.

"You're Henry, right? I don't think we're suitable for each other. You don't have a car or savings, and your lousy clinic doesn't even have any customers. My requirements for a boyfriend are really high. He has to have at least an apartment in the city, a car worth at least five hundred thousand dollars, and also savings of a million dollars."

The woman picked up her bag and glanced contemptuously at Henry, who was sitting idly like a piece of wood. "Broke*ss. What's the point of a blind date if you don't have money?" She left behind a word and walked out with her hips swinging side to side.

He directly called Alex.

In fact, he was not interested in such things, but he wanted to take care of his subordinate,

Henry was also a man and had needs that needed to be satisfied. He wanted to help him become a real man.

Meanwhile, he would...

He would do it with Thea tonight.

He could not help but get excited at the thought.

"I'll have to head back early tonight.'

"Alex, it's me, James. I need to ask you if you know of any entertainment venues in Cansington. I'm asking for a friend..."

After inquiring with Alex, James hung up the phone, glanced at the puzzled Henry, and said with a smile, "Why're you spacing out? I've already inquired about the best place! Go have a look. I've made arrangements for you! I have to go back home early!"

Chapter 242 Henry drove his modified Tesla and left the Nine Dragon Street with James.

"Where are we going, James?" "The urban area, a place called Great Dignity on Mount Street. "Okay," replied Henry. Then, he concentrated on driving. "Actually, Michelle is a pretty decent person. I read about her background information. She graduated from a famous university and is currently the manager of a large enterprise with a salary of about thirty thousand dollars per month. Understandably, she had higher requirements for her partner," Henry could not help but explain. "Are we talking about the Michelle that called you a broke*ass?" James glanced at Henry.

"Yeah, her full name is Michelle Yeager." Henry nodded.

"Forget about a woman like her. I'll ask Scarlett to introduce you to a better woman than her. By the way, you can work in the Transgenerational Group if you want to. You can take on the position of vice president in name and would be able to pick up girls much easier. No, it won't be you picking up girls. The girls will be picking you up!" James said with a smile, "Forget it, forget it. I'm not suited to be a vice president," Henry immediately refused.

"It's just in name. You can just go in and supervise some work every day. Also, I heard plenty of beautiful women are in the entertainment industry. How about you buy an entertainment company that has plenty of gorgeous celebrities? There are still one hundred million on the card. Everything will be settled." Henry smiled and said nothing,

He simply thought that James made sense. He was already at a suitable age to start a family and business.

He was just messing around and downloaded a blind date application for fun.

He never thought about picking up girls or anything. Soon, they arrived at Great Dignity.

“Yeah, it’s a part-time job. Do you have a problem?” Michelle was not embarrassed at all.

“I am indeed a manager, but is it wrong for me to work part-time here? Do you know how much it is for my service? It’s thirty-eight thousand. Are you rich? I’ll accompany you for some drinks if you can spend a few hundred thousand.” Michelle had mocked Henry from the beginning to the end.

“However, you don’t have money, right? Since you don’t have money, you shouldn’t come to such places to pretend to be rich. Get lost.”

She finished speaking and turned to leave, walking into Great Dignity while twisting her waist.

James wanted to laugh but kept suppressing it. He finally burst out laughing after Michelle walked into Great Dignity. “Henry, you...I don’t know what to say about you anymore. A manager? I’m going to die laughing,”

Henry flushed red.

Chapter 243 “Why should we go back when we’re already here? At least go inside and have a look around...” James took out his phone and was about to phone Alex When he called Alex to inquire about a place, Alex had told him to wait for him to arrive after giving a location

Suddenly, a Rolls-Royce approached quickly and pulled up. A bald man in his fifties with a slightly chubby figure rushed over in a hurry. He approached James and gasped, “I-I’m sorry. There was a bit of a traffic jam on the way, so I’m a bit late.”

“It’s alright. We just arrived. We’re mainly here for Henry today. This is Black Shadow from the Southern Plains. You have to help take care of him well tonight, Alex. You know the consequences if the General Black Shadow gets angry if you’re neglectful with the service tonight, right?”

“I-I’ll ensure you’ll be satisfied with the arrangements tonight. Please head this way...” Alex gestured for them to enter.

He personally led James and Henry into Great Dignity. Great Dignity, a luxurious private room. A sexy and beautiful woman knelt on the ground.

