

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 964

As the Callahans attempted to dissuade Thea, she waved away their concerns and spoke with conviction, "Don't worry, guys. I'll be fine. James will be here soon. I just need to stall for some time."

She tried her best to convince them that she was fine and took out her phone once again to get an update from James.

"Honey, are you still stuck in traffic?"

James' voice was slightly agitated as he answered the phone.

"I just got out of the car. The road is completely blocked. I'll have to walk to somewhere traffic-free and find another ride. I should arrive in another thirty minutes. What's the situation on your side?"

"I've agreed to Jonathan's challenge. The rules are the same as the last medical conference..."

Thea explained the situation to James.

"You fool!"

James reprimanded her, "Don't you know who Jonathan is? His medical skills are one of the best in this world. Even Jay couldn't hold a candle against him! How in the world are you confident that you won't end up dead after you do this? I know you're trying to buy some time but this is too reckless!"

"Don't worry, Honey. I can use True Energy to suppress the poison," Thea said in a hushed tone.

She was trying to be careful not to reveal her hidden weapon to the enemy.

"That still doesn't make it okay! Just wait for me and don't do anything stupid! I'm coming as fast as I can!"

James hung up and started running.

Meanwhile, on Medical Street...

swiftly prepared

had already finished

to the limited herbs available, he could more than enough to take down Thea, who completing his poison, he looked at Thea with a sarcastic

you

him frostily, "I don't need to prepare a poison. Wouldn't it be my victory if I consumed your poison and managed to neutralize it? In that case, do you and your men agree to leave Century Hospital alone Jonathan said wryly, "If you're somehow able to neutralize it, then I will accept it

"Alright. Hand it over then."

stretched out

his poison in the form of fine and sprinkled the poison into the water clear water immediately turned pitch black the aghast and subconsciously backed away their

aside and again tried to talk her out of participating,

also spoke up

drink it, Thea. That'll most certainly kill sight of Thea's family trying ahead, Thea. If you're too afraid, there's always the option of throwing in the towel and losing your hospital. So, what will it looked Jonathan in the eye, picked up the glass, and downed the whole glass in a faces all went in alarm, "Quick, somebody!

calm down.I'm and smiled at them as proof of