

Mates with Alpha Maddox Chapter 51

Jayda's POV

I am so angry at Maddox. I just feel so damn angry!

As I walk towards Ellie's house I think about how funny I must look. A blonde girl with maternity jeans a huge round stomach covered by a tank top and a scowl on her face while wobbling her way to places.

Oh well.

As I reach Ellie's door Someone taps my shoulder and I push my elbow backwards jabbing the person in the stomach.

I turn around to see Ellie with a huge grimace in her face.

"I'm sorry, didn't someone ever tell you not to sneak up on a pregnant woman" I say and Ellie just shrugs.

"It doesn't hurt anymore" then grins "I saw you give that motivating speech, I am so proud of you Jay!"

I smile "It was good wasn't it?"

"Don't toot your own horn Jayda" Ellie rolls her eyes.

"Let me be happy!" i whine.

Ignoring me, Ellie walks into her house and I follow behind, making sure to close the door as soon as I was inside. I didn't want the psycho to come in when I told my best friend about my problems.

"Ellie, lets go to the living room. I need to talk to you"

i say and sit on the recliner, Ellie sits on the the sofa.

"Okay, what's up. Tell momma what's bothering you" She says with humor in her voice.

I roll my eyes "Maddox is a dick"

Ellie snorts "I'm not supposed to talk shit about my Alpha"

I pout "I'm your best friend, let me vent"

"Alright but you better not tell on me" Ellie warns and I roll my eyes.

"I'd never to that Eli"

"Just wanna to make sure" she shrugs.

Ignoring that I say "He said so many things to me, I mean he basically said he only cares about me because of our pups and if I didn't have then I could do whatever I wanted for all he cared" I say, rubbing my stomach. My babies kept moving a around and kicking.

It was getting uncomfortable but I was used to it.

"What an asshole" Ellie explodes. "How dare he say that? You better not forgive him that easily! I am literally so mad! If he wasn't my Alpha I would whoop his ass, who does he think he is treating my best friend like that! You are an independent woman. You don't need him!" She seethes.

I sigh "I know, and no I haven't forgiven him yet. I won't let anyone treat me like that not even him"

Ellie nods "You shouldn't let anyone treat you like that"

"It just hurt, he basically said he doesn't need me" I frown sadly.

Ellie scowls "He does need you, and we'll show him. When all of this is over we will take a trip. Only the two of us and we'll not talk to our mates during that trip."

"Are you mad at Kyle?" i ask.

She shakes her head "Nope, but sisters before misters. And if you don't talk to your mate for a week I won't talk to mine. Plus I am pretty sure we'll have wild sex when I come back"

I snort "Of course"

"Good sex life is the key to a long life." Ellie says.

I burst out laughing and Ellie says "So I will never die"

"You are unbelievable" I say still laughing.

"You love it"

"That I do, really thanks for being there for me. You've been there since I shifted, when I met Maddox and now through my pregnancy. I am going to miss you so much when you move away" I say sadly.

"I will miss you too but I will visit a lot. I'll call you every chance I get and I will spoil my nieces or nephews rotten." She says and stands up and hugs me tightly.

After she sits back down I rest my head against the recliner.

I start feeling a migraine coming and sigh. This day couldn't get any worse.

"You okay?" Ellie asks.

"I have a headache but I will be alright. I just have to rest." I mumble closing my eyes.

"I'll go get you some medicine, be right back" she says and I mumble a quick mhm.

I hear her walk up the stairs, my eyes still closed until I hear her cussing and things being thrown around upstairs.

I quickly shift and run up the stairs. Bursting through the door I see Ellie fighting with an unknown guy. Probably about Maddox's age.

Not wasting a second I quickly aim for the guys hands, he has 2 syringes on each hand so if I somehow was able to make him drop them i'd be able to kill him easily.

He moves his hand out of the way but I manage to clamp my jaw around his leg, I shake my head tearing his leg up, blood starts sipping out of his leg and into my mouth, Ellie tries to take the syringes from his hands but he someone manages to stick two of them in her arm.

She instantly jumps back "You crazy fucker I will kill you!" She starts walking towards him but soon collapses on the floor making me run towards her. Even with his bleeding leg he smirks at me.

"Say goodbye to your friend, also you should check your back" confused I look at my back and see a syringe there, still inside my skin. I swipe it away, when I look back he is gone, a blood trail showing me he left through the opened window on Ellie's room.

I look out the window and don't see any other trail of the killer. When I am sure he left i go back to Ellie.

She was laying on the floor. Her eyes fluttering, her mouth kept opening and closing slightly.

I nudged her but all she did was look at me, a single tear running down her face.

Refusing to let her die I grab her by the scruff of her shirt and start carrying her down the stairs. I was still in my wolf form just in case someone decided to attack.

My body starts feeling heavy and just as I reach the door, I collapse.

I struggle to move, to make a sound but its to no avail.

And then everything stops, and I embrace the feeling of nothingness.

Because I have nothing left to do but welcome the darkness.

Mates with Alpha Maddox Chapter 52

Jayda's POV

I wake up with a startled scream.

When I remember all of the events that had previously happens I look to my left and there Ellie is laying on the ground unconscious.

Why am I awake and she is still unconscious?

I shift back to my human form and start shaking her.

