Chapter 61

61. Now the real game begins

The big guest house where the Blue Moon Pack had been housed was located on the northern side of the Sirius Bright pack house. But the sound of a growling gradually grew louder from one of the rooms on the floor above, Petra had entered her room a moment ago.

The sound of a door slamming had been accompanied by an angry roar that mercifully had merely resonated in the closed room but covered the sound of the blonde's shattering the heart. The entire room had become a hive of activity as she threw things around as it was the only way she could relieve her stress and rage at the time. The reason for her chaotic emotions was not because she had to stay in the guest house or due to Xavier's poisoned barbs. Something else had set her wicked yet sensitive mind

She sat on the floor after destroying her whole room and personal stuff, which had taken her a grand total of fifteen minutes. Her hair slid down over her face, preventing the gleaming moonlight from illuminating her face. She had never turned on the light in the room when she had entered, making everything in the room including herself appear rather frightening as she took deep and furious breaths while staring at the Moon. The Moon! That was the reason! That was the catalyst for everything!

She'd wounded her palm badly on a piece of glass, yet it felt insignificant. After seeing Xavier and Kiara together, the pain in her neck had completely gone away.

"Soulmate? A second chance mate!!"

These words were a curse to her. She had never anticipated such a harsh slap to be delivered to her by the hand of the Moon Goddess.. Xavier finding a second chance mate was more humiliating for Petra than it had been to be rejected by him in the first place. She had absolutely lost all face in front of the Werewolf community after the rejection. As the reason for the rejection was known to the entire community, a female who was revered and feared by the werewolf had become a low class w".

Nothing was hidden since Xavier had rejected her then called on her old pack to collect her. But then Xavier had totally covered up the news after that day, no one knew who the woman in his past had been. Everything in his life had returned to normal, but it had been the polar opposite for the new high-ranking slut. Yes, this had been what others had called her. They had called her other such names as well.

There was just one reason for it, Xavier. She hadn't been rejected by a typical Alpha. Her mate had been an Alpha Prince! She had known him since they were both children. Those who were aware of Xavier's true identity had instantly turned their backs on her. Obviously, no one wanted to be at odds with the royals. Those who only knew him as an Alpha of a powerful pack likewise cut themselves off from her. She had found herself isolated from the whole community.

The rejected Luna had lost not just her friends and a powerful Alpha as a mate, but her own family members, who had opted to sever all ties with her. Alpha Harvey, her younger brother, had not been on good terms with her since they were children, thus his agreement to Xavier's terms earlier had little effect on her. His demeanor had become to simply brush her aside, but her father had not done the same.

Her father, the Blue Moon Pack's Alpha Roman, had led her back to the pack, acting normally in front of the Sirius Bright Pack, but in the privacy of their own pack he began to loathe her. She had once been his princess, she had then become a curse on his life. As the family's eldest daughter, she was meant to behave well so that they could hold their heads high because she had been graced with Alpha Xavier as a mate. But after the rejection, she had turned out to be nothing more than a shame and a stain on the family's reputation. Not to mention her affair with her own Beta.

Alpha Roman hadn't cared that his daughter had been completely devastated by the rejection or that she'd nearly lost her wolf as a result of it. The old Alpha was primarily concerned with the treaty he had almost lost, as well as his standing in the werewolf society. People would obviously not say anything to his face, but gossip was pervasive and could not be ignored.

Petra had a difficult time throughout the last two years in the Blue Moon Pack. After the first three months of rejection, she was eventually able to reconcile with her father when she offered to do whatever she could to restore his reputation. Was it easy for him to trust his unscrupulous daughter? No, but the old Alpha was, after all, her father. One by one, using her brain that had always worked like a computer, she had raised her pack back to its former glory. Until it had surpassed it becoming mightier and stronger than ever!

She had also recovered her wolf after making a secret commitment to her. A promise to destroy Xavier, who had destroyed her life due to a minor treachery. It was only a f**k! Why had he ruined her life because of it?

It took her nearly two years to regain the complete trust of her father, family, and pack, during which time she had lived a horrible life as a rejected she-wolf with the label of a prostitute on her forehead. The day of her rejection she had not only been disgraced, but it had also caused her immense grief. The agony of losing her lover, Orion. That she could never forget or forgive. But now again...

"After countless sleepless nights dealing with these memories and grief, I've learned that Xavier has been gifted with a second chance mate!" Petra paused, her gaze drawn to the man who had entered her room through the large window she had left open in anticipation of his arrival. She knew he'd come to her.

"Get up," he said heavily. When he noticed her condition and her words, the man's heart and emotions were on edge. He took a small step closer to her, but she stayed on the floor. She kept talking.

"I have been suffering, struggling, suffocating, and crying but he... he was," she uttered in one breath, but by the end of the sentence her voice had lowered to a whisper as a fat tear rolled down her cheek. It was not a tear of sorrow but one of anger that she couldn't let go. When he witnessed her weeping, he came to a standstill.

"He... he is enjoying his life with his love? With another woman? Leaving me alone?" He was right in front of her, but paused when he saw how distressed she was. He despised her tears. It had always made him want to burn the entire world down for her.

"I wonder, Why?" She asked, clutching at his long legs with a furious growl. "Stop it," he growled as well. She gritted her teeth as she got up from the floor. "Stop it? You said that they were just f****g each other! That slut was just his bed warmer and a mere chosen mate. So how the f**k did she turn out to be his soulmate?" She demanded. Her tears had turned into fire in her eyes.

"Why is Xavier blessed with another mate when I didn't get any love? Tell me? Why? Why? Why?!!!" She screamed at the top of her lungs, grabbing the man's collar with all of her strength.

"Enough!" He roared, squeezing her into a tight embrace to calm her. It usually worked, but at the moment he was agitated as well. He'd been living in the Sirius Bright Pack for so long that he hadn't realized Alpha Xavier was putting on an act that he had chosen a mate! The Alpha had duped everyone and ruined their strategy. But what he was concerned with was the woman in his arms, who was upset with him.

“Don’t compare yourself with that low class f**k toy of Xavier’s! She is nothing to him and you have to believe me,” he informed her, but Petra became even more enraged.

“Don’t f*****g lie to me! If she was merely a f**k toy to Xavier, how come she’s pregnant with his heir? Didn’t you mention her pregnancy was a one-of-a-kind case? Have you ever heard of a she-wolf who did not miscarry after shifting during her pregnancy? The pup should have been dead by now, yet she’s planning to give birth in four months? Is that even possible? And why is the Moon Goddess blessing Xavier and Kiara’s child? Why?” She shrieked the final words, losing her mind entirely.

