1. The Start Of The Journey MORGANA

I wondered if my decision for Sage to be removed from the pack was far too harsh or if it fitting? Either way, her deceit appalled me. However, I'm not one who can say much, I tried to kill Kian too. The guilt of that decision would always remain in my mind, and I knew that I'd always regret it, even if I didn't go through with it. I had thought it.

The following morning, we left the castle discreetly.

I was wearing black boots that reached my knees, fitted black pants and a skin-tight black halter-top. (This novel will be daily updated at ) I had two long slim swords slid into my belt with a few small knives slipped into my boots. My hair was in a braid, falling down my back, and I wore a black jacket which was also filled with poison-tipped little daggers.

Kian, on the other hand, looked incredibly handsome; in black pants, boots, top and jacket. He was carrying two large bags and refused to allow me to carry anything extra. He had a sword, a crossbow, and a few other weapons on him too. We were equipped with whatever we may need from lightweight food for Kian, I would stick to blood alone, to antidotes to poisons just in case, and poisons that could be used against Fae.

The weather was rather warm as the day went by. I removed my jacket, feeling Kian's intense gaze burn into my bareback.

"Like the view?" I teased, placing a hand on my ass.

"Like is a fucking understatement." His deep, sexy reply came.

I smiled faintly as we continued walking. To start, we had run as fast as we could, putting plenty of distance between us and both the castle and the main city.

When I had asked why he didn't shift, he muttered something about not trusting Thanatos around me. I really think he needed to trust his wolf a little more, I could handle myself perfectly well.

We had continued on, not missing that the further away from the centre of the kingdom we got, the emptier the land became. We even came across a few burned down towns and many that had become ghost towns, with their people heading to the capital and to safer places.

"It's been eleven hours since we left. We've travelled pretty far. Let's take a break." Kian said, looking down at the forest that was looming in the distance. From our position on the hill, we could see the area around us clearly.

The dense forest covered a large part of the border, and once we passed it, we had a river to cross before reaching the mountains. It was past these mountains that we would cross over into Elandori.

That part would be rather hard, considering we would probably be intercepted. I only had the words in the elven tongue that Orrian told me to use if I ever needed passage to his kingdom. I didn't know their meaning, but I hoped they worked. I was leading Kian into something with just my words, and by all means, I didn't want to let him down.

"Is it safe to? What about patrols?" I asked, looking around.

Kian placed the supplies down by a tree and looked over at me.

"They won't come around here. Making it through these forests is almost impossible. Besides, (This novel will be daily updaed at ) this part of the kingdom has been emptied. The patrols are set to the east. If anything comes from the forest, they wouldn't make it far." Kian murmured.

"I see..." I sighed softly, the weight of the situation and this quest weighing on my shoulders.

"When we reach those trees, I intend to shift and run through the forest until we reach the other side." He said quietly.

"But Kian, isn't it vast? Can we really make it through by just-"

He placed a finger on my lips, spinning me into his arms. "I'm an Alpha, my little she-devil, and I assure you I have the stamina of many wolves combined. Travelling alone in these woods is easier, hence how the fae are entering. I'd have crossed many borders in a short time. We will take a break here and then find somewhere to stay for tonight. (This novel will be daily updaed at ) Tomorrow at dawn we will enter the forest and I doubt we will get proper sleep after that." He said, before kissing me sensually.

I nodded when we broke apart. I trusted him. This was his land and he knew it better than I did. If he said he'd be able to, then I knew he would.

"So, we have the entire afternoon to find shelter and rest." I said, more to myself, as I scanned the area. There were a few hills, bushes and trees. Then in the distance, I could make out some buildings. "There's a town not far out, should we go there?"

Kian looked at me before nodding.

"Our eyes aren't as good as a vampire's, but that would be the home of the Jade Oak Pack." He said, his hand squeezing my ass.

"Then shall we go there?"

"Sure..."

"What's wrong?" I asked, looking into his eyes concerned.

"Thanatos wants to spend time with you... and I'm to shift tomorrow. I'd rather he does it before then... but I don't know."

"Really, Kian? Do you think I can't handle him? I am Morgana-"

"Araton, my fucking incredible mate and future queen of Clair De Lune, you can handle him." He finished off for me.

