

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 960

Jonathan sat on the chair, looking at Thea. He met her harsh words with a smile.

"I was chased out the last time, but I've returned with better medical skills. I lost to James at the medical conference and now I'm back for round two. Without a doubt, I am one of the best medical doctors in the world. Thus, who better than me to prove that Goryeon medicine is superior?"

Jonathan declared proudly.

"Shut up, you show-off!"

"Jonathan, do you know no shame? Get lost. You're not welcome in Medical Street, nor are you welcome in Sol."

"How dare a loser act so arrogant?!"

"Get out of here before James shows up! Otherwise, you'll lose whatever shred of dignity you have left!"

Many people hurled curses and verbal abuse at him. Even onlookers got caught up in the commotion and started to shout at him. Jonathan, however, remained unflappable. James was his most significant threat.

Defeating James would be equivalent to beating every doctor in Medical Street.

He knew that James had medical skills that far surpassed most people, but this time he was confident.

I'd love for him

at Thea

give you one hour, Thea. If James doesn't show up in an hour, then I'll announce to the public that James is a coward that is too afraid to compete with me. Also, we'll move to her finger at Jonathan as she yelled, "Who the f*ck are you to act like you own this whole hospital? James' skills are unmatched! You're nothing

"B*stard!"

spat

darkened, and his face turned chose to ignore her provocation and closed his eyes as if to continue

they were no match

"Honey, where are you?"

en route to wrong?" he asked with a match. They're giving you one hour to arrive. If you don't show

the

He furrowed his brows.

"nH -Hurry! n "Alright."

hung up the

Jonathan previously at the