"Wake up Ellie, I will beat your ass if you don't" Her eye flutter slightly but she doesn't move. I quickly put on an oversized shirt and try to find a way to pick her up.

It would have been easy before but now with a pregnant belly its 100 times harder.

I was in the middle of my struggling when I head a voice from the top of the stairs.

I look up and my eyes meet the same guy who attacked Ellie and I.

"You crazy son of a bitch, I will kill you" I start advancing towards me but after I take 5 steps, he raises a gun I didn't know he had.

I immediately stop in my tracks.

He smiles darkly.

"You know..." He trails off.

I scowl "Don't talk to me, I will kill you. I swear I will rip you piece by piece. I will rip off your dick and force feed it to you!"

He smirks "I quite like a dick in my mouth, just maybe not my own. Garret's on the other hand. Mmm, delicious"

"Garret? You like Garret?!" I ask frantically.

"Mm never mind that, lets just focus on the now" He smiles lazily.

"I don't even know why I am having this conversation with a pussy who hides behind his syringes!" I snap.

His eyes snap to mine as his face contorts in anger. "Listen here Jayda" he says my name mockingly "You need to stop talking to me like that. If you don't show me some respect-"

I cut him off "Respect? Are you crazy? You sure as hell fucking are if you think I am going to respect you!" I growl.

"It's simple, my little Jayda. You disrespect me again and I will shot your precious little pups" As soon as he finished that sentence he pointed the gun to my stomach.

I cover my stomach "Y-You wouldn't" I say, my braveness deflating.

"Oh but I would, now unto the important things." He smiles at me.

I stare at him wearily, walking backwards and laying on the floor next to Ellie. Shaking her slightly while he spoke.

I kept trying to mind link Maddox or anyone I could think off but nothing would work, my brain felt hazy not letting me concentrate.

"Are you listening to me?" The guy roars.

And I snap my eyes back to his gun that was still pointed at my stomach.

"I really wasn't" I say trying to sound strong but in the inside I was shitting myself. I was helpless here, he could just decide to shoot my stomach and that would kill my babies.

I decided to act nicely, maybe that way he wouldn't harm my babies.

"I mean, I was distracted. Please tell me what you were saying" I mumble one of my hands protectively around my stomach and shaking Ellie, trying to wake her up with the other.

He sighs dramatically "As I was saying your friend is as good as dead"

My eye filled up with tears instantly. The thought of losing my best friend killing me inside.

"D-Do you have s-something to help her? I-I swear I'll let you go j-just save her" I ask, I would do anything to save my best friend.

He smirks "I'm afraid not, you are going to follow in her footsteps as well"

I pale "W-What?"

He rolls his eyes "What did you think I injected you with? Water? Of course you are going to die. Along with your pup. Your mate will be left alone knowing he couldn't save his mate from me just like he couldn't save his sister from my dear father"

I gasp "You are that disgusting's son of a bitch son?"

"You know, I was 18 when your mate killed him. Now you are 18 when I kill your friend and pack" he grins.

I feel my head all blurry, nothing makes sense "Why am I not knocked out like Ellie?"

He grins "Ah, smart girl. Well the answer to that would be that you weren't injected with the same thing your friend was."

I gape at him "What did you do to me?"

"I was thinking, i have been for years. What could hurt a heartless alpha who only cares about himself? I knew that killing pack members would hurt him a little bit since he has a connection to them but I wanted to hurt him a lot" He says caressing the gun with his finger tips.

"You know what, I am tired of your bullshit I-" He cuts me off.

"I'm not finished, sit down." He raises his gun again and I comply. "Then I heard he found his mate and I thought I should kill her. And I was going to kill you but then I had brilliant idea. What could hurt Maddox more than you killing yourself?"

I snort "I would never kill myself"

He raises an eyebrow "and why's that?"

I shrug "I love my life, I found my soulmate and I am about to have my babies"

"So the fact that your friend is about to die because of you doesn't make you the tiniest bit guilty? The fact that if she wouldn't have gone upstairs to get you some medicine because you were being a whiny bitch she wouldn't have seen me and she would be joking with you still on that sofa" he points to the light yellow couch.

"She. Is. Not. Going. To. Die." I growl out.

He waves me off "She is, but even if you are a heartless bitch like your mate the liquid I injected you with is how do I say this? Mmm special."

“What do you mean?” I ask, my chest constricting in fear.

He smirks “Let’s just say, it messes with your mind”

“What do you-” I start but he cuts me off.

“You’ll find out soon enough, now its my time to head out. This is probably the last time I see you. So see ya in hell” he smirks and starts turning around.

I quickly stand up and start running towards him, determined to end that sorry excuse of a man’s life.

Things didn’t go as planned because when he realized what was happened he turned back around and shot me.

Immediately I knew the bullet was silver because of the burning feeling.

I felt a pain I had never felt before, I felt my shoulder was going to fall off.

When I looked at the top of the stairs the guy was nowhere to be seen.

I looked down at Ellie who was still on the floor and with my non hurting arm I pulled her up.

But since she was too heavy for me to carry with my arm like that she fell down again.

With my eyes filled with tears I run towards the door and unlock it.

“Help, somebody help. Ellie s-shes hurt! HELP” I scream at the top of my lungs. Surely since I am in a pack with hundreds of werewolves one of them must’ve heard me.