Even Michelle, who had mocked Henry previously, was there. However, she did not dare to raise her head and kept kneeling on the ground after entering the private room

“W-what do you think about them?” Alex stood in front of Henry and sweated nervously. “James, let’s just forget it,” Henry glanced at James and said. Meanwhile, James was picking out a woman for Henry. He was thrilled to see Michelle. “You Raise your head.” Those who were kneeling did not know who was being called. The manager on the side immediately shouted, “Number eight. Raise your head!” Hearing this, Michelle raised her head. She looked up to see James and Henry sitting on the sofa in front of her.

Boom!

Her mind seemed to have exploded in that instance. ‘This, what’s going on here?’ She did not respond for a while. Henry also saw Michelle. He also felt embarrassed by the situation. The blind date flopped, and now they had to meet on such a strange occasion. “That’s it. You will do.” James patted his thigh with one hand and pointed at Michelle. “This one, she’ll do...” he smiled happily. He laughed and almost had tears fall from his eyes.

Chapter 244

James laughed heartlessly.

Henry was so embarrassed. Alex sighed in relief.

James was finally satisfied.

Michelle was still stunned and had not grasped the situation. ‘Isn’t he poor? ‘He has no money, car, or savings. How does he know the famous Alex of Cansington?’

“D-Do you have anything else I could help with?” The managing kneeling asked cautiously.

“We want all of them except this one, that one, and her.”

James pointed at a few women and spoke. “You, you and you! Leave quickly. The others stay behind and serve our honored guest well!” “Understood.”

Those who were named left quickly.

The rest stood up and walked toward the three of them.

“I don’t need servicing. You all go ahead and serve those two.” James stood up immediately

“I-I also don’t need the service. Please serve this guest well,” Alex also hurriedly said.

These women all had serious jobs as executives or managers in major companies. They were all here to work part-time.

All of them were very seductive.

The same was true for Michelle. At this moment, she was trying her best to seduce and please Henry.

“Ugh, why’re you all surrounding me? He is the big boss here. Go and please him.” Henry pointed at Alex. Immediately, a few of the women walked over to Alex. James left.

He did not care about what happened after leaving.

Instead of returning to Thea's house immediately, he went to solve some stuff.

It was about Yosef.

That b*stard Yosef received bribes from Howard to frame Thea. He had looked for him once in the past.

However, he refused to tell the truth in front of Lex and instead pointed the finger at them, Wronging Thea again.

James had sworn never to let Thea be wronged again in this life.

What was the point of having a scumbag like him around anymore? "Blithe King, please notify the Commercial Crime Investigation Department to help me catch someone." The Blithe king was stunned for a moment after receiving the call from James. He wondered if James had finally decided to change. Instead of using his fists to solve a problem, he was finally resorting to legal means. However, it was a good thing since he would not have to keep clean up after James' mess. "Where is he? I'll send someone over right away." James informed him of Yosef's address.

Chapter 245

"Alright, I will make arrangements now."

James hung up the phone and took a taxi to Yosef's place. It was already afternoon.

Yosef was afraid that James would come to him for revenge. Thus, he asked his son Charlie Zaborowski to get a few friends over at his house. He wanted to ensure that James would be beaten until even his mother did not recognize him if he dared to show up at their house.

“You’re afraid of Howard but aren’t afraid of me?” James smiled and asked.
“I-L...” Yosef was unable to answer. Suddenly, several policemen showed up at the door. In the lead was the Blithe King’s subordinate, Daniel.
Usually, the Blithe King could settle things with one phone call, but since it was related to James, he sent Daniel just to be on the safe side.
“James,” Daniel approached and greeted.

James pointed at Yosef and said, "It's him." "Bring him back," Daniel turned to the policemen behind him and said.

"Understood!"

Several policemen came forward and handcuffed Yosef.

James pointed at the people groaning on the ground in pain and said, "Take them too and check if they have committed any crimes. Deal with them together if you find anything. Otherwise, just lock them up for a few days."

"W-What are you doing? Why're you arresting me?"

Yosef was cuffed but kept resisting and shouting.

A policeman came forward, took out some documents, and showed them to Yosef.

The policeman said coldly, "I'm the head of the Commercial Crime Investigation Department. You're suspected of a white collar crime. Please come with us to assist with the investigation." James instructed, "By the way, investigate the Callahans too. However, keep a low profile and don't allow the public to find out."

He did not want to let the Callahans off the hook so easily. Everyone who slandered Thea had to pay the price.

"] James."

Before the policemen left, he looked at James and asked respectfully, "M-May I ask how would you like us to investigate the Callahans?"

This policeman was the head of the Commercial Crime Investigation Department.

His name was Wayne Jackson.

Before coming, he was aware of James' identity and knew he was the Callahans' son-in-law.