“It was not easy for me to kill my 8-month-old baby for you! I accepted the miscarriage because I did not want to be the mother of Xavier’s child! So how the f**k can they have a blessed child and live a peaceful life while I burn with the need for vengeance?” She sought a response.

“Don’t shout! We’ve both lost too much in this already for our love, Petra. Do you think it was easy for me to live among the twins, knowing they might catch me at any moment?!” The man yelled, a little loudly, while gripping her arms firmly to bring her back to her senses.

“Although Xavier is the Alpha Prince, Kiara is only an ordinary she-wolf from a middle-class household. Even if they are soulmates, there is no comparison between them. As a result, I feel the blessed child and pregnancy story is completely fabricated! It’s bullshit. I feel it is our enemy’s strategy to divert our focus and aim.”

“But what if she is really pregnant and the child is blessed by the Moon Goddess?” The brown-eyed woman wondered, looking deep into his eyes, which raised insecurity in her man’s heart.

“What if our strategy goes awry due to their mate bond? I will not accept it if two years of our hard work and your sacrifice come to naught because of that unborn pup and their mate bond!” She exclaimed, taking a deep breath.

“I have not come to this pack using my brother’s wedding to lose everything to them. I want blood, tears, and revenge! Revenge for my rejection. Revenge for my humiliation. And revenge for losing my love,” she spat, cupping her lover’s face, witnessing an evil grin spreading all over his face.

"Then now is the best time for me to reveal the gift that I have already prepared for you, my darling," he said, handing Petra a little gift box.

"What is this?"

"The key to our victory." he raised his brow with a handsome, breathtaking smirk.

Petra tore it open swiftly because she had run out of patience. When she got to her gift and threw the box away, it took her a few seconds to realize what it was before a big, malicious smile spread across her face and she glanced up at her man.

"Oh my f*****g Goddess! Why did you hide it from me?!" She screamed uncontrollably while hugging him tightly. He hugged her back, delighted to make her laugh once more. Her smile was his life, his breathing space, and to be graced with it he could do anything, including what he had brought for her right now.

"f*****g love you!" Petra exclaimed with a deep kiss. She drew back and admired her present with an evil grin, which was the nicest thing she had ever received in her whole life. The hope she had been losing slowly as a result of learning about Xavier's second chance mate returned with a vengeance.

"Now what babe?" He asked, getting closer and kissing her neck.

"These two days are going to be incredibly entertaining. I will not only kill every member of the Sirius Bright Pack, including the Alphas and Lunas. But, before I give them a painful death, I will humiliate them in front of the entire werewolf community." she vowed, pulling him over to the bed as she spread her legs wider for him. The man threw off his pants so that he could shove his monster inside her wet, greedy, whorish p**y that he had not f*****d for months.

"f**k, I cant wait for our victory, Petra. It is time for you to become my Luna and Queen of the Sirius Bright Pack," he said, thrusting deeper inside her. She was turned on by being a submissive in bed, she loved to be dominated in a more aggressive way than he was giving her. He slapped her hard across the face and made her gasp in pain, but she asked for more.

"What about Zander's mate? What is her name? I can tell that you are quite attracted to her," Petra brought up. During the discussion with the King, she had noticed his hungry gaze fixed on Adira. That woman looked like Kiara's twin, but the man in front of her appeared to only be interested in the older sister.

“Hmm, that slut is too intelligent,” he said, pulling her hair hard. When she cried out, it pleased his ears.

“She knows too much that she should but has not said anything. I wonder if she is trying to seduce me by hiding me from her mate? But her blue eyes pull me in whenever she is around me.f**k! She is totally my type. I would have f****d her if Zander was not always around her all day like a dog! I swear after killing Zander, I will keep her as my personal w***e. At first I wanted to kill her but now she will warm my bed for the rest of her life,” he explained his plan with a laugh. Petra threw her head back while laughing darkly.

“Now the real game begins,” she agreed.

Chapter 62

62. Part 1.

Alpha King Renard’s car picked up unexpected speed, after bidding goodbye to his twin who had traveled with them to the border to say goodbye, causing the other four cars of his bodyguards to closely pursue him. What had happened so suddenly? Why was his car acting like a raging bull? The King had begun acting strangely as soon as they had crossed the border into the Sirius Bright Pack.

“Is something wrong, my king?” Beta Brian was perplexed. Throughout the meeting, he had watched his King’s mind become disturbed. Renard’s jovial expression had been removed when they were alone in the car while the Beta was driving for him. His true emotions were revealed. The smile he’d been wearing in front of everyone during the evening had faded into a solemn face.

Brian had also noticed Renard’s desire to leave the Sirius Bright Pack after resolving Xavier and Petra’s argument. Not to mention that he had arranged his niece’s wedding. The man, who hadn’t seen his twin brother and favorite nephews in months, hadn’t wished to stay in their pack for the night? Those facts were difficult for the Beta, who had spent the last 15 years serving his king, to ignore.

“Didn’t Stephen say that Luna Kiara and Luna Adlra come from the Ardara Moon Pack?” The old Alpha King mumbled, his thoughts still drifting deep into his previous recollections. His eyes were cast outside the window, but his thoughts were all over the place.

“Yes, the sisters are Alpha Sawyer and Luna Martha’s daughters,” the Beta confirmed, noting his King’s expressionless face from the corner of his eye. Was he missing something? Why did these sister worry the old wolf so much? Those she-wolves seemed to be highly intelligent, but they appear to be completely innocent. Neither of them had opened their mouths in front of the King when their mates were talking, proving their excellent upbringing. They had been mind-linking their Alphas all the while during the events of the evening, which was a part of a magnificent Luna. They had been advising and assisting their soulmates without saying anything.

“Brian, change our route,” the king ordered.

“Where do you wish to go, my King? The Beta questioned in amazement. For a brief moment, he had mistaken his return to the palace as news on his grandson’s escape. Jespen had been placed under house arrest for a month as a punishment and to put him through detox for his addictions by his Grandfather. The 25-year-old Alpha blood had done every drug that he could at his age.

The King was having his grandson treated by the doctor in the palace, but Jaspen had managed to dodge the guards and fled half an hour ago. They had reported it to the King right away. The bodyguards had been instructed to drag him back and beat him if he tried acting like a d**k. Alcohol and drug use had turned the Alpha blood into a disgrace, so the King no longer saw him as an Alpha. Even though Jespen was a spoiled addict, Brian was fully aware of Renard’s affections for his grandson. Blood after all was thicker than water.

But it appears as if the King’s main concern just now was not his grandson, but something else.

“Please tell me where I need to drive,” he inquired once again.

“Drive me to the Ardara Moon Pack,” the King commanded, surprising his Beta.