I smiled proudly.

"See you're learning, and just like I handled you, I can handle him." I said cupping his face.

That frown on his face was extremely deep, I knew he was concerned.

"Trust me." I whispered softly.

He sighed, wrapping his arms around me and pulling me against his firm chest, before he kissed my shoulder softly. (This novel will be daily updated at ) I sighed softly nuzzling my nose against his neck.

"I do, it's him I don't trust." He murmured planting kisses up my shoulder and onto my neck.

"Relax, we will be fine." I said, although it was still something I couldn't wrap my head around thumb rubbing over my lips.

"If you do decide to have fun, make sure he doesn't push you more than you want." He said quietly, making my eyes fly open and my cheeks burn.

"What! I mean, isn't that... Isn't that..." For once I couldn't form the words, despite the nervous butterflies that had already settled in my stomach.

He smirked, cocking a brow.

"He's a part of me and you are tied to him as well as you are to me. I assure you, we are both very different in many ways." He squeezed my ass before delivering another tap to it. He definitely liked my ass.

I bit my lip, clinging on to his shirt tightly. God, he was so damn sexy.

Something told me meeting Thanatos was going to be far from boring...

The town where the Jade Oak Pack once resided was one of the few that had been cleared out before they had been attacked.

"Are we just going to break in?" I asked as we stopped outside a large inn in the ghost town.

"I'm the king, sunshine, I own the entire fucking place." Kian said breaking open a lock on one of the doors before entering the inn.

A pleasant scent of strawberries and camomile filled my nose, and I inhaled deeply. It was clear they had cleaned and locked up before going.

"I don't think they would like it if we just came in like this."

"We aren't going to fucking ruin the place." Kian remarked, locking the door.

I looked around; the setting sun was peeping through the gaps in the windows, casting a pleasant glow around the large hall. If I didn't know the truth, I would never have thought that such a peaceful place had been deserted due to the threat of war.

After searching around, he found a bunch of keys and led the way through the halls and up the stairs. (This novel will be daily updated at ) I shook my head, he really had no care that we were breaking in. He stopped outside one of the doors and checked the number on the keys before trying one.

It clicked and he pushed the door open, letting me enter first. I looked around the room. It was simple yet extremely welcoming, or perhaps after all that running, I was just tired.

The floors were wooden floorboards and the walls were covered with floral wallpaper. A large bed sat to one side of the room, and there was a vanity table with a stool. Save that, the only other things in the room were the small table by the bed, a small window with the curtains drawn and a small door that Kian opened and looked inside.

"There's toiletries and towels. Run a bath, I'll join you after I go see if there's any food that we can have and save the one we have packed." He said.

I smiled, oh a bath sounded good!

"Perfect, don't take too long, I'll be waiting." I whispered.

He kissed me passionately, sending off a wave of sparks through me before leaving the room. I entered the bathroom, looking around. It was clean and welcoming, with wooden floors, panelled walls and a decent sized tub.

I looked at the toiletries that sat on the shelf in small travel-size bottles, selecting two bubble bath ones and adding them to the water before I began to undress. I heard the bedroom door open, and Kian's familiar scent filled my nose, just as I had peeled off my trousers. I turned when I heard the door being pushed open wide.

My heart skipped a beat when I looked at the man before me. A sexy smirk curled at the corner of his lips, his arms crossed over his muscular chest as he leaned against the door frame, his eyes blazing gold and a pout settled on that handsome face of his. His entire demeanour was different, and I knew before he even spoke that this wasn't Kian.

"I was a little impatient to wait any longer, I hope you don't mind." Thanatos' deep sexy voice came, before a devilish smirk crossed his face as his eyes raked over my body and a glint of pure carnal hunger burned in his eyes. "Hello, my beautiful little mate."

1. His Other Side THANATOS

I had waited far too long to meet our mate properly, Kian was being a selfish prick. We had found some dried food, drinks and pastries. We had brought them up when I asked Kian to let me take control. Reluctantly, he agreed, warning me not to push her and to remember that tomorrow we had a long journey.

Her eyes were wide as she stared at me when I greeted her, and I smiled slightly. Oh, teasing her will be so much fun...

"Hi... Thanatos." She said, her voice breathless.