I yell for help one more time then go back to Ellie.

“Ellie c’mon Ellie. Wake up, I need you. My babies need you. Kyle needs you.” I say frantically but she doesn’t say anything. “Ellie! ELLIE! Please, I n-need you. What am I g-going to do without my best friend?” i say, tears running down my face.

“Help, SOMEBODY FUCKING HELP!!” I yell, choking up on my cries.

Then I feel arms wrap around my shoulders and I start thrashing around.

“Leave me alone, I will kill you, I will fucking kill you!” I yell my voice scratchy.

“Calm down, it’s me. Jayda it’s me Maddox. I need to take you to the pack doctor. Your shoulder is bleeding a lot” Maddox says taking me away from Ellie.

“No, let me go. I’m okay. Ellie needs help. Help her please. I’m okay. There’s nothing wrong with me. Help her” I say quickly, my chest is heaving up and down and I start having a hard time breathing.

“Jayda Calm down, take deep breaths. Breath.” Maddox says his blue green eyes trying to lock in mine but I avert my gaze. Looking around frantically.

“No, no, no” I mumble, looking around trying to find Ellie but I don’t see her “Where’s Ellie? Where did they take her?! I need to find her. Ellie, I need her” I scream.

Maddox stares at me, worry clear in his features.

“I’ll take you to Ellie, she is in the infirmary.

I nod and walk with Maddox to the infirmary, every few seconds looking around. I felt somebody looking at me . Someone was following me. They wanted to hurt me.

I stop in my tracks, making Maddox frown.

“I know you are there, fuck you. I will kill you, just you fucking wait!” I yell, my eyes crazed.

Maddox grabs my wrist making me jump “We need to see Dr. Jenny now” he says and starts walking again.

“No, but they are following us Maddox. We need to kill them” I say

“Now” Maddox orders and starts dragging me.

When we reach the infirmary I quickly follow the scent that lead me to Ellie.

“She was plugged into a machine her eyes not opening.

“I don’t think she is going to make it” Dr. Jenny says.

I turn around “If you don’t save her I will kill you”

“Jayda, you need to get your shoulder check out” Maddox says gruffly.

“I need to me here for my bestfrie-” I get cut off my the unmistakable beep of the machine.

A beep I didn’t want to hear.

A beep that meant that Ellie’s heart was no longer beating.

Mates with Alpha Maddox Chapter 53

I rush towards the hospital bed “Ellie wake up, Ellie wake up please I need you. E-Ellie don’t do this to me. Please c-come back.”

I start sobbing, my tears wetting Ellie’s hospital gown.

“Ellie, please. Please, please please please, come back Ellie. Come back. Don’t leave me” I beg, the tears never stopping.

Maddox pulls me away from Ellie. “Jayda calm down” he says but I don’t listen I keep repeating “Don’t leave me, come back” over and over again.

Before I now it Maddox lays me down on a hospital bed and ties me down to it with some elastic the nurse handed him.

“Let me go, now. Let me fucking go” I yell.

Maddox leaves the room to talk to Dr. Jenny.

“What’s wrong with her? She has this crazed look in her eye. She keeps saying someone is following her. Is she going to be alright?” I hear Maddox ask.

“She must be in shock, she’s been through a lot in these past few hours. She just needs to rest. I will give her a tranquilizer. She will be out for a few hours. You better just go find the killer” Dr. Jenny says.

“I can hear you talking about me! Let me go! Now!” I yell.

Dr. Jenny appears out of nowhere, Maddox behind her “By the time you wake up your shoulder will be all better” and will that she takes a syringe and sticks it on my arm.

Almost immediately I feel my muscles relaxing and I fall asleep.

I feel myself being roughly shaken awake. When my eyes open I see Marco standing there with a smile on his face.

I hear voices in my head, I can’t make out what they are saying. They are all speaking at the same time. They aren’t loud but they are still annoying.

“Marco? What are you doing here?” I ask.

He grins at me “They let me go, they figured out I wasn’t the bad guy”

The voices start getting louder “Oh, okay, what time is it?”

“Eh, about 4 in the morning. How about we go for a walk?” He suggest.

My eyes widen “I can’t get out, i’m not allowed to. Plus I am strapped to the hospital bed” I say.

He shrugs “Its just for a little while and I can help you out” And then he unclips the two clips that were making me stay in the bed.

He holds his hand out “Let’s go Jayda, trust me. We are friends”

I nod and grab onto his hand. Walking out of the hospital room.

“Is Ellie okay?” I ask Marco, tuning out the voices in my head.

He shakes his head “She’s dead”

“Can I go see her? T-to say goodbye?” I ask, my voice weak.

He shakes his head once more “That wouldn’t be a good idea. Kyle hates you, because its your fault Ellie is dead and Maddox kinda does too. That’s why he wasn’t there when you woke up”

We keep walking silently until we get to a small clearing.

My eyes water “I’m sorry, I wanted to help her” I say unable to keep it in any longer.

He shrugs “But you didn’t”

I pull my hand out of his “I tried!”

He gives me a hug and in the most sincere voice he says “And you failed, and now she is dead”

I feel my chest constrict “I miss her”

“Good, its normal to miss her. To know that you will never ever see her again” he says pulling away.

“Why are you telling me this things? I thought we were friends?” I ask, looking at him incredulously, I felt like I was about to cry all over again.

