

Alpha's Surrogate by POOJA Chapter 31

Alpha's Surrogate by POOJA

Chapter 31

31. Memories: I am with you...

Doing things at the last minute never ended well. It just made everything hectic and inconvenient! The young woman hated it, but in the Sirius Bright Pack, she always anticipated that things would be done at the last minute. That was all she had right now. Stephen had been downstairs waiting for her for a long time! Why had he come today? Kiara hastily applied a little lipstick and slipped on her sandals, unconcerned about her makeup.

She needed to get down there as soon as possible before people started to refer to her as the lazy Luna. She had been the definition of a sloth this morning, waking up at 9:00 a.m.! How had that happened? But why hadn't her alarm gone off like it normally did? Unless someone turned off the alert on her phone, it was impossible. Was it a conspiracy or had the phone tricked her? Was it the Alpha? Or had it been something else? He had to be the one!

Due to her shoulder injury, the Doctor had ordered Kiara to rest as much as possible, which she had not followed, leading to her being scolded by Xavier. But hadn't she recovered? How could she spend the entire day doing nothing but eating, sleeping, and ordering others?! But who could explain that to the powerful Alpha who needed to see her wounds heal before his eyes? He was cautious about trusting what the Doctor had said. Especially after the disgrace of the senior doctor, the pack physicians were at a loss these days. Yes, not everyone was like their superiors, but due to that occurrence, no one dared meet the gaze of the Alpha.

When the young woman had been sighted on the training ground with Jennifer and Lena, she had been carried away in Alpha's arms back to his chamber. How could she possibly fight when she had been injured?! Alpha Zander, who regretted missing that wonderful scene, had overheard some gossip claiming that it had been a Beauty and the Beast-style scenario! However, the beauty had been blushing, while the Alpha beast appeared overly protective, snapping at those who were admiring the young Luna's long, silky legs, as she had been dressed in shorts. Again with the shorts! The Alpha needed to establish a dress code for the training grounds!

Kiara sat on the bed in the room while Xavier crossed his arms over his chest, towering over her. When the grouchy Alpha had scolded her, the young she-wolf looked like a little puppy. He had her eat in front of him, he had assisted her with some of the arm exercises, and kept an eye on her to see whether she was getting enough rest. That was when he had been convinced that she had been completely cured, but not before she had slept for an inordinate amount of time.

Due to this child-like treatment, she had not wanted to sleep at night but then she had gotten that call from Adira and her whole world had turned upside down. Her sister wanted to meet Kiara! !

Kiara was still haunted by the horrific incident last night, when Xavier had entered the room and she had been so panic that she had dropped her phone on the floor.

Fortunately, Tyler knocked on the door, and Xavier exited the room. She had no idea how long he'd been there.

"What should I do now?" The young woman, who had been rushing through her morning ritual had little time to waste, came to a halt and took a deep breath while staring at her reflection.

The young Luna was still shaken by last night's incident, which had completely left her with a night bereft of sleep. She felt torn between her desire to meet a member of her family and her feelings for Xavier. She wanted to visit her sister, no matter the circumstances, so that she could get the truth about what had been going on in Adira's life and the pack. She was well aware that her sister was in serious peril. For them, the sisterly bond had always been quite strong. She could sense something was wrong.

Of course, she was also bound by her responsibilities as Luna, the surrogacy contract, and the Ardara Moon Pack's pact with Xavier that Sawyer had signed. Everything was going to be destroyed if she made one wrong move.

That's when Kiara took a deep breath, smiled, and decided to forget about it for a little while, leaving the room at a fast walk. She had squandered much too much time. How could she have forgotten, this was so last minute?!

That's when she ran into something hard like a wall.

"I am sorry, Luna! Are you hurt?" The man apologized right away. Kiara growled, rubbing her forehead while looking up to find the blue eyes of an attractive man who was her new bodyguard.

"I'm truly sorry, Luna. I had no idea that..."

"Don't worry. It was entirely my fault. I am not hurt, so it's all right," When she saw his panicked and terrified expression, the young woman laughed a bit. Had he anticipated he'd be punished?

"Should I bring some ice, Luna?" Lance said, still concerned.

"So the Alpha discovers and punishes you?" The young Luna lifted her eyebrows at her bodyguard, finally hinting to him that he was about to make a mistake.

"Ice sounds like a horrible idea," he smiled, nervously. Lance was quick to recall the Alpha's bad temper and cold demeanor. He could very well be punished for the blunder he had made with the Luna.

"Now you get it," Kiara chuckled.

was

"Yeah," he said, laughing with her. It was the first time that Kiara had noticed his dimples when he laughed. She had no idea that Xavier would appoint her a personal bodyguard. The most interesting part was that the bodyguard was really handsome! After lunch, Lance had come into her room to introduce himself. He stood outside her room and followed her around like a hound. The man appeared to be older than she was, yet he was approximately the Alpha's age. But this big dog didn't have a mate, his neck was unmarked.

"Can you tell me where you're going, Luna?" He was all set to follow her.

"I'm going downstairs, but you don't have to follow me," Kiara advised with a little smile and an order that he promptly obeyed.

"Then I'll be here waiting for you, Luna. Please do not go anywhere without me," Lance returned the smile. This guy gave off a truly friendly vibe.

Kiara entered the dining room swiftly, only to find it full with the Beta, Gamma couples, Stephen, and the twin Alphas. There was a conversation that had been going on between Zander and his Grandfather but it had come to a halt as soon as she walked in.

"The Luna is here!!" Kiara's eyes snapped when she heard Alpha Zander's unexpectedly enthusiastic voice. What had made him shout like that out of nowhere? He was acting as though he was seeing her for the first time. What was his deal?

"Don't mess with me, boy!" Stephen snarled at Alpha's younger twin. His grandson was astute enough to use Kiara's presence to divert his Grandfather's attention away from the conversation that had bored the hell out of him. It was a family meal, not a formal one, so the elderly wolf was extremely active and pointed things out to his grandsons one by one. Xavier's ears were practically bleeding, but he had to put up with it until breakfast was done.

"We've been waiting for you, Luna Kiara. You are perfectly alright, thanks to the Goddess. Please have a seat," Grandpa's words and gestures had a honey-like sweetness to them as soon as he set his gaze on Kiara. How had his attitude shifted so abruptly?! And look at that big smile on his face. Was that the same old wolf who had been snapping his teeth to his grandsons before the arrival of the young Luna?

"Grandpa, what a lovely surprise," Kiara remarked as she picked up a plate and continued her conversation with Stephen. Should she not just sit? What was she doing?

"We've been missing you, Grandpa. Please keep visiting us on a regular basis," Kiara smiled, beginning to serve the elderly man who had been completely captivated by the young Luna's manners and politeness. She placed a plate in front of him that looked far more tasty. Kiara was startled when the twins' gaze snapped at her for some reason. What exactly was she saying? Had she invited the old wolf to come for breakfast every day so that he could give them a lecture?! Before she and Stephen could continue talking someone needed to intervene.

"Kiara baby," when the young woman heard an unfamiliar softness and polite tone with a tinge of affection from the green eyed Alpha accompanied by a lovely smile on his lips, goosebumps broke out across her skin while the fine hair on her arms rose. Her big chocolaty eyes were locked on his. What was the matter with him? Kiara instantly turned around to make sure he was speaking to her. The Alpha had been addressing his young Luna.

“Come here and have a seat. You must be exhausted,” the Alpha stood up, drawing a chair for his Luna like a true gentleman. Kiara took slow measured steps towards him, giving him a bewildered nod. Once she had taken her seat, she stared at Jennifer and Lena, who had been completely enamored with their Alpha and Luna, but the young lady was still taken by surprise. Why was he suddenly behaving opposite to his nature? This was exactly the type of behavior someone exhibits when a goat is handled gently before being sacrificed.

Had his Grandpa become suspicious of something again? Was Xavier putting on a show for the elderly man? Her mind was still trying to process everything when she felt Xavier’s large hand on her head.

“Grandpa is the most active and responsible member of our pack. So he can’t join us every day, Kiara. Please don’t put him in a difficult situation, baby,” he elaborated with another handsome smile. Kiara’s heart rate increased as Xavier’s warm lips kissed her soft cheek. She had immediately recognized his true goal of putting on an act. Why had this kiss appeared to be so genuine? Regardless of how many kisses she had received from her husband, his touch always sent sparks all over her body, making her hot and wild for him. A thick layer of blush took over her cheeks.

How could she remain calm if his lips continued to take advantage of her? Nevermind his other hand that had slipped down to her waist. The Alpha felt butterflies in his stomach as they grew in the young woman’s tummy as a result of the mate bond. As soon as he elicited a response from Kiara, he felt the echo of it. He peered down at her tightly clasped palm and her crimson cheeks were not something she could hide. The Alpha cleared his throat then drew his greedy hands away from her head and waist, which had been stroking her without his knowledge. What a knucklehead! They never seemed to pay attention to their owner!

“How lovely!” Stephen smiled contentedly. In his time-worn eyes, they were picture-perfect. He no longer needed to have breakfast. When he saw the beautiful pair sitting across from him, his stomach filled with delight. The old man had been concerned about his rejected grandson for the past two years, but Kiara’s arrival had given him hope. Now he could easily predict what lay in store for his grandson’s future.

Kiara finally exhaled the breath that she had been holding due to her erratic heartbeat. It would be awkward if someone found out that she had been that excited by a kiss. She could only smile at the twin’s Grandfather before turning her attention to her breakfast.

“Hello everyone!” A woman’s enthusiastic voice echoed through the dining room, causing everyone to shift their gaze to the doorway. The young she-wolf noticed that everyone’s lips had turned into a big smile. Kiara’s chocolatey eyes scanned the woman’s slender yet exquisite 5.9 figure from head to toe. She had short brown hair and was dressed in fancy clothes. She’d been wearing exposed garments that revealed her inner thighs and big breasts, leaving any that saw her wondering if she’d been wearing a bra or not.

“Laila!” All the guys shouted together, but what astonished Kiara was that Xavier was one of them. Who was she?

“Oh my god! You are here!” Zander rushed over to hug Laila first. Tyler and Kiaden followed suit. Who was she? Why were they so overjoyed to see her? Among the four ranked males, she appeared to be a princess. Every one of them gave her a hug one by one. The young she-wolf looked at her Beta and Gamma females, who were as delighted to see her as their mates. Everyone went to see Laila one by one, save Kiara, who sat in her spot, observing them from a safe distance. They appeared to be elated, maybe they were all friends.

“Xavier!” Laila’s eyes glowed. The only one who hadn’t hugged her was the older Alpha. When the short-haired woman screamed Xavier’s name and jumped on him for a hug, her tone abruptly changed. Xavier caught her right away, as if he knew what was about to happen. Kiara was taken aback by their close proximity. How could she have jumped on him? She’d wrapped her legs around his waist and her arms around his neck like a snake. The young woman looked at the other people who were smiling, as if this were a normal occurrence, but the young she-wolf felt uncomfortable. Why did she act as though they were long-lost lovers?!

“Welcome back, Laila,” Xavier chuckled and hugged her again, but seeing the joy on Alpha’s face made Kiara’s blood boil. He’d never given her such a big smile before! This man only showed her his cold side. Why had he been holding her for so long?! She had long, perfect legs that allowed her to stand on her own!

