

Almighty DG 461

Chapter 461 He stopped and sat down, then continued to smoke. The assassin opened her eyes slowly and stared at James, who seemed preoccupied. 'Is this really the Black Dragon? They say the Black Dragon doesn't hesitate when killing people and knew no mercy. Looks like the rumors were wrong.' "Leave."

James shot a glance at her and waved her away.

She was stunned. He let her go, just like that? Before coming here, she knew there was only one conclusion for her if she failed to kill him, and that was death,

She had not expected that he would spare her.

"Y-You're actually letting me go?" she asked tentatively.

"Get lost!" James shouted.

to her back and stared at James. "Alright, what do you want are some things I'm not allowed to say."

to kill

"Dunno." "You don't know?"

There are bounties on you all over the world. They've all accumulated to James rubbed his nose.

he only worth assassin. She was extremely powerful, yet she was not vulgar. Her strength was

"Well..."

The assassin hesitated.

was not the Black Dragon anymore and had accumulated too many enemies. He needed someone strong by his side. "I trust you're tired of living an assassin's life. Would you like to settle down? I'll give you a chance now. You can leave the underworld and change your name to start over." "Thank you for letting me live. I've said everything I have

that, the assassin disappeared into the contact with her to get information, but it was also to gain more allies. This was because He considered giving the Blithe King a call and having him investigate the assassin's origin, but thought against it after remembering that the Blithe king was being watched by many men in power.

He would have to call on Jake Graham if he wanted to know who the assassin was.

He planned on contacting Jake Graham tomorrow once they returned home and to have him use his underground network to run a background check on the assassin. James stood up and started walking back at a leisurely pace. At that moment, he heard a gunshot. James's expression darkened and he jumped up a nearby tree, hiding amongst its dense leaves. A dark shadow fled in the distance. It was the assassin he had met earlier.

She had been shot in the chest. She pressed down on the wound with her hand and stumbled as she escaped deeper into the forest. James, standing on the tree, saw everything. He watched as a man chased after her. He wore a mask, too, and held a pistol in his hand.

The man slowed down as he looked around the forest. "May!" he shouted. "You know what happens if you fail. You die. It's the rules. Show yourself, now!"

The man's voice rang out. James heard everything loud and clear. "The penalty for a failed mission is death?" He was shocked. What kind of organization was this? Why did it have such a frightening rule?

Chapter 462 James stayed in the tree, not making a move.

However, he knew that the woman had failed her mission. Nothing awaited her except death.

This was perfect. He could have her join him, instead.

Nearby, behind a big tree.

The assassin still had her hand pressed to her wound, but blood poured out regardless,

She had been shot, and it had hit her artery. She did not have much time left. The masked man slowly followed her blood on the ground and arrived at the tree where the assassin was hiding behind. "You know the rules, May. A failed assassination means death, but it also depends on the circumstances. You could have lived if the enemy had not seen your face. You've been exposed, so according to our rules, you must die."

The assassin walked away from the tree.

but just because he saw my face, I have to die? That's the Black Dragon we're said coldly, then pointed Swish!

embedded itself into the back of the man's head. He slumped

Thud!

then floated

James approached slowly.

limit. She fell to the ground and looked at her bloody shirt. He knelt down and tore pulled a wire out of the sleeve of his jacket and entered the end of it into the wound. The bullet was pulled out by the wire. Immediately after that, James took out some silver needles and used them to stop her bleeding the assassin sit against the tree. The assassin was deathly pale. She looked at James. "People say the Black Dragon had unparalleled medical for myself." She was shocked at how skilled he was. He did not even need to touch the wound to take the

LLUS

you save at James. "Because you have a conscience," James said indifferently. "You have principles and didn't target my wife just because you wanted to kill me.

"Is that so?"

The assassin was doubtful.

In her line of work, there was a rule to never involve family.

This was her rule, but it was also their world's rule.

