Chapter 750

“How is it none of my concern? You’re my husband! Let’s remarry...” She held James’ hand and wanted to leave. Thea tugged him hard and pulled him out of the wheelchair. James was feeble and was unable to stand firm. Losing his balance, he fell to the ground.

“What are you doing?!” Quincy quickly rushed to him and pushed Thea away, shouting, “Don’t you know he’s frail right now?”

She hurriedly helped James up from the ground and asked worriedly, “Are you alright?” James waved his hand. Seeing this scene, Thea burst into tears and roared, “Tell me, James! Who is it that you want? Is it me or her?”

Quincy could not stand Thea’s attitude.

She helped James onto the wheelchair and glared coldly at Thea.

“Thea, you keep saying you love him, and now you’re forcing him to make a choice. But, don’t you remember that you were the one who pushed him away? He's poisoned and only has a few months left to live. Do you still want to remarry him?"

"What?!"

Hearing this, Thea was frightened.

"O-Only a few months to live?" Her face turned pale as she looked at James in disbelief.

"James, tell me it's not true," said Thea. Sitting in his wheelchair, James remained silent.

It was true that he only had a few months left if he could not cultivate True Energy.

Perhaps he was wrong, and he could last a few years.

However, it would not change the fact that his whole body would be paralyzed and he would be unconscious for the last few months of his life. Quincy took a deep breath and said, "Do you still want him? Do you still want to remarry him with him in this condition?"

"I-I..."

Thea took a few steps back.

At that moment, her mind felt dizzy, as if bees were buzzing.

She did not know how to react.

Quincy said, "You've never loved him. The person you love is his alter ego, the Black Dragon. He's no longer the Black Dragon."

Ask yourself, do you still love him? If you're confident in your love and are willing to take care of him during the last moments of his life. Then, fine. I'll let you take him."

Hearing that she would have to take care of James, Thea was frightened, She was there when James was poisoned and heard what Reign said about the venom.

James would gradually lose his strength, and eventually, his muscles would shrink. Ultimately, he would be completely paralyzed and would only be able to lie in bed. She could not imagine the grim future.

Suddenly, she remembered that he was also poisoned with Gu. Reign said that her skin would gradually rot, and her entire body would be covered with dark spots.

"Ah!!!

She covered her head and hurriedly escaped into her car, driving far into the distance. James sat in the wheelchair and quietly watched her drive off. Even though he was reluctant to let her go and felt guilt toward her, this was his fate, and he had no other choice.

"I'm sorry, James."

After Thea left, Quincy looked at James and said apologetically, “I was a little too harsh and must’ve hurt her.”

James suddenly raised his hand and interrupted Quincy. “Fate isn’t on her side as well. Not anyone can understand the sufferings she’s been through. I thought I could pay off her life-saving grace from ten years ago with the ten billion dollars and end our relationship. Little did I know, she’d be captured by the enemy and used to blackmail me “She also consumed Gu, and I don’t know what she’ll become of next. What I know is that once again, suffering awaits her.” James sighed. He thought he had paid his debt, but Thea was brought into his mess again. “Could it be that I’ll never be able to repay her in this lifetime?”

James was desperate to find an Internal Martial Arts cultivation method, not only for himself but also for Thea. He was unwilling to let Thea be tortured again by the venom.