“I missed you, all of you!” Kiara rolled her eyes in frustration when Laila stated that. If she missed everyone, why had she simply leapt on him like a dog?! Zander was over there as well. Why not hug him in the same way? What a fake!

“We missed you too...” Xavier grinned but couldn’t complete his sentence before Laila’s lips pressed against Alpha’s cheek for a kiss.

“I know...” She gave him a sexy glance before moving away and staring into his eyes. Xavier quickly let go of her body since the kiss had been unexpected. Dean growled violently in his mind. The Alpha slowly turned his head to observe the young woman who appeared to be at ease. Had it only been him who was affected? Then everything was okay. Kiara dug her nails into her palm to keep Venus from beheading the short-haired woman. Had she actually dared to kiss her mate right in front of her? Xavier had moved away from her waist, but her hands remained wrapped around his neck.

“Why don’t you leave Xavier and go meet his mate and Luna?” Stephen cut in with a sour smile. He was the only one who hadn’t gotten out of his chair to greet her.

“Luna Kiara, Laila is Xavier’s father’s Beta’s daughter. Her family moved to another pack last year. She will only be visiting us for the day.” The old wolf introduced them while pointing out how long the new guest would be with them. Then he grinned at the stunned woman, whose mouth was practically hanging open.

“What? Xavier’s mate?!” Laila forgot to bow to the elder Stephen as her eyes snapped at the beautiful young woman who had been standing near him at the dining table. Xavier gotten himself such a beautiful mate that the short-haired woman had immediately become insecure.

“No! Xavier, you got married?!” Laila’s eyes grew larger as she looked Kiara up and down. How could a woman younger than her be so stunning in such simple clothes? Kiara forced a smile onto her face when the other woman took a step closer to her. Kiara hated her grey eyes, had she been looking down at her because she had not been wearing makeup like her?!

"I wonder why you are so surprised?" Kiara finally opened her mouth with another forced smile.

"Well, Xavier never mentioned you to me. I can see why, because he hasn't pursued the marriage and mate issue. He doesn't value them. If he wanted to marry, I am a better choice," Laila chuckled, giving the young lady a look that clearly stated that Kiara was beneath her. Everyone in the room frowned when they heard her, but the young Luna remained as calm as water. Jennifer and Lena had not expected this kind of comment from Laila. Stephen stared at an angry Xavier, who had already opened his mouth to say something, but Kiara laughed first. Alpha's gaze was drawn instantly to his Luna. What had made her laugh? Shouldn't she be offended?

"The people we value know about our marriage, Laila, so I don't take the opinions of strangers to heart. I recommend that you never say anything like this to another woman again though. With that tone of yours, you sound like a husband snatcher." Laila was offended by the young woman's remark, which she had stated with a smile. Everyone was stunned to hear Kiara before the twins' Grandpa burst into a fit of laughter, rubbing salt into her wound. Not to mention Zander, who chuckled as he took his seat enjoying the show.

Tyler and Kaiden had taken her statement as a joke. Jennifer and Lena, on the other hand, were laughing with their mates. Xavier's lips curled into a small smile when he noticed Kiara's posture and expression in front of his bh of friend, who had expected Kiara to be timid due to her innocent face.

"I am not a husband snatcher..." Laila defeated herself, not daring to raise her voice to the young Luna. She looked back at Xavier for support, as it had been his mate who had insulted her, but she was ignored by the Alpha. It was not the Alpha's style to speak amongst arguing women unless it was absolutely required. Kiara smiled warmly as she moved closer to Xavier. The Alpha looked over at his female, who was standing alongside him and holding his arm. Dean grinned with delight as Xavier's gaze fell on Kiara, who asserted her power over her Alpha for the first time. fk! She looked so tasty with this different attitude! The Alpha wanted to take her right there.

"Sounds good, Laila. I hope you will find your mate soon so that you will stop jumping on other people's mates," Kiara suggested with a smile.

"Thank you for your advice, Luna," Laila smiled, holding her true feelings. Even though she was no longer a member of the Sirius Bright Pack, she couldn't bring herself to disrespect Xavier's mate. Kiara quickly returned her smile, turning her head to face Xavier. Laila stared at the lovely pair, who were gazing at each other. Without even realizing it, the Alpha's feet began to follow Kiara as she guided him back to his seat.

"Let's eat everyone," Kiara suggested, without glancing at the short-haired she-wolf. Xavier's wide green eyes remained fixed on his Luna, who instantly began to prepare his plate.

"Laila, please have a seat. You must be hungry," Zander gestured. The short-haired lady shot poisonous daggers at Kiara before ultimately smiling at everyone.

"Yes, I'm hungry, but all of you boys have to promise me that you'll spend time with me today. I only have one day to spend with you," she giggled as she sat beside Xavier and poked his sides. The Alpha shifted his gaz from Kiara to Layla. She was one of the few ladies whose presence had never made him feel disgusted since she had been one of his childhood friends.

“Yeah sure, I promise, but after I finish my work,” Xavier chuckled.

“Then I’ll annoy you until you join me,” she winked at him with a flirtatious grin. Kiara had been watching their interaction out of the corner of her eye in her giggling, white teeth. There were many unoccupied seats, but she had selected the one next to her husband. Had it been a coincidence?

“So, where was I interrupted?” The elderly wolf turned to face his other grandson, who had already finished his meal and was getting ready to leave. So that was why he hadn’t opened his mouth for the first time to comment on his brother.

“It’s been ages so I don’t remember,” Zander responded sluggishly.

“If I’m not mistaken, you were discussing Alpha Zander’s chosen mate,” Beta Kaiden promptly reminded the elder.

“What a wonderful Beta I’ve got,” Kaiden received a tight-lipped smile from Zander, an oblique indication that he would undoubtedly get a beating following the old wolf’s departure.

“Thank you for your kind words, Alpha,” Kaiden returned the smile. It was time to retaliate against Zander, who had revealed Kaiden’s school-time crush to Jennifer. Unfortunately, that woman turned out to be one of the pack’s most recent additions. When that female warrior had winked at Kaiden, the pregnant Beta female had been quick to notice her flirting and slapped her across the face. How dare that bh flirt with her mate? If Kaiden hadn’t dragged his mate back to the pack house, she would have scratched the female warrior’s eyes out.

Kaiden instantly tried to clear the air, cleverly concealing the fact that she had been his high school crush as well as his first sex partner. Jennifer had approached the twin Alphas to figure out Kaiden’s past with that woman. Zander was ecstatic to tell all of his schooltime tales to his Beta female, but it had been Xavier’s nod at the conclusion of each one that had added fuel to Jennifer’s jealousy.

Kaiden had been able to reconcile with Jennifer when his high school crush had been sent to another pack. Xavier assumed responsibility for his comrade and dispatched the female to his Uncle’s pack. Both Alphas had no idea how badly things would turn out between their Beta couple, but now everything was fine.

“So, which of the women did you like?” Their grandfather inquired, pointing to the photos that had been laid out in front of the Alpha, who had been lazily staring at all of the beauties. Everyone was a respectable Alpha’s daughter.

“Who is she?” Zander inquired, pointing to the first photograph. Stephen’s eyes shone with optimism. Finally, his grandson expressed interest in a woman. She might be his second-daughter-law.

“That is Danica…” Tyler said.

“She is beautiful, yet she looks timid. I’m curious as to why she was blushing at the photographer?” Zander commented. Stephen’s eyes practically popped out of his skull. She had been blushing in front of the photographer? What exactly was he saying? The woman’s photograph flew away in an instant, falling in the corner of the dining room.

“Her?”

“Sonia”

“What’s the matter with her lips? Her face appears to have undergone extensive plastic surgery. And why is she staring at me as if she’s about to leap out of the picture and eat me?” The photo of that woman ended up alongside the first one due to another remark.

“And this one...” Zander asked but spoke up before Tyler could tell the woman’s name.

“What do you think, Xavier? I need to consider my brother’s comments and opinions!”

When Zander spoke to his older brother, he had an honest expression on his face.

“She will undoubtedly make you a laughingstock with her fashion sense and the amount of cosmetics she has applied to her face. But in the end, it is your decision, brother,”

Xavier said truthfully, prompting Zander to nod before tossing the photo onto the pile with the others.

“Then the decision is made. None of them appeal to me,” Zander stated as he stretched his arms over his head. The young Luna spotted Grandfather’s furious crimson eyes that had been glancing between his grandsons as the Beta and Gamma couples bit their lips to suppress their laughter.

“You brats!!!” The old wolf couldn’t take it any longer and yelled at his grandsons for putting on the show for him. When had Zander started making up useless excuses for Xavier? And when had the older brother begun giving his younger sibling advice? The older brother was well aware of his younger brother’s true aim to reject every lady he was offered, therefore he had been intelligently assisting him. They had been collaborating. How dare they mislead their Grandpa!

“You rejected all of the females in an instant. Do you realize how tough it was for me to find women that are well-educated, gorgeous, and are from affluent families?” Stephen sought a response. He was in a pickle right now, since the other elders had been interrogating him about Zander’s mate. No one saw his enthusiasm for finding his mate. The most significant thing was that he never addressed her. Whenever the other elders sought out Xavier to pressure his brother for a mate, the Alpha constantly refused the elders. The old wolf had been concerned about his older grandson earlier, who had never sought a woman in his life, but Zander had been the one giving him a headache now. He was always turning down she-wolves who wanted to marry him. Xavier was also of little to no assistance to Stephen. He only supported his brother.

“Because those ladies have no chance of becoming my mate. They are unattractive, ignorant, and greedy gold diggers,” Zander responded.

“So, my son, what type of female do you want?” Grandpa inquired sweetly, unable to conceal his annoyance. The Alpha paused for a minute before responding to Grandfather. Zander appeared to be deep in thought.

“A woman with a beautiful honey-like voice,” Zander began to describe. “I can feel her attractiveness even if I haven’t seen her face.”

“A lady with a big mouth and a strong personality,”

“I desire a woman I’ll never forget...”

As he listened to his brother, Xavier’s hand came to a halt over his spoon. As usual, both of the twins’ minds and hearts were constantly drawn to the same thing. Alpha’s gaze was drawn to his Luna, who was the precise lady he had desired as a mate, but he had been met with betrayal.

Kiara’s face was slightly hidden by her silky brown hair that she had been trying to tuck behind her ears while putting a forkful of eggs in her little mouth. Xavier’s hand trembled a little as he noticed her every movement. The manner in which she picked up and held her fork. The way she blinked her eyes and wiped her pink lips with the napkin immediately after taking a bite of food. From time to time, she always smiled at the others at the table, she also kept filling her husband's plate with food. Even though she had only been there for a few days, she had the exact knowledge of how much Xavier usually ate. Kiara had all the qualities that a man needed in a mate. The young she-wolf had absolutely no idea what she had been doing to the Alpha's heart.

A sweet honey-like voice, goddess-like beauty, a big mouth that she always opened when appropriate, and the most essential part was that the Alpha had to remind himself that she was just a surrogate for him. Xavier's heartbeat accelerated unexpectedly, his arousal began to build, causing Kiara to gaze at him with such innocence that the Alpha's heart skipped a beat. Why was he aroused?

"What's wrong?" The young woman asked as his finger touched her lips softly. He licked his own lips while leaning down to capture those rosy lips.

"You..."

"AAHHH!" When a she-wolf's s*m resonated in the pack house, Kiara, Xavier, and everyone else rushed inside the kitchen, only to see an Omega on the floor.

