

In a Love Nest with the Aloof CEO Chapter 503

Idania had been haunting Skylar ever since she was made aware of the woman's presence.

A few of Skylar's nightmares were scenes of Tobias wrapping his arms around Idania in front of her.

In the meantime, the proud and arrogant Idania sniffled and yelled hysterically, insisting to

time for her to leave before she got on his nerves for real.

Overwhelmed by tidal waves of emotions, Idania stood right where she was and started spacing out.

On the other hand, Sheldon added and advised, "Haven't you gotten used to it? Are you taking your relationship seriously when you know that he isn't serious about you? Tobias needs an intelligent woman who's conscious of the things he's up to.

Maybe they're just out for a meal together. I shouldn't have told you, but I was afraid you would be deceived by him and remain a fool throughout the rest of your life."

Skylar chuckled when she heard Sheldon's remarks. Immediately, she tried to reach Tobias through a call, but her effort was to no avail since he didn't pick up.

She headed over to the nearby restaurant Sheldon had mentioned, but it would cost her a hundred thousand to gain access to the member-exclusive restaurant.

As a result, she was stopped at the entrance. When the waiter at the entrance recognized her, he greeted her in a courteous manner, "Skylar, only members are allowed to dine here.

Please get yourself registered beforehand."

"I'm just here for a friend of mine! I'll be in and out within a few minutes!"

The waiter rebuked, "I'm so sorry, but that's not the way things work around here. We can approach the friend of yours on your behalf and let you in if he gives his consent. Otherwise, please stop causing us troubles."

Skylar frowned because she had no intention to inform Tobias of her presence. After all, she was here to catch him in the act.

In the end, she handed over the card Tobias had given her to the waiter. Desperate times call for desperate measures! Since he's chosen to dine in such a premium eatery, I'll consider this one of his transactions!

Skylar got herself registered as a member within ten minutes. Once she entered the restaurant, she marched through the lavishly decorated corridor.

What's wrong with those from the upper echelon? Why do they enjoy dining in member-exclusive eateries so much? Is it because they enjoy feeling superior to others?

"What are you? A spy?" When Skylar heard Tobias' voice, she turned around because things turned out slightly different from the one she imagined.

She thought he would be having a great time with Idania in the dining room, including interacting intimately. Should that be the case, she would throw a tantrum and play the victim.

To her surprise, none of that occurred. Hence, Skylar had to put on a calm front and asked in return, "Have you been anticipating me?"

Heaving a long sigh, Tobias added, "I'm the rightful owner of the card. I received the notification the moment the transaction was approved. I once told you to change the contact number, but you turned me down."

Skylar couldn't believe she had embarrassed herself when she was there to catch him red-handed.

Nonetheless, the diffident woman asked, “Don’t you have anything to share with me?
Where’s your ex? Why do you have time for others’ texts but not my call?
Have you been avoiding my calls on purpose? Are you afraid I’m going to get in the way of your session?”

He chuckled and added, “I noticed I had a missed call when I finished checking on the text.
Am I supposed to revert to you when you have shown up in front of me?
She had departed once we sorted out the things she was here for. Should I get her to join us, so you can catch me red-handed?”
Skylar started flushing as Tobias saw through the things she had in mind and mercilessly exposed her.
Nonetheless, she announced with her chest held high, “It has nothing to do with me because I’m here for a meal! I can’t possibly dine at a random eatery anymore, can I? Since you’re the one paying, I have nothing to lose!”
Tobias was pleased to have her around him. He looked at her in the eyes and announced, “It doesn’t really matter as long as you can finish the ordered dishes.”

Skylar showed him the member card she had acquired a few minutes ago and said, “Thanks, but I can at least afford a meal. Allow me to turn down the offer since you have finished your meal.”
Out of the blue, Tobias asserted in a serious manner, “Are you sure you haven’t misperceived my words? She had paid me a visit for a formal discussion regarding a proposal. In other words, she was here to pitch her idea instead of the things you had in mind.”

“Mr. Ford, would you meet others in person? Haven’t you always sent your subordinates to deal with prospects? Are you telling me you have always been such an enthusiastic and easygoing man?” Skylar replied with her lips twitching.

Tobias was irked by the things Skylar mentioned and thought something had gotten into her mind.

Indeed, I have agreed to meet her in person because she’s my ex, but the things Skylar has in mind have never crossed mine!

Once Skylar placed her order, Tobias took a seat opposite her to keep her company.

She said, “If you’re serious about our relationship, aren’t you supposed to act like my better half? I know you dislike being nagged the most, but you need to stop picking on me.”

The man opposite her nodded in return.

A few minutes later, he said, “You should be grateful I have stopped picking on you.”

She placed her cutlery aside and stopped savoring her meal because she wasn’t in the mood to eat anymore.

“Why? To begin with, we’re never equal. I have no choice but to listen to you because you’re always the dominant one in our relationship. Unsure if you’re going to dump me in the near future, the thought of breaking up and getting into a relationship with an ordinary man crosses my mind. At least an ordinary man will apologize instead of behaving like I’m the one at fault.”

Tobias accidentally shattered the cup he held into pieces when he heard Skylar’s reply.

Consequently, his palm started bleeding.

She rushed over and grasped his wrist, trying her best to stop him from bleeding with a napkin.

“Have you lost your mind? Aren’t you aware of the consequences of your action when you’re an adult? How could you hurt yourself?”

It was a serious cut, but Tobias didn’t even flinch. He said, “I guess you’re serious about the part you’re no longer the same. You can always tell me when you’re ready to leave because I won’t try to stop you as well.”

Skylar pinched his wound with all her might when she heard him.

She regretted worrying about him because his reply had rendered her completely speechless.

When she was about to tell him she had no intention to leave just yet, he got ahead of her and asked with a frown, “Can you move away from me? Are you trying to get your revenge by hurting me?”

He was irked because she wouldn’t stop pinching his wound.

After that, she suggested rushing him to the hospital and completely forgot the initial reason she was there.

However, he rinsed his wound and said, “You need to stop making a fuss out of everything because it’s not a big deal.”

His response piqued her curiosity and made her wonder if his tolerance level had something to do with his upbringing. When Jeremy accidentally cut himself back in the day, he would shriek in pain as though it was a serious injury.

However, Tobias didn’t even flinch when it was a deep cut.

At the end of the session, Skylar returned him the member card since he was the rightful owner. On top of that, she was never a fan of that particular type of cuisine. She had no intention to hang out around the area of Tobias’ company either.

Once she returned home, Skylar retrieved the first-aid kit and started searching for the gauze to bandage the wound.

Standing behind her, Tobias said, "I think it'll be completely healed by the time you find it.

How many times have I told you to keep the items in the first-aid kit organized?"

She started complaining, "Stop exaggerating things! I'll go get one immediately! We need to keep it bandaged to stop it from being infected!"

Suddenly, he held her wrist and said, "Just keep me company for a short while."