It was late at night, around two in the morning. After the full moon party, all of the pack members were resting in their homes with their families when the information provided by a woll positioned at the border roused the pack. The Alpha King had arrived to visit their pack! Beta Alan clenched his teeth and jumped out of his bedroom window. He was going to f*****g murder the people who were spreading false rumors in the middle of the night and disrupted his sleep, but then he confirmed that the news was true!

f**k! Why would the King come to their pack?!

Every pack member, no matter how low or high their status, stormed out of their home to present themselves in greeting to the King. At the mention of the King, everyone's slumber drifted away. They waited for their Alpha and Luna to exit from the pack house as well. They were the only ones that could handle the situation now.

Everyone worried whether they had done something wrong or broken any rules that had offended the Alpha King and that was what had led him to their pack? The King's arrival could not be regarded as positive as the Ardara Moon Pack was small and had limited territory. If the royals raise their finger, they could easily be wiped away. Everyone was scared as they waited for their Alpha and Luna.

"What is happening?" Martha rushed out of the bedroom, holding her blouse, only to run straight into Sawyer on the way. She'd only managed to put on her jeans because she'd been sleeping half nude beneath the blankets as usual.

"It's the Alpha King!" Sawyer whispered loudly while donning his t-shirt. Since Martha had refused to sleep in the same room as her mate, they had been sleeping separately, but their rooms were on the same floor and only a few steps apart. This ensured that the pack members were unaware of the unresolved tension between their Alpha and Luna. She had shooed him away but the Alpha was quite relentless! He would stay next door no matter how many bad things she said to him.

"We should hurry up," the Luna panicked and was about to go downstairs when she felt her man's large hand around her waist bringing her back to his chest.

"Wait," the Alpha's voice was heavy.

"Why? The King will be here any minute. We should be with our people first!" She looked over her shoulder to scold him. The woman could not believe that she needed to tell him that at a time like this.

"First put on your blouse," he demanded. "What?" she turned to look at him. He took the shirt from her hand and put it over her body.

"Don't walk around half naked. Only I have the right to see you like this," the old Alpha stated, fixing her blouse and using it as a good opportunity to seduce his mate. Martha lost her train of thought when she felt his fingers brushing her waist softly. (**k! How many days had it been since they had last had s*x? She had been dying for his touch.

“Are you okay?” Sawyer licked his lips as he placed his hand on her cheek, feeling her flush hot. The Luna’s blue eyes opened to meet his ravenous stare. She noticed his lips lowering to hers, readying for a kiss. When his lips finally brushed against hers, she moaned and panicked a little. She clenched her hands at her sides. f**k! It was as if it were their first kiss! He was always the best at making her feel special.

“Umm, we should go. The king is here,” she murmured as she drew back before they could kiss properly. Sawyer chuckled as he watched his male flee before he could make another move on her. He was certain he saw her cheeks flush.

The Alpha followed Martha closely only to find the Alpha King wailing with his Beta and other bodyguards.

“My King,” in front of the royals, the Alpha couple knelt on the ground with their pack members. Everyone’s head was lowered in respect and eyes darted on the ground.

“You may raise,” King Renard ordered. Sawyer and Martha followed his command quickly.

“The Ardara Moon Pack welcomes the royal pack,” the Alpha and Luna greeted as they bowed once again. The couple lifted their heads to gaze upon, for the first time, the Alpha King. They had the good fortune of meeting him today. As predicted, his aura was exceedingly strong and menacing, causing every wolf around him to obey. Alpha Sawyer, on the other hand, was stunned by his arrival. Even though the King did not need approval to enter anyone’s territory.

“My apologies, my king. We had no idea that the royal pack would be visiting us tonight. We did not make preparations...”

“Alpha Sawyer, don’t worry. I’ve come to see you but not for hospitality for another reason,” the king remarked. The old wolf was known for not beating around the bush. Martha and Sawyer exchange anxious looks before returning their gaze to the King.

“Please, welcome to our pack house,” Sawyer welcomed the Alpha King and his Beta to come inside. Renard had ordered the other bodyguards to remain outside.

Renard quickly grabbed the center chair in the meeting room, while Sawyer and Martha took their seats at his side.

“Alan, prepare water and some refreshments for our guests,” Martha asked her Beta since he was the only other person in the meeting room besides the Alpha and Luna.

“Please, Luna Martha, there is no need for any of that. I’ve come to speak with you about your daughters. I’ll leave as soon as I confirm a few things about them,” Renard began to explain.

“About my daughters? What is there to talk about?” When the King mentioned her daughter, a worried Mother went into a panic. Sawyer’s ears perked up in astonishment as well. Why and how did the King know about them?

“Is something wrong with them? What has happened to my Kiara and Adira?” Martha had become so agitated that the king was unable to continue, so Sawyer wrapped his arm around her to keep her emotions in check. All of the negative thoughts were tormenting her. Adira had told her that her wedding was tonight. She had sent her photos of her and her mate kissing, dancing and other things. The Luna was glad to see them smiling, since it had only been two hours, what had happened in those two hours? They had only been f****g married a few hours ago!!

“Calm down, Martha. Let the king speak. I believe that nothing has happened to them,” the Alpha reassured his mate with a smile, before turning his worried gaze to Renard. It was difficult for the Alpha to act casually in front of his woman because he was also terrified that something bad had happened to their girls or why the King had personally come here to discuss them,

“Your mate is correct, Luna Martha. Just a few hours ago I went to Sirius Bright Pack to meet your daughters and trust me they are perfectly fine and shining like the Moon with their mates,” Sawyer and Martha were instantly calmed by the smile that the old Alpha King’s had bestowed on the Alpha couple. She immediately thanked the Moon Goddess for keeping her daughters safe.

“Then why do you need to talk to us about them, my King?” Sawyer asked, starting the conversation

“Can you please tell me whether Luna Adira and Luna Kiara are your biological daughters?”

Alpha’s Surrogate by POOJA Chapter 63

Chapter 63

63. Part 2.

“Can you please tell me whether Luna Adira and Luna Kiara are your biological daughters?” The King’s voice became stern, yet the Alpha couple and their brows in response to the unexpected query. What kind of question was that?

"Yes, Kiara and Adira are my children. They are mine. I am their mother;" Manha claimed, and Sawyer nodded immediately.

"Can you prove it?" King's Beta pointed out,

"Prove? Well, I can show you my album," the Alpha remarked, gesturing for his Beta to bring it for the King. Alan returned shortly with a big album to present to the king. Renard began to examine each photograph, realizing that both sisters have their mothers' beauty. Kiara had inherited Sawyer's chocolatey brown eyes, while Adira had inherited her Martha's blue ones. He looked at a few more photographs before coming to a halt, filled with doubt.