Marco pats my head “We are friends, that’s why I am telling you all of this. Friends tell each other everything. Friends help each other.”

And then all of the voices in my head get louder and louder until up until the point that they are screaming.

All they say is "Do it" over and over again.

I put my hand on my ears, I crumble to the floor and shake my head, trying to get rid of the voices.

"Stop, please. No shut up" I say in between sobs, the voices kept getting louder by the second.

"What should I do? Why do you keep saying do it?! What do I need to do?" I ask whoever was in my head.

A hand on my shoulder makes me jump "You need to end it Jay" I turn to look but Marco isn't there anymore. In his place is Ellie.

I quickly stand up and hug her "Ellie, I thought you were dead! Thank God you are here. I love you so much"

Ellie smiles "But I am dead" she pulls away "You killed me"

I gasp "N-No I would never do that. You are like m-my sister. And y-you aren't dead. You are here"

Suddenly she starts turning a greyish color and her skin starts looking rotten "Look at me, do I look alive to you?" She laughs "You killed me, you let him inject me with that and now I'm dead. I think it's only fair that you die too."

I got down on both knees, hugging Ellie's legs. "Please forgive me, I should have saved you. I'm sorry"

"You're sorry? You ruined my family. There is no excuse for what you did. You shouldn't have been born. If you hadn't my mom wouldn't have suffered as much" I look up to see Jayson looking at me with a glare.

"Jayson, I-I its not my fault. I didn't choose to be born" I say.

"But you were, thanks to you and your mom. Dad made my mom suffer. If only you would have stayed out of our lives everything would have been better without you!" he screams at me.

"Jayson I am so sorry, please forgive me. I love you! You are my little brother" I tell him but he rolls his eyes.

"Want me to forgive you?" He asks.

I nod frantically "Yes, I'll do anything"

He grins “End it”

“W-What? Why would you tell me that?” I look into Jayson’s blue eyes and watch them turn brown, then his face changes. And before I know it Kyle is in front of me. Looking at me with so much hate I flinch.

“You killed her” he says with venom.

“N-No I didn’t Kyle, you know I love Ellie” I say.

He grabs me by the throat “You were supposed to die, Ellie did nothing but be there for you and you let her die. Now she is rotting while you are here living your life”

“I tried to save her! She wouldn’t wake up” I say and he starts squeezing my neck.

I start struggling to breath “Please, let me go Kyle.” I choke out.

I close my eyes, feeling the oxygen leave my body and then I open them again when the grip loosens completely.

I see Maddox standing in front of me and I quickly hug him.

“Oh Maddox” I say crying into his shoulder.

He grabs me at arms length and looks at me with a concerned gaze “Are you okay?”

“Yeah now that you are here I’m okay, they kept telling me to end it” I say tears running freely down my face.

He frowns “Then why haven’t you?”

I freeze “What?”

He caresses my cheek “Why haven’t you ended it yet?”

I stare at him “You want me to kill myself?”

He nods, kissing my forehead “It will be the best for all of us. You are like a sickness. If we don’t get rid of you now we could all die. Just like Ellie.”

“B-But what a-about my babies? Our pups? They will die too” I stutter, putting my hands over my big stomach protectively.

“What babies? You aren’t pregnant.” Maddox mumbles, giving me a kiss on the lips. “I would never have a pup with someone as disgusting as you”

I then look down at my stomach and its flat, no bump no anything.

I'm not pregnant.

I never was, I'm crazy.

"I'm not pregnant" I state and he grins.

"I know"

"I thought I was" I say running a hand through my knotted blonde hair.

"Well you thought wrong" he rolls his eyes.

"I am your mate" I say.

"I am aware of that" he mumbles.

"Why do you want your mate dead? There won't be a Luna" I try to convince him, I really don't want to die.

He bops my nose "Of course there will be a Luna, silly. Anna will take your place. I have always been in love with her but you ruined everything like always"

I stare at him, still crying. "How can I end it? Will I get rid of the voices?"

He grabs me by the waist and gives me a deep kiss then He pulls out a silver knife.

I shakily take the knife.

"Good girl" he praises.

I put the tip against my stomach but Maddox shakes his head. Guiding the knife towards my neck and putting it side ways.

"Do I just slice?" I ask shakily.

"Just slice"

"Thank you, now I know this is the only way" I say, a smile gracing my lips.

I won't hurt anyone else.

Mates with Alpha Maddox Chapter 54

Maddox POV

I had been going crazy trying to find the killer when Garret appears looking distressed.

“What happened?” I ask him in my authoritative voice.

“I-I we need to find the Luna” He says breathlessly.

“Why? What happened?” I ask, immediately giving him my full attention.

“Just....Keep an eye on her. It’s for the best” he mumbles.

“What are you not telling me?” I growl.

“Just please go keep an eye on your mate or give me permission to stay with her” Garret insists.

I glare at him but make my way to the infirmary nonetheless.

When I get there everything is a wreck.

The first thing that comes to mind is that the killer attacked again but upon closer inspection I see that everyone is alive just really badly hurt.

The 13 people that were in the building at the moment were unconscious on the floor, but thankfully breathing.

I walk towards Jayda’s hospital bed and see that she isn’t there. The straps that were holding her down broken.

I shake awake a nurse that was on the floor.

