

Chapter: 2008

They wanted to stop Lin Ziming, but Lin Ziming had already left.

I can only stay where I am in a hurry, thinking that Lin Ziming will pay for his actions, and only hope that Lin Ziming will not resist too much. Otherwise, these policemen would really dare to shoot and kill!

In any case, Lin Ziming is a mortal fetus, how can he hold the bullet.

After Lin Ziming walked out, he did see it. There were a lot of police cars parked outside. There were more than 50 vehicles in total, and there were more than two hundred police officers with live ammunition and body armor standing in front of them.

After he came out, these policemen, screaming, raised their guns neatly and aimed at Lin Ziming. As long as Lin Ziming made any rash actions, they would immediately shoot and kill Lin Ziming!

If ordinary people encounter this situation, they must be shivering with fright.

Being pointed at by hundreds of guns, this kind of pressure is no joke.

But for Lin Ziming, this kind of pressure can be said to be negligible. He swept across and saw that these were just ordinary policemen, and there were no masters in the innate realm, so it can be said to be a little bit for him. Threatening.

Because this is not in the suburbs, but in the urban area, many citizens are also attracted around them, and they watched to see what happened.

Lin Ziming even saw that a TV station was recording and someone was broadcasting live.

This scene was huge, and Lin Ziming was very satisfied. It wasn't that he wanted to show the limelight. It was only under such circumstances that he could create the effect of roaring the palace and force Adam to come and find him in person.

It can also erase China's cowardly image, killing two birds with one stone.

Those citizens thought they were going to capture some terrorists, and so many policemen were dispatched, but now they saw that only a Chinese came out, and they still looked so ordinary. They were all disappointed, and even thought, yes. It was not the police who made the Oolong.

"Under what circumstances, how did an Oriental come out? I thought it was to eliminate terrorists."

"Yeah, so many police forces were deployed to capture an Oriental, isn't that a waste of police force!"

"Moreover, this oriental man looks very much like a Chinese. The Chinese are in our beautiful country, but they are notoriously timid and fearful. Anyone can bully. This Chinese can easily be caught by two policemen. Catch it."

"Hoho, two policemen need to be dispatched? You are too dear to the Chinese, I think, just one policeman is enough.”

“Haha, that’s...”

These citizens all discussed it, and did not see Lin Ziming in their eyes, and their words also revealed their extreme contempt for the Chinese.

Lin Ziming was not angry when he heard it, but the corners of his mouth were raised, and his heart was a little more excited. He liked doing face slaps. He wanted to see, wait for these beautiful people, can they laugh.

After seeing Lin Ziming, the police officers immediately walked out and stared at Lin Ziming badly, “You are the criminal who killed people everywhere in my beautiful country during this period of time? Who gave you the courage? !”

This police officer is very tall, with a big belly, and his face is full of majesty. At first glance, he knows that he is the kind of official rank.

Lin Ziming said, “I’m just walking the way for the sky, you beautiful Chinese who oppress my Chinese compatriots, damn it.”