"Strange Alpha Sawyer, you don't have any photos with Luna Kiara. I can find some with all of your children, except for her. She only has pictures with Luna Adira and Luna Martha. But not with you, why?" The King's doubtful green eyes looked between Luna and Alpha.

"Is this because you are not the girl's parents?" He added. The Alpha couple was stunned by what the King had said but before they could say anything, Beta Brian stepped forward.

"I want to warn the Alpha and Luna that if they lie to the Alpha King, the entire Ardara Moon Pack will be slaughtered. Please only answer with the truth," he warned the couple, causing them to panic.

"But what we told you was true. Why would we deceive ourselves or you about our daughters? We are their parents," Sawyer felt a surge of rage in his veins. Things were becoming absurd at this point. He just couldn't figure out what the objective of this chat was.

"Then what about your younger daughter? I heard you didn't like her. You also prohibited her from returning to your territory since she married Alpha Xavier. Who does that do to their own daughter?" Renard asked yet another inquiry. He had gathered all available information before arriving here, and the outcome was obvious. When he had brought up Kiara, the Alpha in front of him had grown pale.

Sawyer shifted his gaze away from the King, his heart pounding. He was brought back to the present from the memories of how he had mistreated Kiara. Martha raised her gaze to take in her mate's remorseful expression. She sensed emotions in him that she had never felt before. What exactly were they? Sawyer had a distinct disposition in his eyes while a complex set of emotions varied as they moved through him like the ocean tide. He seemed to be dying on the inside as a result of his remorse.

“Sawyer,” she gripped his hand firmly, pulling him out of his guilt, as she forced him to look into her blue eyes.

“Say something, Sawyer. Don’t be silent at a time like this,” she encouraged him. The Alpha was struggling to take a breath as he reflected on his relationship with his younger daughter and the things he had imposed on her over the last 18 years.

“Martha, Iain “before Sawyer could say anything, the old Alpha King said

“Alpha Sawyer, I’m suspicious of your claim Luna Kiara is not your daughter You niust acknowledge this and tell me who her true parents are,” Sawyer’s large chocolatey enraged eyes flashed at the king He’d had enough

“Who said she is not my child? Yes, I admit that I disliked her for a variety of reasons. I also admit that I was an asshole no matter how many times Martha tried to stop me from pushing her away but the truth is Kiara is niy daughter! She is my flesh and blood. No one can change ihal reality and separate my daughter’s existence from me. I loved both of my daughters,” Sawyer confessed, holding guilt out in front of him like a stone for the King to bear witness to but still his blood was boiling in angel “Sawyer did you...” Martha’s voice became stuck in her throal, her tears welled as she finally hear the words she had been waiting 12 years to hear. Did her male actually call Kiara his daughter?

“You said you love Kiara, right? Finally, you said that you are her father 100, not just Adira’s” tears streamed down her cheeks. Savryer nodded in regret. They had been so lost in each other’s eyes that they had failed to notice that the King was smiling and had already left the pack house, leaving the lovely couple alone Renard had realized Sawyer and Martha were the sisters biological parents but still the mystery had not been resolved.

“Yes, I do. I know it’s too late for me to embrace this truth, but I love our Kiara as well, Martha When the King accused me of her not being my child, I felt as if he was severing an important and precious part of my body. I couldn't stand it. Kiara is our daughter, Martha She is a part of me," he muttered Martha saw tears well up in her mate's eyes for the first time.

"Sawyer," she threw her arms around his neck and cried in happiness.

"I am sorry for everything. Martha. I realize now that I have caused you far too much pain. I was narrow-minded when I blamed Kiara for our child's death. One of the triplets was supposed to die. I just couldn't take that and began hating her. Now that I'm in the same position that I've been putting you in my entire life in the name of Kiara, I realize how much of a monster I am," he stated while drawing away from her but still holding her hands. As he did not dare to look into her blue eyes, his guilty chocolatey eyes were focused down on their hands.

"I'm not fit to be a father. I'm not worthy of being your Alpha. I don't deserve to be your mate," his tears finally chose to betray him before he said those raw painful words he had never expected to admit.

"I will accept your rejection, Martha. I am ready to free you from our made bond. I know I deserve

"Shhh, stop talking crazy, Sawyer," the Luna cupped her mate's face and wiped away his tears.

"Yes, Sawyer, you are late, but not so late that I cannot forgive you. I'm glad you recognize your mistakes and that now you have the opportunity to apologize to our Kiara," Martha smiled. The Alpha nodded slightly, not daring to look her in the eye. All he had to do now was wait for their mate bond to be severed the moment that Martha chose to reject him which would leave him a broken, devastated woll He had made the worst mistake of his life, and it was now time to accept it.

"And one more thing, if I had wanted 10 reject you then I would have done it a long time ago," Martha admitted in a whisper, smiling at his changing face.

"Martha," Sawyer's eyes snapped up to her in surprise. What did she mean?

"You aren't going to reject me. You aren't going 10 leave me, right?" Sawyer's voice was quiet in Sonow, but he still had hope in his heart. Maybe the Moon Goddess had been giving him a chance to repent.

“No, because I love you,” she said with a smile that surprised her Alpha before she pulled him into a hug to help him believe her words

His big arms drew her in closer as he lightened the hold, burying his face in her neck, and closed his eyes.

“I love you too, Martha I love you more than anything,” he confessed. Soon after, the couple found themselves in a passionate kiss before the Alpha returned with Luna to their bedroom, where she deserved to stay. He had reclaimed his male’s heart. Their love story, which had been about to fail, had become a success once more.

“What now, my king? They are Alpha Savryer and Luna Martha’s daughters, it turns out. They hadn’t lied about their identity to us,” Beta Brian stated as he opened the car door for Alpha King Renard.

“Yes, but I know that I have still f’ g seen these girls somewhere! I know it sounds crazy but I know them. But I can’t figremember from where!!” Alpha King Renard gritted his teeth, refusing to get into the car.

“Have you talked to Vampire King Alfred about the sisters in the car? How about you call him?” the Beta suggested.

“Oh yes! Alfred!” The Alpha King pulled out his phone to call the other king but Alfred managed to call him first.

“Hello,” the old Alpha King said.

“Renard!1f****g figured it out! I found out where I have seen Xavier’s mate and her sister, that I have not met, but now I have found her as well,” the Vampire King yelled in excitement.

“Really?” The King asked in disbelief.

“Yes, quickly come over to The Fort. I have something to show you!” Alfred laughed in victory. Renard smirked as he cut the call. Now the mystery behind the Alpha sisters would be exposed!

Xavier and Zander needed to know who their mates were!

