

Chapter: 1944

But I didn't even notice that in Lin Ziming's eyes, there was already coldness and murderous intent.

They would never think that the Chinese people in front of them and the cowardly Chinese people they met were not a concept at all.

This Chinese is an absolute devil!

It is here to challenge the most powerful warrior in their beautiful country.

"Is it funny?" Lin Ziming stared at them coldly, his mind was running, what method should be used to torture these gangsters.

"Funny, of course funny, hahaha..."

After they laughed, they showed their hideous looks again, and said, "Hurry up and hand over the money from you. We don't have any patience. Otherwise, if we see this knife, we will sting your fragility. Go on!!!"

Lin Ziming shook his head. When he was about to take a shot, he suddenly felt something and frowned slightly.

Outside the alley, there were rapid footsteps, obviously coming here.

Are these gangsters and accomplices?

Seeing that Lin Ziming was indifferent, these gangsters didn't cooperate, all of them were furious, and they wanted to start working on Lin Ziming.

However, at this moment, there was a shout from the alley, "You guys stop me! Let go of that Chinese!!"

It's the voice of a woman.

Lin Ziming was stunned for a moment. Then, when he looked back, he saw a young woman in smart clothes, who looked like she was in her early twenties, and looked like an Oriental, standing at the entrance of the alley. , And then strode over.

what's going on?

Lin Ziming was a little impressed with this woman, and she recognized that she had eaten in the restaurant just now.

Moreover, is this a courageous act?

However, this woman, not even an ordinary warrior, is just an ordinary person.

Or is this a policeman?

Lin Ziming chose to stand still, first to see what was going on.

After seeing this woman, all these gangsters frowned, and the expressions on their faces became more violent and impatient, "Damn, why are there still people coming to die!"

At this moment, the young woman had already walked over, and she was holding an electric baton in her hand and placed it on her chest, looking like she was waiting, but her posture seemed ordinary. People don't have any strength.

Soon, Lin Ziming had determined that this young woman was really brave enough to come and rescue him, which was quite beyond his expectation.

“Where do you come from? You dare to be nosy and find death!!!”
One of the thugs scolded unceremoniously.