Once the rule was violated, there would be no place for her in that world. James examined her. "I'm curious," he said. "What organization are you from?" She could not return to her organization anymore after today. They would only send people after her, anyway. At this point, there was no reason for her to keep them a secret. "I'm May Argentum. I'm a member of the Dark Castle, and one of their three SSS-ranked assassins."

The Dark Castle?" (Yes."

Chapter 463 "The Dark Castle is the most mysterious assassin organization in the world. They also specialize in training assassins," May said.

James had been in the military for ten years. He had conquered lands and lived his days by the edge of the sword, but organizations like this were something he did not know much about.

This piqued his interest. "You say you were one of Dark Castle's three SSS-ranked assassins. I don't know what SSS means, but does this mean there are two others as strong as you are?"

May nodded. "More or less."

"Who are they?"

I've never seen any of their faces. Dark Castle also has a rule where you have to complete your mission if you accept it. If you fail, you'll die in most cases. However, the penalty is circumstantial. There's also another rule where you have to die not be able to move freely now." May shook her head slightly. She had not thought about it. "I need men by my side," James said simply. "If you want, you could attack you the first chance I get in the world. There

James smiled faintly.

out and called someone named Ronald the thousand men he had transferred from the Southern Plains and low in Cansington

from the speaker. "What's had brought his brothers-in-arms to Cansington, but James never contacted him. Now Dragon Fountain Villa. There's someone here I need you to pick up." "Yes, sir." With his orders received, Ronald instantly made preparations. James hung up and looked at May. "Can you durable and she had a terrifyingly high tolerance for pain. She may have been shot and lost a lot of blood, but the bullet had been taken out. If she could not even walk right now, she would not at the body on the floor and took out a small bottle. She poured the powder inside onto the James did not comment and just turned to leave. May followed him. They ran back towards the hotel, one in front, and one following behind. Earlier, Lorne made his move just as James gave chase after the assassin.

He used the knockout gas on the security and turned the power off.

People walked out of their rooms when the power was cut off. But as they did, they inhaled the knockout gas and slumped to the ground, unconscious. Lorne started searching for James when everyone was knocked out.

However, James was nowhere to be found. Only Thea and Quincy were around. "That fucking brat. Where did he go?!"

Lorne searched every room, but James was not in any of them. He kicked a door in anger. "Boss, his wife is still here. I'm sure he couldn't have gone far. We should wait. He'll be back" "Boss, look at all the hotties. How about we let everyone have some fun?"

Chapter 464

Smack!

Lorne slapped the underling. There were beautiful women galore, but they could not touch any of them. Things would get messy if they did.

Their only targets were James, Thea, and Quincy. He would not mess with anyone else. Otherwise, not even his boss would be able to cover it up if things escalated.

"Go turn the electricity back on." "Got it."

The underling hurried off to turn the electricity back on. In Quincy's room Lorne looked at Quincy and Thea, both on the bed. Quincy had finished her bath and was lying on the bed in a three-piece pajama set. Thea, meanwhile, was lying sideways on the bed.

Lorne could not help but swallow at the sight of these two beautiful women.

These two were once the school belles. Back then, he pursued them both but got rejected mercilessly. Who knew they would both fall into his hands ten years later?

He walked over to them and admired their bodies.

clothes, but

Quincy, opening the bottle to place it under her stench

"Cough!"

and

changed when she saw Lorne face paled. "You... What are you

"Haha!"

you ever expect

over at Thea,

to be stuck in a

and shoved her onto the bed. "You pretended to be high-and mighty, you pretended to be

Smack!

fair skin gained a

She was not as strong as Lorne and was the bed. He looked at to one day fall into my hands, class monitor. Back then, i wrote you so many love letters. It was one thing if you just rejected me, but you just had to read them aloud to the entire class." Quincy stared at Lorne with tears in her eyes. "Do you know what you're doing, Lorne?" she said coldly. "You're breaking the law. I'm aren't one of them." He pulled out a phone and waved it at her. "I'll rape you and film it. I'd like to see you publicize that. If Lorne had no fear.

image the most, especially prideful, self-important

“You...” Quincy trembled with anger.