I walked towards her, and she stepped back, in nothing but those tiny black panties and bra. (This novel will be daily updated at ) It frustrated me. I wanted to see her tits completely, see those hardened nipples and suck them until they were sore.

Why did humans bother with clothes? Seeing mate naked all the time would be heaven. Oh, tonight was going to be fun indeed.

"Are we bathing together?" I asked her, reaching over I hooked a finger into her panties, playing with the band as I looked down, peeking at the smooth skin of her pubic bone.

Ahh, I couldn't wait to see mini-Kian buried within her from up close, I would make her all raw and sore.

"I guess we are." She said, her heart pounding as I carried on playing with the string of her thong.

"Good." I growled in approval, ripping that tiny piece of fabric that held no purpose but to tease me.

She gasped. Her eyes widened when I followed up by ripping her bra off too. I rubbed my thumb over the red mark I left on her skin where the fabric chafed her.

"I do apologise," I murmured, leaning down. I smirked as I slowly ran my tongue along the light cut, satisfied when she sighed. "Now, next time we are together, I expect you in nothing."

She raised an eyebrow "I thought Kian was bossy." She said, crossing her arms despite the fact that she was pressing her thighs together, the sweet hint of her arousal already clinging to the air.

"You haven't seen anything yet, little mate." I growled, running my fingers over her hardened nipples.

I can't wait for her to have our pups so I can milk these too. I smirked, snaking my hands around her waist and looking into her deep red eyes.

"I get that feeling with you." She whispered, reaching for the hem of my top and pulling it off. I smirked, allowing her to undress me.

I could get used to this every fucking day, but Kian the asshole wouldn't allow me the luxury. I had shut him off completely. He could watch, but this was my time with mate.

She was watching me sharply even when I was fully undressed. I stepped into the tub, pulling her in, I could sense the way she was observing me. I made her straddle me, because although I wanted to talk to mate, I wanted to feel my cock against her delicious little cunt.

"Now... Tell me, are you happy?" I asked her, admiring her round breasts once again.

That took her by surprise, and she smiled softly, nodding.

"Extremely." She said, tilting her head and slowly beginning to un-braid her hair.

"Good, Kian is stupid and took forever to accept you, but he's a human.(This novel will be daily updaed at )" I said, gripping her hips and moving her over our cock.

"He isn't stupid." She pouted.

"Well, you should know I love you and that I loved you before him." I said, my emotions surging up through me as I stared into her eyes.

This has been something I've wanted to tell her for a long time now.

"Really?" She asked softly, her eyes full of emotions, locking her arms around my neck.

"Yes, so, how will you reward me for always loving you?" I asked.

She burst out laughing,

"You're so cute." She said, smirking.

I frowned.

"How the fuck am I cute? Kian is the stupid cute one. I'm the Alpha." I stated.

Humans were a little strange because I had no idea what was on her mind as she watched me a small smile on her lips.

"You're cute." She repeated before kissing me softly. "Thank you for loving me when I never thought we were even possible."

"There's only one way I like to be thanked, and I'm sure you know exactly what I mean little mate." I growled, huskily throbbing against her.

Her heart thudded and she slowly tugged me closer, claiming my lips in a deep kiss. This was fucking good, but I'm the Alpha here. Twisting my hand into her silky black hair, I kissed her harder, dominating her completely.

Now, this... This was more like it...

"Fuck Thanatos!" Morgana cried out as I pounded into her relentlessly.

The scent of her arousal mixed with sex and sweat was divine. I hadn't been able to contain myself, cutting our bath short and bringing her to the bed. Because once I was done, she would need a shower all over again anyway.

I could tell she needed blood from the scarlet shade of her eyes, and mini-Kian was indeed very large for our tiny mate – I could see the toll my pounding was taking on her. I pulled her head up, kissing her hungrily as her orgasm ripped through her, making her scream against my lips.

"Now that's my good little mate." I purred, pulling out of her just before I came.

Something Kian had told me was necessary because we were at war. (This novel will be daily updaed at )Stupid Kian, but even then, I would respect his wish, we are one after all. I still believe it is our job to protect mate and mates' job to have pups.

I'll impregnate her as soon as this war is over, I've decided.

