Chapter 281

Pacific Manufacturing Factory had been on a break

Larry was anxious.

They finally got orders and began work again but were soon met with trouble. "Ms. Thea, how did you offend Walter of Purity Pharmaceuticals? How about you go and ask him for forgiveness? We're the ones at a loss if this continues..."

Thea was upset.

'Ask for forgiveness?

'I didn't do anything wrong, so why should I ask for forgiveness?' thought Thea.

"Alright, you go back to work first." "Okay."

Larry left. Thea sat on her office chair and lowered her head in very low spirits.

She was helpless in this situation.

The company was in trouble, but there was nothing she could do to turn the situation around.

In the end, the police arrived but were threatened by a few words from Dawson.

Thea wore a shocked expression. 'W-What is happening right now? 'He was so arrogant yesterday and even sent people to cause trouble at the factory. "Today, he personally showed up in bandages all over him to pay back the thirty million dollar arrears and even gave an additional over two hundred million in interest.

'How did I get back this money so easily?'

Thea recollected herself and said, "I only need back the thirty million dollars. You can take back the rest."

Walter panicked hearing her words and hurriedly said, "Ms. Thea, you must accept the interest. I'm dead if you don't accept it!" , Dawson threatened to throw him into the river to be fed to the fish if thea did forgive him. Thea frowned as she thought of someone 'Could it be that mysterious Mr. Caden helping me again? 'How did he find out about the Pacific Group's problem?' She could not help asking. "W-Was Mr. Caden involved?"

"Yes... Wait, no, no!"

Walter nodded his head, then frantically shook it. Dawson warned him not to tell anybody about it. Otherwise, he would be buried alive.

"Ms. Thea, please accept the money and treat it as compensation for Pacific group's losses." "A-Alright." Thea thought about it and eventually accepted it.

Purity Pharmaceuticals was not short on money, and she desperately needed it. Since Walter had personally sent it over to her, he would be troubled if she did not accept it.

She accepted the cheque for three hundred million. The small cheque weighed like a thousand pounds in her hand. 'I'm indebted to you again, Mr. Caden," Thea sighed in her heart.

Chapter 282 Walter sighed in relief after Thea accepted the money.

Dawson would have beaten him to death when he returned if thea did not accept it. "Ms. Thea, thank you for your forgiveness. I'll take my leave now." Walter did not want to stay any longer.

t

Larry glanced at Walter in shock as the latter was carried away by the bodyguards.

He finally came back to his senses after Walter left.

“M-Ms. Thea...”

Thea waved her hand and said, “Okay, everything’s settled. You head out first. I’ll put the money into the company’s account and use it as our expansion funds.” “Alright.”

Larry left in confusion.

‘What is going on?

“Understood.” He nodded and turned to leave.

Thea sat in the office absentmindedly.

Her thoughts wandered to the mysterious Mr. Caden again. As for James, he got up early in the morning and left, saying he was leaving to search for a job. The Callahans did not bother complaining about him anymore and simply felt it would be a waste of their time.

James headed out and went straight to the Transgenerational Group.

He planned to ask Scarlett to arrange for a nominal job title in the Transgenerational Group to satisfy Thea and not embarrass her. He arrived at Transgenerational Tower and saw a woman. The tall, beautiful woman radiated a domineering boss vibe with her long red dress.

“Quincy?” James frowned.

‘What is she doing here? ‘Didn’t she apply for the vice president position of Majestic Corporation just yesterday?’ Quincy did apply for a job at Majestic Corporation.

However, the primary purpose was to meet the chairman of the Majestic Corporation to confirm whether he was her boyfriend ten years ago.

However, she did not manage to see the chairman. Today was her first day at work, and the first thing she did was see the chairman.

Chapter 283

Unfortunately, she still did not get to see the chairman.

Since she could not see him, she no longer wanted to stay in Majestic Corporation. Although Majestic Corporation was a huge corporation and ranked very high in Cansington, it was much inferior compared to the Transgenerational Group. The Transgenerational Group had a promising future and development. She was not going to stay in Majestic Corporation just for some personal affairs.

