

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 948

James did not press the matter further since it was a matter of small consequence.

"Alright, I'll see you around."

James engaged in a brief conversation with the Blithe King and Daniel.

Then he turned to leave.

After leaving the military region...

Thea tilted her head.

"Honey, where are we going? Are we going back to the Callahans?"

Before James could answer, Maxine interrupted.

"James..."

"yeah?"

James turned around and looked at Maxine, who was still traveling alongside James.

Maxine said, "Grandpa sent me to protect you. As it stands, you've almost caught up to me now that you've recovered your cultivation base. Aside from that, you also have Thea, a grandmaster of the third rank beside you. It'd be pointless for me to stay in Cansington any longer. It's time for me to return to the Capital."

"So soon?"

James uttered in disappointment. She had a sharp mind and could think on her feet.

immensely beneficial to him. Her departing so quickly was something brewing behind the scenes. Grandpa needs my help, so I must return home. While I'm gone, you should continue improving your martial arts. Also, take a chance to visit Cynthia?" James asked gave him a smart, so I'm sure she'll be able to cultivate True Energy soon with the Cold

"Alright."

James nodded.

she looked to looked Thea

hope

Thea huffed confidently.

"Don't worry. That's a given."

I guess this is where we

to James and

Thea watched as Maxine's figure no longer in sight, Thea clasped shall we head back recalled Maxine's would surely contact Thea if James kept her by it,

"Alright, let's go back."

Thea exclaimed joyfully.

You've finally forgiven

I drew a line in the sand to protect you. Now that James never faulted Thea.

could he blame his savior, that went through hell and back because she saved his life? 3 "I'm sorry, honey. I was too arrogant eyes grew misty and her