

Chapter: 1828

It was a woman's voice, Lin Ziming raised his head and found that it was a mixed-race child, who looked pretty, especially his body, and was especially hot.

She bent over to talk to Lin Ziming in this way, and her long hair fell down, exuding a fragrance, lingering between Lin Ziming's nose.

It smells very comfortable.

Lin Ziming shook his head and said, "No one."

She smiled and said politely: "Can I sit here?"

For such a polite person, Lin Ziming also had nothing to refuse, nodded and said, "Yes."

"Thank you."

This half-breed beauty smiled sweetly, and then sat down.

Because Lin Ziming was seated on the aisle, this beautiful mixed-race woman had to pass by Lin Ziming if she wanted to go in and sit.

Lin Ziming originally wanted to stand up and then give way to the opponent, but the opponent had already begun to step over him and walked directly in.

Because the seat was very narrow, she would inevitably encounter Lin Ziming when she stepped across Lin Ziming like this, making Lin Ziming a little embarrassed for a while.

But Lin Ziming didn't think too much, he quickly refocused his attention on the newspaper.

If it were an ordinary man, with such a beautiful mixed-race beauty sitting next to her, she would have been happy, but for Lin Ziming, it would not cause any ripples in his heart.

Because he had already sensed that this half-breed beauty was an ordinary person, not a warrior, at best she was a white rich beauty.

Lin Ziming saw a lot of women like this, so naturally he wouldn't have any thoughts. Besides, he was already a married man. He had never forgotten about this.

But because of his negligence, the beautiful mixed-race woman next to her became interested in Lin Ziming.

It can be seen that she is a more educated woman, not looking at Lin Ziming with a righteous eye, but using her peripheral vision to secretly look at Lin Ziming.

This time she ran out privately, in order to dodge her family and forced her family to marry, so she planned to hide for a while.

It's just that she didn't expect that it took long before she arrived in China, and she was found by someone in her family. In the end, she was forced to fly back to the country of Eagle Dogs obediently.

But letting her sit with those bodyguards, she really didn't like it, she would rather do it with a strange man.

Originally, she didn't even care about Lin Ziming, thinking that Lin Ziming was just an ordinary Chinese.

But after sitting down, she looked through her peripheral vision and found that the man next to her seemed so simple. Although he looked plain, he had an indescribable temperament that made people want to subconsciously. Get close.

She had never seen such a man before, and gradually, she became a little fascinated by it.

Soon Lin Ziming discovered that there was something wrong with her, turned her face around, and asked, "Is there something wrong?"

She was fascinated by the sight, Lin Ziming suddenly turned her face, shocked her, turned her face quickly, and said, "No, nothing is wrong."
