

Carrying the Alpha's Heir Chapter 11 –

Chapter 11: Indecent Proposal

I am feeling extremely overwhelmed about the news that I found out. I never expected something like this would happen so fast. I took a glance on Vigor who's talking with Leo on the outside, while they let me stay alone inside the clinic looking at the printed ultrasound where a child is growing on the inside of my body.

I touched the surface of my stomach and I only noticed it but I already had bumps. I thought I was just gaining weight because I am staying home, quarantined but I never expected it to be like this.

I couldn't help but smile and just closed my eyes because my parents would definitely be happy from this news.

THIRD PERSON'S POV

"Are you crazy? Do you intend to keep her inside the human's habitats?" Angrily, Leo looked at Vigor.

He knows the fact that Vigor is definitely someone who isn't treated like that but he doesn't care. They grew up together.

"I have no choice. If Pyress tells her parents, they wouldn't let their daughter be with me especially about what happened." He said angrily too.

"Marry her." Leo said as if it's all that easy.

Vigor froze for some time and think about it. It's been a tradition to the humans that after marriage, she is intended to live with her husband.

"If she gives birth, we don't know what the baby's form will be. We have to be extra careful about it." Leo added when he couldn't answer.

Vigor clenched his jaws and glance to the clinic where his mate was dreamily smiling while looking at the small printed paper. His heart softens, but after sometime, he take a look at Leo.

He activated his telepathy among his brethren and spoke inside their heads. Those who can hear him were those who have his blood.

"Prepare for the wedding feast. I will take home a wife in the next full moon."

Upon looking at Leo which in front of him, a ghost of smirk was trying to let go off his face.

PYRESS' POV

On our way home, I didn't expect Vigor to ask me that he wanted to talk to my parents. Well, it should be normal, right? Because we are pregnant and I guess, we are going to have our own version of family, right?

That idea made me blush. I don't know, maybe in great excitement or in great embarrassment. It's awkward to think that we will finally be a Mommy and Daddy?

I cringe in that part, so I didn't notice that I am already kicking my feet and covering my face.

"Are you okay?" Vigor asked me, he even stopped the car in the middle of the road.

"No no! I am fine." I assured him.

He creased his forehead confusedly and leaned to check my face. "Your face is red." He whispered so close on my face.

I gulped when I felt that electricity flow in my veins the moment his breath touched my skin.

"Y-yes, love." I assured him again.

He nodded, but he didn't withdraw from his position. Instead, he lifts my chin up and kissed my lips.

That was so soft and dreamy. I don't know if he's teasing me because he wasn't actually kissing me deep, he was just plainly giving me soft kisses on the lips.

"Kiss me," I whispered.

Our eyes met; I was once again lost inside those sparkly golden eyes. His stares felt like I am a heroine of my own love story- which I am. Because he's my man, and I am his.

I grabbed his nape this time and we kissed torridly.

My body felt so hot, and I have this feeling that I want to feel him more.

I think I didn't have to beg because he effortlessly pulled me on the backseat and all I know was that the car was filled with moans and groans as the car danced by the rhythms of the movements of our love.

WHEN we arrived home, I am feeling extremely sleepy. My energy was drained because of what happened, but I really did my best to stay active because my parents are waiting for us.

When we're inside the mansion, we went directly to the dining because my parents were there. I kissed my mom's cheeks and my dad's as we sit to eat our meals.

My eyes were almost dropping, thank God they already start talking.

"What is it that you want to talk with us?" Dad asked Vigor who's beside me.

I can see how his serious eyes met dad's, now im intrigue of what he wanted to say to my parents.

"I want to marry your daughter." He immediately said that made me almost spit out the food I'm eating.

My mom's spoon dropped making a loud sound. The helpers immediately changed it though.

"Love, what is this?" I whispered to him.

Vigor just looked at me and he stood up to face my father, "Please, let me marry your daughter." He said, firm and formal.

"U-uhm, do you think it's too fast?" My mom butt in.

"Mummy," I whispered as a sign to let Vigor.

"She's five weeks pregnant." He said out of nowhere that this time made me gasp too.

What the hell? Why did they tell them immediately! I wanted to surprise them!

"WHAT?!" My dad's reaction sounded like he wanted to skin Vigor alive. He stood up and face my boyfriend closely.

"Darling, stop." My mom stood up too and held my dad.

"I'm surprised, but we must talk about this properly, come back tomorrow." My mom calmly said but I can see shock in her voice as well.

"I will marry her, and I will take her with me. Good evening." Vigor said that left my parent's jaw drop.

I almost fell on the floor of what he said.

Why does it sound like he is declaring it rather than asking for permission?! The way he said it, it would be 50% to win my parent's approval.

Ugh, this damn cold-blooded human!

"Love, let's talk." I just said before pulling him out of the house.
