

Chapter: 1806

However, under everyone's gaze, Huangpudao made a surprising move. He pointed to Lin Ziming in the corner and said with a smile: "This classmate, what is your opinion? What?"

He pointed to Lin Ziming.

At this moment, Lin Ziming, who was originally low-key, became the focus of everyone present, and all the students looked at him.

"Hey, who is this person? I haven't seen it before."

"I haven't seen it before. It shouldn't be in our class."

"And he doesn't seem to be a college student? Isn't he a new teacher?"

"It shouldn't be, why would the teacher come to attend the class?"

"I don't know, maybe it's a student in another class. But it looks pretty temperamental, he's a handsome guy."

"We can't talk about being handsome, but his temperament is so special, super charming."

"How do I feel that he is more attractive than the school grass?"

When these students put on him, many people began to whisper, especially some female students. After they found Lin Ziming, their eyes were bright. They felt that Lin Ziming was not particularly handsome at first glance, but that This kind of temperament is very special, very charming, the more you look at it, the more handsome.

Lin Ziming was taken aback for a moment. He didn't expect that Huangpu Road would ask him questions, but he immediately stood up and said with a smile: "I think life is the beginning of civilization and the most wonderful existence in this universe."

Lin Ziming talked freely and began to express his knowledge of life.

These students in the classroom didn't think there was anything when they first listened. They thought that Lin Ziming's understanding was still very simple.

But slowly, as Lin Ziming deepened, their impressions of Lin Ziming continued to change, especially some of the views mentioned in Lin Ziming, combined with the arguments, shocked them, and even some did not listen to them. understand!

They have never thought that the meaning of life is so deep.

Lin Ziming was talking about the topic of what life is, he talked about it for half an hour.

"Mr. Huangpu, I'm finished. This is my understanding of life." Lin Ziming smiled at last and looked at Huangpu.

Huangpudao applauded him, the appreciation in his eyes was not concealed, and he said: "It's not bad, it's good, the essence of life is like this in general."

Lin Ziming didn't have any pride. After all, he was a half-step master of the divine realm. If he didn't even understand the meaning of life, then he would be blind.

However, Huangpu Road soon raised another question and asked him directly.

"So, do you think life will die?"

Huangpu Road said with a smile.

This question is very simple at first sound, it is a sub-question.

As we all know, life will definitely die, otherwise the world would have collapsed long ago.

Lin Ziming was also about to blurt it out, but when the words came to his lips, he abruptly withdrew and fell into deep thought.

Will life die?

If he still hasn't reached the half-step psychic state, he will say yes without hesitation.

Because this is common sense, any life in the world will die. In a sense, life from birth is the countdown to death.

However, he found that things were not that simple.

Because life includes not only sex, but also spirit. After the body of a person dies, if the spirit can survive forever, can it be considered as dead?
