

Mates with Alpha Maddox Chapter 13

Even though the silver hurts my hands when I touch it, I don't show it because by not showing weakness I make her fear me more.

Even though her eyes show the fear, her stance is defiant.

"Look, I do not like hurting woman, but since you are being a bitch and not telling me why you entered my territory I will have to torture it out of you" I warn.

She laughs, and not just any laugh. She starts laughing like a fucking hyena.

After she somewhat sobers up she speaks. "I don't really give a damn what you assholes like or not just let me fucking leave" she snaps.

"So brave" I say mockingly.

She shrugs, annoyed.

"Are you going to tell me why you are here?" I ask her.

"Nope" she says popping the 'P'

"Wrong answer bitch" I say with a sardonic smile, making my fingers turn into claws, I dip the tip of the nail into wolfsbane.

And ever so slowly I dig my wolfsbane infected claws into her skin, making a vertical gash.

She hisses and curses under her breath.

"Gonna tell me now?" I ask as if she wasn't currently bleeding and as if I wasn't the one who made her bleed.

"Fuck you" she gasps out.

Before she can even blink I punched her square in the face making her lip start bleeding badly.

"Shit" she curses.

"You know" I start. "I admire your pain endurance level. If it were someone else they would have been begging for mercy already. Not that you shouldn't do that now this is only the beginning" I say conversationally.

"Thanks, I admire yours. You touched that silver without showing a sign of pain you either don't feel pain or you know how to hide it pretty well and I will never beg for mercy" She tells me.

"You know its a shame that I will have to kill you" I say

She scoffs "ugh, don't tell me you got the hots for me"

My face twists in disgust. "Füück no, I have a mate and I respect her" I say, looking at her and not believing she thought for even a second that I would actually betray Jayda who is perfect in every way for another she wolf.

"Well then, sorry" she says, her lips quirking up. "Lets hope your mate is as faithful as you are, you never know. She could be off fooling around with another guy like the little slut she is" she finishes, a self satisfied smirk plastered on her face.

I start clawing at her stomach with all I have. Blood is pouring out of it and I can see her loosing consciousness but before she can completely faint I say.

"Never mess with an Alpha's mate" I was about to slice her throat when the door burst open and an angry Kyle storms over to me tackling me to the floor.

He yells something but I don't pay attention to it. He starts punching me and I am too confused to punch back, when I finally snap out of it I flip us over so I am on top and start pounding my fist on his face. He started bleeding but I just didn't give a crap. My wolf had taken over long ago and He didn't care that Kyle was my brother all he cared was how Kyle attacked us.

Suddenly I hear Jayda scream "Maddox stop you are going to kill him"

What the hell is she doing here?

Even though she tells me to stop, I don't because I am still angry.

"Maddox, if you don't stop right now I swear I will leave you and never come back" Jayda says loudly making me stop mid punch.

I am not going to lie, what she said hurts, she would leave me and nerver come back. In the short time that I've known her I have grown attached to her like I have never been attached to someone before. I would never leave her.

Then I see Jayda holding the rogue girl making me snarl.

"What are you doing with that rogue Jayda?" I growl out.

"This is Ellie, my friend the one who has been there for me ever since I shifted, don't call her a rogue" she pleads softly.

I just stare at her and then storm out of the cellars. When i am outside Garret and Valen are still guarding the door.

"Get the fuck out of here" I roar.

"But Alpha-" Valen starts.

"Out" I cut him off making them both bow their heads and leave.

I run my hands through my hair and punch a nearby tree making it split in two.

Since my anger hasn't simmered down I decide on going for a run. I shift into my black wolf and sprint through the woods.

After about three hours of running and hunting I decide that I am calm enough to go home.

I shift back and put on some basketball shorts that were hidden between some trees, since my clothes had shredded when I shifted.

I walk towards Jayda and l's house and on my way there I see many of the pack villagers walk by me but they don't dare to look at me. I guess my face still shows how pissed off I am right now.

I get there and come inside, the first thing I do is sniff the air to see if I het Jayda's scent. And I do get it but its really faint so that means that she hasn't been here since this morning.

Rage filled me. I mean she isn't going to come back! But then again who would come back when she has such a fuck up for a mate.

I flip the couches over and punch the tv. I throw vases to the floor and kick everything in sight. I go upstairs and the sorrow fills me.

Jayda isn't here, that means she is going to leave me.

I was thinking about Jayda leaving me and suddenly I feel something wet on my face. I touch my face and find out where that water came from.

My eyes, meaning they are tears. How pathetic, the big bad Alpha is crying. I furiously wipe the tears away and put my head in my hands.

I don't know how long I stayed like that but I heard the door of the room and when I looked up I saw Jayda.

I quickly stand up and wrap my arms tightly around her.

"I am so sorry" I say kissing her neck.

"Its okay" Jayda says breathlessly.

"No its not, I didn't know she was your friend if I would've known I wouldn't have hurt her. at first I was angry, i went for a run and when I calmed down I realized the mistake I've made. Then you still hadn't come home and I thought you left me" I say, cursing at myself because my voice breaks at the end.

She hugs me tighter "I don't think I could leave you even if I wanted too" she says.

"Why's that?" I ask, I mean a few hours ago she threatened to leave me can't judge me for being a little skeptical.

"Because I already love you" she says shyly, making my heart stop and my eyes widen.

"You what?" I ask. A face splitting grin taking over my features.

"I-i love you Maddox" Jayda says looking me straight in the eyes.

I kiss her passionately and when I pull away I say. "I love you too, Jayda"