She was breathing hard, and although I had gone extremely easy on her, she looked tired.

I reached for Kian's jacket that I had taken off before I went to the bathroom and took out a small knife. I smirked, holding it up to her. "Now... how about a little knife play?" I asked.

She looked at me curiously, despite clearly being exhausted. I smirked, holding my arm out and creating a deep cut on my forearm.

"Drink, little mate." I growled, watching her get onto her knees, sticking her tongue out and running it up along my arm. Pleasure coursed through me and I smirked watching the wound heal up. Pulling her up, I kissed her and she kissed me back, the taste of my blood lingering on her lips.

Taking the knife once more, I created a cut down the centre of my abs. She bit her lip, bending down and running her tongue from the base of my stomach and up along the cut, making me fucking throb.

Reaching down, I squeezed her ass, before delivering a sharp slap to it. She whimpered, biting her lip as I created an incision along my Adonis belt. She looked up at me, before she ran her tongue along the cut, lapping up all the blood, but this time our little naughty mate began sucking and licking me sensually.

Oh yeah, this felt good....

I groaned in pleasure, Mini Kian hard and ready for another round, but it seemed she had another idea. She ran her tongue lower, her hand fondling my balls, with the other she took the blade from my hand.

Giving me a devilish smile, she tapped my leg, motioning for me to widen them.

"Can I play?" She asked, running her fingers along my inner thighs, sending off waves of pleasure.

"By all means." I growled.

She sat back, motioning me forward. I obliged, raising an eyebrow when she cupped my ass and pulled me forward until my knees were on either side of her shoulders. She raised the knife, taking it to my inner thigh, I felt the blade cut into my skin, making a long incision along my inner thigh, not as deep as the ones I had done yet still pleasurable. The moment her tongue flicked out running along it, I felt myself throb hard, groaning as she did the same to the other side.

Oh yeah, fuck, that's our good mate! She whimpered in pleasure. Tossing the knife aside, I felt her tongue run along my balls. My hand shot out, tangling in her locks as I threw my head back when the pleasure rocked through me.

She opened her mouth, taking mini-Kian into her mouth, moaning as she began to suck me off. A blazing surge of pleasure coursed through me, I tangled my hand into her hair and began thrusting into her mouth. I groaned as I went faster and rougher.

'Slow the fuck down.' Kian growled, cracking down the walls I had raised. I looked down at her, easing up a little, my eyes softening as I pushed past the hunger that consumed me.

I did love Mate, truly...

I groaned, feeling my release nearing. My movements become faster, yet I controlled the force behind them, pleasure consuming me. I didn't want to injure her...

"That's it.." I groaned, not caring to keep my voice down. Her moans and the feel of my cock in her mouth felt too fucking good. I actually didn't care that I couldn't mate with her in wolf form. This was very good... Very good indeed...

"Fuck Morgana!" I growled as I shot my load into her mouth, she swallowed it down, sucking on my cock and milking me for all I had. I breathed hard, swearing as I pulled a now much smaller Mini Kian from between those plump lips of hers with a small pop.

Fuck...

I moved back, so I was straddling her hips and pulled her up against me, breathing hard as I buried my nose in her neck, inhaling deeply.

My mate. My precious little mate.

"I love you, Thanatos." She said softly.

I tensed, moving back, my heart racing as I stared into her eyes. (This novel will be daily updated at ) My emotions were storming through me. It was almost as if she knew the deep-down fear I had within me, one I didn't even let Kian see.

"Even if I don't have a wolf counterpart, you are both one, and I love you both." She said, softly cupping my face, love clear in those eyes of hers.

Now those words made me very happy, and I didn't care that she had just swallowed my seed, tugging her close I kissed her hard.

"I love you too, my beautiful mate." I whispered huskily before pushing her down, ready to devour that pretty little cunt of hers.

I changed my mind; I won't let her sleep tonight...

1. An Enemy MORGANA

Kian had not been wrong, Thanatos was a beast. Last night he gave me orgasm after orgasm, my body feeling overly sensitive to the point of painful, yet he didn't stop. Murmuring his love to me in between eating me out, I don't think he realised that even if he wasn't pounding into me, he was still tiring me out. However, I wouldn't have changed anything. I had loved every moment of it, and somehow I felt like I had become even more complete with Kian. Thanatos was a part of him- a part of me.

