

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 962

Jonathan smiled smugly.

"Soon, I'll establish a National Doctor's Association that will replace the current Doctor's Association. I'll implement a rule that says only doctors that have obtained a certificate from our association will be able to practice medicine. Anyone else would be practicing illegally and can be persecuted by the law as such"

"Who do you think you are to make such a decision?"

"You're insane!"

Everyone looked at him disdainfully.

Only Thea believed in Jonathan's threats.

With the people he had backing him, it would not be hard for him to set up a National Doctor's Association.

"Why isn't he here yet...?"

Thea looked into the distance anxiously.

Her hands were clammy.

Unfortunately, James was still nowhere to be seen.

"I'll ask you one more time, Thea. Are you going to accept the challenge?"

Jonathan asked menacingly.

The Callahans were not skilled in medicine.

doctor like Jonathan, there was nothing

Thea, waiting for her course, we're going to accept!

"Since you've specifically come to challenge us, Century

was on the way and had full trust

tumble like a house of cards

the confidence that

You can't possibly be expecting this group of quack doctors to compete against

at the doctors standing were doctors that have practiced for decades and

them there were undeserving of being called quacks, but they could not find the words to not them from getting more and more of them wanted so dearly to tear Jonathan to in our

from Jonathan and turned traffic right now. With so many media reporters here, we can't afford to look like we submit to them. Even if we aren't a match for Jonathan, we must still show some fighting spirit. We need someone to take you

accepted the challenge. His medical skills were

Jay's abilities

to was Jonathan in the last

he did

he meant losing once

"Alright."

anormal competition.You'll statement took