

Alex's POV

af

After the stressful council meeting we came back to the pack house. As soon as we got there Mark literally told everyone! He kept babbling like a proud father. I left them in the main living room praising my encounter with Alpha Richard and went to my room, I needed some time alone to process that I had seen my mate after 2 years. I won't lie and say it didn't hurt because honestly it did. He was supposed to be mine, to love me and cherish me, yet he managed to make me feel worthless, unloving, he broke me in a matter of minutes. Luke restored all of that, he made me feel worth it, he loved me, he cherished me, and in a blink of an eye he threw it out the window. If there is one thing about me is that I forgive but I never forget. But am I really that bad? Or is this a curse? Selene was betrayed by her mate it must be a curse, I won't ever find love.

af

"Shut up Alex, your ranting is giving me a headache! We aren't cursed." Ayla said rolling her eyes at me.

af

I ignored her, she's been bitchy since we came back from the meeting, seeing Archer really affected her bipolar ass.

"He's our mate"-Ayla growled.

af

"Yeah a mate that rejected us. Who made us think we were fucking unworthy for over a year. Who mated with another bitch knowing our bond wasn't broken. I don't know what's up with you Ayla but I am going to say this loud and clear. If you think we are going back with the person who made us feel like trash you're wrong. Now you can either stick with me and support my decision or go against me. I love you so much Ayla but I won't let you push me to make a decision I don't want. I won't ever let anyone walk over me like a pathetic weak she-wolf."

af

"I'm so sorry Alex"-She whispered.

"I'm sorry Ayla, but this time I am the one taking you away from your mate"-I said and she whimpered. It broke my heart even more. But I can't let anyone hurt us again.

"What if we never get a second chance?"-Ayla said.

af

"Then so be it. We don't need a mate Ayla. We are strong and you know it. If we don't get a mate, we will find someone eventually but not now."

af

She will understand sooner or later. But I just hope she doesn't push me to make a decision I don't want.

"Alex we have a problem on our south border"-James said through mind link

"What is it James?"

"Alpha Williams is here with his second and third in command. He is requesting your presence."-James said.

af

"On my way"

af

"Mark, Carlos meet me now in the main living room now"-I said while slipping on my boots.

"Can my life get any more fucking difficult"-I growled walking out of my room towards the main living room.

af

"Alex, James already informed us. Let's get going"-Mark said.

We ran out to the woods and went behind a tree to shelter. It felt so good how the rain made my fur wet, how the smell of rain and wet dirt calmed my nerves. I grabbed my clothes with my sharp canines and walked towards Mark and Carlos.

af

"How is it possible that I'm 6'3 in human form and you are like 5'7 and your wolf is still bigger than mine"-Mark whined making me snort.

af

We ran as fast as we could. From far I could see Archer and a few other. Is he fucking serious he brought warriors! What does he want! a damn war? I went behind a tree and sheltered.

I stormed towards James with Mark and Carlos behind me.

"Mate"-I heard Carlos say.

af

No goddess please no, this is the last thing I need. My Delta being mated to one of Archers pack members.

I snapped my head towards Carlos who's eyes were wide in shock, I followed his gaze and what I saw shocked me even more, my jaw dropped.

af

"Mate"-Archers 3rd in command said.

af

I knew my Delta was a gay man but I never thought our Moon goddess was going to pair him with another man. It had never happened before.

af

"Carlos oh goddess you found your mate!"

"Alex I'm scared... He's from Golden Moon. I don't want to leave Moonlight."-Carlos said with sadness.

af

"Talk with him... figure things out. He is your mate, whatever you decide I will support. We are family"-I said and he nodded.

af

My turned back to look at my mate.

"What do you think you're doing in my land Williams?"

"I came to talk to you Alexandra, please just hear me out."-Archer said.

"There is nothing for us to talk about"

"Alex please forgive me, please come back with me! You are my mate. Give me another chance."

af

"NO! no Archer I am not your mate. Our bond is still untouched but that doesn't mean anything to me. YOU BROKE ME! You broke me and you were supposed to love me but you didn't, you made me believe I was worthless. You left me when I needed my mate the most, when I had no one. It was easier for you to walk out than stand by me. You even fucking mated with someone knowing our bond was still there Archer! I wish you knew how much you destroyed me but you made me realize that I deserve better."-I paused to wipe my tears.

af

"If you had come to me a few months ago I would have taken you back without a doubt but now, it's too late. Thank you, thank you for leaving me, because of that I found myself. You came here asking for a chance but you never gave me one... but that's how some people are, they stab you in the lungs and then ask you why you have trouble breathing"-I said with tears rolling down my face. Ayla was whimpering non-stop, I took a deep breath...

af

"I'm sorry Ayla"

"Do it Alex"-She whimpered.

"I, Alexandra Silver Alpha of Moonlight Pack, reject you Alpha Archer Williams as my mate"-I said and dropped to my knees. I felt the air of my lungs knocked out of me, the thunders were louder than ever. I screamed in pain, I could hear Archer groaning. I lifted my gaze and saw him in the floor holding his chest with his eyes closed.

af

Then everything went dark. It was completely dark but there was a small light far away from me. I'm I dying? Nope, I'm not following the light. I felt something wet touch my hand and I quickly turned around freaking out.

af

"Ayla?"-She was standing in front of me, her silver fur shining beautifully.

"Yes Alex, it's me."

"You're beautiful"-I said while stroking her fur.

"We are. Now go there is someone waiting for you over there"-She said looking towards the light.

"I'm dying right?"

"No Alex we aren't"-She chuckled.

"Then who is it?"

"Bebe?"-I heard him say and I froze. I slowly turned around, with my eyes full of tears.

af

"Daddy?"

af

Heyyyyy everyone!

Holy guacamole! Over 500 reads! and here I was thinking my sister would be the only one reading my books...

af

Tell me what do you guys think so far?!

af

What do you guys think about her rejecting Archer?

af

Please don't hate me haha I know some of you were hoping for Alex to get back with Archer.

af

THANKS FOR READING