Lorne took out the bottle again and put it under Thea’s nose.

“Cough!”

Thea choked on the stench and coughed.

Lorne kicked her off the bed as soon as she woke up. Then, he walked over to her and dragged her up by her hair and slapped her a few times. “Where’s James, you fucking bitch?” He asked while he slapped her.

Thea had only just regained consciousness but was dazed before she had time to react. A few seconds later, she finally came to her senses. “L-Lorne?! What are you doing?!” “What am I doing?” Lorne licked his dry lips and smirked. “I’m a man, you’re women. We’re in a room together. What do you think I’m going to do?”

Thea shrank away, afraid.

“Lorne! Come at me if you have a grudge,” Quincy said coldly. “Leave Thea alone.” “Come at you?”

Lorne studied Quincy in her three-piece pajamas, her fair skin and alluring figure making her all the more tempting. He laughed heartily. “Sure! I’ll come at you!” He walked over to her.

Chapter 465 Quincy was afraid, too. She kept moving backward and got to the edge of the bed. Then, in a moment of carelessness, she fell off the bed.

Lorne walked over to her and picked her up.

Quincy wanted to resist, but her body was still recovering from both the snake venom and Quentin’s drug. She was still weak and could not muster the strength to fight back Lorne laughed. “Haha! Can you not take it anymore, Quincy? Don’t worry, I’ll make you feel good.”

He tossed her onto the bed, then started taking off his clothes. After that, he glanced at Thea, who had grown pale, and smirked. “Don’t worry, it’ll be your turn soon.”

James and May arrived at the hotel.

James sensed something was off the moment they neared the premises. He noticed the strangers standing guard outside.

He rushed back to the hotel. As soon as he entered, he spotted people on all the major stairways.

They all out, they rushed to the second floor, defeating people along the way. When he got to Quincy’s room, he saw people standing guard around inside.

He had taken his clothes outside. “What’s going on out there?!” he turned and yelled. As he turned around,

he fell flew outside. He fell

“Ah...”

then slowly got softer. “Are you alright, dearest?” James rushed over to the cowering Thea, the window and leaped

“Ahh!”

the room. Quincy and Thea shivered at the now, darling. I’ve dealt with most, he only broke a few bones and had a concussion. Though, I did break about some words of comfort?” James glanced at Quincy. She was still wearing her three-piece. Nothing was removed.

Quincy flushed red.

James took his phone out and called the police.

Lorne was growing too bold, knocking out so many people with an illegal knockout gas like that.

At that moment, May walked in.

“W-Who’s this, Honey?”

Thea frowned at May. “Well...” James was caught by surprise and could not think of an excuse. May, on the other hand, reacted in time. “Hello, Thea. I’m May Argentum a bodyguard Mr. Caden hired to protect you in secret. I got hurt in a fight when these intruders charged in. I apologize for the shock you had to endure due to a dereliction of duty on my end.” “Bodyguard?” Thea looked at James, confused. “Ah, yes.” James scratched his head and continued. “I was worried something would happen to you again after that kidnapping, so I secretly hired a bodyguard for you. It was thanks to May waking me from the knockout gas that I could come save you.” “Oh, I see.” Thea came to a realization Chapter 466 James looked at May Argentum, eyes filled with gratitude. She wears her heart on her sleeve, that’s a good thing. “Oh right, how should we deal with Lorne and the people he brought?” James asked while looking at Quincy and Thea. “We should let the police deal with this,” Quincy answered.

This was beyond a small offense, it was a felony. The police should be notified. “Yeah, I agree.” James nodded. Quincy fished her phone out to make a call to the police. James took out the smoke antidote that he looted from Lorne’s body and began administering it to the alumni.