She had already waited ten years and did not care if it took longer since it would be just a matter of time before they met.

The two approached each other upon spotting the other party.

“Ha...”

Quincy was amused to see James dressed in casual clothes, and she crossed her arms.

“What a coincidence, James. I see you almost everywhere. Don’t you know where you’re standing right now? What’re you doing here?” “Didn’t you apply to Majestic Corporation? Why are you here now?”

James said with a smile “Going to Majestic Corporation is a waste of my talent. After thinking about it, I think I’ll have a better career at the Transgenerational Group in the future,” Quincy said arrogantly and proudly.

James squinted and said, "You're very confident in getting the job, aren't you?"

"Of course."

During this period, she scouted and recruited countless business elite from large foreign companies, which stabilized the corporation. "What do you think of her?" James pointed at Quincy on the screen and asked.

Scarlett did not understand what James meant.

Quincy was indeed charismatic in terms of appearance.

In terms of skills, it was hard to determine with just a few questions.

“S she’s not bad,” Scarlett replied tentatively.

James tapped the table with his fingers, thought for a moment, and said, “Let her try out the vice president position for a few months and see if it works out. Keep her if it works out and get someone else if it doesn’t.”

Although James did not know the business, he had a good judgment of people as the Black Dragon

“Yes, yes, alright.”

He hung up the phone and glanced at Quincy sitting across from him.

He stood up with a smile and said, “Congratulations, Ms. Xyla. The chairman is very satisfied with you. We’ll give you a three-month trial period for the role of vice president. I hope you perform well and don’t disappoint the chairman’s expectations of you.”

“Huh?”

Quincy was surprised. She specified that she was only applying as a department manager in her resume.

Why were they suddenly offering her the position as vice president now?

The Transgenerational Group’s vice president was not comparable to Majestic Corporation.

Majestic Corporation’s assets in total would be about tens of billions.

In comparison, the Transgenerational Group had assets worth trillions. This was not their market value but the real assets they possessed.

The Transgenerational Group is going to be transformed into a world-class organization. Thus, an identity tag is a representation of being employed under the Transgenerational Group. It's similar to a person's identity card. It's unique and encrypted by the latest electronic encryption system. It's something that cannot be replicated or faked." "Oh, okay. Go ahead then." James realized that Scarlett had done a lot during this period. The identity

James took it and observed it.

It was heavy The front of the identity had the words Transgenerational Group and a special logo on it.

The logo was very simple. It was an illusory figure stepping across the moon. This logo representing the Transgenerational Group seemed to have been carefully designed. The employee's name and position were on the other side.

"J James." Scarlett hesitated.

"Yeah?"

"Why're you hesitating? Just tell me if you've something to say," James looked at her and asked.

Scarlett took out a few more identity tags and handed them to James. "I-I prepared these for you. You can see whichever suits you. You can hold onto it in case you need it in the future."

Scarlett understood that James kept a low profile and did not want to reveal his identity. However, they were in a generation where one's capabilities mattered.

Therefore, Scarlett prepared a lot of identity tags for James. James casually picked up a few and looked at them. (Name: James)

The girls screamed as he got out of the car, and many people in the distance took out their phones to snap pictures. "Who is this? He sure stirred up quite a scene." James frowned.

Quincy, who was leaving, caught sight of the handsome man getting out of the car, and her eyes suddenly lit up.

Her arrogant attitude was gone as she trotted over to catch a glimpse of the handsome man.

"Kian, I'm a fan of yours! I love the lyrics you wrote! Could you please sign on your song, Tomorrow Will Be Better's music sheet for me?" she screamed.

'What a fangirl.'" James smiled after seeing the scene. He thought that Quincy was cold and proud.

He never expected to have a complete change in attitude when seeing a celebrity.