"What happened to her?" Kiara ran over to comfort the woman who had been rolling on the floor in pain.

"She isn't bleeding, and she doesn't appear to be injured anywhere," the young Luna murmured, her gaze was drawn to Xavier, who was sweating profusely. His gaze was focused on the Omega, which reminded him of his own suffering at a time when he was about to die. He collapsed on the floor, which caused Kiara to panic. What happened to him?

"What's wrong? Why is she in pain?" She asked, looking between the twins.

"Her mate is betraying her," Zander responded, terrified at witnessing his brother's current condition. Kiara's heart dropped into her stomach. How could her mate have done this to the poor woman?

"Kiaden, take her away immediately!" Zander ordered with a shout. The woman was taken away in a second to the hospital but the young woman's focus had become her Alpha, who was still on the floor. Kiara tried to reach him but Liala crossed her way, indirectly pushing Kiara away.

"Xavier..." Laila said worriedly, taking her chance to throw herself in his arms.

"I dare you to get any closer to him and I'll break your arms!" Kiara growled, glaring at Laila, prompting the short-haired woman to take a step back and flee in fear. Everyone's wolves flinched at witnessing their Luna's anger. Kiara returned her gaze to Xavier, who was sweating even more profusely.

"Xavier... what's wrong?" She asked. Zander looked at Kiara's eyes, finding her desperation to reach his brother. He took a deep breath, leaving his brother in his mate's hand. The others followed their Alpha, but Kiara remained behind, getting closer to Xavier.

"Xavier..."

"Don't touch me," he growled, not looking at her. Dean was in his eyes acting like a crazy wolf. Kiara was terrified by his state. He had been losing his mind. She'd never seen him so shattered before.

“Why?” she asked, touching his hand softly.

“I said, don’t touch me!!” Xavier shouted, yanking his hair, as the Omega’s condition had triggered something in his mind so severely that he had completely forgotten about Kiara. At that moment, she reminded him of Petra. Yes, she was that bh! She was the one who betrayed him, had paralysed, and nearly killed him.

“Xavier, please don’t!” Kiara screamed, forcing his hand away as he sank his claws into his skin, causing himself to bleed.

“Please don’t hurt yourself,” she wrapped her arms around him, controlling his movement. He was throwing his hand in the air and trying to push her away but the young she-wolf had glued herself to his chest tightly. Xavier’s face was red as he had been reliving a memory of the past.

“Those memories are not real, Xavier. Come out of your thoughts and look at me,” Kiara coaxed, as she held him until he stopped screaming. She had an idea that it was somehow related to his past. The Alpha’s ears reacted to his woman’s melodious voice. He had stopped screaming as Venus had made a link with Dean to calm him as well. She closed her eyes tightly when he stopped all of his crazy movements. Xavier’s heart was beating as fast as Kiara’s. He was trying to take calming breaths when he recognized the warmth of his woman’s body. It was familiar and comforting to him.

“Do you hear me? Those are just bad memories and I am your present. I am with you...” Kiara murmured, wiping away her tears. Why was he so broken and hurt? She drew away from him a little, only to cup his face in her palm. He was so hot because of all the yelling and anger that had destroyed his mind for some time.

“Look at me,” Xavier’s rage-filled-crimson eyes were full of bitter tears that were drowning him.

“Who am I?” Kiara asked, forcing him to gaze into her teary yet soft eyes, which were brimming with anxiety and anguish as she witnessed her mate’s crushed heart.

“Tell me, Xavier? Who am I?” She inquired, locking her eyes with his. Xavier took a long, deep breath when he recognized his woman, who kissed him immediately when he had withdrawn from his past. Xavier closed his eyes, feeling the pleasure of having his second chance mate in his arms. Her rose and chocolate aroma overwhelmed his heart and mind, prompting him to open his eyes and meet her tear-filled one. She had feared that she had lost him forever.

“Kiara,” Xavier moaned into her mouth. Kiara’s eyes welled up again when he finally called her name and did not push her away. When she had finally gotten Xavier back, she clung to him fiercely.

“Don’t forget me ever, Xavier. I will not be able to bear it,” she admitted, burying her face in his neck as he lifted his still shaking arm to wrap around her small body, pulling her tighter into his lap.

How had she saved him? What had she done to him? Why had she?

Alpha’s Surrogate by POOJA

Chapter 32

32. The decision

The fragrance of flowers in the fresh morning breeze was supposed to provide peace of mind and a good start to the day, but not for the anxious woman in the short black dress. Laila's assets were enhanced by her attire that had been finished off with a pair of large black sunglasses and high heels, yet they clashed with her irritated expression. With a black clutch in her hand, she could be mistaken for a model getting ready for a photoshoot. Her large brown eagle-like eyes were searching for a particular person to whom she had returned to the pack to get her hands on after a year, only to fall into despair when he slipped through her fingers.

"Can you tell me where the boys are?" She inquired of Jennifer and Lena, since they were the only ones that had seen fit to wish her farewell as she stood beside her shiny expensive car. Why was he not there? She wanted to see Xavier now more than ever. Where could he be? Did he go to get her a rose? Yes! That must be the cause for his absence. He was well aware of how much she adored them. Maybe he wanted to make it up to her by doing that. She smirked in her mind proudly.

"They've all been in the office building since early this morning and are sorry they couldn't come to say goodbye to you," Jennifer responded with a small smile, observing Lena's frown. Due to Laila's remark about Kiara yesterday, the Gamma female was irritated with the short-haired she-wolf. Kaiden and Tyler had asked their mates to bid their friend farewell in a courteous manner and to apologize for not properly saying goodbye themselves.

The DNA results from the deceased wolf had arrived. Xavier had left his room before Kiara awakened, and all the men gathered in the office to discover that the guard had been murdered by a vampire. Those blood suckers had left a bite mark complete with venom in the wolf's body. Both the Alphas were furious. The Vampire King was blatantly violating the treaty, but the reason behind their attack was still unclear. The werewolves now had proof, but they needed to capture them red-handed for waging war on them. The situation was critical, and they wanted to resolve it as soon as possible before any more lives were put in jeopardy.

"How can Xavier treat me like this? At the very least, he should have come to say goodbye for the sake of our friendship. He even promised to spend some time with me, but I never saw him. Zander, Kiaden, and Tyler were missing too. Now, when I return, Xavier isn't there to greet me. He didn't pay attention to me while his wife and mate insulted me!" Laila complained, tossing her sunglasses, revealing that she had been chasing after a man that she had meant to captivate. Her true goal had been to return the Sirius Bright Pack to finally capture Xavier, but it had been completely ruined by Kiara. The young Luna had not let her touch the Alpha. How could that little scumbag threaten her in front of all the ranking males? It had been extremely disrespectful to do that to the previous Beta's daughter, who was respected and liked by all of her former pack members. Even though she was no longer a member of the Sirius Bright Pack, her Beta blood could not stand up to the Alpha blood of the young she-wolf's dominance and power.

When Xavier had been having that panic attack, it was easy for Laila to win his heart and affection through trickery, but the terrifying threat from young Luna had caused her to back down. She had been booted out of the kitchen and had stayed in her room for the rest of the day and night, waiting for Xavier to retrieve her, but he never did. Should he not have chastised his Luna for being disrespectful to her? Why hadn't he come to her room? Had she not hit on him enough in the dining room? She was ready to give herself to him. She had done everything she could to lure the Alpha into her bed, but even this morning she hadn't seen his face.

TAJL

"The Alpha is a responsible and busy man, which is why he doesn't think it's necessary to personally see to such trifling chores," the young Luna's sweet soothing voice followed her as she stepped out of the pack house to stand in front of Laila. Who had put more foundation on her face to conceal the black circles caused by the humiliation that had kept her from sleeping the whole night. Not to mention her constant longing for Xavier. Jennifer and Lena were standing beside Kiara, while Lance looked like a big wall behind her, giving the short-haired woman the impression that she was standing in front of a queen.

When she realized that Kiara smelt like Xavier, the short-haired woman's heart swelled with anxiety, rage, and resentment. Had she slept with him this morning? What a we! No, there was a high probability that they had done it all night long and that's why Xavier hadn't come to her! This bitch had been seducing him with her beauty and slutty body.

But Xavier had closed all of his heart and refused to love any woman. So how could he have chosen this unknown enemy's daughter as his mate? Laila had used her phone last night to look into the new Luna's information. It was clear that men always liked fresh young meat. But how could that inexperienced little we take Xavier away from her? He was her first love. Petra had robbed her of him years ago and now Kiara had done the same. Leaving the hot, attractive, and single Alpha for a year had clearly been a horrible idea! She should never have left the Sirius Bright Pack. Her stupid parents were to blame for this!

"I can easily identify the source of the shift towards animosity in my relationship with Xavier. You don't want him to visit me. How insecure can you be, Luna Kiara?" Laila hurled venomous daggers at Kiara. It was pointless to lie, so revealing how much she despised Xavier's chosen mate, who only smiled at a short-haired woman like she had yesterday, which irritated Laila to no end. Now, what had made her smile?!

"Again, I would encourage you to select your words carefully, Laila. Friendship, not a relationship," Kiara smiled as she revised her statement. The young she-wolf always felt that her smile would be her first line of defense against her foe. Her comment had been enough to remind the other woman of the term husband snatcher. Laila was irritated when Lena smirked, while Luna's new bodyguard stood there listening to everything with an indifferent expression.

"How arrogant are you," Laila chuckled, coming closer to her. She couldn't lose this fight against Kiara so easily. She had to save face before leaving the pack.

"Watch your mouth, Laila," Jennifer growled. Kiara counseled her Beta and Gamma females to be calm through mind-link. They had chosen to interrupt since they were well aware of Laila's filthy statements. She wasn't a great warrior, but her words could easily hurt someone and that she-wolf never hesitated to open her mouth.

"Arrogant?" Kiara grinned, stunning Laila. The young woman took a step closer to her and said.

"I'm sorry to disappoint you, but it's something I've had since birth. And I can't stand it when I see people like you.”

“You!!” Laila clenched her teeth and glared at Kiara’s serene expression.

“You keep mocking me because you are fortunate enough to have a Greek god like Alpha Xavier! I understand you’re Alpha Sawyer’s daughter. Yes, women like you usually forget their place when they put on nice clothing and suddenly gain a better status. I guess I’ll have to remind the new Luna of her place before I go,” Laila snapped, unleashing her wrath and fury that had been building since last night. It was now time to unleash it in order to obtain a victory that would appease her battered ego.

“Hold your tongue, Laila. You have been warned twice. After this, I will have no other option but to report it to the Alpha,” Jennifer announced seriously, making the short-haired she-wolf glare at the Gamma female who had barely held her temper in check, revealing her crimson eyes.

“Let her speak!” Kiara directed Jennifer and Lina, moving closer to Laila.

“What exactly were you saying? If you’re leaving here, I’ll absolutely listen to what you have to say,” the Luna confronted the cunning woman. Laila’s wolf advised her not to speak further as doing so would put herself in danger, but jealousy has caused many to make foolish decisions.

“You are just a replacement, Kiara,” Laila smiled as she saw the young she-wolf’s expression changing. She was now satisfied. Jennifer and Lena’s blood froze in horror and panic when they heard the unexpected comment from the prior member of the pack, who had been aware of the implications of her reckless deed. Kiara was reminded of that letter that she had received on her birthday from an unknown individual when she heard the word ‘replacement’. Laila had said the same thing. What exactly did they mean by ‘replacement’?