Once the alumni recovered from the smoke and learned what had happened, they all broke into disgruntled groans. Lorne’s men were all restrained by James as he let them fall to the floor and they cried out in agony from the impact. The alumni procured some rope to tie them up. When they saw Lorne, crotch drenched in blood, lying limply on the ground, all of them drew a cold breath.

In the hotel lobby of the Dragon Fountain Villa.

The few dozen men brought by Lorne were all tied up here. Lorne himself had also been brought here too. He leaned weakly against a column with fractured bones and a caved-in face. To add to things, his member had also been rendered useless.

“James, you’ve gone too far.”

condition is pretty bad. Is he going to die? If he dies, we’ll dying anytime soon. Oh yeah, when the police arrive, you guys need to be my witness. This all was an act of self-defense, when they heard this. Self-defense? You don’t have the tiniest injury on your body yet these people have their limbs broken. Even if you kept her eyes on James. This guy was getting more and more mysterious. Not only were his medical skills incredible, but he was also a terrifyingly good martial the events that had happened, James’s reputation rose exponentially. Many how they could not imagine what would have happened without him. Since the place was quite far from the city, it took the police Goth. When the police left, May was taken by Ronn Moone to finally able to get some rest after 3 leaving James alone in the slipped away without

The next day.

reconnect with her old classmates whom she did not get to meet after had this all planned out. The location was a cleared site on Quincy hired were tasked with revamping the tomb. The workers finally completed the tomb at long last, after working overtime. A short and neatly engraved sentence was on the tomb’s epitaph. “Here it as he watched with mixed feelings.

The people began to pay their respects.

James walked away and sat on a rock. He lit a cigarette and smoked all alone. Quincy stood before the tomb and reminisced about the past. Mostly about her meeting, getting to know, and falling in love with James. Her heart was in turmoil, then her eyes began to brim with tears and eventually they rolled down her face.

She waited for James for a decade, and this was her payoff.

Thea also stood numbly.

The Black Dragon was the one who saved her ten years ago, the one man who changed the first half of her life.

He was the person that always had her back.

Chapter 467 She never got a chance to thank him before he passed away. Joan Dunn was silent, too.

Back when she was a delinquent, and bad at school, James was the one who motivated her to change her life.

He passed away before she had the chance to meet him.

The others in the crowd were also reticent.

Their class monitor had been the Black Dragon all along. The man who went above and beyond for his country, and fought for her safety but died within her borders. After the memorial, everybody took turns to light their incense. The entire affair lasted until midday. On their way back, James held Thea and offered her sweetly, "Darling, the mountain roads are harder to walk on, be careful. Would you like me to carry you?"

she say yes? Quincy felt a twinge of crew made it

she went all your debts to the Xenoses? Why are they coming after us now?" Thea shook her head, "I don't know. Maybe it's because I offended Quay yesterday? It might have given him an excuse to act against us now." Decisively, James said, "We have to go check it out." Thea went toward the crowd. James walked to Zion Lawson with a smile, "Zion." "Oh, it's you, James... Flustered, Zion stood up and asked, "Is

he

Thea rushed back to Thea asked, "Grandpa, why is this happening? Why are the Xenoses attacking us?" Lex sighed tiredly. Thea looked did not speak

this mess. When we were trying to save ourselves, Tommy somehow got into contact with the Xenoses and borrowed 500 million. This turned out to be a trap. Now that we owe 500 million in debt to the Xenoses, they sued us and froze met with Quay Xenos yesterday; he wasn't targeting do you used all of it to pay the debts." "Mom, how about you?" James turned to Gladys. "Me neither," Gladys said, James looked around at everybody in the house, and he said, "I have some money on mine. Go find a place to settle down for now. After the medical convention, I will help the Callahans rise from the ashes. By then, the Oceanic Conference, the Watsons, the Xenoses, or the five provinces... they'll all amount to nothing."

“James, can you get a grip on the reality of our situation for just a second!?” Gladys stood up in a fit of rage and yelled, “We’re all in the same boat. Where the hell would you get the money to help us?” James replied, “This started because of Thea, and the whole family is in trouble because of everyone’s association with Thea.”