3 May (morning)

“Kiara,” Xavier exited the bathroom, a towel wrapped around his waist, in search of his woman. She had agreed to take a shower with him, but she never joined him. How dare the young she would break a promise?! The Alpha needed to catch his mate!

“Kiara, where are you?” He called once again. Had she left the room? He could feel her presence close by, though the door was shut. That’s when he decided to go into the closet, and a big grin spread across his lips. So she’s been hiding out in there? She’d been kneeling down, doing something with her bag. It reminded him of the time she had wrapped a bandage around his finger. It had been a small cut but she had stolen his heart doing those innocent and cute things.

“What are you doing? Are you hiding from me?” Xavier gave her a hug from behind and kissed her on the cheek, but he was taken by surprise when he heard her sobs. He drew her tearful gaze to his side.

“What’s wrong? Why are you crying?” Cupping her face, he demanded. How long had she been crying? Her whole face and eyes had turned bright crimson, had he hurt her?

“Xavier,” she sobbed.

“Yes, tell me what happened?” He asked calmly even though he was panicking at finding her in this condition.

“I lost it,” she said.

“What did you lose?”

“I lost the surrogacy contract. I can’t find it in my bag,” Kiara cried loudly, in his arms. Now everything was over. Xavier had already burnt his copy of the contract and now she had lost hers.

64. Together.

“Adira is everything alright?” Jennifer entered the kitchen, as she normally did, with her hand on her big baby bump. She had expected to get her morning tea from one of the Omegas, but instead found the Luna cooking. What was she making? Due to the pack house being so large, there were many servants and Omegas that worked for them, so that none of the ranked residents had to perform those tasks. The Luna’s appearance in the kitchen was rather shocking, especially as she seemed quite disturbed for some reason.

“Yes, everything is fine. Jennifer,” Adira passed a cup of tea to the Beta female.

“Thank you,” she replied, observing the young Luna pouring herself a cup of lemon tea. The Beta female was quick to notice that the lemon tea she was preparing was unique.

“Is someone sick?” She questioned Adira, who had picked up the tray and was ready to leave.

“Not really but I will tell you everything later. Please sit down and enjoy your tea,” the young she-wolf smiled as she guided her pregnant friend to a nearby chair. Jennifer was in her ninth month of pregnancy.

“Thank you, my dear Luna,” the Beta female smiled and waved her hand at her exiting friend. She was aware that Adira had made the tea for someone else. Adira rolled her eyes at her acting and hurried up the stairs, only to run into Zander in the corridor.

“Zander, I told you to stay in our room.” Adira scolded as she placed the tray on a table and raced over to her mate. Even though she had urged him not to get out of bed for a few hours, he had already taken a shower and came out after getting ready.

“I am alright, Adira,” he smiled, enjoying the warm palm of his beautiful mate on his cheek.

“No, you are not okay. I’m not sure why you were vomiting all of a sudden. Everything was great until last night. Neither of us are much, then you started vomiting this morning. You don’t have a fever, but your skin has turned pale. We should go see the Doctor.” She grabbed his hand as she prepared to drag him to see the pack’s Doctor.

“No, wait.. I am absolutely fine, Adira. I think I ate something at last night’s party that did not suit my stomach so I was vomiting. But now I feel fine,” the Alpha explained, holding her hand.

“Are you sure? You are not lying to me, right?” Her voice was worried, as were her blue eyes, which had been looking deep into his green ones.

“Yes, I am fit and fine Have you ever heard of Alpha getting sick?” He laughed, squeezing her soft cheeks together to make her smile. She’d been panicking like a cat since he’d started vomiting

“Okay, but I have made lemon tea for you. Please have some then I will believe you,” she turned to the cup and offered it to her Alpha, who accepted it with a little chuckle, She had really made something for him to stop his vomiting? How adorable. When she watched him drink the tea in one go, the young Luna’s blue eyes widened! Hadn’t it been hot?

“Happy now?” Zander asked, licking his lips Adira nodded happily, earning a soft kiss on her lips from her mate.

“You wanted to tell me something last night What was it?” He questioned, his fingers roaming over her waist and ass The Alpha’s emerald eyes were quick to read her conflicted emotions, which indicated uncertainty inside her “Umm, it was just some misunderstanding And like an it, I just said something lo you bul don’t worry It was nothing.’ Zander fell a little grief rise in her heart when she answered, putting one hand over his chest What was that? What had caused her sadness? What was it that she had been about to tell him? f**k! He should have asked her 10 tell him last night!

“Adira...”

“Everyone will be waiting for us, Zander,’ she cut him off with a smile The Bela and Gamina couples along with everyone else had planned to meet in the other Alpha’s room for a secret meeting

*Please give me 2 minutes. I just want to grab my phone,’ she said, stepping back

“Okay,’ Zander replied, watching her run towards the room. The smile that he had been putting on her lips vanished as soon as Adira entered the room. Something was wrong Definitely wrong!

Adira went into the bathroom falling into sobs as she shut the door behind her Fortunately. he did not sense her emotions since she had put enough distance between them at the inoment

His inquiry had caused her sorrow once more, but it was not his fauli The young stie-wolf dug into her pocket, to bring out the items she had requested from Jenniler.

“It was never made for me,” a big tear ol grief spilled over the pregnancy kil she’d heen carrying for two days but couldn’t bring herself to use What had she been thinking? Why on earth had she asked for this nonsense thing in the first place? The Doctor had previously stated that her odds of becoming pregnant were just 25%, so why on Earth had she needed to raise her expectations and have this pregnancy kit when she knew it was just going to be a huge disappointment?

She hadn't had her period since moving into the Sirius Bright Pack house. But she had soon give herself to Zander. She-wolves were also known to become pregnant in less than a week after having intercourse with their mate Zander rarely had his hands under control on after their mating and marking. They had intercourse practically every day, and all of that had resulted in the young Luna believing that she was pregnant.

She was going to tell Zander about her theory last night in the woods, while she was enjoying her first night with her mate. It was a ridiculous idea. Thankfully, she hadn't told him anything. otherwise she'd become yet another giant leidown in his life. Noah had mocked her one day during an argument that she must have committed some horrific crime in her previous life, which was the reason behind the Moon Goddess cursing her with infertility

The young woman lifted her head, tears streaming down her cheeks, hoping to glimpse the Goddess.

"It seems that I really had committed a heinous crime in a previous life. But Moon Goddess, could you please bless Zander with another mate? When she whispered those unimaginable words, she requested it with a sorrowful heart. Was there any woman who would beg for another male for her husband?