“Where the hell is my mate?” i growl.

He stares at me for a few seconds until his eyes widen and he starts stuttering “T-The Luna a-attacked e-everyone. S-She has a crazy look in her eyes and She was too s-strong fo-r us to overpower her”

I stare at him “You are fucking telling me a heavily pregnant woman with an injured shoulder and drugged on tranquilizers over powered 13 fully capable werewolves?”

He nods shamefully.

“Where the hell did she go?” I seethe

” I don’t know” he winces.

Cursing to myself I walk out of the infirmary and try to find Jayda’s scent.

When I finally catch her scent I run towards it.

I find Jayda in the middle of a clearing just talking to herself.

Not just the normal talking to herself she is actually having an argument of some sort with herself.

She then does something that makes my blood run cold.

She takes a knife that I hadn't noticed she was holding and puts it up to her stomach she then frowns and takes the knife away.

I Start approaching her slowly, not wanting to scare her and thinking she realized that what she wanted to do was a bad idea.

But then she brings the knife to her neck and I start running, my heart beating fast.

When I reach her I snatch the knife away from her.

Jayda's unfocused eyes land on my face.

"Maddox, you told me to end it. Please let me end it. Its for the best" she mumbles over and over again.

"Jayda what the fuck where you thinking? You were going to kill yourself? What about our pups?" I yell, and try to shake some sense into her.

She rolls her eyes "I am not pregnant Maddox" She pokes her round stomach "See? No baby here"

"You are pregnant! But what about me, you were going to leave me?" I ask, my throat closing up at the thought of what could have happened.

She taps my head "It's okay Maddox, like you said. You will have Anna. And I am alright with that. I realized the problem I caused you two. Now please hand me back my knife so I can be happy"

"Are you fucking crazy?" I growl and start dragging her to Nikki's house.

I knock loudly until Luke opens the door.

As soon as he sees its me he relaxes.

"What happened?" he asks.

“You and Nikki watch her, she has been trying to kill herself I don’t know why. She has gone insane. All I need you to do is to watch her until I get back. Tie her up if you need to” And with that I leave.

I needed to talk to Garret and figure out how he knew.

Garrets POV

I walk into the cellars in look of Marco. I had to talk to him about everything.

“Have you seen Xavier?” i ask him as soon as I know no one is listening.

“Yeah, he was here a while ago. Little fuckers decreased security on the cellars to secure the rest of the place” Marco mocks.

I scowl “Don’t say that! They are my pack!”

Marco smirks “Who you betrayed”

“What could I do? Xavier is my mate! I have to be with him!” I defend.

“I’m not judging, I’m just as bad. I pretended to be Jayda’s friend just so no one would suspect. They still did” He snorts.

“You should have seen that coming” I shrug.

“Well who cares Garret, even if it didn’t. Jayda is about to die soon” He says nonchalantly.

I freeze “What? The Luna? You can’t hurt the Luna”

“Jeez, Calm down. Xavier knew how adamant you were on him not hurting the Luna and since he loves you so much he decided to make her do it herself” Marco says.

“What do you mean?” I ask carefully.

He injected her with a drug that will make her suicidal for as long as its in her system. It also makes her hallucinate. It’s hilarious”

I gape at him “How dare he? I told him not to mess with the Luna or Alpha. I was born to protect them”

“Ugh whatever, free me” Marco orders.

“Go to hell” I snap and leave the cellars.

I quickly find Maddox and convince him to go get Jayda, hoping it is not too late.

Then I start looking for my mate, the guy who manipulated me into helping him get Marco into the pack and a whole map of the pack.

I call him through mind link. Since we are mates we can mindlink whenever we want even if he isn't in a pack.

'Where are you?' I ask.

'Behind you, by the way nice ass' Xavier replies and I quickly turn around to see my mate.

"Why the fuck did you drug her?" I growl.

He raises an eyebrow "Who? The pregnant bitch?"

"Don't call her that Xav! She is my Luna" I snap.

He glares at me. "And I am your mate. You should only care about me not some stupid alpha couple"

"I have been caring about you, but I can't do it anymore. I realized that you don't love me. All you do is manipulate me." I say, looking away from him.

"I do love you, but I need to finish this first. I need to avenge my father's death first." Xavier says loudly.

"Bravo" I hear a voice and my eyes snap to my left where Maddox is standing with a dark smirk on his face.

"So you are the one who is betraying us?" Maddox asks aloud.

"Yes, he has been my eyes and ears as I planned to ruin your life" Xavier says smugly.

Maddox ignores him and looks directly at me. "Why would you help an asshole like him to avenge the death of his dad. The guy who raped Nicole"

I freeze.

Xavier didn't tell me that.

I turn to Xavier "You told me Maddox killed your dad because he was camping on the pack's border.

Xavier shrugs "It's almost the same thing"

Maddox scowls "I asked you a question, why would you help him?"

I look down at the floor "He is my mate"

"Hmm, good to know. Now I will kill you both, mind getting rid of those syringes or will I have to rip your arms off" He mumbles then shifts.

Xavier thinks about it for a second then shifts, all of his belts with the syringes falling to the floor.

I start sweating, I know Maddox can rip him to shreds but I can't find it in me to intervene. Maddox is my Alpha and Jayda is my Luna. And she is hurt because of him.