However, he did not know of James' other identities.

One thing he knew was that an ordinary person would not be treated respectfully by the Blithe King's subordinate.

He was not confident in how he was supposed to investigate the Callahans, so he inquired.

Lex glanced at the middle-aged man. The middle-aged man said, "There's a box of eighty-eight million eight hundred thousand dollars in cash. There's a total of ten boxes that contain the jewelry, clothes, villa key, and car keys. Everything is here." "Excuse me, which woman from the Callahans is this for and which gentleman sent the gifts?" asked Lex.

The middle-aged man said, "I don't know about that. I'm only in charge of the delivery." Lex stiffly picked up the pen and signed the delivery order. Then the middle-aged man asked the team to leave.

Chapter 247 After the people left, Tommy immediately went to the box containing the money, took out the stack, and counted them. He scrutinized them and shouted, "Grandpa, the money is real."

Lex was still trying to figure out who was this Mr. Caden, and why he was so generous.

Tommy put down the money and walked toward Lex. Then, he said, "Grandpa. The only woman not married in the Callahans is Megan and Yzabella from uncle's side. However, Yzabella already has a boyfriend, and he isn't named Caden either."

"Yeah, yhis Mr. Caden didn't even state whose hand in marriage was he asking for and sent so many betrothal gifts?" Lex nodded and said.

"It must be for me. I'm so much prettier than Yzabella. This mysterious Mr. Caden is surely not interested in her. He is definitely asking for my hand in marriage," Megan exclaimed and reacted in excitement.

"Hmm."

Lex pondered for a while.

Among the unmarried women of Callahans, Megan was the most outstanding one, and he also agreed that the gifts must have been for Megan.

Still, who was this Mr. Caden?

Tommy sensed that something was not right and immediately said, “How could Megan possibly know any rich men? The betrothal gift must be for Thea by Mr. Watson. Didn't Mr. Watson say their family tradition is to send gifts at least worth one billion dollars? He just mentioned it in the afternoon and already sent them over so soon.” Gladys slammed her tights and said, “That's right! Why didn't I think of it? This must be a betrothal gift by Mr. Watson to Thea. How could it be for Megan? That's nonsense! Let's go! We must go to the villa and claim what belongs to us.”

“Let's go, Mom!”

David stood up.

Gladys glanced at Benjamin, still sitting idly, and she called out, “What're you doing, Benjamin? Hurry up!”

“Oh.”

Benjamin finally reacted.

The family set off and walked in the direction of the Callahans' villa.

Chapter 248 James returned home.

However, the family was not at home, and he did not bring his keys when he left. He was not in the Callahans' family group chat, so he did not know they were headed to the Callahans' villa.

He phoned Thea. Thea had gone to Longevity Pharmaceuticals and asked Yuna for some orders. She was on her way home after checking the messages in the group chat. “A mysterious Mr. Caden? “Luxurious betrothal gifts?”

Thea was taken aback after seeing the gifts Tommy had posted in the family group chat.

It made her think of someone for some reason.

The ghost-masked man. Suddenly, her phone rang. She recollected herself and answered the phone, “What's wrong darling?” “Thea, where are you? There's no one at home, and I didn't bring my keys, so I'm stuck outside right now.” “I'll be home in half an hour.”

“Okay.”

"Nonsense! These are obviously gifts sent to my family by Mr. Watson!"

James and Thea heard Gladys' shouts as soon as they entered the house. She stood in the living room with her hands on her hips as she shouted at Tommy, "Who said these were for Megan? Megan's boyfriend is Colson from the Oswalds. Although they had some money, they weren't capable of such valuable gifts. Haven't you guys heard of the Watsons? They are a very low-profile family. Xavier Watson had visited us at noon and given us gifts worth millions of dollars." "Look at this. It's what my brother-in-law, Xavier gave me," David took out his car keys and said boastfully

Tommy instantly lost his confidence after seeing them. Megan stood up and defensively said, "The person who delivered the betrothal gift said that it was Mr. Caden, not Mr. Watson, who sent it! Does Thea know a rich Mr. Caden?" "Yeah! Could it be that this Mr. Caden is your live-in son-in-law James?" Tommy opened his mouth and shouted. "Haha! Don't make me laugh." "How could it be James?

"He has no money and no power. I heard he even had to ask Thea for cigarette money." Many people laughed after hearing James being mentioned. Thea and James happened to hear them when entering the house. Thea's expression did not look very pleased. "These are gifts for Thea," James pulled Thea over and announced. Seeing James and Thea walk in together, Gladys immediately pulled Thea to her side and scolded her. "You trash, James. What are you doing here? I already told you that you're not worthy of Thea. You will get a divorce tomorrow!" "Mom..." Thea helplessly said. "I'm the Mr. Caden that sent the betrothal gifts. They're for Thea," James stepped forward and said.