'I will not be able to bear it if my male loses his position because of my infertility.'" she continued, recalling the commitment he made in front of the council She was aware that her stubborn mate would not reject her, but he might accept another woman if she proved to be his mate. There have been tales of a wolf having two males in the werewolf realm

"I promise. I will embrace his other mate wholeheartedly Adila sobbed, feeling her voice choke in her thioat

"I will never come between them if she could provide Zander with a pup I will even accept Zander's rejection

"Even if the Moon Goddess blessed me with another male I would reject that third wheel, but could never let you go,' Adira gasped when she felt Zander's arms wrap around her waist from behind as he growled in her ear When she looked into the mirror, she found him standing right behind her. Evan had come forward in his eyes, and they were both staring at her intensely.

*Zander she stammered in panic. Had he heard her? How long had he been standing there? Wait, the pregnancy kit was lying there! She tried to hide the pregnancy kit right away, but the Alpha spun her around and snatched the pregnancy kit from her grasp, which she hadn't even opened. She had been too afraid to use it.

"Zander."

"Did you hear me?" His strong grip on her hair drew her closer to his face. She was taken aback. His eyes had hardened, yet he was being gentle as he held her hair.

"I will reject then kill that other woman that you have asked the Moon Goddess to bring to me," his words sent chills down the young she-wolf's spine, but her heartbeat was racing so quickly that she couldn't see the absolute love and devotion in his eyes.

"Don't be crazy, Zander. Don't put everything on line just for me. You are an Alpha Prince.

"And then eat you every day like I want as a punishment for even thinking about leaving me," he cut her sentence off with a whisper. Their lips were only a few inches apart, yet she could feel his hot breath against her face. When his thumb caressed her lower lip and his emerald gaze hungrily devoured hers, her knees grew weak.

"But trust me, there is no way I will ever let you go, Adira," he vowed, pushing her against the nearby wall gently.

"From now on, after today, if I see you talking or thinking about rejection or leaving me, you will find me dead!" He declared.

"No! What are you saying! She screamed, grabbing his collar in anger.

"Try me, if you don't believe me," he replied, holding her both hands and pinning them over her head. Her breath lost its rhythm when she felt his chest crush into her boobs and his cock pressing on her belly.

"I swear. I want to fuck you so hard as a punishment that you will cry and beg me to let you go." he growled, slipping his finger into her panties, that it scared Adira.

"Zander," she shivered, closing her eyes in fear when his finger touched her pussy. She was ready to face what he had planned to do to her, but then she felt his other hand on her cheek and his forehead on hers.

"But I can't," Zander whispered. The young she-wolf opened her eyes to find her mate's soft green eyes

"I can't see you in pain, Adira," Zander slipped his one finger into her pussy slowly, making her moan in pleasure.

"I can't see you in tears," he added another finger, slowly finger fo...g her "AHHH!" she moaned, her mouth was open as her blue eyes were locked with his

"Please.. ' she begged digging her nails into his when he increased his speed and started to rub her sensitive spots

"Please what?" he asked, grabbing her hall a little tighter and pulling her closer to lips as his fingers dug more inside her wet hole

"Please let me cem," she begged with her eyes as well He was playing with her and slowing the speed whenever she was feeling like she would release

"No," he declared, looking into her eyes "Please," she cried a little in need

Then you need to be brave and use this pregnancy kit, Adira' he demanded

What?" hei expression changed He didn't stop fingering her, instead he increased the speed and gave her a final thrust that gave her a big release She screamed burying her face on his chest. With sweat, her tears rolled down to her cheeks Zander let her rest on his chest for only a few seconds before he forced her to look into his eyes

"I am with you. Let's take this test. Let's face this reality together," he cupped her face and smiled.

"What if I am not pregnant?' She asked, feeling more tears building. *Then that is okay. At least we tried, right?" He wiped away her tears with a bright smile "And I believe we will keep trying,' he added, moving her hair to the side "Right?" He raised his brows with the same smile

"Yes," she answered, nodding as she immediately turned to hug him tightly. He hugged her back as they stayed in the bathroom for a couple of seconds holding each other. Sometime later, Zander was sitting on the bed, waiting for Adira to come out of the bathroom.

His green eyes landed on his mate, who came out holding the test in her hand,

"Come here," he held his hand out, making her sit in front of him. Her back was to his chest but he could feel her anxiety

"We need to wait two more minutes, right?" He asked, caressing her cheek as he gazed down into her beautiful eyes. She nodded, trying not to look down at the pregnancy kit.

"Great." Zander replied, resting his chin on her shoulder. He was sitting behind her and holding her waist from behind. Those two minutes seemed to take years for the couple.

"The two minutes are up," the Alpha whispered, causing the heartbeat of his woman to increase. They needed to check the test!

"L. I can't do it." she stammered, trying to throw the kit away but before she could Zander grabbed her hand turning her face towards him as he crushed his lips to hers. She closed her eyes, throwing herself on his arms. All of her stress and worries vanished with his touch on her body.

"You can do it," he broke the kiss, turning her face towards the test that caused her heart to plummet into her stomach. She looked at it! Zander watched as Adira's blue eyes grew huge when she saw two lines on the pregnancy test.

'Two lines.' she murmured, looking back at Zander. "Zander, there are two lines," her voice sounded like a whisper. "Yes, there are two lines, Adira," he nodded with a smile.

"That means I. I am." she paused, not able to find any suitable words to express her emotions.

"Yes, you are going to become a Mother. We are going to become parents," he said softly with a smile. Adira finally sighed releasing the anxiety she had been holding, still could not believe her ears. Happy tears rolled down to her cheeks before she finally smiled accepting the truth.

"Now there is no need to cry. Adira. We are going to have a pup." Zander cooed, wiping her face. She nodded with a smile as they both admired the pregnancy kit once again.

"You are going to become Daddy. Zander," Adira grinned, making Zander's heartbeat faster. The Alpha felt like he won the world's best prize when his mate finally called him the Daddy of their pup. In a second, the she-wolf was lifted up into her male's arms.

"Yes, I am a Daddy!" Zander yelled with sheer joy as he lifted Adira up in his arms.

"Zander, I am scared," she giggled, looking down at that crazy mate of hers who had lost his mind with happiness. The Alpha let his mate slip down in his arms until her feet touched the floor and their lips were only a few inches away from each other

"Mummy, won't you give a kiss to Daddy?" He asked, giving a charming look. His hand reached around to cup her ass as well.

"I need to think about it, Daddy," she whispered, brushing her lips over his. They both stopped for a moment and laughed together. Zander pulled his woman into his arms. Adira wrapped her arms around his wrist and buried her face in his chest.

"We are really going to have a pup, Zander. I am so happy," she said as she raised her head enough to look up at him without moving away from him.

"Yes," he planted a kiss on her lips as they smiled at each other. That was when they heard clapping and looked at the open door of the room.

