Chapter 898

James immediately reached out and grabbed Hugo's wrist

Hugo struggled but could not break free. His face instantly flushed red from embarrassment, and he shouted, "Let go of me, b*stard!"

James let go of him but raised his foot to kick him.

Hugo flew several meters away, and his body was slammed to the ground. He groaned in pain

His compliances were shocked by the scene. Their opponent was too strong

"Why are you guys still standing there? Attack and kill him" Hugo roared from the ground.

The other students quickly returned to their senses and took out their switchblades to scare James.

However, James suddenly dashed toward them.

A few seconds later...

The students were all lying on the ground, shouting in pain

Maxine looked at James with a strange expression and thought, 'He sure is a great fighter He managed to take so many people down so easily

“Thanks.”

Yvette expressed her gratitude and turned to leave

“Wait a moment. You’re Yvette Zook, right?” James stopped her

Yvette turned around and looked at James with suspicion. “Do you know me?”

James walked over and said, “I was your shoppingmode brother’s comrade in the army.”

“Oh. No wonder you’re so good at combat. But, my shoppingmode brother is already dead. Why are you looking for me?”

Some time ago, military personnel had reached out to her and informed her that her brother died during a mission. She was also given a considerable sum of compensation

“Even in his last moments, your brother worried about you. He asked me to take care of you.”

James looked at the young woman in front of him and said, “If you need anything, go ahead and tell me. I’ll do my best to help you.”

Yvette stared at James. He looked familiar, but she could not remember where she had seen him from

After a while, a look of astonishment appeared on her face. She asked, “A-Are you James?”

She recognized him.

This man was the Black Dragon, the commander of the Black Dragon Army! Sol's War God was standing right in front of her.

Some time ago, the news of his crimes was in full swing, and she even watched the live broadcast of James' public trial. No wonder he looked so familiar.

James nodded.

"Ah, you're actually James! You're our national hero, the War God! My shoppingmode brother used to talk about you so much!"

Yvette was excited.

She quickly walked to him, took out a pen, and lifted her dress, shouting excitedly. "Quick, sign it for me."

James found it hilarious.

'Sign? I'm not a celebrity.'

Despite so, he still took the pen from her and signed his name on her white dress.

At that moment, Hugo and the other students that were knocked down gradually got up from the ground.

Hugo threatened, "You b*stard! I'll remember you! Just wait! This isn't over."

After spitting some harsh words, he led his miserable group away.

James ignored Hugo.

After signing, he returned the pen to Yvette.

Yvette suddenly approached James, stood close to him, and took out her phone to snap a few photos.

Seeing that James did not refuse, she became more courageous. Yvette stretched her hands around James' shoulder and snapped several more selfies.

After a while, she handed the phone to James and said, "James, could you take a few pictures?"

James took the phone.

As he held the phone, Yvette wrapped her arms around his neck and her feet around his waist.

She was practically hanging onto him.

James was rendered speechless.

However, he still held the phone up and took a few more selfies.

Yvette was finally satisfied. She looked at the photos on her phone and smiled cheerfully.