"D-Don't spout nonsense," Thea pulled James and whispered.

Chapter 249 Lex, who was sitting on the sofa, raised his eyes and glanced at James. "A-Are you really the one who sent them?"

James nodded. "Of course."

"Lies! How could you have so much money?" Tommy shouted.

"Stop being so shameless, James. Just because your surname is Caden doesn't mean it's from you!" Gladys also scolded him. 1

"That's right. The other party never stated who it was for. Plus, Thea is already married, so it's impossible to be for her. This Mr. Caden must be interested in me," said Megan.

Lex was incredibly uncertain who the gifts were from. The delivery person did not say who it was for and only said it was from a Mr. Caden. "Thea, do you know of any rich man that goes by Mr. Caden?" Lex glanced at Thea and asked. "I-I do." Thea was stunned for a moment, then nodded lightly. Many people turned to Thea after hearing her reply. "W-Who is this man?" Lex stood up and asked excitedly. James glanced at James and hesitated.

She did not know whether she should say it or not. She was worried that James would be angry if she did.

"Speak now!" Lex shouted.

That Mr. Caden that they were discussing was also him anyway. Let them misunderstand all they want.

“No matter who sent it, I can’t accept this betrothal gift. I’ve already had a husband,” Thea said. However, she lacked a little bit of determination for some reason.

She was slightly looking forward to meeting this mysterious Mr. Caden. She wanted to see the person she had saved ten years ago. She wanted to meet the ghost-masked man who rescued her from Trent, James caught on to Thea’s expression.

He frowned and muttered in his heart, ‘Could it be that Thea is really in love with me as the ghost-masked man?’

Chapter 250 “Dad, are you sure the gifts were sent by Mr. Caden and not Mr. Watson?” Gladys asked again. She still felt that it was Xavier who had sent the betrothal gifts and not the one whom Thea had saved ten years ago.

Lex smoked his tobacco and nodded. “Yes, it was indeed Mr. Caden. It seems it must be that man from the Cadens that Thea had saved ten years ago. These gifts are for Thea.”

“I can’t accept them,” Thea hurriedly rejected.

“Of course, we’re going to keep them! Why not?” David stood up immediately and picked up the limited Ferrari sports car keys inside the gift box. “It doesn’t matter whether it’s Mr. Caden or Mr. Watson who sent it. It belongs to our family if it’s for Thea,” said David.

“What’re you doing? Put it down! We haven’t figured it out yet! How could it be for Thea? It’s surely for Megan!” Tommy reprimanded.

“Nonsense! It’s for Thea! We’re going to take them with us!” Gladys shouted.

Initially, he simply wanted to send thea some gifts to make her happy. He never expected such a troublesome situation to arise. On top of that, Mr. Caden from ten years ago was brought up. He had no choice but to let them continue to misunderstand. He was simply repaying his gratitude, so as long as Thea was happy, it did not matter who it was from. He could explain his identity to her when the time was right if Thea liked the other him. James smoked a cigarette outside before entering the house. The house was still very noisy, Gladys insisted that the gifts belonged to her family, so they wanted to take them away. Tommy, Megan, and Jolie kept claiming it belonged to theirs and wanted to keep it. The family kept arguing. Lex was uncertain about the situation, so he simply sat on the sofa and smoked his tobacco, seemingly deep in thought. Thea rushed to James and took his hand. Then, she explained apologetically, "Darling, where did you go? I-I really don't know this Mr. Caden. The gifts are probably for Megan from some rich young man interested in her, and not for me." James said with a smile, "It's a little stuffy here. I just went out for a walk." He really wanted to tell Thea everything.

However, things had strayed from his original intention.

He wanted to repay her for saving his life. Initially, he never wanted to reveal his identity and simply wanted to silently stay by her side to protect her for the rest of her life. 1

He would never have submitted his resignation letter when he left the Southern Plains if he wanted to approach Thea as the Black Dragon.

Now, he was still investigating the mysterious force involved with his family.

There were the Ancient Four. There was also the matter with the family's mysterious treasure map, the Moonlit Flowers on Cliffside's Edge. He had no idea how strong the Ancient Four were, but he knew that one of the Five Commanders was a member of the Ancient Four. It would be really troublesome if he was an enemy. Therefore, he could not reveal his identity. He could not get Thea involved.