"So that means there is another little member of that pack that is going to join us," Xavier remarked with a smile. He and Kiara had been standing outside of the door. They had come to search for their siblings but had overheard the good news. The happy couple pulled away from each other a little before their siblings entered the room.

"Congratulations brother," Xavier gave a big hug to his younger twin who was also going to become a father soon. Now they are expecting two newborn pups soon.

"Congratulations Adira!!" Kiara cried as she hugged her sister. Kiara, like her sister had been, had convinced herself that Adira had gotten all of the happiness in her life that she deserved. She had always felt that the Moon Goddess was not so cruel to not to bless Adira with a child. The Doctor's theory proved to be incorrect. Adira was expecting a baby!!

"Thank you," the elder sister blushed, looking at her mate. Zander walked closer to his mate, placing a kiss on her forehead.

"Now don't cry," he murmured, kissing her nose.

"Congratulations Alpha and Luna!!" When the Beta and Gamma couples entered the room, they quickly drew the Alpha and Luna in for a warm hug. Kiaden and Tyler hugged their friend tightly for a long time. They were terrified when Zander had declared that he would renounce his claim on his title of Alpha and Prince because of an inability to have an heir.

"Now I finally understand why the Alpha was vomiting." Jennifer giggled, confusing the Alpha couple.

"What do you mean, Jennifer?" Adira asked. Zander also furrowed his brows,

"Actually, a pregnant lady has morning sickness, but instead of the Luna, the Alpha is experiencing it," the Beta female giggled, placing her palm over her mouth as she saw the Alpha's changing expression.

“Do you mean? I will keep having morning sickness?!” He asked as his green eyes were wide. He had experienced a living hell during those few hours of vomiting. All the women laughed, including his twin and his friends. Only Adira was worried. She shook her hand and turned to look at her mate

“No, I can’t let you vomit and have morning sickness, Zander. We will go to the Doctor. I believe you will be okay and then I will.”

‘Shhh,’ he placed his finger on her lips

“You are already taking care of our pup in your womb, Adira. I can bear this morning sickness for our baby as well Let’s raise our pup together,” he proposed. The young she-wolf’s heartbeat went off on another race at his words.

“Okay,” Adira’s lips turned into a big smile before she raised up on her toes to kiss her dream man.

“But we will not share this news with anyone before we solve the ongoing issues in the pack,” Zander announced and Adira agreed. The Happy couple turned to look at their friends and family who were happy and smiling at them.

“Thank you everyone for your blessings, guys, but now it’s time to devise a strategy to get that nasty b... Petra out of our Pack!” Zander proclaimed.

“How?” Adira asked in surprise. That was when she noticed her husband and his twin exchanging looks. Kiara and Adira also looked at each other in confusion. Both of the twin’s smirked at their mates

That wone and her spy’s days have come to an end!” The twins said together.

65.It’s time to f**k with our enemies!

“How?” Adira asked in surprise That was when she noticed her husband and his twin exchanging looks. Kiara and Adira also glanced at each other in confusion Both of the twins smirked at their mates.

That we and her spy's days have come to an end!" The twins said together Everyone followed Zander to his office, which was attached to his bedroom The Alpha twins stood behind the center of the desk while the others surrounded it

"We spent a good amount of time speaking with Uncle Renard last night when we escorted him to the border to say our goodbyes We discovered that he had purposefully provided Petra the opportunity to enter our pack so that she would have the mistaken belief that she had won She hasn't even realized that she's fallen into our trap, or that we've discovered that the third party targeting us is none other than some treacherous wolves from the Blue Moon Pack On top of that Alpha Harvey is unaware of his sister's plans,' Xaviei explained.

"We Lincolns have always believed that keeping our opponents close to us allows us to keep an eye on their every move, therefore we let Petra stay in the pack'Zandei smirked at all the ladies. They had opposed allowing the blonde to stay on the pack land. Especially Kiara,

"Wait! Petra is behind all the attacks?' Adira frowned

"Yes, when she brought all the drama in front of the Alpha King and the council that Alpha Roman, her father, was dying of an incurable disease, my uncle had already realized that something was wrong He appointed a private investigator to explore the situation, they discovered that someone had secretly been giving Alpha Roman some kind of low grade poison that is not letting his wolf heal him It was like someone did not want him to ever wake up, giving him a slow, painful death. That poison is causing him to die and we can all easily assume who is killing him." The older Alpha twin pointed out

"That's obvious. It is Petra's doing it. She refused to divorce Xavier at the time of her rejection, her father had to drag her back to her old pack. I'm sure she resented him for it, so now she's exacting her revenge on her father for that as well. Because if Alpha Roman was healthy. she would be unable to act as his proxy and enter our pack using her brother's wedding as an excuse." Adira concluded

"Correct," Xavier nodded with a smile.

"How do you know she's the one who's attacking us?" Kiara inquired, and Zander responded

"Last night, while all of you women were asleep, we males had been going over everything from the prior day's incident," he spoke as he placed a large sheet of paper on the desk, drawing everyone's attention He had sketched out each event one by one in order to describe them.

*Xavier rejected Petra two years ago, but in the meantime, our pack was at peace. There was no trace of the Blue Moon pack or her, but once Kiara and Xavier marked each other, we were attacked for the first time.

“A few days later, we discovered the body of a pack member near the border, which we had assumed was the result of a vampire attack. We were duped by the vampire bite mark and venom.

The following attack occurred on the day we were recruiting new members for our pack. Someone freed a criminal wolf from prison, yet instead of escaping the pack he tracked down and attacked Kiara.

*Next, the couple was assassinated in the forest on our pack’s land. Someone had used magic to kill them. It made us think that vampires had been using magic to hide their scent.

*After that, I summoned Veia, the witch, to seal our pack with the spell, ensuring that no one could use the magic to kill others.

“Then there was the train station incident when I met Adira. Everyone learned that she was my soulmate, and then Xavier and Kiara were assaulted in vampire territory. While in the pack, Adira and I were ambushed.

“We managed the situation and we were not attacked after that since Petra had opted to sneak into our pack and take care of us on her own.” Zander stated.

“However, I still don’t see how she could ambush us from the outside?” Adira was perplexed.

“If you look at the pattern again, you’ll notice that she had planted a spy in our pack. That puppet is dancing on her finger and has been killing our people for her.” Xavier explained, and Zander continued with the sheet.

“If I’m not mistaken, the spy entered our pack after Kiara and Xavier marked each other and I kicked Frida out of the pack. He is the one who let the criminal wolf out of the prison so he could kill Kiara. Petra clearly wanted to get revenge on Xavier by murdering his mate.