“Laila!!” Lena’s bloodthirsty hands rushed out to seize the shameless woman who plainly knew no one could ever bring up Xavier’s first mate, his rejection, or anything else from his past. Despite the fact that she was no longer a member of the pack, she had resolved to disobey the rule!

“Stop,” Kiara grabbed Lena’s arm just before her long claws had scratched the woman’s face, causing her to bleed profusely. Laila instantly quickened her steps to defend herself, but her mouth hung wide open when she saw her friends who had turned on her simply because she had insulted their Luna. But wasn’t their friendship more valuable than this new woman? How could they betray their long-standing friendship for her?

“What exactly were you saying? Complete your sentences,” Kiara ordered, opting to go further into the subject. It had occurred twice that she had been referred to as a replacement Luna. Was it just a coincidence? Not to mention what had happened yesterday when she came face to face with part of Xavier's buried behind his cold and ruthless visage.

In those few minutes, she felt a deep anguish and sadness in her heart as a result of their mate bond. Zander and the others had been preoccupied with the problem of the Omega and her cheating mate. Kiara, on the other hand, had put all she had into caring for Xavier, who had come back to his senses, but he had remained mute when she asked him what had caused his violent attack.

She was aware that this was not a usual occurrence. It was impossible for Alpha Wolf not to recognize his mate, his wife, because they were soulmates. He had appeared to be a completely different person at the moment. She hadn't wanted to leave his side. She had wanted to stay there holding his hand, but he just said one thing before exiting the room.

"It is not something you should be aware of. It is simply the most disgusting part of my past that I despise the most."

Xavier's cold voice lingered in her head, yet it made her uneasy. What was in his past? Why had he described it as disgusting? Clearly he had hated her question. Suddenly, it had become something that the young lady was curious about. Laila's remark had piqued her interest even more.

"It's..." Laila read Jennifer and Lena's outraged expressions and realized she had committed the worst mistake of her life. If Xavier learned of her acts, he would not only sever his relationship with her, but he would also permanently bar her from entering the pack. Not only that, but the most likely outcome would be that she would not be able to escape the pack. She had chosen to share his most intimate and sensitive secret, which to him would be considered a crime. The culprit would receive the punishment of death. Jealousy had blinded her so badly that she had lost her senses, she no longer had the confidence to respond to Kiara.

"It's nothing," Laila lied, swallowing hard as she looked down at the ground. She despised herself for having to concede defeat to her rival.

"Nothing?!" Kiara frowned.

"Yes, it's nothing. I just said that since you replaced me! You stole my place. I should have been Xavier's Luna, not you..." Laila's face snapped to the side before she could finish her statement. She put her hand over the red spot on red face in surprise. Her sly eyes and mouth were wide open in disbelief, she had received a slap from Luna Kiara, How dare she?

"Such a waste of time," the young Luna snarled as she raised her hand to deliver another smack, but the short-haired she-wolf swiftly moved aside, placing her other palm on her cheek, shielding both of her beautiful cheeks from the psycho-looking woman. The Alpha Wolf had scared the Beta blood.

"You slapped me! I will tell Xavier!!" Laila cried, screaming at the top of her lungs. At the same time, she was terrified of what the young lady's next move would be, since the look she had been giving the other woman was rather unexpected.

"Yes, inform him, and don't forget to tell the Alpha every single little detail before leaving the pack. Oh, and don't forget that the next time you decide to come, you'll always be greeted by me," the young woman remarked in a monotone. She was fully aware that what she was saying was a total lie because she was only going to stay with the pack for less than a year so they would never see each other again, but the young Luna was enraged.

"Lance, help our guest see herself out of this pack before she misses her flight."

"Yes Luna," the bodyguard rushed to open the door for Laila. It was an implied command for her to exit the pack as quickly as possible. The embarrassed she-wolf was in tears as she gritted her teeth and exited the pack with curses that she couldn't bring herself to say aloud.

"She got what she deserved!" Lena laughed as she decided to terminate her friendship with Laila. It had been a horrible idea from the start. Jennifer regretted it as well.

"Alpha," Xavier was standing some distance away when the Beta female saw him. The Alpha? The young woman lifted her eyes to look at Xavier, who had witnessed everything with the other ranked males, but not once had he interrupted. How long had he been standing there? Had he heard everything? Was he upset because she had kicked out his friend?

Xavier's green eyes were locked with Kiara's chocolaty ones, both of which were filled with feelings she couldn't identify. The longer they stared at one another, the more the air surrounding them began to smolder, until Kiara felt her heartbeat accelerate. How could he not have even blinked once?

'Do you want me to apologize to your friend?' The young she-wolf couldn't help but question Xavier, whose intense gaze had been drilling a large hole in her face. Obviously, he thought she was a bitch who had humiliated his childhood friend in front of the pack. That was the only reason Kiara could conjure up for his eyes and appearance.

'Apologize?' Xavier mind-linked back, raising his brows. It was the first time they mind-linked each other, which caused something inside her heart to squeeze.

'Then what do you want to say?' She inquired, perplexed. He brushed off Laila's slap and insults as if they had never occurred. What did the Alpha want from his woman if it wasn't about Laila?

'How about lunch tomorrow? When I returned to the pack after my business meeting, be ready on time, Xavier stated, surprising Kiara. Wait! Did he just tell her to be ready? Was he going to take her out to lunch?! Why had he suddenly asked her through a mind-link? It was far too abrupt.

Kiara was still perplexed, she couldn't respond to Xavier. She had never eaten or gone out for lunch. No one had ever invited her. When they went out for family lunch, they always left her alone in the pack house. Noah always remarked it was humiliating for them to walk beside bad luck.

Her childhood memories were as vivid as they had always been. On Noah's birthday, her brother had always forced her back into her room. In front of his friends, he would constantly disguise the fact that she was his sister. He would never share cake with her and would lock her in her room until the birthday celebration was over. Kiara chuckled in sadness as she remembered the times that she wanted a slice of cake. Finally, Martha would serve her in her bedroom, but it would be stolen by Lewis, as Noah had taught him to do it.

For years, the same thing would happen over and over. She had been left behind in the pack house while everyone else went out into the world to enjoy their lives. Birthday celebrations, family meals, or socializing with friends. The young lady was unable to breathe, go out, or live.

Xavier, on the other hand, had become the first person who was willing to take her out. He didn't believe she would humiliate him.

Kiara's lips formed a faint smile. She wished to go out with him. She wanted to do everything she had missed out on in her life. He wouldn't regret it if he asked her, right? She received a message on her phone just as she was about to answer him. She looked down at her phone to see whether it was from Adira.

'Kiara, let's meet tomorrow. The location where I asked you. Remember, this is our only chance. So go to any length to escape the Sirius Bright Pack.'

Kiara had forgotten to breathe while reading Adira's message. The young woman raised her gaze to meet the Alpha's, who was still waiting for her response.

It was her last chance to meet Adira. She wanted to go out with Xavier but she also needed to meet with her sister. She knew if she could not escape, then she would lose her opportunity to meet with her forever. She clenched her palm in panic, still looking at Xavier's green eyes. She had made her decision.

Alpha's Surrogate by POOJA Chapter 33

Alpha's Surrogate by POOJA

Chapter 33

33. Alpha had fled with Luna?

There was a peculiar stillness in the dining table instead of the usual laughter and conversation. Everyone's focus was on the Alpha and Luna rather than their breakfast. The couple hadn't even glanced at each other or spoken a word to anyone else. Their volatile auras had touched every wolf in the room, yet they seemed completely unconscious of it. What was going on?

"I am done," the Alpha made the sudden announcement, even though he hadn't finished his breakfast yet.

"Wait a minute. You didn't have your orange juice," Kiara reminded him, passing him the glass of juice. "I am done," the Alpha repeated, totally ignoring the juice.

"But you just scolded the Omega for forgetting the orange juice, so why don't you want it now?" the young she-wolf reminded him. His alpha tone had terrified the poor woman to the point she had broken out into tears. He had just blown up on her, so Kiara had gone out of her way to make the juice for him.

"Yeah, but now I've changed my mind," Xavier remarked coldly, his gaze drawn to the changing expression on the beautiful woman's face. What had he said?

"I wonder what caused you to change your mind," everyone in the dining area was taken by surprise when the young Luna snapped at her Alpha. The Beta and Gamma couples gave the young she-wolf horrified looks as she became the first woman to ever dare speak to the Alpha in such a manner. Even Petra had never upset or argued with Xavier since she had been fully aware of his capabilities, which could easily devastate anybody who offended him.

Zander was the kinder of the twins and had the ability to forgive others. His older twin was the opposite. The Alpha stared at his daring woman, who had nothing but defiance in her eyes once again.

"I just don't want to!" he answered in a heavy tone.

"And what about the time and effort that I put into preparing it?" The young Luna demanded, slamming the glass down on the table. She'd had enough of his attitude.

Since yesterday, when she had refused to go to lunch with him, the young she-wolf had been dealing with Alpha's acidic attitude. At the time, she assumed he would brush off her denial and move on, instead she felt as if he was treating her as if she had committed a crime by refusing him. He turned his back on her with a furious grimace as soon as she stated she couldn't go to lunch with him.

He had returned to his office building, then apparently forgotten how to get back to the pack house! What work would make him so busy that he couldn't even return for lunch? His brother, the Beta, and Gamma returned, but not him. Kiara had waited for his return with bated breath, hoping to ask him for permission to meet with Adira, but he hadn't returned until late in the evening. As much as the young Luna had been anxious to see her sister, she was also irritated by Xavier's deplorable attitude.

The most unexpected thing had been that when he had returned, he had spent at least an hour in the shower.

something else. The trend continued in the dining area, rather than eating the plate that his wife had pre-prepared for his dinner, he made one for himself and ate that. The woman that sat by the Alpha's side had been enduring her husband's every mood patiently and with restraint. Despite the fact that he utterly ignored her!

He hadn't even glanced at her once, anytime she tried to speak to him, he would either start talking to Zander or leave to attend to some calls! Kiara's patience had even been tested as he slept, not facing her like usual but sleeping in the opposite direction. His attitude had not changed as of yet. He had declined to drink the juice because she was the one who had made it.

The young woman couldn't believe that a full-grown man, one of Alpha blood, could act so childishly about a lunch cancellation! It was just lunch, he could always go out with his business partners. So why was it so important to him?

"Time and effort? But I never asked you to make the juice for me. So I'm not at fault if it goes to waste," Xavier remarked with a sneer that irritated Kiara.

"Yes, it appears that I am the one who made the stupid mistake. So I will accept responsibility," she said with a stiff smile, passing the glass of juice to the young wolf who had just entered the dining room with a parcel.

"Cole, I don't drink orange juice. Can you help me by drinking this?" The young Omega blinked, he could not believe his lucky. That he was going to get to drink orange juice made by Luna, who was gifting him with her most gorgeous and big smile while making a sweet face. The Alpha observed her cuteness, which was followed by Cole's blush. As Xavier witnessed the interaction between the two of them, the young man quickly returned Kiara's smile. Why was this obnoxious Omega even here? Cole quickly dropped the parcel to take the glass from Kiara.

"Sure!!" Cole reached out to grasp the glass, but it was snatched away by another hand.

