Chapter 5 4. She is.... Pregnant!!!!!!!

4. She is.... Pregnant!!!!!!!

Next morning,

The rays of the early sunrise peeked through the opened window thus breaking Aurora's peaceful sleep. She woke up only to find the side of her bed empty, indicating that he had left. Aura quickly got up from his bed with the sheet wrapped around her figure and made her way to the washroom. Having quickly dressed up she exited his master bedroom for she didn't wish the other workers of the house to see her in Alpha Damien's bedroom like that— naked and wrapped in his blanket, smelling of him.

Only if he had left her clothes in one piece, she would have worn them. But no, the crazy alpha had to tear it off including her bra and panties.

The evening arrived sooner than expected. The whole afternoon she was busy instructing the servants, staff, and chefs about the party while Beta Brian, also Damien's friend, took over the remaining responsibilities.

Aura didn't see Alpha Alan for the whole day and that really made her feel bad. She missed him. Not being able to see him after such a beautiful night hurt her internally.

Even Brian informed her that he has got back to back meetings to attend and also he has to go see the alpha from Night Shower Clan of California for some peace alliance.

In short, it was not possible to see him before the day of the party. She couldn't do anything but wait.

'Ugh, I wish he had awakened me before leaving.' She sighed.

Two days later,

On the day of the party,

Her face was pallid and her eyes tiredly scarlet, Aura tried hard to focus on her work.

"Liada, take these tissue papers to the kitchen." She handed a bunch of tissues to her and turned to another co-worker, "Jericho, did you check the lighting?"

"Yes, Aurora." he smiled and they parted ways, going to resume their remaining work.

Huh, She doesn't know why but she has been sick since the last day. Her body feels weak and she also has difficulty walking. She has already vomited thrice since morning. Not to forget the smell of cake, it made her dizzy.

'I need to see a doctor soon. But I can only go tomorrow when the party is done. I can't leave at this moment.' She was lost in her thoughts when she felt her stomach churning and - - -vomit.

Aura ran to her quarters and threw out again. Liada followed her, she stood at her back rubbing her palm on Aurora's spine up and down.

"I think you should go and see a doctor." She worriedly stated.

"I think so too." Aura replied, looking at her in the mirror.

"You want me to join you?" She smiled hesitantly with concern.

Aura shook her head sideways, "No, thank you, I guess it'll be good if you continue with your job, I will go alone."

"Okay, please take care of yourself."

"I will." With that Aura grabbed her purse and wit h the help of Liada she walked to the car that was waiting for her.

Alpha Damien cared equally for everyone in his pack as well as in the mansion. He has arranged a car exclusively for the servants' staff so that if they needed to go anywhere, they could use that vehicle.

"Bye, take care." Liada stood there unless the serene housekeeper was gone out of the gates.

Outside the city hospital,

'Congratulations, Ms. Collins, you are one month pregnant!'

The words of the doctor kept wandering in her head as she padded quietly to the elevator.

The vomits. The sickness. The weakness and other health issues that she has been facing for the past twenty four hours were because she was pregnant.

That sounds unbelievable but it is true. She was one month pregnant. 'It must have happened after our first time and it is now that I am experiencing the symptoms.' Aura thought.

She lifted her pregnancy test material and stared at the red lines. Though she was yet to get the pregnancy test reports the doctor conducted today, she assured her that Aurora was pregnant post screening her symptoms and health condition.

"I am pregnant.. Wow. I am so excited! There's a life inside of me. Now I no longer would be alone, I would also have a family. I will have a family with Damien, the one I have always loved, and I am bloody carrying his baby. I am hell excited." She muttered with a warm smile.

With her palm caressing her flat stomach she sat back in the car. Throughout the journey she had a serene look adoring her cheeks. She was looking out of the window when the car jumped, causing her to experience a cramp in her stomach and feel nauseated.

"Ughh, can you please drive at a moderate speed! I'm sick. " Aura intended to sound stern but it came out as a plea.

The driver cast a glance at her through the rearview mirror, "I am sorry, Ms. Collins."

She nodded at his reflection in the rearview while she peeked out the window again, caressing her flat stomach. They were just about to enter the main gate as her heart throbbed with a shaking feeling!

'What if he doesn't want the baby?'

Aurora sat back, biting her lips as she eyed the huge snow white mansion. She Has never heard or seen him talk about having kids. So what if he asks her to abort this baby?

'I am stupid. I have just gotten pregnant and the mood swings are already affecting my thoughts. Surely Damien would love the news as he claimed he wants me. I just hope everything goes well. I am optimistic about a good life with him.' She convinced herself with self-explanation.

' He's been busy and not been able to show up in the house. Maybe I should wait till the party's over.' The train of thoughts concerning Alpha Damien and his baby, she stepped out of the car.