“At this point, the spy was already in our pack, he used magic to kill that couple using the mist in the woods, and he easily mingled with our warriors. It was the reason why, no matter how many times we boosted border security and locked down the pack, we couldn’t find him.

“They skillfully diverted our attention to the attack, leading us to believe it was a vampire attack, but in fact they were using some type of gadget, vampire venom, and an insect to suck up the werewolf’s blood. Instead of going to war with the vampires, Xavier asked for a meeting with Vampire King Alfred. It was a brilliant move because it thwarted Petra’s strategy. She planned to end our pack by inciting a war between werewolves and vampires.

“had spoiled their plan by putting the spell in our pack, so he could no longer use his power, instead he had to enlist someone else to attack us. She knew where we both twins were at that time.

“That spy provoked the Head Warrior and his brother to launch an attack on the pack and to assassinate Adira. I’m still puzzled as to why the spy was only interested in my mate. Was it because I was the one who exposed Petra’s dirty secret to Xavier or is there some other reason for them to kill Adira. But their plan backfired when I jumped off of the cliff and Kaiden arrived in time

“We could have forced the Head Warrior and his brother to reveal who had ordered them to commit those crimes, but that spy was pretty astute. Everyone had already been poisoned by him. But after that day, he didn’t take any more chances of murdering our people because we had already discovered that the attackers were werewolves, not vampires!

Petra couldn’t see how her pre-planned strategy to destroy our pack was going to fail, so she came here herself to take the lead. Or to put it another way, she and the spy are now working together.” Zander stated. Everyone fell silent for a moment as they accepted everything, but Kiara’s mind was still questioning something

‘We know everything except the spy’s identity is still hidden’ Kiara said. Yes, but we had a small clue about who he could be.” Xavier claimed

“Who?” Kiara was perplexed, since that filthy spy had become her biggest enemy. When she had been grieving in the room over losing her copy of the surrogacy contract, Xavier pointed out that it had been taken by the spy. And without a doubt he handed it over to Pelia. The Kiara intended to murder both of them. But who the foek was he?!

“So, you claimed that the spy was someone who knows us well. You’re absolutely correct. Only those who had lived here for 10 or 15 years were aware of that prison gate through which the criminal wolf fled. Inciting the Head Warrior to attack us is not something that a normal person could do. At the same time, it is not typical for an ordinary man to sneak into my room, steal contract papers, and fully remove any trace of his scent that would have been left behind.’ Xavier explained as he took a deep breath before continuing

“That means that the spy is someone who is very familiar with us. He has been living under our noses, using magic to conceal his scent. That guy is a hybrid, half werewolf and half wizard!

The ladies' jaws all dropped open. The pack did not allow hybrids! Jennifer and Lena narrowed their eyes at their mates. Both of their mates had not told them everything. Oh, they'd been asleep! But how had the spy managed to keep his aura hidden from the Alpha twins?!

“However, you claimed that the spy entered our pack when Kiara and you marked each other. So how is it possible that he is someone you both knew 10, 10, 15 years ago? Adira brought up a major inconsistency in their logic.

“I know it is strange but this is their reality,” Xavier stated, turning his eyes to his brother.

“And now we're running out of time. Petra has already begun executing her plan by stealing the surrogacy contract. I'm sure she had something evil in mind for whatever it is she has planned. And I'm confident we'll be attacked shortly. But we can't allow Ins' wedding to be ruined because of all of this. The younger Alpha explained.

“So what do we do now?” Lena, who had been listening intently to everything, discreetly inquired. When Zander received a message on his phone, he went to the corner to deal with it while Xavier continued.

Today is May 31st. Ins' wedding is tomorrow. We have just 24 hours to identify the spy! However, we cannot alert the Blue Moon Pack or Petra of our plans. Everyone will work quietly and don't let that slut know that her spy is about to be exposed.” he warned, looking at everyone's grinning faces. Xavier had said what everyone else had wanted to.

“Great. That means you want the pack to be empty with less people and no one to be watching you.” Adira remarked to her brother-in-law.

“Correct,” he smiled. Really, his sister-in-law was very intelligent.

“But that wouldn't be possible if we were all near you. Someone needs to keep Petra and the Blue Moon Pack occupied until you uncover the spy.” Kiara raised her eyebrows a little. She wondered if Xavier was also thinking the same thing.

“Yes, I've decided that you and Lena are right for that job. Petra and her pack are going wedding dress shopping. Iris also needs one. You two ladies must keep them occupied until I summon you. I understand Petra's thought process. She will ignore me as long as you are not alongside me. They will not suspect that we are plotting something. Shop as much as you like for Iris and yourself. Do everything that you can to buy me some time,” Xavier explained everything to his mate and Gamma female.

"I understand," Kiara replied Zander finished his message with the other individual before turning to command Kaiden

"Kaiden, you'll be escorting Kiara and Lena, make sure Petra doesn't pull any stunts that will harm Kiara. You and Lena are responsible for the Luna and the baby,' Zander remarked

"Yes, Alpha," they nodded

"Then what about me?" Jennifer drew everyone's attention. It was the first time that one of the Alphas had sent her mate out without her. The twins stared down at her big baby bump before shifting their gaze to Kaiden's anxious eyes He didn't want her to come any closer to danger, but if the Alpha twins ordered it, she needed to do what they asked. Even if it may put her in danger

"Jennifer, you'll be by my side all the time since I'll be in the pack. I will need you as my Beta at my side. In addition to my Gamma So. Tyler will be with me as well, Xavier informed them, seeing Kaiden's expression of relief

"I understand, Alpha,' she exclaimed. "What about us?" Adira looked up at her mate He was oddly silent

"You will be coming with me, Adira We are leaving the pack to meet with someone Someone who knows who the spy is." Zander said,

Who? Everyone's curious eyes went to Zander, "Frida. I found her." "Who is Frida?" Adira wondered,

'She was my Father's Gamma's daughter. The one who called you on the phone that day and you called her my mistress and me a man worse," he narrowed his eyes on his mate, who gave him a sheepish smile. The young she-wolf had already apologized to him about that matter but he refused to forget about it.

"My men had been tracking her since she left the pack, but she had suddenly vanished. I assumed that she is the one who told Petra about the events that happened in our pack during the previous two years, and about Kiara. If she's met with Petra, she's also met the spy! She knows who he is."

"Make that bitch speak no matter what!' Xavier growled. The younger Alpha chuckled, making his mate look at him. The evilness on his face was quite frightening for Adira.

"You don't have any idea what I am going to do with her!" Zander replied as both the twins laughed. Kiara and Adira exchanged nervous smiles Why the hell were they acting so evil?! It was scary!

The Novel will be updated daily. Come back and continue reading tomorrow, everyone!