"It's mine!!" Xavier snarled then drank the juice down all at once, glaring at the young Omega. How dare he blush in front of her?! The Omega wolf took a step back then fled the pack house before becoming a victim of the Alpha wolf's anger. He had done nothing wrong. He had just been offered a glass of juice by the Luna, so why was the Alpha upset with him?

"You scared him for no reason," Kiara lamented. Her tone irritated Xavier to no end.

Why was she so concerned about him?!

"How dare he steal what is rightfully mine!"

"You said you didn't want to drink it, so I offered it to him," Kiara responded, returning her gaze to his, but his unexpected closeness stunned her.

"I'm not used to sharing my possessions. What is mine is mine forever." His arms curled around her waist as he drew her closer to his chest, giving her a cold stare that enticed the young she-wolf. His green eyes had been having a hard time leaving her red quivering lips that had been parting so beautifully that he wanted to capture them soon.

Kiara's heartbeat had accelerated. Suddenly, she felt a burning sensation in her blood. It tempted her all over, especially between her thighs. She had never felt this way before. What was going on with her? Was it his touch and his eyes that had caused this? She kept her chocolatey eyes set on his green ones, still irritated by his sudden possessiveness over a glass of juice.

The Beta and Gamma couples blinked, having witnessed everything yet being unable to comprehend what was going on. Then their focus was drawn to the other Alpha, who had been enjoying the show with his apple like the evil witch from the beginning.

"I thought you two were fighting," Zander commented, smirking at the close proximity of his brother and sister-in-mate that they had taken in the heat their argument. Were they actually squabbling? Then why had it looked like something else?

"Who said that?!!" Xavier and Kiara both snapped at the younger Alpha before pulling away from each other and storming out of the room through the separate doors. Everyone was taken aback as their gaze flicked between the two doors, not knowing what had transpired between the couple.

"And they ask why I don't want to marry," Zander let out a deep sigh before taking another bite of his apple. Kaiden and Tyler focused their attention on the Alpha's performance. There was only one reason for this: he was too lazy to find himself the perfect woman.

"What?" Zander raised his eyebrows at both of them and laughed as he exited the room. He was going clubbing today!

It was already late afternoon, but Kiara hadn't had a chance to speak with Xavier yet because he hadn't returned to the room. Adira's phone had been turned off all morning, the weirdest thing was that she had not checked a single message that Kiara had sent. They had intended to meet at Adira's college since it was the safest place to have a peaceful conversation. But the older sister had changed the agreed-upon location last night for reasons she had not disclosed to her sister. The young she-wolf was apprehensive and had a bad feeling. Why had she turned off her phone, when they were supposed to meet? Something was clearly wrong!

Adira contacted her just as she was about to try to call her again. "Hello Adira! What are you..." She was going to ask her about the situation when her sister cut her off.

"Kiara, Noah found out about everything!"

"What?!" Kiara's hand went to her mouth in surprise. This was not good news. He would never forget the humiliation that had been caused by Kiara's decision, nevermind the beatings that Xavier had inflicted on him. Now he had discovered that both of his sisters were still in contact with one another and had not broken their relationship. The older sister was in a life-or-death situation.

"Can you tell me where you are right now?" Kiara inquired, having overheard Adira's labored breathing. Was she running?

"I have run away from the pack."

"What? You ran away?" The young woman was stunned.

"What exactly happened?"

"Noah stole my new phone from my room and presented it to Dad, at which point he showed him our texts and call history. Noah took advantage of mom's absence. Dad became enraged and locked me in my room. On Noah's recommendation, he set up my marriage to an Alpha that I was not prepared for. I would gladly accept death but I refused to be forced to marry, so I fled."

Kiara's heart fell into her stomach as she learned the entire story that her sister had been keeping from her. So Noah had been attempting to pull the same ruse on Adira that he had on her. But fleeing the pack without the Alpha's approval was a crime, her sister would be exiled or declared a rogue.

Sawyer was an egoist to his very core. He would never be able to bear the humiliation of Adira fleeing the pack.

So it did not matter where she went, the Ardara Moon pack would eventually find her. If she was caught, her punishment would be much harsher than a forced marriage. Noah would make her life completely impossible.

"Can you tell me where you are right now?" Kiara inquired, dashed into the closet to put on her jeans as they spoke.

"I am heading towards the train station," Adira responded while searching for the cab. Why had she been so unlucky today? There were no cabs available when she needed them! It was too risky for her to stay or wait for o she continued to run.

"Where do you intend to escape to after that?"

"I'm not sure. I can't go to Grandma's house because that will be the first place they would look for me. So I'll take the train someplace far away in a different country but there will be no way for me to return the pack," Adira explained, pausing to regain her breath.

"Adira, don't go anywhere yet. Please wait for me at the train station. I'll be there," Kiara hung up the phone and rushed out of her room. She made her way outside the pack house before coming to a halt in front of the office building. When the Luna walked in, the guard became worried. He had been strongly advised that no one other than office staff was permitted to enter the facility for security reasons. He might be punished, but how could he dare to stand in the way of the Luna?

"Where is the Alpha?" The young woman approached a pretty woman who appeared to be a secretary.

"The Alpha is in the meeting room," she quickly lowered her head, but by the time she raised her eyes, Kiara had vanished.

"Wait a second, Luna. The Alpha is attending an important meeting," the secretary made every attempt to stop her.

"Move," Kiara's instruction was enough to make her wolf surrender before an enraged

Luna, who seemed extremely frightening. Why was she so eager to see the Alpha? She had even gone against the regulations.

Everyone in the conference room had their gaze focused on the projection screen, when the door opened and an unexpected visitor arrived, everyone was taken aback.

"Luna," they bowed respectfully, but Kiara's gaze was fixed on Xavier, who was sitting like a king in his chair. She had violated a rule.

"Alpha, I am sorry. I tried..." The secretary tried to explain but Xavier waved his hand in the air.

"I'd like to speak with you about something incredibly important." Kiara remarked as she moved closer to Xavier.

"Later. This meeting is important for me right now," he brushed her off, maintaining his cold demeanor, but the young she-wolf stood firm in front of him.

"The meeting may continue later, but I need to speak with you right now," Kiara stated, shifting her eyes to the others.

"Can all of you give us a moment alone please, gentlemen? I need to discuss some urgent work with the Alpha." She requested politely, yet there was a rush to her words.

"Yes Luna," they answered, attempting to rise from their seats, but were stopped by the Alpha.

"Nobody is going anywhere. It is now business hours. I'll talk to you later," Xavier stated seriously as he rose from his chair. He had previously allowed her to break the rule, but canceling a meeting for no reason was not something he was going to allow. Kiara, who was out of time, couldn't think of any other option but drag the Alpha down to her face by his collar.

"You did not leave me any choice," she whispered before pressing her lips against his. Xavier's eyes widened as he realized what was going on. What in the world had she been up to?! Kiara pushed him into the chair, then crawled into his lap before he could pull himself up.

Everyone in the room gasped in amazement as the Luna attacked the Alpha with another kiss while her hands roamed all over his chest. Were they planning on making out in front of them?

"Everyone get out!!" Xavier growled at the others over mind-link, because he couldn't stand having an audience to their private show that the Luna had decided to put on. In an instant, the room was empty, and Kiara's kiss had ended. But her lips remained close to Xavier's. She couldn't believe that she'd done something so stupid in front of everyone. She felt embarrassed, but she didn't have any other choice.

"What's wrong?" Xavier questioned quietly, sensing her emotions, which were breaking her heart for some reason.

"Please help me," Kiara murmured, her eyes filled with sorrow. Xavier's brows furrowed. She was looking for help?

"With what?" Xavier asked, lightly caressing her cheek.

"Adira is in danger. She has left the pack and is now on her own. Xavier, please help me save my sister. Please,"

Kiara implored, gazing deeply into his green eyes. She was well aware that he despised everyone in the Ardara Moon Pack, but the young woman was willing to go to any extent to rescue her sister.

Xavier's heartbeat was erratic. He recognized the same desperation she had when she had implored him not to slaughter her pack and family. She had given up her future and herself to protect others in the past, this time was no different. Why did she never consider herself? How could he ever say no to her desperation? What was this woman doing to him?

"Let's go help your sister," Xavier said, surprising Kiara, who had given up hope. He wanted to help her. When she nodded happily and rose from his lap, a small tear appeared in her eye.

"Thank you," the young she-wolf whispered, letting go of his hand. But the Alpha instantly grasped it as he drew her into a passionate kiss. Kiara closed her eyes for the first time, sensing his desperation.

"Let's go," he stated as he broke the kiss, then led her out of the room. The pack members who had been gathered outside the door watched Xavier and Kiara run out of the room holding hands. Why were they running? Was the meeting over? They rushed towards the parking lot, every member of the pack who happened to witness them passing by had been captivated by the magnificent scene of the Alpha securely holding the Luna's hand while running. Wait! Did this imply that the Alpha had fled with Luna? Zander, who was dressed handsomely, was about to get into his car to go to the club, and noticed his brother approaching the car.

"What is going on?" The younger Alpha asked when he saw his brother putting his sister-in-mate in the back seat of his car.

"Zander, drive quickly. It is really important," Xavier ordered as he got into the passenger seat. As his brother sounded deadly serious, the younger twin hopped into the driver's seat without hesitation.

"Fk! It seems like I am cursed. Whenever I think about clubbing, troubles come my way," he cursed, driving out of the pack.

"I am sorry. You can leave after you drop me off at the train station," Kiara offered, holding the seat tightly as he drove like he was in a race.

"Train station? Why are we going there?" The Alpha asked, glancing between his brother and sister-in-mate. She looked like she wanted to cry, she was that scared of the speed that the car was barreling down the road.

"Adira., I need to meet with Adira," Kiara responded, attempting to call her but unable to connect. Zander's ears perked up when he heard the name of the woman who had indirectly branded him a man we. Xavier observed that his brother had increased the speed even further, which surprised him. What was the matter with him?

A little while later, the car came to a halt in front of the train station. Kiara was the first to run out of the car. She felt a little dizzy due to the rush of driving, but it was okay as long as she could find Adira in time. She started to run towards the crowd.

"Wait a minute, it's too crowded. You'll get lost," Xavier gripped her hand as his younger brother stood behind them, staring at them. The young she-wolf locked her gaze with him. If she got lost, then he could easily find her. So why had he stopped her? Was he concerned about her?

"It's the only way to find Adira because her phone is turned off," Kiara remarked, attempting to free her hand from the Alpha's grip, which he was refusing to relinquish. He noticed that her skin looked quite red. Her body was also hot like she had a fever. She looked sick.

"Why don't you sniff her out?" Zander offered, crossing his arm over his chest as he calmly leaned against his car.

Xavier returned his gaze to Kiara, nodding in agreement with his brother's recommendation.

"Before leaving the pack she has to put on a perfume to hide her scent so that will not work," Kiara replied. Both twins frowned in unison, as if there was now no way this would work.

"I'm sorry, but I have to find her before Noah and his wolves do. I will be back. Please wait here," Xavier was surprised as he watched her run away, quickly loosening his grip.

"fk! Did she really think she could just order me to stay behind? How dare she go by herself?" Xavier groaned as he followed his woman. Zander took a deep breath as he watched his brother leave.

"It is none of my business," he reminded himself by closing his eyes, but as Adira's voice resonated in his memory, he opened his eyes then looked to that side.

"fk! I am only going for my brother and his mate," he told himself as he went to catch up with his brother. When he lost Kiara, Xavier came to a halt in the center of the crowd. She had been so desperate to find Adira that she had outrun him.