Because of me.

He lied to me and turned me against my pack.

So instead of getting in the fight I sit on the floor next to Xav's syringes and gun.

He has all kinds of different syringes filled with different drugs inside. Some lethal some still bad but not lethal.

I stare at the gun that was also laying on the floor.

When I look back up Xav's grey wolf is fighting Maddox's black one.

They are both bleeding heavily, Xavier tackles Maddox to the ground and once He is on top of Maddox he starts destroying his front paw to the point I see bone then his jaw locks on his leg and I hear the distinct sound of a bone breaking and I know he destroyed Maddox's front leg.

Maddox whines but then somehow his canines sink into Xavier's shoulder making him let go of Maddox paw.

Maddox pushes Xavier with his hind legs and he crashes onto a nearby tree.

Maddox licks his way towards Xav who is now standing back up.

Maddox's legs was crushed, he wasn't able to run around and be fast and that was an advantage to Xavier.

Xavier's disadvantage is that the only way he know how to fight is with his syringes and gun. He never trained in wolf form. Also the fact that Maddox kept taking chunks of flesh everytime he got close wasn't helping either

Maddox wouldn't stop until he killed my mate.

And I don't think I would stop him.

Maddox slowly makes his way to Xav, making sure his unharmed leg didn't touch the ground.

Then before I can even blink Maddox's teeth were on Xavier's neck.

I gasp and make my way to stand up.

My mate is going to die.

"M-Maddox, p-please" I plead.

Maddox face turns to me, Xavier's neck still between his canines and just as our eyes meet he clamps his mouth shut. Crushing Xavier's neck. Killing him.

He then lets Xavier fall to the ground, shifting into his human form. his neck was flat with bite marks all over it and blood was seeping from his mouth and nose.

"Y-you killed him" I sob.

"Yes I did Garret, and you are lucky I didn't kill you too. Leave my pack immediately and if I ever see you again you are dead" Maddox says glaring at me.

"I can't go on, sorry for what I helped do to Jayda, Ellie and the rest of the pack members" and with that I close my eyes, grab the gun, put it against my temple and pull the trigger.

BOOM.

And then it was over.

Mates with Alpha Maddox Chapter 55

Maddox's POV

I stare, at Garret's dead body for a few more seconds and shrug.

I gave him a choice.

Putting on some shorts that were hidden under a tree I start limping my way to Nikki's house, the asshole really fucked up my leg, he took a huge chunk out and you could see bone.

Also when I walked I felt a little 'click' meaning it's also most likely broken.

But even though I am in pain at the moment my main priority is my mate, she wasn't in a good state when I left her and I need to check up on her.

when I reach the door its locked so I knock.

Nikki opens the door, a scared look in her eyes.

"Maddox get in here, she's insane" Nicole says, grabbing my arm and pulling me inside.

Nicole leads me to her room, as soon as I enter I see Jayda on the floor, her hands around her ears and rocking back and forth.

Her eyes, wide and looking around in paranoia.

"Jayda...It's me Maddox. Come here" I say softly.

Jayda jumps at the sound of my voice and her eyes snap to mine.

"I need to end it! Get out! Get out!" She yells and grabs a base from and throws it at me.

I dodge it and it crashes behind me.

"Take a deep breath my love, calm down." I whisper, trying to act as calm as possible when in reality I didn't know how to handle the situation.

I look to my left to see Luke holding unto his arm. He had a long gash going down his abdomen.

"What happened?" I ask.

"She somehow got a hold of a knife and I took it away from her but not before she did this" He says motioning to his very bloody injury.

I scowl "Jayda, this is enough. Stop it this isn't funny"

"Make the voices stop" She whispers, pulling at her blonde hair.

Then suddenly she freezes and starts holding her big stomach.

Jayda clenches her eyes and groans in pain.

I am too focused on her face to notice something vital.

Nicole gasps "Her water just broke"

My heart starts beating rapidly and I run a hand through my dark hair.

“Jayda honey, we need to go to Dr. Jenny right now”

She stops clenching her eyes and shakes her head. A few minutes later it starts again.

“The contractions are two minutes apart. We need to get her to the clinic right now.” Nicole urges.

“How the fuck am I supposed to do that? She gets crazy when we get close. She could hurt herself” I snap.

“Well the longer we wait the longer the babies are in danger” Nicole snaps back.

Taking a deep breath I say “Jayda, it’s true. You need to end it. That’s the only way the voices will stop” I say, taking cautious steps towards her.

She looks up at me and nods, looking to be in a haze.

“I do need to end it” She mumbles.

“I’ll help you. Come on I know how to help you end it. You trust me right?” I say.

As soon as I am close enough she start screaming “Get away from me! I’m the only one that can end it!”

Tired of everything I quickly grab her and put her over my shoulder which is way harder with her huge baby bump but I made it work.

“No! Let me go! Please I need to make it stop” She screams in my ear.

“I am tired of this, we are going to see Dr. Jenny and you are going to give birth then they will find out what’s making you act crazy” I yell back.

“I am not acting crazy Just let me go!” She yells and starts kicking her legs around.

I wince when one of those kicks hits my injured leg but keep I don’t stop.

As soon as I get to the infirmary I call out to Dr. Jenny.

She is quick to show us to a private room where she straps Jayda up to the bed and gives her a sedative.

