

Chapter: 1448

“Yes, you, a small person, dare to speak ill of the heavenly king behind your back, and you are living impatiently!”

Lin Ziming looked frightened, his voice lowered a lot, and he still said in a somewhat unconvincing voice: “I’m also telling the truth. The saints of the previous generation have not betrayed the organization, how can they not be guilty of death. As for Master Nishang, That’s even more unreasonable, she just stood up and interceded for the saint of the previous generation...So I said Jian Rushuang was too dictatorial, and it was a public revenge!”

When these two little people heard Lin Ziming still dared to say this, they became even more frightened, thinking that Lin Ziming was stunned. However, their own opinions are not that strong. Listening to Lin Ziming’s words, Jian Rushuang is indeed a bit too much, because according to their understanding, the previous saints did not do anything to hurt the organization in the past few years. All are under house arrest in the organization.

“You don’t know anything about this, the saint of the previous generation, it was not her that was wrong, but her son, a while ago, had a decisive battle with the King of the Southern Territory and killed the King of the Southern Territory. This is a great sin, this The sin must be borne by the saint of the previous generation.”

“As for Master Nishang, I heard that she has been very close to the son of the previous saint, and has doubled cultivation with the son of the previous saint, so the cultivation of the son of the previous saint is so advanced...”

This person wanted to say something, but was immediately pushed by the companion next to him, and he didn’t dare to say it anymore.

He straightened his face immediately, and said to Lin Ziming in the tone of his senior: “I said you are a little person and do so much gossip. You should take care of yourself!”

Lin Ziming did not speak, and nodded, indicating that he had promised.

He had already asked for the key information, and now he was worried, full of anger, and a strong urge to kill Sword Rushuang, which turned this place upside down, but he still resisted it!

The more so, the more calm he has to be. Now his top priority is to quietly take his mother and neon clothes out.

As long as you leave here, there will be plenty of opportunities for revenge in the future!

Thinking of this, he took a deep breath, calmed himself down quickly, and started looking for the dungeon where his mother and neon clothes were held.

It’s a pity that he is really unfamiliar with this place, and he doesn’t dare to be too high-profile, afraid to appear in front of the innate realm masters, so he searched for half an hour, and he didn't find a dungeon location.

At this moment, he suddenly heard the movement, his eyes immediately turned towards the movement and saw a scene that made his pupils shrink.

I saw the shackles of the mother, and the neon clothes, surrounded by a group of people, walking forward with difficulty!

The mother was bloodied, her face was sallow, her body was very weak, and her spirit was very weak. She knew at first glance that she had suffered pain.

The neon clothes became even more embarrassed, her breath became even weaker, dying, and even walking became a difficult task. Especially on the left shoulder of Nishang, he was obviously seriously injured, which made the whole body difficult.

Seeing this scene, Lin Ziming clenched his fist tightly, he was really angry, very angry, and sad!

His first reaction was to rush over and save his mother and neon clothes by the simplest and rude means!

But he held it back, because he knew that if he did, then what awaited him would be forever.

There are too many masters here, even if he is a master of Innate Realm Dzogchen, in this case, with two burdens, it is impossible to escape.

He has to think of a safer way!