"What's wrong? Where is she?" Zander inquired, standing beside his twin and taking a look around.

"There are too many humans and werewolves, so everyone's scents are intermingling," Xavier grumbled, but then he caught Kiara's scent again. Why the heck was her scent stronger than ever today? The Alpha frowned after his thought, only to come to a halt when he noticed the young women. The sisters were encircled by four werewolves. Noah had sent his men to capture Adira, but they had not anticipated the added bonus of being able to take Kiara as well. Both sisters were in a fighting stance, ready to confront them.

Zander tried to get a good look at Adira, who was facing away from him. Evan began to act strangely as a result of her presence. He couldn't smell her, but there was something about her that had prompted him to take a step closer. Xavier's gaze had been drawn to Kiara, who appeared even more flush than she had been a minute ago. His intuition warned him that she was ill. Her scent was something that he had never experienced before. He felt his desire rising inside him, but both brothers observed the wolves attacking the females at the same time.

"Don't touch her!" Xavier kicked the man in the head, knocking him to the ground. He was tossed away like garbage on the corner. How dare that fucker touch her arms! Dean had been attempting to take control of his human to finish them all.

"Stay behind me," Xavier told her without looking at Kiara as he drew her behind him. He'd made the decision to handle the wolves on his own. They couldn't shift since there were humans around.

Adira screamed in pain. One of them had severely injured her arm. When Zander kicked the man's chest then sliced his arm in the same spot where he had injured her, Adira slumped to the floor. Evan had gone crazy after witnessing her being attacked by another man.

"Those are the Alpha twins!" One of the wolves yelled, urging his companions to flee before they were slain. Taking advantage of the humans' presence, Xavier nearly ripped one of their hearts out before they fled. His anger was at its peak. Dean and Evan exchanged glances before they lowered their gazes to the floor before human eyes could notice them.

"AAHHH!" Both brothers glanced back to the women, alarmed. They dashed over to them, hoping to catch them before they fell to the floor. When Zander's hand touched Adira's bleeding wound she was dazed, she groaned in agony.

"Are you all right?" Zander asked, brushing her hair away from her face as their eyes met the sparks ran through their veins. When the Alpha's emerald eyes met hers, he gasped in surprise.

"Mate," Adira's eyes widened in shock as her legs became weak from fear and blood loss.

"Kiara," before Kiara's heated body could tumble to the floor, Xavier caught her. Her entire body felt like it was engulfed in flames. Her eyes were watery, she cried out in physical pain, shivering in terror as Xavier's wolf drew her closer to his body, a ravenous expression on his face. She passed out in his arms, just as Adira passed out in Zander's. When he looked at his brother, who was giving him an identical surprised look.

"She is my mate," Zander told Xavier with his wide green eyes.

"My mate is in heat," Xavier responded, his mind, heart, and soul lost in the grip of the mate bond. Both brothers had found themselves in deep st.

Alpha's Surrogate by POOJA Chapter 34

Alpha's Surrogate by POOJA

Chapter 34

34. What the hell had they done?!

The Sirius Bright Pack was on high alert. A curfew had been set in place, no one was permitted to leave their homes, They were told to stay put. Everyone was waiting for the next order to learn the secret behind this unexpected change. This restriction had been set specifically for all the males in the pack, which had piqued everyone's interest. Why especially for men? Only the Beta and Gamma couples could be spotted in front of the pack house. Two key incidents in the pack had only been reported to them a few minutes ago. When Alpha's car had arrived in the pack, they ran over to it.

"Alpha," Kaiden and Tyler dashed forward to open the doors for the twins. They'd heard from other pack members that the Alpha and Luna had been spotted running together, and that it had been Alpha Zander who drove them. They lamented their absence at a time when their Alphas had needed them. They were unable to join them for whatever reason they had needed to leave the pack. The Alphas got out, carrying their mates in their arms.

“She is Luna Kiara’s sister,” Lena exclaimed in surprise. She was the only one who had seen a photo of Adira. Kiara’s old phone had come in handy. Zander’s white shirt was stained with blood, he appeared rather frightening covered in his woman’s blood.

Jennifer’s beautiful eyes widened when she realized that Luna’s older sister was the younger Alpha’s mate! They had only been told that Zander was bringing his mate into the pack house. Her identity, however, had been concealed.

That was when Xavier stepped out of the car, with a moaning Kiara in his arms. They were so astonished to see Adira that Kiara’s heat had gone unnoticed until Xavier got out of the car.

“Oh my Goddess! The Luna is in heat!!” Jennifer gasped, taking a few steps back from Xavier, who appeared completely fearful with his gaze fixed on the young she-wolf’s burning body. Holding Dean in check was not something that Xavier could do in this condition. Their mate was in heat and in excruciating pain! Lena and Jennifer exchanged worried glances. Both the Alpha sisters seemed to be in danger. The twins appeared to be at their most deadly, one wrong move and someone would lose their lives. Why and how had things come to this? The enigma behind the curfew had now been revealed as well. Kiara’s heat was going to lure all of the pack’s unmated males, therefore a lockdown needed to be enforced for everyone. Fortunately, the Beta and Gamma males were both marked and mated, so the young Luna’s heat had no effect on them.

“Jennifer, you are coming with me!” Xavier ordered the Beta couple, storming into the pack house. Only the Goddess understood how he had managed to keep himself under control in the car.

“Tyler, call the Doctor immediately and make sure that they are either female or a mated and marked wolf,” Zander ordered, rushing into the pack house, ordering Lena to follow closely behind him.

The Beta and Gamma females followed the Alphas as they entered their respective rooms. Lena dashed to a drawer to get the scissor she needed to rip Adira’s sleeves before the Doctor arrived.

“The doctor is here,” Tyler announced as he took his place close to his mate. The Doctor had arrived faster than expectations. Everyone had learned a valuable lesson when the senior Doctor had been demoted. He observed the Alpha gently placing an unknown, gorgeous yet injured woman on his lap, then holding her closer to his chest.

Zander had been holding Adira’s hand, but it appeared that he was more interested in inhaling her scent. What was the Alpha up to? Who was she? The Doctor was perplexed as he awaited orders like a fool.

“Don’t waste time, check on her!” Zander snarled, wanting to devour Adira whole, since her fragrance was the only thing keeping him from losing his sanity. Kiara’s heat had spread throughout the pack house. Leaving the younger Alpha as the sole unmated wolf on edge. He felt so out of place being turned on by his sister-in-mate's heat.

He'd been in hell the entire time he had been trapped in the same car with Kiara. When Dean had witnessed Evan losing control, he had become rather protective and aggressive. The older brother sent a lethal warning to Zander to keep his gaze off of his wife. Zander had moved his eyes away as he had not wanted to look at Kiara either, but a she-wolf's heat could drive any unmated wolf crazy.

Zander had clutched Adira close to his chest as he buried his nose against her neck to breathe in her scent to keep himself from committing a fatal sin, like glancing at his sister-in-mate with those dirty thoughts in his mind or eyes.

His mate's scent had cast a spell on his heart and mind. The only distraction that he had found from Kiara's heat had been the unconscious she-wolf's closeness and her cinnamon and vanilla scent. He had no clue how strong and powerful the mate bond could be. The connection he felt with the she-wolf in his arms was too strong for him to ignore. He'd forgotten everything as he stared down at her bloodied and pallid face.

Evan's gaze remained fixed on his gorgeous mate at all times.

"AAHH," Adira whimpered softly, attempting to move slightly due to discomfort. She felt an unidentified warmth wrap around her body, as well as heavy breathing near her neck. Who was he? What was the cause of his rapid heartbeat? She attempted to open her eyes slightly, but everything was blurry. She smelled an orange-like scent that was making her mouth water. What was going on? She couldn't take it any longer, she closed her eyes again.

The Doctor was having difficulty treating her wound since Zander had wrapped his arms around his mate's waist. Even though she was unconscious, he had her sitting in his lap with her back resting against his chest.

The Doctor's fingers trembled in terror as he avoided Evan, who had been growling and burying his nose in Adira's neck. He could not risk moving his nose away from her otherwise Kiara's heat would fk with his mind and could cause serious issues.

'Stay focused and treat her as quickly as possible. It's the only way you'll be able to leave the room.' Tyler mind-linked the Doctor, who was visibly terrified by his Alpha's irritated gaze. The Gamma female was shocked to witness Zander's possessive and insane side, which had been unveiled now that he had met his mate. She was more concerned about Adira. She hadn't anticipated the second Luna of the pack to be in this state. Tyler reached out to take Lena's hand as they watched her receive treatment.

"Alpha, the wound is rather deep, but I have stopped the bleeding," the Doctor confirmed as he finished bandaging her arm and got off of the bed.

"Her wound will take between 10 or 11 hours to heal. Her physical strength will also play a role. But I can guarantee you that this young lady is no longer in danger," he assured his Alpha as he lowered his head.

"My Luna, not just any young lady," the doctor raised his head to look up at Zander, who had introduced the unknown she-wolf as his Luna. Wait! Did that imply that the younger Alpha had also found his mate?! This was amazing news, yet no one knew about it?

"However, you are not permitted to reveal this secret until I instruct you to do so. Do you follow me?" Zander lifted his brows, his face barely a few inches above Adira's neck.

"I understand Alpha," the Doctor replied with a small smile. He should have already recognized the reason behind the different attitude of the Alpha. The mate bond had been playing with him. The Doctor left the room quickly before the Gamma couple followed. As Lena closed the door behind her, the room became dead silent. Then a voice echoed in the room. Evan had taken over Zander, flipping his unconscious mate onto the bed so that she was under him.

"Mate!" Evan exclaimed, clutching Adira's cheeks, then proceeding to tear his clothes apart with the other hand.

"No!" Zander yelled, taking over his wolf while pulling his hand back before it was too late.

"Mate. She is our mate!!" The wolf argued with his human, reminding and pushing him to fk and mark her.

"Yes, she is. However, at this moment, she is unconscious. Let's wait," the Alpha growled back, unable to block the Alpha wolf. Evan was equally powerful at this moment, so blocking him was hard for Zander when Adira was lying there in front of their eyes.

"We need to wait," Zander whispered, leaning down to her lips, tenderly caressing them with his. He moaned with delight. Evan was slightly satisfied with the kiss. Her lips were petal soft and tasted sweeter than anything he had ever tasted in his life. He'd broken the kiss before going crazy and fg her without her consent. It was nearly impossible for him to keep himself under control, but he had no other choice. The Alpha laid beside his female and gently drew her closer to his chest. He couldn't believe this big mouth woman was his soulmate, and that he had finally found her...

"AAHHH!" Kiara's s* m resonated around the room. The Alpha had already entered his chamber with the young she-wolf in his arms, but his heart wouldn't let him move her away from him since she was clawing his arms and biting his chest. Venus had already gone insane from the heat and was forcing Kiara to do things she would never have imagined. She had been trying to seduce her mate while weeping in agony!

"Alpha," Jennifer and Kaiden entered the room just as Xavier was laying his wife on the bed.

"It's alright, Kiara. Calm down. I am here," he cooed as he brushed her hair back and caressed her cheeks in panic.

"What is happening to her? How could she suddenly go into heat?" Xavier murmured, having no clue what had gone wrong. People said that as long as she-wolf was near her mate and was marked by him, her heat would not appear.