It had been special and the love that he was so desperately trying to show pulled at my heartstrings. He had ended by letting me drink from his neck before v and that he'd come back soon to 'feast on my pretty little pussy.'

He had gone and even when Kian returned, kissing my forehead and shoulders, clearly concerned(This novel will be daily updtaed at ), I had whispered how I was fine and that I loved him before falling asleep in his arms, fully content.

al

Today I was barely able to walk, but with a few glasses of blood and a soak in the bath, we left. It was good that I was riding on Thanatos's back today because I don't think I would have been able to continue on foot for so many hours.

Kian smirked at me when I finished getting dressed, pulling my hair into a high ponytail.

"So you clearly enjoyed your time with Thanatos." He snickered annoyingly.

I glared at him, despite the smile I tried to hide.

"Actually, I did, and whilst making love... I heard something interesting in his mind..."

"Oh?" Kian said. Unlike me he wasn't dressed, only wearing a towel around his waist as he was going to shift very soon.

"Yes, it was rather funny to hear him refer to something as Mini Kian." I said, bursting into laughter.

That made him shut up. He clenched his jaw, pulling me into his arms. "There's nothing mini about it." He growled.

"I know, but I still love the name." I said breaking into another fit of laughter.

He watched me and I saw a small smile cross his lips, making my heart skip a beat.

On

"So does Mini Kian want to come out to play?" I giggled. "Keep at that and I assure you, if it comes out to play, you won't be walking for at least a week." He growled, taking hold of my hand and kissing it softly.

"And after last night... I barely can." I said. He pulled me close, kissing my lips softly. "I love you, my little she-devil. I'm afraid riding on me all day might just make you a little sore, and not in a good way, but we need to do this." He said, brushing his thumb along my cheek.

"I can handle it." I said, giving him a tight hug before we stepped outside. Kian locked the inn door with a padlock, although we knew if someone wanted to break in, nothing would stop them. Placing our luggage down, he took a deep breath.

This was it...

He shifted into his huge wolf and I picked up the bags, slinging them onto my back then climbing onto his huge back. I entwined my hands into his fur before he broke into a run, making me gasp.

If running on feet was fast, this was even faster. His paws barely touched the ground. I knew that this was going to be one tiring ride, but I was ready for it.

Although there was a way to avoid the forest and reach Elandorr faster, it would be more noticeable, and I knew Kian had thought over everything before deciding on this. I just hoped our journey would be pretty straightforward...

A few hours had passed, and we were travelling through the forest. Apart from the stray animals that would cross our path, a few snakes and a poisonous nettle, we had a fairly smooth journey. I used my ability to knock a few wild animals away, those that Thanatos didn't rip to shreds. I wished I could tell him to take a break but I knew he knew exactly what he was doing.

The moment the sun began to dip in the sky, I became wearier of our surroundings.

"Kian, how long until we reach the edge of the forest?" I asked softly.

All I could see was the dense forest of trees in every direction. Closing my eyes as I tried to hear his thoughts.

The usual shrill sound filled my head, but it was what I heard that made my heart thunder.

... bide our time, it's getting darker and then we will attack.'

'Kill the Alpha first...

The voices were so soft yet so sinister that it sent a cold shiver through me. (This novel will be daily updated at )We weren't alone ... but where were they? I closed my eyes, trying to focus on my surroundings. I needed to tell Kian...

I leant down to his ear. How do I tell him without being heard?

'Not alone.' I whispered so faintly I wasn't sure he heard. Closing my eyes as I tried to read his mind.

..What? Morgana, can you hear me?'

"Yes." I murmured back.

'We aren't alone?'

"No."

'An enemy?'

"Yes." I murmured in his ear.

Try pinpointing their location. Once we get something, I'll attack. The fact we can't sense them... It's Fae..

"Ok." I murmured, caressing his fur and remaining calm.

We both knew this may happen, after all, from the attacks we knew Fae were moving through our kingdom.

wa

I could throw some daggers and see if any hit anything, or... My gaze fell to Kian's bow that was on my back. I could use the knives as my first attack, following with a few arrows. Luckily, the blades had poisoned tips, perfect to use against fae.