Dr. Jenny had a huge bump on her forehead and she kept looking at Jayda with fear.

“Alpha, do you mind staying? To make sure the Luna doesn’t escape and hurt everyone again” Says Jenny.

“I wasn’t planning on leaving”

“Perhaps before we start on the Luna we can check on your leg. It looks pretty bad” She suggest.

I shake my head “Jayda is in fucking labor, I’ll heal”

“I’m sorry but if you let me just bandage it at least. It would make the healing process faster” she insists.

“I said no” I snap.

“Very well, at this point the only option would be a caesarean section. She is in no state of mind to have a natural birth. Also there are more than one baby and a natural birth is much more complicated when its more than one”

“Aren’t we going to check what made her go crazy?” Nicole asks from beside me and I glare at her.

“It would make things way easier if she gave birth first so we can do all the test we need without any inconvenience” Jenny answers, putting something in Jayda’s IV.

“Oh okay” Nicole says.

“I am going to ask all you, Luke and Nicole to step out of the room. Only Maddox can stay since it’s a c-section” Dr. Jenny orders pointing at the door.

Nikki looks like she wants to argue but complies.

“Is it normal that she is unconscious?” I ask.

“It is, we gave her strong medication, stronger than we usually do because of her state but it’s completely alright”

3 other nurses enter the room to assist the birth.

I wish I could say this was the most beautiful thing in the world but I really couldn’t.

Dr. Jenny grabbed a scalpel and made a horizontal cut on Jayda’s lower abdomen.

She then enters both hands through the cut.

I felt myself get nauseous and I roll my eyes at myself.

I just crushed someones neck with my mouth, I saw someone shoot themselves, I've tortured hundreds of people and I am about to puke my guts out because of my kids birth.

I am pathetic.

Jenny puts a metal object that opens up Jayda's stomach then shoves her hands back insidd Jayda's stomach.

Then, I see her start pulling from inside My mate's stomach.

First I see a little head, then a neck then the arms and before I know it my baby is out.

"Congratulations, it's a healthy baby boy. Helena get him cleaned up for the Alpha."
Jenny says then adds "One down, two to go"

Loud crying is heard and my heart swells.

I don't think I've ever smiled this big, bigger than when I found out I would be a dad.

I knew they were more than one babies but I didn't know they were going to be triplets. I thought twins.

The process was repeated 2 more times.

They were girls.

Boys better watch out, I could already imagine myself killing any little prick who messed with my little girls.

I walk towards Jayda who was still unconscious and give her a kiss on the forehead then whisper "We're parents"

I walk towards the baby hospital bed where my three newborn babies slept.

They were beautiful, I felt this urge to protect them I had never felt before.

I knew I'd do anything for them.

I wanted to hold them so bad, but they were so tiny.

I didn't wanna risk anything so I just settle with softly stroking their faces.

They all had Jayda's eyes and the girls were blonde but they boy had brown hair like me.

Nicole bursts through the door with Luke following behind.

“Let me see them! Oh my god they are so cute!” She exclaims making them all start crying.

I shot her a glare.

“Sorry” she says and quickly grabs one of the girls.

“What’s her name?” Luke asks.

“She doesn’t have one yet” I answer.

I hadn’t named them. Jayda and I had decided we would name them on the day of birth and right now she was unable to do that.

“Oh” Luke says then starts holding my other baby girl.

I decide to not be a whimp, And hold my baby boy.

He didn’t smile or anything, just slept in my arms.

Of course I wasn’t expecting otherwise they were born like 30 minutes ago.

I stared at my son, I will be a great father.

“You know” Nicole starts out of nowhere while cooing at my baby. “Luke and I are pregnant”

“That’s great, congratulations” I say smiling at them.

“Yeah, I need to come to the doctor weekly because its a risky pregnancy but it will be worth it”

“She’s awake” I hear Dr. Jenny say.

I quickly stand up and walk towards Jayda.

“Look, our babies. They are here” I say softly.

She just stares at me blankly.

“She won’t be responsive for at least 48 hours or longer. I had to give her some more sedatives and will have to keep doing it until the other drug is completely out of her system. She was injected with a drug that makes her hallucinate and hear things. It makes her suicidal.” Jenny informs me.

"What about the babies?" I ask.

"They are perfectly healthy, you can take them home whenever you want. Due to current circumstances I would understand if you'd want to leave them here for the nurses to take care of them until the Luna is all better" she replies.

I shake my head "No I'll take them home"

"Very well, I'll be out in my office if you need me" Dr. Jenny says then exits the room.

"If you want I can stay with you" Nicole offers but I shake my head.

"You're pregnant, with your situation you need to be resting" I say immediately and Luke nods

"It's true babe, you shouldn't be stressing out."

"I wouldn't be stressing out, I feel he needs help" Nikki insists.

"I can take care of my own children Nicole, thank you for the offer but I can do it."

I can't do it.

What was I thinking, I should've accepted Nikki's help.

It's already been 3 days and I haven't slept a wink.

Every time I try to take a nap one of the babies start crying, making the other two wake up and start crying as well.

The bags under my eyes seemed to get bigger by the second and I looked like complete and utter shit.

Not that I cared how I looked but I really wanted sleep.

The past three days I've had a schedule. Feed each baby every two hours (Jenny had given me formula), change their diapers and go visit Jayda.