"I'm not sure either. Should I call a Doctor?" The Beta was similarly alarmed to witness his Luna's condition, which was affecting both his Alpha and his wolf.

"Yes, call the Doctor!" Xavier ordered, but then Jennifer said,

"It is strange that a marked and mated she-wolf went into the heat. I have never seen this before." Jennifer's voice was filled with concern, since there was nothing she could do to help her Luna, who was in excruciating pain.

Kaiden's throat became bone dry as a result of his mate's words. Xavier's gaze had been drawn to his Beta's, who, like him, was taken aback when he heard the word 'mating.'

The memories of a few days ago were brought to the forefront of his mind.

"But Xavier, if you only have s*x and do not mate, then you know what a mess that will be."

"I have already been rejected once. What more of a mess can there be?"

"If you don't mate, then the Moon Goddess will once again play her game to put the two of you together. I doubt you can escape mating."

Xavier clenched his hand in rage, realizing that the Moon Goddess had once again played a trick on him. Kiara had gone into heat since he had only had s*x with her but not mated!

"Prepare an ice water bath!" Xavier ordered, holding Kiara to his chest.

"Yes, Alpha," Jennifer raced out of the room to comply with the command, unaware that it was only an excuse to get her out of the room so that he could speak freely with Kaiden.

"I told you, Xavier. You can't mess with the mate bond! You've just had s*x, but mating is more than simply fg. Mating entails embracing each other's soul and entirely surrendering your heart, mind, and body to your soulmate," Kaiden explained in a panic as he looked at Kiara's crimson weeping face. He was well aware that she had heard him, but he returned his gaze to his Alpha, who was thoroughly enraged with himself. He gently placed his woman down on the bed and stood up to approach his friend.

"But you know what will happen if I mate with her!" He growled at Kaiden.

"Yes, I am aware. Your karma, destiny, and future will be inextricably interwoven, and separating the two of you will be impossible. However, if you try to postpone this mating any further now, you will only be seeing your wife in the same state she is now, continuing to s* m in anguish in a few days. It will kill you to see her in this state," the Beta said, despite his reluctance to repeat these words to Xavier, who was well aware of all of it.

Xavier had been completely changed by Petra's treachery. He had begun to loathe marking and mating, but due to pack pressure he had to mark Kiara. But mating was something that could only bring back awful memories with his first mate. He was now stuck between Kiara and the past. He needed to choose one.

"Aaaahhhhhh!" Kiara screamed again, rolling on the bed, rendering Dean helpless. Seeing her wailing made Xavier's hand quiver. Another wave of heat had suffocated her. She'd started tearing at her garments.

"Xavier..." Kaiden had begun to speak when he was interrupted by the green-eyed Alpha, who was staring at his mate.

"Get out," without glancing back at him, the Alpha gave his Beta a command, Kaiden glanced at the Alpha and Luna before leaving the room, hastily closing the door behind him. Before moving closer to the bed, Xavier's hands sought to undress himself. He had enough, he could not hold himself back anymore. He needed to fk her!

Kiara turned her gaze away from the ceiling toward Xavier, who had crawled over her naked.

“Ahh...” When he tore the rest of her outfit off and tossed it aside, leaving her totally naked in front of his hungry gaze, she groaned loudly. Her mate’s eyes on her felt like a physical touch.

“Xavier...” Kiara cried when he leaned closer to her face.

“Shhhh, I will end the pain, Kiara,” he whispered, brushing her tears away as he lovingly kissed her. Kiara groaned in his mouth, raising her chest to rub her n*s against his bare chest, and almost scratching his arms as he placed his finger between her thighs. His finger entered easily into her moist hot py, he began to finger her slowly. If mating was the only way to relieve her anguish, he was willing to do it. Kiara’s screams and sobs had driven him insane to the point that he had forgotten his aversion to mating.

“AAHHH!” Kiara flung her head back, raising her chest even further when he added another finger, then increased his speed, thrusting harder until all it took was one small brush of his thumb over her clit and she released on his fingers. She shouted in delight and agony. It was what her body had been demanding.

“Did you feel better?” he asked, capturing one of her n*s in his mouth. “Yes!!!” She gasped, clutching his hair when he sucked it hard.

“Bite me!”

“Please, bite me, Xavier!!!” Kiara yelled out in pain as his teeth grated on her skin, giving her what she had yearned for. The agony paled in comparison to the pleasure his fingers had been providing her. They were going deeper and curling upward within her py looking for that special spot, she could feel another orgasm building inside her.

“AH... Ahh... Oh my....” She cried as he increased the speed of his fingers, then stopped just as she was about to release.

“AH... why? Dont stop!” She murmured, gripping his hand. Why had he pulled his fingers out? She required more. If he didn’t give her what she needed, she’d go insane.

“I am not stopping. I am planning to give you more,” Xavier assured her while stroking his ck. It was hard and longed to enter her tight wet py as he slapped it on her py lips before he started to enter her.

“No!” Kiara stopped, closing her legs and crawling back on the bed.

“Why?” He asked, getting closer to her. Her heat had f*d with his head and now she wanted to stop?!

“I don’t want to mate with you. Let’s just have s*x like we usually do. Just s*x,” Kiara murmured, trying to hold back her tears. The Alpha was caught by surprise by her unexpected plea. Had she already realized that he hadn’t mated with her? If that was the case, why had she never complained?

“Why don’t you want to mate with me?” Xavier demanded with a grimace. Kiara was terrified when she saw him growling viciously at her. He drew her closer to his chest, pulling her hand away from her chest, which she had been trying to conceal from his hungry gaze.

“Kaiden indicated that if we mated, our destinies would be connected forever. In reality, you’d mate not just me, but also my terrible luck. I can’t mate you because you’ll be afflicted by my bad luck,” Kiara explained.

“What the heck are you going on about? I don’t believe that nonsense!” Xavier growled in annoyance. Kiara’s eyes welled up as she heard him. It wasn’t simply because of her heat, but also due to her husband’s remarks, he had no idea about her past.

“Since the day of my birth I’ve been labelled bad luck, my twin brother died but I survived,” Xavier was taken aback when she began to reveal the tragic facts of her existence.

“We were triplet. Lewis lived, but the Doctor told everyone that my other twin brother died because I survived. Dad hadn’t wanted another daughter since Adira had been enough for him, my brother’s death had really destroyed him. Then another piece of awful news shattered his life when his years-long thriving firm had been ruined. Mom had lost her ability to give birth and was on the verge of death due to blood loss.

“Mom had chosen to give birth to me, so she was going to die. Dad had lost practically everything as a result of my birth. It was more than enough for him to despise me, but then Mom stopped breathing. Dad became terrified and threw me into the arms of a servant in order to get me out of the pack house so that he could save Mum. Well, it hurts to admit this, but my presence was actually going to kill Mum. They were able to save her because I was no longer there.

“The entire pack was delighted to see the Luna and Lewis alive, but no one so much as spared a glance my way. I was only permitted in the pack house when my mother wanted to breastfeed me, after which I was tossed back to a servant. I’m glad I don’t remember all of the times when my siblings received my parents’ affection while I cried alone in a servant’s arms. All of the awful things that happened as a result of me were like dominos happening one after another, slowly increasing everyone’s hatred for me.

“People who were kind to me died, including the maid who looked after me. Then there came a time in my life when no one would let my shadow fall on them. I was given a room with food and water and told not to leave unless absolutely necessary,” Kiara paused for a second, biting her lip in pain. Xavier was stunned to hear her story.

“Why are you telling me this?” He asked, drawing Kiara’s attention back to him.

“Because a relationship begins with trust and honesty. I want to be honest with you no matter how long we are together. It’s fine for me to just have s*x as long as my bad luck doesn’t touch you,” she smiled sadly as she reached her hand to stroke his cheek.

Xavier was taken aback to hear such a young woman say such important things that he had never expected. Her innocence and purity quickened his heartbeat. He slipped his hand over hers and leaned in closer to kiss her.

“I don’t believe in your misfortune. So quit trying to push me away,” he whispered as he kissed her passionately. His hand drew her closer, separating her legs.

“Wait! But I believe,” she broke the kiss, closing her legs again.

“I can’t put your life in jeopardy. If something bad happened to you as a result of my luck, I would die. I’m sorry you can’t mate me,” Kiara said as she pushed his hand away and stood up from the bed, her legs wobbling. Kiara attempted to enter the bathroom so that she could immerse herself in an ice bath. She had heard that getting some comfort it was beneficial.

517

"AHHH!" She yelled in anguish and was about to fall to the floor when she was shoved against the door just as she was about to touch the knob. Her back slammed against the door while Xavier's body pushed into her small figure.

"I said, stop pushing me away!" He roared, pinning both of her hands over her head.

"Xavier, what are you..." She froze when he lifted one of her legs up and pointed his ck towards her wet py, then gently slid inside of her.

"Bad luck or not, you were designed to bond with me. You are mine so your luck is also owned by me. Don't push me away again," he murmured while ramming his ck deeper within her.

"Oh my Goddess!!" She screamed, both in pain and ecstasy. He began to push deeper and faster as she began to leak juices down his thick ck. She couldn't believe her ears. What exactly had he said? Had he not worried that he might die due to being around her? How had she ended up with a man like him as a mate who accepted her despite knowing everything about her?

"Ahhh... fk! You are so tight! This position is so fg good!" The Alpha groaned, massaging her breast as he felt her moving her hips a little.

"Oh... slow down..." she begged, demanding the opposite of her desire.

"Slow down?" He asked, letting go of her hands to place both of his hands on her waist, wrapping her legs around his waist.

"Yes! I am... oh fk!" Kiara moaned loudly as he shoved her against the door, so that he could thrust his ck further within her. As she was up in the air, she had to put her arms around his neck for support, but his arms were securely wrapped around her waist.

"Don't hold back your moans," he demanded, kissing her lips, spreading her ass cheeks, and pushing further into using gravity combined with his normal hard thrust inside of her. Every drop made her teeth chatter as her eyes rolled back in pleasure from the new depth and force of him inside of her. It only took five of these drops on his magnificent member before he had her orgasming all over his ck once more.

"I will die of pleasure... if you don't stop," she replied, biting his chest. Her body craved him more and more. She began to move her hips, pushing herself back into talking in the opposite way again.

"Die? Not before I make you completely mine," he replied as he threw her on the bed.

When Xavier began to take her py deeper on the bed by placing both of her thighs over his shoulders, Venus became thrilled as another wave of heat washed over Kiara. The young woman was unable to concentrate since she was experiencing a pleasure overload from the variety of touches the Alpha was giving her. His mouth was adoring her breasts, n*s, marked neck, and lips, while his monster ck was planning to tear her apart. She loved it when he took her roughly.

ave

"Oh... please... yes... there!" When his ck made contact with that sensitive bundle of nerves inside her core, her lips parted wide.

"Found it..." He smirked, continuing to hit her G spot. Xavier felt his pre-cum rising and realized that he was getting close to his release. Kiara could feel him expanding and lengthening inside her. She gazed at Xavier in disbelief when a spark swept through both of their bodies. He had planned to finish the mating ritual!

“Xavier... no...” Kiara murmured, feeling a knot in her stomach, terrified of the sensation she had never experienced when they had s*x before. He was really mating with her. “Yes!” He responded by quickening his pace. They both felt a knot in their stomachs that drew their mate link closer together.