As he spoke, he fixed his eyes on Lex.

“Grandpa, I will transfer one million to you. Find a place to stay in the meanwhile. I will deal with the Watsons and the Xenoses.”

Chapter 468 Thea was reminded of yesterday’s incident when James brought up the one million dollars. Yesterday, at the Dragon Fountain Villa, James transferred three million to Lorne and received it back

She wanted to ask about it last night, but too much had happened in one day, so she lost her opportunity to ask about it. “James, how did you get all this money?” Thea looked at James seriously.

TU!

James scratched his head and smiled awkwardly. “Us men will always keep some extra cash on the side just in case. This is some money I transferred out from my card last time since I had a feeling you might use up all the money from it. I wanted to have some backup for our necessities...” Hearing this, Thea fell silent.

It was due to her incompetence that she lost all of James’ 200 million.

Gladys was distraught.

Her own family is struggling right now, yet here James was using his own money to help Lex.

“Grandpa, may I have your card number?”

James looked at Lex.

Lex never expected the day when he would have to rely on his son-in-law to survive.

Nevertheless, life goes on.

he said, “James, I will be borrowing this money.

was no confidence behind

Watsons and Xenoses as their enemy, the Callahans will have their work cut out for them if they want to gave James his number and the transfer was could not be more

Thea for their situation. Tommy scoffed, “James, don’t think your spare change is going to make us indebted to you. We’re in this mess all because of Thea. If it wasn’t for her, we’d had to pick the Watsons and the Xenoses.” “We should’ve kicked her out of in to berate Thea, spewing out the not do anything other overcome this together. The Cansington Medical Convention is around the corner, we should work hard on that, and claim the at James condescendingly, "You?" His sister, Yzabella added, to respond to their provocations. "Alright, let's go find a place to cool our heads." Lex stood up, gesturing for the crowd to leave. After everybody left, Gladys slapped James on his head, screaming, "James, what do you think because of me, it's not his fault..."

Nobody believed in James.

"Mom..."

went quiet right away. Gladys went off at James. In the end, she demanded James give her all of his money keep an eye on it for some money, he'd never hear the end of it from his mother

His mind raced.

Thea knew he transferred three million to Lorne yesterday.

Just now, he took out one million.

"Mom, I only have two million left. This is the money I made after being in the military for ten years..."

"Cut the crap and transfer that to my account."

"F-Fine."

James took out his phone and logged on to his online bank account to begin the transfer.

Gladys finally let him go after she saw the money in her account. Thea dragged James back to their room after that. She hung her head low, like a child who got caught doing something wrong, "Honey, I'm so sorry. I got you into all this trouble..."

James brushed it off. "It's fine, but I'm really broke this time."

Thea sighed deeply as she sank into the bed. "I knew this would happen, I would never have bought Pacific Group. I've caused so much trouble and I put my entire family in debt..."

She rebuked herself for everything she had done until now. she raised her hand, attempting to slap herself. James held her back just in time. "What are you doing? I told you it will be fine. Please, just give me some time to sort this out, okay?" Tears began to fall from Thea's eyes.

Chapter 469 Thea curled into James's arms and cried her heart out. James cradled her and comforted her gently. When Thea finally stopped crying, she asked, "Darling, the Callahans are all but destroyed now. How do you plan to get us out of this and even more, rise up again?"

James answered, "I don't know how but I'll find a way soon, I promise. They'll just have to cope with this ordeal for now. It wouldn't be bad for them to learn how to swallow their pride as well."

"Hmm..."

Thea had no other choice at this point but to blindly trust in James.

James had always managed to pull through whenever he helped her through several difficult times. Eventually, James got up, "Right, I have to go out for a while."