That's where I spent most of the day.

I would just take care of the babies in the her hospital room while she looked at me blankly.

Everything else went back to normal in the pack except me.

I was currently a stay at home dad, so I let Jayda's dad in charge. Of course I made Luke tell me everything he did because I do not trust him at all.

I was currently bopping each of my babies nose.

Every time I did their blue eyes widened and they would try to grab my finger.

After a while, they all fell asleep and I just stared at them, looking all cute in their carriers.

I was so tired, but I just couldn't sleep.

Suddenly a voice startles me.

"I had them already? And they were 3?" My eyes snap to a confused looking Jayda and I quickly stand up from the sofa I was sitting at and walk towards her hospital bed.

"You're awake" I breath out.

"Woah, You look like shit" Jayda blurts out and I roll my eyes.

"Well, not sleeping does that to you"

"Um how long was I out?" She asks.

"You weren't really out you were just too drugged to function, But 3 days"

"You can explain everything to me later, can I hold my babies please?" She asks timidly and I nod quickly.

I put the three carriers in front of her.

"What should we name them?" I ask.

"They're beautiful" She says instead, her eyes watering. "They are so beautiful"

"They are" I mumble.

"I can't believe I missed their birth" She starts crying.

"You didn't really miss it, you were definitely there" I point out.

"I know but I don't remember any of it" she cries harder.

"It wasn't something pleasant, I almost vomited all over the floor. You had a c-section." I inform her.

“Oh, that’s why I feel sore” she sniffles.

“Yup, so about the names” I say again.

“Oh yeah, what do you think we should name them?” Jayda asks, looking at the babies with a smile, her tears long forgotten.

“I like Ava for one of the girls” I say.

“Can one of them be named Ella? You know in memory of Ellie” Jayda asks with a hopeful look and I nod.

“Yeah, It’s nice”

“So Ella and Ava, what about our baby boy? She asks.

“I’ve always liked the name Benjamin” I suggest.

“I like it”

Mates with Alpha Maddox Chapter 56

Jayda’s POV

“Mommy, I want to wear my new dress” My 5 year old daughter, Ella whines. Looking at her shorts in distaste.

“We are going to the park Ella” My other daughter Ava says, while picking up some of her toys.

“Yes, I’m sorry honey but you can’t wear your dress to the park. It will get dirty” I say, while rubbing some sunblock on Ella’s face just like I had done with Ava.

The door opens and Maddox walks in with Benjamin sitting on his shoulders.

“Be careful Maddox” I warn pointing a finger at him.

Benjamin gets closer to Maddox’s ear and whispers (whisper for him, it was quite loud)
“Momma is giving you the mommy look”

I roll my eyes with a grin and Maddox nods but flexes one arm, holding onto Benjamin with the other.

“The mommy look doesn’t work on me”

“She gave you the mommy look the other day and you had to do the dishes” Ava points out.

“Mommy rules” Ella yells.

Benjamin shakes his head “nuh-uh Daddy rules. He gave us ice cream this morning”

“Oh yes, sorry momma but daddy is better” Ella says with a shrug and Ava nods in agreement.

“You gave them ice cream when i left for my appointment at 8 in the morning?” I glare at Maddox.

“I might’ve given them a tiny bit, and hadn’t we all agreed on not telling mommy?” Maddox says.

Benjamin gasps “We weren’t supposed to to mommy”

Ava waves her hands around in front of my face wildly “This is all a dream, this isn’t real”

I stare at her blankly “Really Ava?”

Ava panics and moves to where Ella was standing.

“I’m not Ava, I’m Ella” Ava says.

Ella’s eyes widen “No! I’m Ella”

“Nuh-uh” Ava says.

“Yeah-uh” Ella says.

“Ava, leave your sister alone” Maddox orders.

“Fineee” Ava says with a pout.

“When can we go to the park?” Benjamin asks, as Maddox puts him down on the floor.

“When Aunt Nikki and Nate are ready” I answer, motioning him over so I can put some sun block on him.

“How long will that take? I want to go play” Benjamin whines.

“I’m not sure honey”

There's a knock on the front door and Ella, Ava and Benjamin both run towards it.

The door opens and we hear a faint "Aunt Nikki!"

"I can't believe you gave them ice cream" I say shaking my head as I stand up.

"They asked for some" He shrugs, grabbing my hand in his.

"You would think you being an Alpha you'd be able to say no" I say with a giggle.

"Well, someone's gotta be the fun parent" Maddox grins.

"Hey! I'm fun" I exclaim.

"Ehhh" Maddox teases.

"Whatever let's go" I say and walk hand in hand with him to where everyone was at.

Nicole was sitting on the sofa while Nate, her son played with Benjamin.

After I had my babies, I found out Nicole was pregnant with Nathan, Nate for short.

Now Nathan and Benjamin are inseparable.

"Hey Nikki" I say, with a small wave.

"Hi! You guys ready?" She asks.

"Is Luke coming?" Maddox asks.

"Nope, he's got the flu" Nicole says with a frown.

"Oh that sucks"

"Well blame Maddox for making him go patrolling when it was pouring cats and dogs"
Nikki says with a fake glare.

Maddox sticks his tongue out.

"I want to go to the park already" Ella exclaims.

"Then let's go to the park."