Knowing that they were both close to release, Xavier reached down between them, rubbing his thumb over her sensitive nub. That was all it took for Kiara to let out a s*m as she orgasmed. Xavier quickly followed, not being able to last long in the tight grasp of her core. He planted his seed into her as he thoroughly accepted her luck. He continued to thrust inside of her until the last of his cam was buried in her womb. Kiara took a deep breath as she stared at him in disbelief. He had mated with her. What the hell had they done?! Her heat faded as they felt the link draw them closer together, prompting Xavier to softly bend over his mate and kiss her forehead.

“Mine,” he growled, embracing her tightly and drawing her into his chest before allowing her to sleep.

Kiara’s eyes were wide open. What exactly had she done with him? He had mated with his surrogate?!

Alpha’s Surrogate by POOJA

Chapter 35

35. Unfinished business

“Where the hell is my daughter?!!” Luna Martha’s yell echoed across the pack house. Fear gripped the Beta, Gamma, and other warriors, causing them to step back, unable to lift their heads. She had just gone to visit her mother for three days, but she had no clue that she would lose her daughter less than 24 hours later. Julie, the Beta female, stood behind her Luna with her bags. She glared fiercely at her mate, who had bowed his head in shame. She had asked her mate not to accompany Noah, but he had not heard her.

Julie had been the one who had alerted Martha of Adira’s absence. She had told her the whole story about locking Adira in a room then forcing her to marry an unknown Alpha. The Luna had gathered enough information to return to the pack as quickly as possible, but she was late. Her daughter had already fled, and she had no idea where she had gone.

“Martha,” Alpha Sawyer dashed down the stairs, only to be confronted by his enraged mate, who was glaring at him. Why had she returned so quickly? The Alpha was in deep trouble.

"Calm down, Martha..."

"Where is my Adira?" She interrupted him before he could finish.

"Relax and follow me in here. I'll tell you everything that happened," he attempted to clarify.

"I don't fg want to go anywhere. Tell me where my daughter is!" Martha demanded at the same time that Noah entered the pack house.

"She ran away from the pack house yesterday," when the family's eldest son stepped in front of his mother, he exuded pride. Due to the fact that he was about to take over his father, he had chosen to assert his dominance over his mother first. He believed that it was an excellent method for him to assert his control over the pack. His sisters were obstructing his ascension to the role of Alpha.

"Run away?" His mother frowned in disbelief.

"Yes, I believe she has a lover somewhere like Kiara had Alpha Xavier...." Noah's head snapped to the side before he could finish his sentence. When Martha vented her rage at her bastard son, a stinging ache emerged in his cheek. He clenched his teeth as his eyes turned red, but he couldn't utter a single word in complaint.

"Don't even think of lying to me again! I never gave you the authority to humiliate or accuse my girls. Nobody understands them better than me, so don't blame her for fleeing for no reason. She did it because you forced a marriage on her without her permission. Tell me, where is Adira?!" Martha demanded, growling. Sawyer then grabbed his son's collar, pushing him back.

"This is your final warning, Noah. Never dare to say anything between your mother and I! You also know better than to yell in front of your mother," the Alpha admonished with a lethal glare. The offended Alpha blood had been standing behind his father with an offended expression. He had been slapped in front of the warriors who were a lower rank than him! He was simply waiting for the appropriate moment to exact his vengeance on everyone. Sawyer gazed at his Luna, whose face clearly told him that if he didn't calm her down, he would lose her forever. She was going to take her luggage and leave him for good, just like she had already warned him.

"I'm not sure where Adira is. I sent my men out to search for her, but they were unable to locate her. So we are still looking for her. I'm going to bring her back to this pack house no matter what," Sawyer promised his mate.

"You want to drag her back so that you can forcibly marry her off? Sawyer, what exactly are you thinking? She is our child. What made you think that you could do this to her?" The Alpha couldn't help but notice the disappointment in his wife's eyes, which was a significant red flag for him that things had gotten out of hand. He was worried and was going to relay what Noah had told him about Adira leaking Ardara Moon Pack's secret information to Kiara. Clearly, his mistreated daughter was now attempting to get revenge on him by relaying the information to Sirius Bright Pack's Alpha. As a punishment for betraying the pack, he had set up Adira's marriage to someone else.

"Yes, but I have reasons," he explained.

"No excuse can justify your actions, Sawyer. It's a pity our daughter felt unsafe in her own pack and had to flee. She is still young, she has nowhere to go. Have you considered how I would cope if something happened to her? I've already lost Kiara because of you, and now I've lost Adira as well," Martha's eyes were a little moist, which worried her mate.

"Martha, don't cry. I'll track down Adira. I will..."

"Enough, I will find her on my own," Luna showed her hand to her mate.

"I've given you plenty of opportunities, but you've always let me down. Now I don't see why I should stay in this pack. I don't need a mate, and I don't need a son from now on!" Martha declared, picking up her bag. She was leaving the Ardara Moon Pack for good.

"Martha, please don't leave. I'll explain," before she could walk through the door, Sawyer grabbed her hand, snatching her bag. He was renowned for his ego and dominance, but his wolf was insanely in love with his mate and there was no way he was willing to lose her. She was rejecting him, he couldn't tolerate it.

"Explain? All I want is my daughter back!" She shrieked, drawing her hand back. Sawyer was in a bind, unsure of how to get Adira back because he had no idea where she had fled to.

"Adira is in my pack," the roar of the Alpha resonated throughout the Ardara Moon's pack house. Everyone turned to find the speaker, only to see the twin Alphas standing at the door. Sawyer grimaced witnessing his foes on his territory, but how could he forget that this territory was now in their hands? Their uninformed visit had been expected. But seeing Xavier, who had taken his younger daughter away from right under his nose, made his blood boil, he hadn't been able to do anything about that. He had been humiliated, now he was back, only this time with his twin!

"Why are they here?!" Noah snarled, reliving his thrashing at the hands of Xavier. "What exactly did you say?" The older Alpha, with his emerald eyes, arched his brows in challenge. Did he have a death wish? He dared to bark at them? Noah averted his gaze from the dominant Alpha blood who had meant to incinerate him with his eyes. fk! He wanted to murder Xavier, but his wolf advised him not to offend the Alpha.

"My Adira is at your pack house?" Martha's mouth dropped to the floor in disbelief.

"Yes," Zander answered the unasked question.

"But how and why?" She questioned, getting closer to him. She wasn't sure which one was Zander and which was Xavier. She had only heard they were twins, but she had only met Xavier once. Had he hurt her? They'd already taken Kiara, now They'd taken Adira as well.

"Some of your pack wolves launched an attack on Adira. Kiara had gone to help her but had also put herself in danger. Your older daughter got injured in the arm while your younger daughter went into heat at the train station. We brought them to our pack, otherwise your son had brilliantly plotted to kill them," Zander remarked, giving a blood-thirsty stare to Noah.

"What?" Martha's blood turned to ice when she heard of the heat and injury. Sawyer's throat had also become dry. Even though he despised Kiara, he was frightened at even having to consider how her heat might have ruined her innocence if Xavier hadn't been there to protect her in time. Not to mention Adira, who had been hurt as well.

"My son planned to kill them?" Sawyer asked, returning his gaze to Noah, who was sweating profusely. Martha was also staring at him. Even though he was terrified, he was determined to defend himself with confidence.

"No, they're accusing me. Why would I attempt to harm my sisters? I wasn't even at the train station at the time. I don't know who those four wolves were...."

"You fg bastard!" Xavier punched Noah in the face. He collapsed on the ground, groaning and clutching his broken nose.

"We never said that there were four wolves!" Xavier yelled, kicking him hard in the stomach. He had been caught in their trap. His agonizing cry echoed in his parents' ears, who had been stunned to learn the truth.

"How could a brother ever consider hurting his sisters? You deceitful brat!" The old Alpha snarled, wishing to murder his stupid son, who was already whimpering on the ground. His claws had come out, he had reached the point where he wished to end his son's life.

"No! Don't kill him, Sawyer," Martha grabbed her mate's arm.

"I don't want any more bloodshed," she pleaded, clutching his arm hard. She hadn't shown mercy to her son, but her heart couldn't bear the thought of losing another child. Lewis, Kiara, and Adira had already left her. She was completely broken. Sawyer's legs buckled when he realized how badly he had misjudged Adira. His daughter would not have run away from home if her Dad had not naively believed his wicked son.

"You don't want any more bloodshed but we do!" Zander yanked Noah up and landed at least five punches to his stomach. The Luna was in tears, but she had no power to halt the Alpha twins. Due to Noah's actions, she felt like a failure of a mother. When her son was handed over to Xavier, who beat him until he realized what he was holding then kicked him into the corner of the room like he was little more than a piece of worthless trash.

The Alpha's bleeding knuckles had been observed by the Ardara Moon Pack. He had the appearance of a bull, taking long fierce breaths as he watched Noah weep in agony.

alar

"Let him go. I'll punish him myself," Sawyer stated, earning Zader's furious green-eyed gaze.

"How can you possibly punish him for hurting my mate?" He demanded, perplexing the Alpha and Luna.

"Your mate? Who?" Sawyer asked, looking between the brothers. He knew that the one who was talking to him was Zander.

"Adira. She is my soulmate," the Alpha declared.

"What?" In total disbelief, Martha and Sawyer almost yelled. Their eyes were wide open, and their mouths were gaping. How could this have happened? Did this mean that their younger daughter was paired with the older twin and the older daughter was mated with the younger twin?! They had both of their girls in their clutches?

With a blank look, Xavier moved a step closer to Sawyer. The elderly Alpha was nervous, unsure of what he was about to face. The old Alpha no longer wielded any power.

"Once again, you struck gold, I am letting your son go. He should be killed, but I promised Kiara that I would not hurt her family. However, that doesn't mean that I have to forgive that dickhead. Now, after your son's latest transgression, if you declare him the next Alpha of the Ardara Moon Pack, I will annihilate every living creature in this territory. You may choose whoever you want, but not your stumbling son. Take it as a suggestion or warning. At the end of the day, the option is always yours. I will still be ready to crush everything," Xavier cautioned fiercely. The old egoist didn't say a word, but he glanced aside in rage. He had never tolerated being told what to do by others well. He was in a bad mood, and the cause of it was his own son.

"I will never allow Noah to take his father's position. He blew his chance the day he hurt my girls," Martha responded quietly but with utter determination. The Alpha twins offered a small respectful nod. Clearly, their daughters had their mother's qualities. She was the smartest of the Ardara Moon Pack's members.

"But how are Adira and Kiara?" The Luna's voice was hushed, her heart was aching. She was overjoyed that they had become the Lunas of two mighty Alphas, but she couldn't visit them now.

"They are fine," Zander responded. Sawyer remained surly and unresponsive, despite Martha's smile of delight. That's when Martha's gaze was drawn to Xavier, who was glancing upstairs. Zander returned his gaze to his brother, only to discover that he was ascending the steps.

"Where are you going?" Zander mind-linked his brother. They were supposed to leave, but he went into the pack house instead. It was already morning. Lena had been taking care of Adira, who had still been unconscious when they left. Xavier had ordered Jennifer to stay in his room before leaving the Sirius Bright Pack so that Kiara would not leave his room. Her heat hadn't returned yet, but he couldn't take any chances when he'd come here to deal with Noah. They needed to return home as soon as possible, but the Alpha had some other plans.

"To complete some unfinished business. Wait for me," Xavier responded, leaving his brother perplexed. What was he up to?