

Almighty DG 845

Chapter 845

The four masked men in black robes were secretly stalling for time.

James recognized this and knew it was the perfect opportunity to set his plans into action.

Once Kennedy catches his breath, it would be nigh impossible for James to kill the Emperor.

"Search the premises."

Clutching the Blade of Justice, James charged toward the center of the courtyard.

Gravely injured from the earlier counterattack, Kennedy's henchwomen lay helplessly on the ground.

They were unable to assist him.

Seeing the fully-armed Black Dragon Army, the Johnstons' guards were conflicted.

If they continued standing in their path, the Black Dragon Army would certainly turn them into swiss cheese.

The best course of action was to lay low and wait for the storm to pass.

At the end of the day, these guards valued their own lives.

In a room in the courtyard...

The Emperor rested quietly in the room.

He was fully aware of the chaos that had befallen the estate outside the room.

Though he knew that James had come bringing the might of the Black Dragon Army, he was unafraid.

Ultimately, he was still a Johnston.

Even though this was not the family's headquarters, he would be safe as long as the sect elder was willing to protect him.

to move against him, why would he be afraid of a nobody like

only served to exacerbate and some strength into his voice, he called walked in and asked respectfully, "Is something of concern,

"How's the situation

outside. James surrounded the courtyard with the Black Dragon Army's soldiers. The sect elder brought the four sisters with him and they managed to down many of James' men. However, a woman claiming to hail from a place called the God-King Palace suddenly

"What?!"

The Emperor exclaimed incredulously.
four sisters?!" He was four sisters were Kennedy's children, they had been
they were extremely formidable fighters that had managed to cultivate and understood how dire the situation now was, the Emperor
"Understood."
turned
few stiff steps back and raised his hands
are you
opened his mouth to start berating his
the door, he saw Army marched in unceremoniously with their commanders who armed men, all the color drained
his teeth, and he glared furiously at the man pair of handcuffs and looked the Emperor straight reckoning has glared bitterly doing, James? Do you know where you're standing? This is the unfazed by the Emperor's bravado, James slowly strode toward the Emperor unconsciously took a few he tripped and fell backward on the
to arrest me. Not even the King