

In a Love Nest with the Aloof CEO Chapter 519

“Won’t this hide your true character?” Tobias asked. She shrugged in reply. “The entertainment industry doesn’t need true personalities. Previously, when I said that Cassidy had a mental problem, it caused such a huge issue for me. Also, what is my true personality?” Her question stunned him. In his eyes, she was a docile little cat. However, she would occasionally let out her sharp claws and attack others by surprise. Seeing that he was not answering her, Skylar smiled. “Look at you. You don’t know much about me either. Take this back. I don’t need it anymore.” As she spoke, she took out the black card from her bag. Usually, she left it there for emergency uses. Yet, since the endorsement fee then was so huge, there was no need for such an emergency fund any longer. His gaze gradually darkened as he asked, “Are you that anxious to become independent from me?” In response, she showed him the balance in her bank account. Although that sum of money did not mean much to Tobias, it was an astronomical figure to her. He was right. One had to find their sense of security. There’s nothing more reliable than holding money in my own hands. In the end, Tobias took back the black card. Since she no longer needed it, there was no need for him to be difficult about it. As it happened, it was the first time he wanted to give someone money but was unsuccessful.

Skylar then began to explain her grand plan, which included buying some funds. She was familiar with the logic of using money to make more money. After all, other celebrities were so active in developing sideline businesses because they wanted more money.

The more she talked about her business, the more she got excited. Thus, looking at her bright expression, Tobias could not bear to disturb her.

The funds she had mentioned were all very popular ones at that moment. Everyone had said that they could make a profit without having to lose money. However, Tobias did not tell her that if she invested all her money, she would meet with doom as it would fall within the next month.

She spoke for so long that her throat gradually became dry. Thus, he then poured her a glass of water and said, "I'd always thought that you regarded money like dirt. After all, you've never bothered about whatever I gave you. I even gave you a card, but you also returned it to me. It turns out that you keep chasing after money even though your brain's not working properly. You don't seem that suitable to go into business."

Hearing his words, she suddenly became solemn. "I'm afraid of being poor. You haven't experienced such a thing. You probably don't know how it feels when you can't pay your tuition fees. I've been poor for so many years. Back in junior high, Grandma couldn't bear to buy me underwear even though my body was developing during that time. So, even in summer, I had to wear a thick jacket to school. So don't put me down. I'm very business-minded."

Tobias' tone was a little frivolous as he replied, "You're as flat as a washboard. I don't think it's even developed after junior high."

In response, she purposely straightened her posture and puffed her chest out. "Are you mocking me? I have a perfect figure, mind you! Big breasts are a burden. I'm small and delicate."

He looked at her but did not want to continue attacking her then. She was as thin as a stick, only having a little bit of fat on her chest and nothing else. "I'll help you massage it more often to help with your breast enlargement."

As soon as he said that, Skylar turned red, and her breathing quickened. Although Tobias did help her a lot, it was a pity that her body would often lose weight from her chest whenever she was on a diet.

During dinner, she noticed that Tobias did not eat much. She had eaten most of the steak, while he had only taken a few bites of bread.

Whenever I eat with him, I always wonder if my appetite is larger than a man's.

After dinner, when they got into the car, she turned to look at him. "Are you full? You have such a small appetite. How did you even grow so tall? You weren't born in a difficult time..."

Annoyed at her endless chattering, he interrupted her. "I don't like it when people eat too much. It'll make their minds unclear. Only when people are hungry will their thoughts be clear."

Such a horrifying level of self-discipline made Skylar speechless. No wonder they say that successful people are extremely self-disciplined.

She whispered, "Is that necessary? You don't need to think about anything at night."

Tobias smiled slightly and replied, "Why wouldn't you need to think? For example, what kind of posture should I use tonight so that you'll be more comfortable."

Even in a normal chat, he misleads the conversation. Skylar took out a small mirror and slowly touched up her lipstick. She said, "Not tonight. My period's supposed to come anytime soon. The anticipation's killing me. I've been under so much pressure recently that my period's already been late for over ten days."

He started the car and asked, "Should we go to the drugstore? To get a pregnancy test kit for you."

Skylar frowned. He's saying it as if this happens all the time. Hmph! He must be used to doing such a thing...

"How many women have you bought it for?" she asked.

He frowned at her question. "That's upsetting. I haven't bought it for anyone else. Or you can go by yourself, and I'll wait in the car."

She hurriedly held his arm and smiled flatteringly. "Don't. I'm joking. Come on, why can't you take a joke?"

In reality, she would definitely not go get a pregnancy test by herself. After all, people at the drugstore would surely recognize her.

Furthermore, even if she were not a public figure, she would not go and buy one. Otherwise, it would be obvious that she had done something shameful.

As she was easily embarrassed, she would not be able to stand such a thing.

By then, Tobias had driven to a twenty-four-hour drugstore. Before getting off, he asked,

"What brand do you want?"

She leaned against the window with a hopeless look in her eyes. "You're talking as if I often buy it. I don't know what brand either."

With the "what is expensive is good" principle prevalent in his mind, he entered the drugstore.

A girl in a white coat was on the night shift at that moment, her eyelids heavy and looking as if she were about to fall asleep.

The moment a tall, handsome man entered, her eyes brightened instantly.

When the man entered, it was as if a gust of wind followed him as he walked. Essentially, he was the type of man women yearned for.

Thus, the girl's eyes instantly flickered to him, and she stared.

The only thing she did not like was his lips, for men with thin lips were thought to be fickle.

However, it did not matter to her as he was such a handsome and charismatic man.

"Pregnancy test kit. I want the priciest one." Yet, the moment he spoke, it broke apart all of her fantasies.

It turned out that a fine man would always have a woman by his side.

She took out the most expensive test kit and handed it to him.

"Thirty-six, please. Cash or card?"

Tobias then took out some cash and gave her a single note. As he was too lazy to wait for the change, he left the store immediately.

Afterward, she chased him to the door and saw his car parked by the roadside. It was an Aston Martin. She could not help but shout, "F*ck!"

Narrowing her eyes, she noticed that there was another woman in the car. That woman looks familiar... she looks like Skylar.

Then, turning on her phone camera, she snapped a picture then zoomed in on the figure.

Once she did, she immediately took in a deep breath. It is Skylar!

Immediately, she sent the picture to the employees' group chat.