Chapter 286 Kian Campbell! He first made his debut through a model show. With his talented singing and movie appearances, he quickly became the most famous celebrity in the county. The price of starring him in a movie was 100 million, and he only accepted the leading roles. Kian glanced at the enthusiastic girls surrounding him, and a bright smile appeared on his face. Then, he reached out to give high-fives to the fans. "Alright. This is not a fan meeting. Kian is very busy, and if you want to take a picture, you can go leave a message on his Twitter, and one lucky winner will be picked to take a picture with him."

Kian's manager stepped forward. Several bodyguards surrounded Kian and protected him as he left into the Transgenerational Tower under the enthusiastic screams of the people around him. James approached Quincy and said with a smile, "I never expected you to be a fangirl that chased after celebrities."

"What do you know?"

Quincy glanced at James and raised his head, "I'm not chasing after a celebrity. I just love his songs. They expressed the words in my heart through his song." "You're the vice president of the Transgenerational Group. This guy must be here to join the entertainment company under the group. It'll be easy for you to take a photo with him."

Quincy rolled her eyes at James. "Work is work! It's taboo to use work for personal gain. I stay true to my professional ethics. That's enough. I'm not going to continue this nonsense with you. I've made an appointment with Thea to celebrate my appointment as the vice president of Transgenerational Group."

Quincy put on her large sunglasses again and turned to leave as James watched her.

James glanced at Quincy, who was leaving with a satisfied look on her face. Although she was prideful, she was still a pretty good person. At least her refusing to use work for personal gains as it was a taboo made James deeply admire her.

Soon, Scarlett showed up.

“Is something the matter, James?” James pointed to Kian on the wall, playing through the surveillance footage, and asked, “What’s with this person?”

Scarlett shook her head. She was also unaware of why he was here.

“I’ll call and ask, James.”

She immediately went to inquire about the situation. Soon, she learned the person’s identity. “James, this man is called Kian. He is a popular celebrity right now. The Transgenerational Group has established Transgenerational Entertainment and Kian is here to sign a contract with us today.”

“That’s it?”

James thought about it for a while and said, “Alright, there’s nothing else. You can go back to work.”

Chapter 287 Since he was an artist earning money for his company, James did not bother too much about him.

“James, you probably don’t know about all the businesses under the Transgenerational Group. I’ll explain and show them to you today.”

“Okay, let’s hear about it.”

James was intrigued.

Scarlett said, “The Transgenerational Group is involved in various industries including food, fashion, housing, transportation, entertainment...” Scarlett explained patiently. James dozed off.

He yawned and waved his hands. “That’s enough. You’re in charge of it.”

James did not want to get involved in the matters of the Transgenerational Group. He checked the time and found that it was almost noon. Seeing that it was almost noon, James got up and left.

He took a personal elevator and headed downstairs.

At the same time, Kian had completed signing the contract and was headed down in another elevator.

The contract was signed very smoothly.

"Security! Security! There's an attack! Someone is attacking..."

Hellen suddenly shouted. Her loud shouts attracted the Transgenerational Tower's security guards. Immediately, more than 30 security guards rushed to them with electric batons.

The security guards saw that it was a famous celebrity, and two of his guards were on the ground, screaming in pain.

Thus, they surrounded James in an instant and were cautious of him. "Don't move," the security warned him.

James did not act recklessly since he was in his own company. He simply raised his hands and said helplessly, "I'm not moving. Can I know what's happening, security?"

Kian pretended to be horrified.

He raised his hand and patted his chest. "That was so close!" Kian said as if still frightened by the situation. He glanced at James and the bodyguards that climbed up from the ground. "Brat, what are you trying to do? Why did you try to ambush me? Do you know who I am? Do you know what the crime is for trying to attack me? Your life is over! You're going to spend the rest of your life in prison."

Hellen immediately took out her phone and called some reporters.

They had already planned it out in advance. They would create some public discussion to win the sympathy of the public.

Chapter 288

“Ambush?”

James was puzzled.

He walked out normally from the elevator, so why was he suddenly being accused of an ambush?

“Stop accusing me of something I didn’t do. Who ambushed you? Why would I ambush you?” James’ face darkened, and dissatisfaction appeared on his face. Kian’s manager, Hellen, approached him and swung her hand at James’ face. James raised his hand and blocked his hand. “How dare you fight back?”

