Alex's POV

a

"Alex what happened?"-Mark came rushing in first with everyone else behind him.

"Sit"-I commanded all of them and they flinched at my tone.

"Alex are you okay?"-Les asked and I didn't reply.

"Luke found his mate"-I said and everyone gasped.

"Are you serious?"-James asked and I stared at him blankly.

"Yes, James. He found his mate 3 weeks ago."

"I will fucking kill him"-Mark growled.

"As you all know, him and I had a relationship. You all don't need to know this but tonight he was going to mark me. He was going to mark me knowing his mate was in this pack. I found them in his room right before our encounter. Their bond is half way complete wich means they already mated."

"Who is she?"-Carlos asked growling.

"Her name is Laura Jones, she came here as a rouge over 3 weeks ago"

"Oh my God Alex"-Leslie said and I could see the sadness in her eyes. I ignored it, I don't need anyone's pity.

"He's known about her for about 3 weeks. Wich means he's been with her since we started our relationship. He betrayed me, he betrayed his Alpha but what hurts more is that he betrayed the love I had for him. The Alex you all met is long gone. I've had enough of people walking over me and trashing my feelings.

Luke is no longer the Beta of this pack. Mark and Leslie you will step up as Betas and no longer be Gammas, James and Steph you both will step up as Gammas and no longer be Deltas. As for you Carlos, you will remain my only Delta wich means you will be in charge of the Elites and Warriors by yourself can you do that?"

"Of course Alpha"-Carlos said.

"Good. Mark and James, you both will be coming with me to the council meeting tomorrow."

"Yes Alpha"-They both said in unison. By now I was no longer Alex the sweet girl. I was their Alpha, my tone was cold, my face was a blank mask to hide my emotions and my aura was in full display.

"Im sorry this happened to you"- Steph said with sadness written all over her face.

"Thank you but I don't need anyone's pity. I don't want to hear any of this anymore. Mark I want Luke out of this pack house by sun rise."-I said coldly and I could se the surprise in everyone's face.

"You all are dismissed"

They le without saying a word.

As I walked to my room, I couldn't help the feeling of emptiness in me. Am I that worthless that I don't deserve a moment of happiness?

I opened the door to my room and stepped inside to find a surprise.

"GER. OUT. OF. MY. ROOM!"-I growled.

" Let me kill him Alex! He hurt us just like mate"-Ayla said pacing back and forth trying to get out.

"Alex please don't leave me. Don't let go of our love"- I laughed at his statement.

"You were never mine Luke."

a

"I am please just please listen to me"-He said giving a step closer to me.

"DON'T! Do not come near me. I am so close of losing control over Ayla and if she takes over you will end up dead"-I snarled.

"I love you Alex"

a

"You thought you loved me Luke. Mate or not, you didn't have an ounce of respect for what we had. You could have told me about her but no it was easy for you to fuck her while I was helplessly in love with you and what's worst is that you were going to mark me. How pathetic are you to throw away something so precious like a matebond? If we were ment to be we would have been by now. But all this happened for a reason, you aren't ment for me Luke. I will cherish every memory, every laugh, every kiss with you. Because of you and the others I am what I am today, and a part of me will always love you and be forever grateful. But the sweet and loving Alex is dead and buried so deep inside of me. Get out of my room Luke, enjoy having a mate because some of us aren't that lucky"

"Mark, Luke is in my room. I need you to get him out of here now"-He didn't reply but I heard him growl.

"I'm so sorry Alex"

"You son of a fucking bitch"-Mark stormed into my room straight towards Luke and punched him so hard that if he was human his neck would have snapped."How dare you fucking hurt Alex! You fucking knew how much she loved you, you fucking knew what she went through and yet you decide to pull this shit on her?"

Luke didn't say anything and that angered Mark even more. He punched him again.

"ENOUGH"-I said in my Alpha tone."Get him out"

Mark nodded and almost dragged Luke out of my room. I slammed the door and locked it. I dropped to my knees and unleashed my emotions. The violent thunders matched my painful screams, the strong gusty wind moved the branches of the trees furiously. The rain is my tears, the lighting my heart breaking and the dark clouds my thoughts.