I stroked Thanatos' fur, hoping he understood me, I needed him to keep moving.

"Keep running." I murmured, slowly removing a few knives from Kian's pouch slowly.

I closed my eyes, trying to focus on reading the minds of those around me once again.

...on it, you attack from the left. The sun is almost gone, let it set then.'

'Make sure the poison hits first.'

'Understood Falian.'

I took a deep breath. Now was the time to use my speed and capabilities. Several daggers were at the ready and I knew I had one chance. Taking three daggers in each hand, I spun around, throwing them in all directions. I heard a grunt and a stain of blood, raising my hand as a blast of light came rushing towards us from the left. I slammed it back with a wave of power, taking the bow up, as a tall, slender man with dark hair and glowing eyes appeared, holding his own bow and arrow.

"Oh, so you knew?" He whispered.

I didn't entertain the enemy...

"Kian keep running!" I said, now sensing several presences.

Fuck, they must have been following us for some time! I raised my bow and began shooting arrow after arrow as fast as I could. A hundred years of practice was a long time to perfect the art. My hands were a blur, each arrow aiming to kill, shot with precision and power. (This novel will be daily updaed at )However, the fae were fast and powerful.

Another, which had the power of fire, kept sending spiralling balls of flame towards us. Kian growled and I knew he wanted to turn around.

"Kian on three." I murmured, that would give me enough time to jump off his back. "Three!" I shouted.

I did a backflip, landing on my feet, drawing my sword and slicing the head of one of the fae straight off. I blasted another back with my hand before appearing before him in a flash. He knocked me back, the ground trembling and roots erupted from the ground, wrapping around my entire body and slamming me to the ground brutally. Pain spasmed up my back, knocking the breath from me.

Kian bit my attacker's head off and rushed towards me, only for a Fae to intercept him.

I broke free, blasting the tree roots back and grabbing the sword I had dropped moments earlier, just as another fae with blazing red hair and eyes raised his own sword.

"Let's dance." He said, flashing me a deadly yet beautiful smile.

"I will let you lead." I said coldly.

He smirked, his sword suddenly coated with fire. He spun it, lunging at me in a fluid movement. His move remained beautifully elegant despite the clear aim to kill me burning in his eyes.

"How kind of you; a vampire working alongside a werewolf, marked by one... You chose the wrong side, my lady." He said, his silky voice laced with a darkness.

I spun around, drawing my other sword as well, and blocked him before taking the offence.

"I chose the correct side, it is you who did not!" I spared myself a moment to see Kian tearing through the fae, even with their powers. He was powerful, yet I could see how fast they were... No ordinary werewolf could last against so much.

"Care to share a name, my beauty?" He murmured.

"None of your damn business!" I snapped icily.

I sent a blast towards two who were working on creating a huge ball of fire to throw at Kian, knocking them backwards before I managed to nick the man before me across the cheek. His eyes flashed and he hissed, darting forward. At the last moment, I realised he was aiming for my weak point, the very same point that Kian had said I needed work on...

I barely managed to knock his sword aside, plunging my own straight into his chest. His eyes widened, but just then I felt a searing pain rip through me. A scream escaped my lips as agony made my entire body convulse, I fell to my knees as the man fell face forward, dead. I looked down at my body, clutching my waist, and saw the dagger that was impaled into my waist. I yanked it out with shaking hands, looking at the darkened blade.

Poison...

A menacing growl ripped through the air as I saw Kian stumble.

No... the mate bond connected us. He was feeling my pain...

Through stinging eyes, I looked around, seeing only two fae remained.

I am Morgana, Queen of Clair De Lune and the King's mate, and I will NEVER give up.

I forced myself to my feet, just as Kian pounced on one of the two, ripping him to shreds. I raised my sword, gripping my waist with the other hand and with everything I had, I threw it towards the final fae who was heading towards Kian, crackling electricity swirling around his hands.

My knife impaled him just as Kian turned, shifting back to human form, his eyes on me.

I gave him a small smile, hoping he understood I'm ok, before I toppled face forward to the ground, the smell of blood and dirt filled my nose. The searing, excruciating, overwhelming pain pulling me into its folds...
