At night, no matter how Skylar seduced Tobias, he refused to lay a finger on her. Slowly, she began to be more open in expressing her desires. The lust in her eyes and the raging passion in her heart were what his exact sentiments were.

The next morning, Skylar began ransacking his bedroom. When she opened his wardrobe, she saw a row of white and black suits. It was as what Tobias had said—there was not a single feminine trace in the house.

As Tobias was a light sleeper, he was woken up by the ruckus Skylar was making. He uttered in a deep voice, “You can stop looking now. There isn’t anything here for you to find. If you insist on finding a panty just to satisfy yourself, you might as well take yours off and throw it into the wardrobe.

After her intentions had been mercilessly exposed, she climbed into bed with her eyebrows raised. “Do you always stay here when you’re not at my place?”

When he saw Skylar’s cute expression, Tobias smiled. “I’ll either be at the office or the Ford residence. Other than that, I’ll be at your place. My life isn’t as exciting as you think it is.”

Given that Skylar had seen how hedonistic Tobias could be at the bar, it was hard to imagine what else he would define as exciting.

When they heard the doorbell ring downstairs, Skylar’s heart suddenly dropped. Tobias threw her a blanket to cover herself, thinking that it was the maid who had come to clean the place up.

The moment he opened the door, he saw Claudia standing there. Instantly, he blocked the entrance to prevent her from entering.

Sheldon was also behind her, holding a thermos filled with soup.

“Tobias, it’s freezing outside. Why are you blocking the entrance? Mom has made some soup in the morning, and she didn’t even let me have any.” Sheldon shivered from the cold.

"I have a guest. This isn't a good time."

At that moment, Skylar had gotten dressed and was coming down the steps. When Tobias left the room, he had left the door open. Therefore, she could hear everything clearly through the gap. Initially, she had wanted to stay out of sight but decided against it. Why should I hide?

The moment Claudia saw Skylar, she was outraged. After shooting a glare at Tobias, she chided Skylar, "Ms. Jones, why are you staying overnight at a man's house before marriage? Haven't your parents taught you that a girl needs to behave properly?"

Sheldon's eyes widened. He was shocked that Tobias dared to bring Skylar there despite knowing that Claudia would often drop by. He is just asking for trouble by keeping her here.

Skylar stepped forward defiantly and replied with a smile, "Mrs. Ford, it's good to cohabitating before marriage. Or else, how are we to know if we're compatible with each other?"

Tobias almost burst out in laughter. Is she extolling the virtues of sex before marriage?

Having never seen such a shameless girl before, Claudia glared at Skylar. "You will never be with my son. Even if both of you are compatible, I will forbid it. To think that you let others soiled yourself at such a young age! Such a disgrace!"

Tobias wrapped his arms around Skylar in front of Claudia. "Mom, I have never sullied my girlfriend. If you really hope to have any grandchildren in the future, you should accept her. There's something wrong with me as I can only get it up when I see her."

Given how impudent Tobias' words were, the conservative Claudia couldn't be any more enraged by him.

It was obvious from her attitude that Claudia would never accept Skylar.

On the way home, Claudia's expression was frighteningly gloomy.

Sheldon advised her, "Mom, given that Tobias has been with Skylar for such a long time, you should just let him be. He didn't say anything about marrying her anyway. The way I see it, he's not going to marry anyone."

Claudia remained stubborn. "How can a girl like that be worthy of the Ford family? What about her mom who is a convicted murderer, and her dad who is a cheating divorcee? It will be a disgrace to our family. Besides, she's nothing but a third-rate actress. They have no future at all."

Sheldon replied, "What do you want then? Tobias has made it clear that he is only interested in Skylar. Who doesn't like young women? Besides, remember the lady you introduced to him just a few days ago? What kind of a person is that? She's such a hypocrite."

Claudia shot Sheldon a glare to get him to shut up. Right then, she was bursting with rage.

After Claudia left, Skylar heaved a sigh of relief as she collapsed on the sofa.

She lifted her gaze at Tobias. "Have I offended your mom to the point of no return? I suppose she is never going to like me, am I right?"

Tobias didn't know what to say to comfort her.

"It takes time. Anyway, you're going out with me, not my mom. Both of you will hardly meet each other anyway."

Skylar wasn't too affected by the incident. At least Claudia was still civil with her and didn't curse her like a shrew.

After all, Tobias and she would never get married. By extension, Claudia would never be her mother-in-law too. However, Skylar didn't know whether to laugh or cry at the idea.

Anyway, I'm still young and it's better to focus on being happy. I'll just enjoy my relationship with Tobias while it lasts.

After the incident, Skylar finally realized why Tobias was reluctant to bring her there. The Ford residence was really just a few minutes away from here.

Tobias was worried that Claudia would run into her. And Skylar was indeed unlucky to have it happen on her first visit.

He had never wanted her to have any interaction with his parents. It wasn't because he was trying to protect her, but he just found it too troublesome.

After putting on some light makeup, Skylar prepared to go out. She had promised Penelope to accompany her for her prenatal care checkup. As there was a short holiday, she wanted to get it done quickly.

Since school hadn't started yet, the year-end didn't feel festive to her at all. Miranda had also mentioned that she wanted to spend the holidays at Wesley's place.

Now that Miranda and Thomas had gotten back together, they were constantly showing off their relationship.

In the family group chat, everyone was praising how successful Eva was.

When Miranda suddenly announced in the group that Skylar was going out with Eva's boss, everyone ignored her.

They felt that she was just being salty.

Before Skylar left, she asked Tobias, "How are you going to celebrate Christmas?"

He loosened his tie before looking at her thoughtfully. "Baby, are you planning to spend it with me in bed?"

With his chiseled features, he gazed intensely at her, causing her to swoon.

She replied, "You will likely be extremely busy—to the extent that I won't be able to see you. Hence, I'm not expecting for us to be together."

Tobias was ambiguous in his reply. "I'll try my best to spare some time for you. However, it will definitely be a busy time at the Ford residence."

As Skylar was running late, she quickly waved goodbye to Tobias.

She had wanted to spend the holidays with him. But, there was no way she would be allowed to step foot in the Ford residence.

Tobias then walked her to the door. When she got him to make way, he obediently complied.

She then pecked him on the cheeks. "I'm accompanying Penelope for her checkup. Anyway, I'm running late. See you!"

Tobias wasn't keen on interfering with Skylar's circle of friends.

However, he still reminded her, "There's a limit to how much you can help someone. You can't go all out. You should advise your friend that she will regret it next time."