"Okay," Thea nodded. She did not ask why.

the room and informed Gladys and Benjamin before he same time, in the Vice Director's office on pair of red heels. Her voluminous ruby-colored waves neatly rested on fingers, constantly spinning. "What along, she thought James was on rumors she had heard about him. When they finally met, medical skills during their

the snake venom from her body and neutralized few experienced doctors from Medical Street to use just a few needles to expel snake venom that had spread to the neutralization of the aphrodisiac was equally except James it seemed. Moreover, he was a highly skilled fighter. She thought of how he single-handedly defeated the men Lome brought. Also, James was different from other men. She was well aware of her outstanding beauty, and her looks and allure surpassed

James seemed unfazed came, although she was the one helping James in the first place. "Calm and collected, hiding all his unmatched skills. Incredibly knowledgeable in martial arts and medicine, yet he only has eyes for sure that Thea's husband was not

"James, you've successfully piqued my interest. I want to see what kind of person you truly are."

Quincy's lips curled into a devious smile before she quickly put all of these thoughts behind her and began working. James reached the clinic. The clinic he ordered Ronn to bring May to yesterday. "Boss." Ronn stood up as soon as James entered, his eyes sparkling with excitement. James waved his hand to the thirty-something, around 190cm tall, burly man.

May stood up to greet him as well, "James."

James studied her. She was not wearing her usual Nightcrawler uniform, but a long, form fitting dress. She had an athletic figure, slick, black hair, and a wonderful face.

She looked maidenly and innocent. Nobody would have suspected that she was a killer. "Hmm." James nodded. "Ronn, contact the boys, I have a job for you guys." James had to meet Jake Graham. Blithe king cannot provide him with the help he needs. He needed more information. Without Jake's help, he would not be able to do anything.

Chapter 470 Jake was in charge of the underground information network This was why he was so significant to James.

He had to take control of Jake, and have Jake work for him.

Without Jake, he would have nothing to work with, and he would require a great deal more caution in his planning. "Yes, sir."

Ronn made a phone call, "inform the boys to get prepared, mission incoming." "James, do you need me?" May asked.

James shook his hand and said, "No. You're injured, just rest up." "But..." May had something on her mind. James looked at her, "Are there any other problems?" May answered, "It's just that I'm technically a pariah. I don't have any identity, so it'll be hard for me to move around in the city. Could you get me a legitimate identity?"

"No problem."

James nodded as he walked out with Ronn.

the repair factory that Jake

how is General Black

"He should be fine."

last visited Henry. He assumed Henry was fine since there were no calls or two, they arrived at asked, "Boss, what's the boys here yet?" "They are on their way, their estimated time of arrival is five

"Yes." Ronn nodded.

of the car with

They entered the factory

looked

here to see your

"What boss? I have no idea

boss

James immediately kicked him.

hard, that the mechanic landed on the ground with a loud crash. The commotion had drawn the attention of everyone pointed at James and growled, "Hey, kid! What's your business here?"

"Boss, I'll take over."

Ronn could not wait to fight. He was a low-ranked officer of the Black Dragon Army back in the Southern Plains. He didn't have the chance to meet James very easily. Now, he's in Cansington, working for James. Of course, he had to prove himself a little. He ran into the crowd with his bare fists.

The armed mechanics began their assault on Ronn. James stood beside them, watching the battle unfold. Ronn was swift. Soon, a few of the mechanics were on the floor, rolling with pain.

After the fight, Ronn walked toward James, "How's that? Did I do you and the Black Dragon Army proud?"

James approved, "Your skills are good. However, do not mention the Black Dragon Army in Cansington." "Understood," Ronn bowed his head, "Sorry about the mistake."

James walked to a mechanic and placed his foot on his body, "I want to meet your boss. This is just what happens if you don't give me what I want.." Right then, a middle-aged man appeared. This was Jake's confidant. He was the one who disguised as Jake to meet James last time. "James, what brings you here?"

He spoke in an uninviting tone, looking at them suspiciously. Then, he took out a gun and pointed it at James, "You shouldn't have come here. F*ck off."