

Chapter: 1522

Now, it has been almost three years since Grandpa passed away.

Seeing Lin Ziming stop, all the Lin family held their breaths and looked at Lin Ziming nervously.

Even Lin Zihao dare not make any movement now. Although he has always looked down on Lin Ziming and bullied Lin Ziming, but now, he has to admit that the gap between him and Lin Ziming is getting bigger and bigger in this life. It is impossible to surpass Lin Ziming...

Once he had the hope of transcendence, how could he dare to be hostile to Lin Ziming, now there is only fear and awe.

Everyone stared at Lin Ziming, and the atmosphere suddenly fell silent.

It took about ten seconds before Lin Ziming spoke, "Grandpa's death day, I will go back, now you guys get out of me."

Hearing these words, they breathed a sigh of relief. As long as Lin Ziming is willing to go back, then it shows that there is still a chance of redemption.

After the Lin family had left, Lin Ziming didn't have any amusement. He followed Daniel and them back to the third place of Xuanyuan to deal with this matter.

This time, he can kill the chicken and the monkey. Of course, he will not let go of this opportunity.

Sure enough, it didn't take long for many foreigners who came from abroad to know about this, especially when they knew that there was a chief instructor with a congenital realm in Xuanyuan III, who also acted very vigorously and cleanly, They all began to converge, and they didn't dare to be so arrogant anymore.

Originally, according to Lin Ziming's intention, these foreigners, on the ground of China, were so arrogant, at least they would have to be detained for two or three years before they were released.

But the incident was reported. The above meant that they were detained for a few days, and they lost money, wrote a guarantee, and they were almost released. After all, China has always been a country of etiquette, and we still need to do a good job in this regard.

Lin Ziming didn't agree with this approach very much, but he didn't have his turn to decide on this kind of thing, anyway, he would be responsible for arresting people.

A few days later, in a very high-end villa, many tall foreigners gathered here. And in broad daylight, parties were also held. Many handsome men and beauties appeared to be very hot here. Among them, foreigners such as Jack and Tom were also here.

"Jack, I heard that you were taught a lesson by a Chinese man this time? You lost a lot of money?"

"Huh? There is such a thing? Jack is a 3s-level superpower. Is there such a power in a technologically backward country like China?”

“This is true. Jack not only lost money, but also knelt down to beg for mercy from the Chinese. Tsk tsk, Jack, you are really a shame to our beautiful country!”

Next to Jack, there are several foreigners, all masters of the innate realm, and they mock Jack mercilessly.

Jack’s face was blue and white, and he said in embarrassment: “You shut up! You have never been in contact with that Chinese, and you don’t know how terrifying that Chinese is! He is a 5s-level superpower, with strength Comparable to a leader! You laughed at me, but when you add up to besiege, you are not the opponent of that Chinese!”

Hearing what he said, the scene suddenly became quiet and looked at him in astonishment.

“This is impossible!”

“Jack, you must be bragging to cover up your incompetence.”

“Jack, damn you, dare to compare a humble Chinese man with a noble leader!”

Jack gritted his teeth and said: “This is true, I don’t have a lie...the leader!!” Suddenly, he saw a person walking across from him, immediately stood up, and bowed very respectfully and enthusiastically.