Hellen immediately shouted, “Do you know what you’ve just done? Do you know who you attacked? This man is a famous celebrity, Kian Campbell! What are you trying to do? Do you want to spend the rest of your life in prison?”

Many reporters were awaiting outside the Transgenerational Tower. Among them were also some reporters that Hellen had arranged. Many reporters would arrive in just a few minutes with a phone call from her.

The commotion at the elevator had attracted the attention of onlookers. Many people watched from a distance and discussed the scene.

“What happened?” “It seems that man dressed in ordinary clothes ambushed Kian.” “Does he have a death wish? How dare ambush a public figure?” “That guy’s life is over.” Many people felt sympathetic toward James. Why would he ambush a celebrity and waste his life in prison instead of living honestly?

The reporters surrounded them.

"Who's in charge of Transgenerational Entertainment?" asked James

"It's a guy recruited from another entertainment company. He knows a lot of people in the industry and brought more than twenty popular celebrities with him to our company." Scarlett explained. "What's his name?" "Harvey Shaw."

"Call him to see me right away."

"Understood. I'll arrange it right away."

Scarlett immediately made a phone call, "Call Harvey, the manager of the entertainment department, to come to the chairman's office.

Harvey had a certain status in the entertainment industry.

He was the president of an entertainment company and was recruited for a lot of money to join the Transgenerational Group.

Plenty of celebrities came with him and stabilized Transgenerational Entertainment.

He had just signed a contract with Kian just a few moments ago. There was a call from the higher-ups to go to the chairman's office. "Could it be that the chairman recently found out I've signed plenty of celebrities to the company and want to reward me?" Harvey was extremely excited as he thought about the possibility.

Chapter 289 He immediately headed straight to the top floor. It had been a while since he joined the Transgenerational Group, but he had never been to the top floor.

The top floor was a restricted area, and they could not visit without permission. Even he was not allowed to come to the chairman's office despite being the general manager of Transgenerational Entertainment.

He entered the office.

Harver was shocked that the office was more than 1,000 square meters.

“M-Ms. Brooks.”

He greeted Scarlett respectfully when he saw her.

James glanced at him playfully. "Kian, right? Hello, we meet again." Hellen's mind was buzzing,

After a few seconds, she immediately fell to her knees.

Harvey was confused by her sudden behavior.

Scarlet was the only one in the room who understood that Kian must have provoked James.

"Kian, it was a good plan. You used the Transgenerational Group to create hype and displayed your generosity in front of the media." James chuckled lightly.

"1..."

Kian opened his mouth but could not utter a word.

James said coldly, "Harvey, terminate the contract with Kian and spread the order to completely blacklist him. Any company that dares to sign him is an enemy of the Transgenerational Group. Also, be more careful with who you sign on in the future. Don't just sign on those famous celebrities. Instead, train up new celebrities and give them more chances."

"Understood." Harvey immediately nodded and did not dare to say another word. Meanwhile, Kian returned to his senses and stepped back while trembling. He would have fallen to the floor if not for Hellen, who quickly got up to support him.

Kian was completely shocked. What exactly was going on?

How could someone with such an unremarkable appearance dressed in ordinary clothes be the real boss of the Transgenerational Group?

Kian could not believe it. "M-Ms. Brooks, this must be a joke, right?" "Get lost."

Harvey pointed to the door and chased him out. He was a sensible person to have climbed so high.

He immediately understood that Kian had offended the behind-the-scenes boss, which resulted in him being blacklisted.

“You’ve been fired, Kian. No entertainment company in the country will dare to hire you anymore. You won’t be able to act in movies, and no major entertainment programs will invite you. Now, get out of this place immediately.”

The news was playing on the television while they had their meal.

Thea’s eyes lit up while eating, and she immediately raised her eyes to watch the television after hearing the announcement on the news.

“Wow! It really is Kian.” “What? Do you like Kian too?” asked Quincy. “Oh? Yeah, I’ve liked him for a long time. I like all his songs, movies, and television series.”
