

In a Love Nest with the Aloof CEO Chapter 579 - 580

After accepting Tobias' money, Skylar thought she should at least express her gratitude.

Hence, she pandered to his desires as Tobias hinted at something with his eyes.

She came closer to him, wrapping her arms around his neck. Then, she kissed him gently on the corner of his lips. The hand around her waist tightened a little, pressing his lips against hers and sucking it passionately.

His ran his tongue along her lips and explored every inch of her mouth.

He slowly swirled his tongue along hers.

Tobias led Skylar to the backseat. Fortunately, it was a secluded alley. No one was passing by for a long time. However, Skylar was still on the tenterhooks.

There was only a small space inside the car. Tobias turned over and pressed her down. He held her waist tightly and pulled her closer to him. Skylar could even hear his racing heartbeats.

"I should've changed a more spacious car next time. That would be much more convenient to do it inside the car."

Tobias slid his icy cold hand in her shirt from the collar. The sudden coldness brought Skylar back to her sense. She was panting as she said, "We can't do this here. I would be done for once someone takes a picture."

Tobias answered in a low and raspy voice, "I can go somewhere further. Nobody would noticed you in the middle of wilderness."

Still, Skylar was afraid and worried. Meanwhile, Tobias lowered his head and took a bite on her soft skin with her shirt still on. "You're getting more tensed."

Skylar could feel his displeasure in his words. He was domineering and wouldn't take rejection from an answer.

However, he courteously stopped himself from carrying on and sent her to the filming site.

Skylar reported to work in advance, getting prepared for The Ballad of 1978. She was actually reluctant to film the movie.

The main role had already been picked over by Amelia. There were only small roles left for her. It was not a blockbuster, and it wasn't favored by the industry. They couldn't even guarantee a basic rate of screening in the movie theaters.

The first person Skylar met was not the director but Marcus. She had just gone on a date with the demon king, and not she bumped into the little demon.

Skylar didn't know why Marcus was there.

She decided to play dumb, lowering her head and hurriedly walking forward. However,

Hannah showed up late and shouted her name out loud.

And now she had attracted Marcus' attention.

Marcus walked towards Skylar. She greeted him indifferently, "Why are you doing here?"

Have you entered the entertainment industry?"

Marcus had a warm smile. It was completely different from his lunatic sister. But, Skylar wouldn't be fooled by his appearance.

She could really hold grudges. Skylar still remembered the way Marcus provoked Tobias before, saying something about her market price for a night.

He clearly didn't have great personalities for slandering her like that.

"I dropped by to visit my sister. She is here too."

It had been raining all night long. Hence, the weather today was nice. All of a sudden, Marcus' words hit her like a thunderclap.

She couldn't believe her ears, she asked, "How did your sister end up acting in a movie? She is not in the entertainment industry."

Marcus shrugged. "She is kind of unpredictable. She used to study performing arts for two years when she was in Anglandur. After coming back to the country, she is interested in Harry. Besides, she is a competitive person. She is trying to outdo him in terms of career.

Therefore, she got herself a role in the movie."

Skylar couldn't help but shudder in fear when she thought of Ingrid. She was such an arrogant and spoiled woman.

She would have gone on strike if she had not signed the contract. Skylar didn't want to be in the same crew with Ingrid.

However, she was stuck in a difficult position now.

Marcus smiled and asked her on purpose, "You look a little bit unhappy. I know that you and my sister are not on good terms with each other. But you have nothing to do with Harry. So, I think she won't be picking on you."

Skylar pretended to be calm and sneered, "What's there for me to be unhappy? This is my job. I don't get to choose who to act along with."

Marcus raised his brow. At the same time, his smile faded away. "Oh, right. There's such a strong person to back you up. My sister won't cross the line. After all..."

Skylar interrupted Marcus coldly before he could finish his sentences, "Are you trying to say that one should always check who the owner is before beating a dog? By the way, I'm not a dog, and I won't sit there and get beaten up."

The atmosphere became tense. Marcus simply looked at her as if he was wishing her good luck.

Hannah asked curiously, "Who is that? He is so good-looking."

Skylar stared at Marcus' back as he walked away, saying in an annoyed tone, "What's the point of being good-looking? That siblings are out of their mind. They acted like they've been through some childhood trauma."

By the time Tobias went back to the company, there were already stacks of documents on his desk. Then, he asked Eva to come in.

Eva had just finished answering a call from one of the debt collectors.

She got furious and cursed at those people through her phone.

How she wished she could kill Kevin. Aren't siblings supposed to help each other? But my brother is nothing but a burden to the family.

Standing in front of Tobias' office, Eva took a deep breath and recomposed herself, trying to be professional and putting on a fake smile on her face.

After entering his office, she turned around and quietly closed the door.

"You look like you're in a good mood. You still manage to laugh despite what happened to your family." Tobias gave her a cold-eyed stare.

He suddenly thought of Skylar's gloomy face. On the contrary, Eva didn't seem to be bothered at all.

Eva's smiling face vanished completely. Immediately, she pulled a long face.

Eva explained, "Mr. Ford, I won't let my personal issues affect my work.

This is the basic quality of a good employee."

Tobias frowned his dark brows. He was annoyed to see Eva flattering herself.

Then, he asked, "How much do you love this job?"

Eva was stunned for a moment and answered without any hesitation, "I love my job very much. I think the company is just like my family. I'm willing to sacrifice for company."

Tobias had heard enough of those words. He had lost count of the number of people who told him the same thing, saying that they were willing to give their everything to the company. There were just too many of them.

“Let me give you a choice. Your brother was still underage. I would take that as he doesn’t know how to make life choices. Both of you are related by blood. So, I’ll leave this to you.

Your parents and brother have been pestering Skylar. I’ll give you two options. First, turn a deaf ear. Second, stop your parents from pressuring Skylar. At the same time, get your brother to clarify the matter online.”

She clenched her fists tightly. Obviously, she was nervous. Her forehead was covered with a thin layer of sweat. “Mr. Ford, I can’t control what my parents want to do. I’ve tried to persuade them to not go too far. I even told them not to put Skylar in a difficult position. My brother is immature and ignorant. They are being unreasonable too. You don’t even know I was about to sever ties with them because of this issue.”

Tobias’ gaze gradually darkened. “I’m not interested in your nonsense.

What’s the point of telling me this? It’s not like I could understand anything you told me.

Have I not made myself clear enough? If your brother doesn’t make a clarification on the internet, then you don’t have to come back for work anymore. Skylar is soft-hearted. She is afraid that your brother’s future will be affected. Unfortunately, I’m not like her.”

Eva felt so regretful. She was just trying to give Skylar a little bit of pressure that time.

Hence, she came out with the idea. She never thought that Tobias would intervene in that matter.

Of course, she knew Skylar’s weakness. Therefore, she would definitely suffer in silence until Kevin finished his exam.

However, she forgot about how merciless Tobias was. He was cruel enough to threaten her with her career. Therefore, she could only choose between her brother’s future or her career.

Otherwise, she would lose her job.
Every company out there would do anything to hire employee who worked for Ford Group before. Apart from that, headhunters would also be calling them. On the other hand, one would be treated differently if one were terminated by a company. Big companies would never hire someone who was fired by the Ford Group.

If she left Ford Group, there were not many companies left for her to choose from. She could only work in some small companies that offered a much lower salary. Then, she would remain poor for the rest of her life. After a few minutes, Eva was still unable to make up her mind.
